25 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amon, which he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

26 And ¶ they buried him in his sepulchre in the garden of Vzza: and Iosiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXII.

4 Iosiah repaireth the Temple 8 Hilkiah findeth the booke of the Law, and causeth it to be presented to Iosiah. 12 Who sendeth to Huldah the prophetesse to inquire the Lords will.

Iosiah was eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned one and thirtie yeere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Iedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Bozath.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 ¶ And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah, the King sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah the sonne of Meshullam the chauncellor, to the house of the Lord saying,

4 Goe vp to Hilkiah the high Priest, that hee may summe the siluer which is brought into the house of the Lorde, which the keepers of the doore haue gathered of the people.

5 And let them deliuer it into the hand of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord, let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lorde, to repaire the decayed places of the house:

6 To wit, vnto the artificers and carpenters and masons, and to buy timber, and hewed stone to repaire the house.

7 Howbeit, let no reckoning bee made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the high Priest said vnto Shaphan the chauncellor, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lorde: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and hee read it.

9 So Shaphan the chauncellor came to the king, and brought him word againe, and said, Thy seruants haue gathered the money, that was found in the house, and haue deliuered it vnto the hands of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chauncellor shewed the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath deliuered me a booke. And Shaphan read it before the King.

11 And when the king had heard the words of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the king commanded Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achbor the sonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chauncellor, and Afahiah the kings seruant, saying,

13 Goe ye and inquire of the Lord for me and for the people, and for all Iudah concerning the words of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to doe according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, & Afahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Ierusalem in the colledge) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euē all the wordes of the booke which the King of Iudah hath read,

17 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their handes: my wrath also shall bee kindled against this place and shall not be quenched:

18 But to the King of Iudah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The words that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, & against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, & thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King word againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iosiah readeth the Law before the people. 3 He maketh a covenant with the Lord. 4 He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed the Priests. 22 He keepeth Passouer. 24 He destroyeth the conuers. 29 Hee was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Iehoiakim reigned in his stead. 33 After he was taken, his sonne Iehoiakim was made King.

d So God promised him faithfull seruants, seeing hee went about so zealously to seeke forth the worke of God.

e This was the copy that Moses left them, as appeareth, 1 Chron. 24. 14 which either by the negligence of the Priests had bene lost or els by the wickedness of idolatrous kings had bene abolished.

f Meaning, to some Prophet whom God reuelled the knowledge of things vnto, as Ier. 1. 1. though at other times they inquired the Lord by Urim and Thummim.

g Or the house of doctrine which was neere to the Temple, and where the learned assembled to instruct the Scriptures, and the doctrine of the Prophets.

h The workes of mans hand here signifie all that man inuenteth beside the word of God, which are abominable in Gods seruice. i Meaning, that hee did repent, as they that doe not repent, are said to harden their heart, Psal. 95. 8.

k Whereupon we may gather that the anger of God is ready against the wicked, when God taketh his seruants out of this world.

Then the King sat, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierusalem.

And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and hee read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the covenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

And the King stood by the pillar, & made a covenant before the Lorde, that they should walke after the Lord, and keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all their heart, and with all their soule, that they might accomplish the wordes of this covenant written in this booke. And all the people stood to the covenant.

Then the King commanded Hilkiah the high Priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grouse, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without in Ierusalem in the fields of Kedron, and caried the powder of them into Beth-el.

And he put downe the Chemarims, whom the Kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the hie places, and in the cities of Iudah and about Ierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

And he brought out the grouse from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalem vnto the valley Kedron, and burnt it in the valley Kedron, and stampit it to powder, and cast the dust thereof vpon the graues of the children of the people.

And hee brake downe the houses of the Sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the grouse.

Also he brought all the priests out of the cities of Iudah, and defiled the hie places where the Priests had burnt incense, euen from Geba to Beth-sheba, & destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in the entring in of the gate of Ioshua the gouernour of the citie, which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

Neuertheless the Priests of the hie places came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the vnleavened bread among their brethren.

Hee defiled also Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter passe thorow the fire to Molech.

Hee put downe also the horses that the Kings of Iudah had giuen to the sunne at the entring in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the eunuch, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the charres of the sunne with fire.

And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the Kings of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Lorde did the King brake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedron.

Moreover the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hand of the mount of corruption (which Salomon the King of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchom the abomination of the children of Ammon)

And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues, and filled their places with the bones of men.

Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-el, and the hie place made by Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, both this altar, and also the hie place, brake he downe, and burnt the hie place, and stampit it to powder, and burnt the grouse.

And as Iosiah turned himselfe, he spied the graues that were in the mount, and fent & tooke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the wordes of the Lorde, that the man of God proclaimed, which cryed the same wordes.

Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie sayd vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and told these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

Then saide he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the King of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the fates that he had done in Beth-el.

And hee sacrificed all the Priests of the hie places that were there, vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

Then the King commanded all the people, saying, * Keepe the Passouer vnto the Lorde your God, * as it is written in the booke of this covenant.

And there was no Passouer holden q like that from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudah.

And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah was this Passouer celebrated vnto the Lord in Ierusalem.

Iosiah also tooke away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images, and the idoles, and all the abominations that were espied in the lande of Iudah and in Ierusalem, to performe the wordes of the Lawe, which were written in the booke that Hilkiah the Priest found in the house of the Lord.

Like vnto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might according to all the Lawe of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great wrath wherewith he was angry against Iudah, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

Therefore the Lorde sayd, I will put Iudah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will cast off this citie Ierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I said, * My name shall be there.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the king, and tooke him in the deserts of Iericho, and all his host was scattered from him.

6 Then they tooke the king, and carried him vp to the king of Babel to Riblah, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes, & put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel.

8 ¶ And in the first moneth, and the seventh day of the moneth, which was the nineteenth yeere of king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, came Nebuzar-adan || chiefe steward and seruant of the king of Babel, to Ierusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe the walles of Ierusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen to the king of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzaradan chiefe steward carie away captiue.

12 But the chiefe steward left of the poore of the land to dresse the viues, and to till the land.

13 ¶ Also the pillars of brasie that were in the house of the Lorde, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caried the brasie of them to Babel.

14 The pots <sup>h</sup> also and the besoms, and the instruments of musicke, and the incense dishes, & all the vessels of brasie that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the ash pannes, and the basins, and all that was of gold, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away, 16 With the two pillars, one Sea and the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without weight.

17 ¶ The height of the one pillar was eighteene cubites, and the chapter thereon was brasie, and the height of the chapter was with network three cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapter round about, all of brasie: and likewise was the second pillar with the networke.

18 And the chiefe steward tooke Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the citie hee tooke an Eunuch that had the oversight of the men of warre, and five men of them that were in the kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who mustred the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward took them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babel smote them, & slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

22 ¶ Howbeit, there remained people in the land of Iudah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel left, and made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.

23 Then when all the captains of the host and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah gouernour, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, & Iazaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah sware to them, and to their men, and sayd vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and ye shall be well.

25 ¶ But in the seventh moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Elishama, of the kings seed, came, and ten men with him, & smote Gedaliah, and hee died, and so did hee the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people both small and great, and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Caldees.

27 Notwithstanding in the seven and thirtieth yeere after Iehoiachin king of Iudah was caried away in the twelfth moneth, and the seven and twentieth day of the moneth, Buil Merodach king of Babel in the yeere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Iehoiachin king of Iudah out of the prison,

28 And spake kindly to him, and set his throne about the throne of the kings that were with him in Babel, 29 And changed his prison garments: and he did continually eat bread before him, all the dayes of his life.

30 And his portion was a continual portion giuen him by the king, euery day a certaine, all the dayes of his life.

THE FIRST BOOKE OF the ¶ Chronicles, of ¶ Paralipomenon.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Jewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians because of the length diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bookes of the kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of both the kingdoms, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke containeth a briefe rehearfall of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Yaakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah, and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his actes both concerning ciuill gouernment, and also the administration and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth and giueth thanks to the Lord.

3 And the battell was fore against Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust me thorow therewith, lest these vncircumcised come and mocke at me: but his armour-bearer would not, for he was fore afraid: therefore Saul tooke the sword, and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise vpon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw how they fled and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forooke their cities and fled away, and the Philistims came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morow, when the Philistims came to spoyle them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idols, and vnto the people.

10 And they layed vp his armour in the house of their god, and set vp his head in the house of Dagon.

13 So Saul died for his transgression that hee committed against the Lord, euē against the word of the Lord which he kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsell of a ¶ familiar spirit, 14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore hee slew him, and turned the kingdom vnto Dauid the sonne of Ishai.

CHAP. XI.

3 After the death of Saul, Dauid aboynded in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom hee taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Joab is made capitaine. 12 His valiant men.

Then ¶ all Israel gathered themselves to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy boues and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euē when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be capitaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anoynted Dauid king ouer Israel, ¶ according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Samiuel.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuerthelesse Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the city of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd, ¶ Whosoever smiteth the Iebusites first, shall be the chiefe and captaine. So Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was capitaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 ¶ And he built the citie on euery side, from Millo euē round about: and Ioab repaired the rest of the city.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grew: for the Lord of hosts was with him.

10 ¶ These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and ioyned their force with him in his kingdom with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom Dauid had, Ishobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the ¶ chiefe among thirty: he lift vp his speare against three hundred, whom hee slew at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Pas-dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stood in the mids of the field, and saued it, and slew the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victory.

15 ¶ And three of the ¶ thirtie captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullam. And the army of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and said, ¶ Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 Then these three brake thorow the host of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And sayd, Let not my God suffer me to do this: should I drinke the ¶ blood of these mens liues? for they haue brought it with the ieopardie of their liues: therefore he would not drinke it: these things did these three mighty men.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Ioab, he was chiefe of the three, & he lift vp his speare against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three he was more honourable than the two, and he was their capitaine: ¶ but he attained not vnto the first three.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done many acts, and was of Kabzeel, he slew two ¶ strong men of Moab: hee went downe also and slew a lion in the mids of a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, a man of great stature, euē five cubits long, and in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiah the son of Iehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

CHAP. XII.

1 Who they were that went with Dauid when hee fled from Saul.
24 Their valiancy. 23 They that came vnto him vnto Hebron out of euery tribe to make him king.

These also are they that came to Dauid to Ziklag, while he was yet kept close, because of Saul the sonne of Kish: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and could vse the right and the left hand with stones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls brethren, euen of Benjamin.

3 The chiefe were Ahiezzer, and Ioshabab the sonnes of Shemaah a Gibeathite, and Ieziel, and Pelet the sonnes of Asmaueh, Berachah and Iehu the Antothite,

4 And Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirtie, and aboute thirtie, and Ieremiah, and Iehaziel, and Iohanan, and Iofhabab the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Ierimoth, and Bealiah, & Sheariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite, 6 Elkanah, and Ishiah, and Azariel, and Ioezer, Iashobeam of Hakorehim, 7 And Ioelah, and Zebadiah the sonnes of Ieroham of Gedor.

8 And of the Gadites there separated themselves some vnto Dauid in the holde of the wilderness, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, and apt for battell, which could handle speare and shield, and their faces were like the faces of lions, and were like the roes in the mountaines in swiftnesse,

9 Ezer the chiefe, Obadiah the second, Eliab the third,

10 Mishmanah the fourth, Ieremiah the fifth,

11 Attai the sixt, Eliel the seuenth,

12 Iohanan the eight, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Ieremiah the tenth, Macbannai the eleuenth.

14 These were the sonnes of Gad, captaines of the hoste: one of the least could resist an hundred, and the greatest a thousand.

15 These are they that went ouer Iorden in the first moneth when he had filled ouer all his banks, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the East and the West.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Iudah to the hold vnto Dauid, 17 And Dauid went out to meet them, and answered and sayd vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto me to helpe me, mine heart shall be knit vnto you: but if you come to betray me to mine aduersaries, seeing there is no wickednes in mine hands, the God of our fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.

18 And the spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chiefe of thirty, and he sayd, Thine are wee, Dauid, and with thee, O sonne of Ishai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them captaines of the garison.

19 ¶ And of Manasseh, some fell to Dauid, when hee came with the Philistims against Saul to battell, but they helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistims by aduisement sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul for our heads.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manasseh, Adnah, and Iozabad, and Iediel, and Michael, and Iozabad, and Elihu, and Ziltai, heads of the thousands that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped Dauid against that band: for they were all valiant men, and were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day, there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntill it was a great host, like the host of God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captains that were armed to battell, and came to Dauid to Hebron to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare shield and speare, were fixe thousand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seven thousand and an hundred.

26 Of the children of Leui foure thousand and 27 And Iehoiada was the chiefe of them of Aaron: and with him three thousand and seven hundredth.

28 And Zadok a yong man very valiant, and of his fathers household came two and twenty captaines.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethren of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them vnto that time kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, and eight hundredth valiant men and famous men in the household of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasseh eighteene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid King.

32 And of the children of Issachar which were men that had vnderstanding of the times, to knowe what Israel ought to doe: the heades of them were two hundredth, and all their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zebulun that went out to battell, expert in warre, and in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousand which could set the battell in aray: they were not of a double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaines, and with them with shield and speare seven and thirty thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battell, eight and twenty thousand and fixe hundredth.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battell and were trained in the warres, forty thousand.

37 And of the other side of Iorden of the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasseh with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundredth and twenty thousand.

38 All these men of warre that could lead an armie, came with vpright heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid King.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer, they that were neere them vntill Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules and on oxen, euē meat, floure, figges, and raisins, and wine and oyle, and beeuē and sheepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kiriath-earim to Ierusalem.
9 Vzsa dieth because he toucheth it.

AND Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundredth, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid sayd to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, wee will send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may assemble themselves vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saub.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Dauid gathered all Israel together from Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kiriath-earim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to Baalath in Kiriath-earim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his Name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzsa and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel plaied before God with all their might, both with songs and with harps, and with viols, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the threshing floore of Chidon, Vzsa put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzsa, and he smote him, because he layed his hand vpon the Arke: so he died there before God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had made a breach in Vzsa, and hee called the name of that place Perez-vzsa vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused it to turne into the house of Obed Edom the Gittite.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obed Edom, euē in this house three moneths: and the Lorde blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Hiram sendeth wood and workmen to Dauid. 4 The names of his children. 8. 14 By the counsell of God he goeth against the Philistims, and ouercometh them. 15 God fighteth for him.

Then sent Hiram the king of Tyrus messengers to Dauid, and Cedar trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore Dauid knewe that the Lord had confirmed him king ouer Israel, and that his kingdom was lift vp on him, because of his people Israel.

3 Also Dauid tooke moe wiues at Ierusalem, and Dauid begate moe sonnes and daughters.

5 And Ithar, and Elishua, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Iaphia,

7 And Elishama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed king ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I go vp against the Philistims, and will thou deliuer them into mine hand? and the Lord sayd vnto him, Go vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Baal-perazim, and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid sayd, God hath diuided

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the tops of the mulberietrees, then goe out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So David did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands: and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

And David made him houses in the citie of David, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David sayd, None ought to carie the Arke of God, but the Levites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordained for it.

4 And David assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Vriell the chiefe, and his brethren sixe score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundredth and twenty.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershon, Ioel the chiefe, and his brethren an hundredth and thirty.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundredth.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Aminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundredth and twelue.

11 And David called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Levites, Vriell, Asaiah and Ioel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab.

12 And he sayd vnto them, Yee are the chiefe fathers of the Levites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we sought him not after due order.

14 So the Priestes and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Levites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres as Moses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David spake to the chiefe of the Levites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voyce with ioy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the sonne of Ioel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kufhaiah, 18 And with them their brethren in the second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Iaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaseiah, and Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel the porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were fingers to make a sound with cymbals of brasse, 20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah with viols on Alamoth, 21 And Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel, and Azariah, with harpes vpon Shemith Iemazzeah.

22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Levites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

24 And Shecaniah, and Iehoshaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priests did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obed Edom and Ieiah were porters for the Arke.

25 So David and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the covenant of the Lorde from the house of Obed Edom with ioy.

26 And because that God helped the Levites that bare the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord, they offered seven bullockes and seven rammes.

27 And David had on him a linnen garment, as all the Levites that bare the Arke, and the singers, and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the fingers: and vpon David was a linnen Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lords covenant with shouting, and sound of corner, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a sound with viols and with harps.

29 And when the Arke of the covenant of the Lord came into the citie of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw king David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

29 Giue vnto the Lord the glory of his name: bring an offering, and come before him, and worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

30 * Tremble yee before him all the earth, surely the world shalbe stable and not moue.

31 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth, 32 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: let the field be ioyfull and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood then reioyce at the presence of the Lord: for hee commeth to iudge the earth.

34 Prayse the Lord for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Saue vs, O God, our saluation, and gather vs, and deliuer vs from the heathen, that we may prayse thine holy Name, and glory in thy prayse.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer, and euer: and let all the people say, So be it, and prayse the Lord.

37 ¶ Then he left there before the Arke of the Lords Couenant Afaph and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euery day:

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren, threescore and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Ieduthun, and Hofah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priestes were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the hie place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the evening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Law of the Lorde, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with them were Heman, and Ieduthun, and the rest that were chosen (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lorde, because his mercy endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman & Ieduthun, to make a sounde with the cornets and with the cymbals, with excellent instruments of musike: and the sonnes of Ieduthun were at the gate.

43 And all the people departed, euery man to his house: and Dauid returned to blesse his house.

CHAP. XVII.

3 Dauid is forbidden to build an house vnto the Lorde. 12 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Salomon. 18 Dauid giueth thanks, 23 and prayeth vnto God.

Nowe * afterwarde when Dauid dwelt in his house, hee sayde to Nathan the Prophet, Behold, I dwell in an house of cedar trees, but the Arke of the Lordes Couenant remaineth vnder curtaines.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Doe all that in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe, and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou shalt not build mee an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefoeuer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I one word to any of the Iudges of Israel (whom I commaunded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not built me an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepecoat, & from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

p To restore all things to their estate.

q He esteemeth this to be the chief felicity of man. He willeth all the people both in heart and mouth to consent to these prayes.

9 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant it, that they may dwell in the place, and moue no more: neither shall the wicked people vex them any more, as at the beginning.)

10 And since the time that I commaunded Iudges ouer my people Israel) And I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord will build thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shall be fulfilled to goe with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy finnes, and will stablish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for euer.

13 I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdom for euer, and his throne shall be stablished for euer.

15 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King went in and sate before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of his degree, O Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruant? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that wee haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeeme them to be his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to do great and terrible things by casting out Nations from before thy people, whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant, and concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and doe as thou hast sayd.

24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified for euer, that it may be sayd, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, and let the house of Dauid thy seruant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast reueiled vnto the eare of thy seruant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy seruant hath bene bold to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnesse vnto thy seruant)

27 Now therefore it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, O Lord, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed for euer.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistines, 2 And against Moab, 3 Zobah, 5 Aram, 12 And Edom

And after this, Dauid smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and tooke Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hande of the Philistines.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote Hadarezer King of Zobah vnto Hamath, as hee went to stablish his border by the riuer Perath.

4 And Dauid took from him a thousand charrets, and seuen thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and destroyed all the charrets, but hee reserued of them an hundred charrets.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer King of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts: and the Lord preferred Dauid wheresoeuer he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasle, wherewith Salomon made the braten Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasle.

9 ¶ Then Tou King of Hamath heard howe Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

10 Therefore he sent Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of gold and siluer and brasle.

11 And king Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that hee brought from all the nations, from Edom and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Abithai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley eightene thousand.

13 And he put a garison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preferred Dauid wheresoeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud Recorder.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priestes, and Shaiha the Scribe.

17 ¶ And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

2 And David sayd, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And David sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanun, Thinkest thou that David doeth honour thy father, that hee hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to search, to seeke and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Davids seruants, and shaued them, and cut of their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine, and tolde David concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King sayd, Tarie at Iericho, vntill your beards bee grown: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon sawe that they stauke in the fight of David, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of siluer, to hire them charrets and horsemen out of Aram Naharain, and out of Aram Maachah, and out of Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousand charrets, and the king of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when David heard, he sent Ioab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set the battell in aray at the gate of the citie. And the kings that were come, were by themselves in the field.

10 When Ioab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then he chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people hee deliuered vnto the hand of Abishai his brother, and they put themselves in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he sayd, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shew our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God and let the Lord doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers, and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the riuer: and Shophach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed David, he gathered all Israel, and went ouer Iorden, and came vnto them, and put himselfe in aray against them: And when David had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and Da-uid destroyed of the Aramites i seuen thousand charrets, and fortie thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer sawe that they fell before Israel, they made peace with David, and serued him. And the Aramites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 2 The Ammonites tormented. 3 The Philistines are shifte ouercome with their giants.

And when the yeere was expired, in the time that kings goe out a warfare, Ioab caried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabbah (but David taried at Ierusalem), and Ioab smote Rabbah, and destroyed it.

2 ¶ Then David tooke the crowne of their king from off his head, and found it the weight of a talent of gold, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Davids head, and he brought away the spoile of the citie exceeding much.

3 And he caried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did David with all thy cities of the children of Ammon. Then David and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 ¶ And after this also there arose warre at Gezer with the Philistines: then Sibbechai the Hushathite slewe Sippai of the children of Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And thers was yet another battell with the Philistines: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slewe Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weauers beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, euen foure and twentie, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

7 And when he reuiled Israel, Iehonathan the sonne of Shimea Davids brother did slay him.

8 These were borne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of David, and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David causeth the people to be numbered. 2 And there die fourscore thousand men of the pestilence.

And Satan stode vp against Israel, and prouoked David to number Israel.

2 Therefore David sayd to Ioab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from Beersheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Ioab answered, The Lord increase his people an hundred times so many as they bee, O my lord the king: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of trespassse to Israel?

4 Neuerthelesse the kings word preuailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went thorow all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Ioab gaue the number and summe of the people vnto David: and all Israel were foure hundred thousand men that drewe sword: and Iudah was foure hundred and sequentie thousand men that drew sword.

6 But the Levites and Benjamin counted hee not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Iobab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid sayd vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remooue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer, saying,

10 Goe and tel Dauid, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid and said vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeres fauine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies: || to take thee, or els the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angel of the Lorde may destroy throughout all the coasts of Israel: now therefore aduise thee, what word I shall bring again to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid sayd vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and repented of the euill, and sayd to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lorde stood by the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen, with his sworde drawn in his hand and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commaunded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on mee and on my fathers house, and not on thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about and saw the Angel, and his foure sonnes that were with him, hid themselves, and Ornan threshed wheat.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lorde: giue it mee for sufficient money, that the plague may bee stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan sayd vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid sayd to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And Dauid built therein an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sworde againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lorde which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the high place at Gibeon.)

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God: for hee was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 Hee commaundeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Under the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

And Dauid sayd, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioyning, and abundance of brasse passing weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid said, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must build an house for the Lord, magnificall, excellent and of great fame and dignity throughout all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then hee called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid sayd to Salomon, My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to build an house to the Name of the Lord my God.

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my fight.

9 Behold, a sonne is borne to thee, which shall bee a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnes vpon Israel in his dayes.

14 For beholde, according to my powertie haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundred thousand talents of golde, and a thousande thousand talents of siluer, and of brasle and of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I haue also prepared timber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer thou shalt workmen with thee ynough, hewers of stones, and workmen for timber, and all men expert in euery worke.

16 Of gold, of siluer, and of brasle, and of yron there is no number: vpon therefore, and bee doing, and the Lord will be with thee.

17 Dauid also commaunded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you rest on euery side? for hee hath giuen the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lorde, and before his people.

19 Nowe set your hearts and your soules to seeke the Lorde your God, and arise, and build the Sanctuary of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house built for the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being olde, ordeined Salomon King. 2 Hee causeth the Leuites to bee numbred, 3 And setteth them to their offices. 4 Aaron and his sonnes are for the bie Priests. 5 The sonnes of Moses.

SO when Dauid was olde and full of dayes, * he made Salomon his sonne King ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priestes and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lorde, and sixe thousande were ouer-seers and iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lord with instruments which he made to praise the Lord.

6 * So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were Laadan & Shimei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Iehiel, and Zetham and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziel, & Haram, three: these were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zina, Ieush, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and Zizah the second, but Ieush & Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Vzziel, foure.

13 ¶ The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holy place, he and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, and his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonne of Eliezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were verie many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekamiah the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Isiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kish tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid sayd, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meate offering, and for the vneleued cakes, and for the fried things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and cise,

30 And for to stand euery morning, to giue thanks and to praise the Lord, & likewise at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number & according to their custome, continually before the Lord,

32 And that they should keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the sonnes of of Aaron their brethren in the service of the house of the Lord.

C H A P. XXIIII.

David assigneth offices to the sonnes of Aaron.

These are also the divisions of the sonnes of Aaron: The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

And David distributed them, even Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrations.

And there were found moe of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they diuided them, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteene heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuary, and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar, and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneel the Scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the King and the princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priests and of the Levites, one family being reserved for Eleazar, and another reserved for Ithamar.

And the first lot fell to Ichoiari, and the second to Iedaiah,

The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

The fifth to Malchiah, the sixth to Mitamiah,

The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abiathar,

The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

The eleventh to Eliahshib, the twelfth to Jakim,

The thirteenth to Happa, the fourteenth to Ieshebeab,

The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzer,

The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehzekel,

The one and twentieth to Iachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

The three and twentieth to Deliah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah,

These were their orders according to their offices, when they entered into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

And of the sonnes of Levi that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Iedaiah,

Of Rehabiah, even of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Ishiah,

Of Iuhari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath,

And his sonnes, Ieriah the first, Asuariah the second, Iahaziel the thirde, and Iekameam the fourth,

The sonne of Vzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamiir,

The brother of Michah was Ishiah, the sonne of Ishiah, Zechariah,

The sonnes of Merari, were Mahli and Musshi, the sonne of Izaziah, was Bena,

The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Bena, and Shoham, and Zaccur and Ibri.

Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

Of Kish, the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

And the sonnes of Musshi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Levites after the household of their fathers.

And these also cast lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priests, and of the Levites, were the chiefe of the families against their younger brethren.

C H A P. XXV.

So David and the captaines of the armie separated for the ministrerie the sonnes of Alaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun, who should sing prophecies with harpes, with viols, and with cymbales, and their number was even of the men for the office of their ministrerie.

Of the sonnes of Alaph, Zaccur, and Ioseph, and Nethaniah, and Athareliah the sonnes of Alaph were vnder the hand of Alaph, which sang prophecies by the commission of the King.

Of Ieduthun, the sonnes of Ieduthun, Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Ieshiah, Athabiah and Mattithiah, fixe vnder the hands of their father: Ieduthun sang prophecies with an harpe, for to give thanks and to praise the Lord.

Of Heman, the sonnes of Heman, Bakkiah, Mattaniah, Vzziel, Shebuel, and Ierimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamriker, Iosbekathah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

All these were the sonnes of Heman, the Kings Seer in the wordes of God to lift vp the home: and God gave to Heman fourteene sonnes and three daughters.

All these were vnder the hand of their father, singing in the house of the Lord with cymbals, viols and harps, for the service of the house of God, and Alaph, and Ieduthun, & Heman were at the Kings commandement.

So was their number with their brethren that were instructed in the songs of the Lord, even of all that were cunning, two hundred fourscore and eight.

And they cast lots, charge against charge as well small as great, the cunning man as the scholer.

And the first lot fell to Ioseph, which was of Alaph, the second, to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and his sonnes were twelue.

The third, to Zaccur, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The fourth, to Izri, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The fift, to Nethaniah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The sixt, to Bakkiah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The seventh, to Ieshareliah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The eight, to Ieshiah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

hee shall build mine house and my courts: for I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if he endenour himselfe to doe my commandements, and my iudgements, as this day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israel the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfit heart, and with a willing minde: For the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: if thou seeke him, hee will be found of thee, but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build: the house of the Sanctuary: bee strong therefore, and doe it.

11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the paterne of the porch and of the houses thereof, and of the closets thereof, and of the galleries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the mercie seate,

12 And the paterne of all that he had in his minde for the courts of the house of the Lord, and for all the chambers round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things,

16 And the weight of the gold for the tables of shewbread, for euerie table, and siluer for the tables of siluer, 19 All said he, by writing sent to me by the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderstand all the workmanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayde to Salomon his sonne, Bee strong, and of a valiant courage, and doe it: feare not, nor bee afraide: for the Lord God, euen my God is with thee: hee will not leaue thee, nor forsake thee, till thou hast finished all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorts the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created king. 28 Dauid dicth, and Salomon his sonne reioiceth in his stead.

Moreouer, Dauid the king saide vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine only sonne, yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to bee set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

Moreouer, because I haue delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne gold and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary,

Euen three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined siluer, to ouerlay the wallles of the houses:

The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the kings worke, offered willingly,

And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God, five thousand talents of golde, and tenne thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gershunnite.

And the people reioiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfit heart. And Dauid the king also reioiced with great ioy.

Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse and power, and glorie, and victorie, and praise: for all that is in heaven & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, & in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

Now therefore, our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

But who am I, and what is my people, that wee should bee able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

For wee are strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadow vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

O Lord our God, all this abundance that is at all thy words.

And therefore it ought to bee excellent in all points.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfect heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to doe all things, and to build the house which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the l king.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullocks, a thousand rams, and a thousand sheepe, with their m drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eate and drinke before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid king the second time, and anoynted him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the high Priest.

23 So Salomon sat on the * throne of the Lord, as king in stead of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sonnes of king Dauid † submitted themselves vnder king Salomon.

27 And the space that hee reigned ouer Israel was fortie yeere: tenen yeere reigned hee in Hebron, and three and thirtie yeere reigned he in Ierusalem:

28 And he died in a good age, full of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomon his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 Concerning the acts of Dauid the king, first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer,

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

This second booke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings; that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this storie are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to bee considered. First, that the godly kings, when they saw the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him, and professe his religion, should ioyn in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were verie zealous to set forth his religion thorowout all their dominions, and contrariwise, the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set up idolatrie, and serued God according to the fumes of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and containe in the whole, three thousand, five hundred, threescore and eigheteene yeeres, and sixe monethes.

CHAP. I.

¶ The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8. Hee prayeth to God to giue him wisdom: 12. Which he giueth him, and more. 14. The number of his charres and horses, 15. and of his riches.

Then Salomon the sonne of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: and the Lord his God was with him, & magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon spake vnto all Israel, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreds, and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israel, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at b Gibeon:

for there was the Tabernacle * of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-earim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreover, the d brazen altar * that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered three before the Lord vpon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and saide vnto him, Aske what I shall shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made mee King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me nowe wisdomie and knowledge that I may go out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God saide to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdomie and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King, 12 Wisdomie and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 * And Salomon gathered the charrets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousande horsemen, whom hee placed in the charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figgetrees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and fine linen: the Kings merchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charret, worth fixe hundred shekels of siluer, that is an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. II.

1 The number of Salomons workmen to build the Temple.
2 Salomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workmen.

Then Salomon determined to builde an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand, and fixe hundred to ouersee them.

3 And Salomon sent to Hiram the King of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I builde an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath daies, and in the new moneths, and in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I builde, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to builde him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens cannot containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, and in brasie, and in yron, and in purple, and in crimosin and blue silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedar trees, firretrees and Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and beholde, my seruants shall be with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe builde, is great and wonderfull.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hiram King of Tyrus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Hiram sayd moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for the kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hiram,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasie, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silke, and in fine linen and crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broyder in all broyered worke that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my Lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in raftes by the sea to Lapho, so thou mayest carie them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundred and three and fiftie thousand, and fixe hundred.

18 And he sent seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, & three thousand and fixe hundred ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord, and the porch are builded with other things thereto belonging.

So Salomon began to builde the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in mount Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And hee beganne to builde in the second month and the second day, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 And these are the measures whereon Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was three score cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porch, that was before the length in the front of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twenty, and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater house hee sieled with firre tree which he overlaid with good gold, and graued thereon palme trees and chaires.

6 And hee overlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the gold was golde of Paruaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof and the doores thereof overlaid he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, & the breadth thereof twenty cubites: and he overlaid it with the best gold, of fixe hundred talents.

9 And the waight of the nayles was fifty shekels of gold, and he overlaid the chambers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the house of the most holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlaid them with golde.

11 ¶ And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites ioyning to the wing of the Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites, they stood on their feete, and their faces were toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also the vaile of blue filke and purple, and crimosin, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And hee made before the house two pillars of five and thirtie cubites high: and the chapter that was vpon the top of each of them was five cubites.

16 He made also chaines for the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And he set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hande and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The altar of brasie. 2 The molten sea. 3 The caldrons. 4 The candlestickes, &c.

And hee made an altar of brasie twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compasse, and five cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oxen, which did compass it round about, tenne in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood vpon twelve oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked towards the West, and three looked towards the South, and three looked towards the East, and the Sea stood about vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thicknesse thereof was an hande breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cuppe, with floures of lilies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And he made ten candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundred basins of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great court and doores for the court, and overlaid the doores thereof with brasie.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Hiram made pottes and befoms and basens, and Hiram finished the worke that he should make for King Salomon for the house of God.

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowles and the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters which were vpon the top of the pillars:

13 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters, that were vpon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelve bulles vnder it:

16 Pottes also and befoms, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Hiram his father to King Salomon for the house of the Lorde, of shining brasie.

17 In the plaine of Iorden did the King cast them in clay betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also and the tables, whereon the shewbread stode:

20 Moreouer the candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle, of pure golde,

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of golde, which was fine gold,

22 And the hookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the ashpans of pure gold: the entrie also of the house and doores thereof within, each of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were of golde.

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solemne assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there be no raine, or if I commaund the grasshopper to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselves, and pray and seeke my preface, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen and be mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land:

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue nowe chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements.

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if yee turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them, 20 Then will I plucke them out of my land, which I haue giuen them; and this house which I haue sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt; and haue taken hold on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

1 The cities that Salomon built. 7 People that were made tributarie vnto him. 12 His sacrifices. 17 He sendeth to Ophir.

AND after a twentie yeere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Hiram gave to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.
4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and repaired all the cities of store which he built in Hamath.

5 And he built Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defended with wals, gates and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charret cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Ierusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizzites, and the Huiites, and the Iebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euery one did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charrets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euery two hundred and fifty that bare rule ouer the people.

11 Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cities of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: and hee sayd, My wife shall not dwel in the house of Dauid king of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 Then Salomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which hee had built before the porch, 13 To offer according to the commandement of Moses euery day, in the Sabbaths, and in the newe moones, and in the solesime feastes, three times in the yeere, that is, in the feast of the Vnleavened bread, and in the feast of the Weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And hee set the courses of the Priestes to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priestes euery day, and the porters by their courses; at euery gate: for so was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandement of the king, concerning the Priests and the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 Nowe Salomon had made prouision for all the worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth by the sea side in the lande of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruants, ships, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence foure hundred and thirtie talents of gold, and brought them to king Salomon.

And when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to a proude Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours and much gold, and precious stonies: and when she came to Salomon she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe the wisdom of Salomon, and the house that hee had built,

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his wayters, and their apparel, and his butlers, & their apparell, and his burnt offerings which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astonished.

5 And shee sayd to the king, It was a true worde which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit, I beleued not their report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not tolde me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as king, in the steade of the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath hee made thee king ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then shee gaue the king sixscore talents of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much and precious stonies: neither was there such sweete odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Salomon.

10 And the seruants also of Hiram, and the seruants of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought also Algummim wood and precious stonies.

11 And the king made of the Algummim wood staires in the house of the Lorde, and in the kings house, and harpes and viols for singgers: and there was no such seene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And king Salomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba every pleasant thing that shee asked, & besides for that which shee had brought vnto the king: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both she, and her seruants.

13 Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred threescore and fixe talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the countrey brought gold and siluer to Salomon.

15 And king Salomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold, and sixe hundred shekels of beaten gold went to one target.

16 And three hundred shields of beaten golde: three hundred shekels of golde went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of yuorie and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And the throne had fixe steps, with a footstool of gold: fastened to the throne, and stayes on either side on the place of the seate, and two lions standing by the stayes.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the fixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all king Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for siluer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Hiram, every three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and siluer, yuorie, and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his presents vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, and rayments, armour, and sweet odours, horses, and mules, from yeere to yeere.

25 And Salomon had foure thousand stables of horses, and charrets, and twelue thousand horfemen, whom he bestowed in the charret cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

26 And he reigned ouer all the kings from the Riuer euen vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king gaue siluer in Ierusalem, as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figtrees, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first and last, are they not written in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophesie of Ahiah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Ieedo the Seer against Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat?

30 And Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israel forty yeeres.

31 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam, and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the auncient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the young men that were brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue yee, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the young men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shall be bigger then my fathers loines.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the King answered them sharply: and King Rehoboam left the counsell of the auncient men, 14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I will encrease it: my father chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the King hearkned not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lorde might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the King would not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. O Israel, euery man to your tents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: then King Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5 Cities which he built. 21 Hee hath eigheteene wiues, and threescore concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and to all Israel that are in Judah, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Yee shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of mee. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and built strong cities in Iudah.

6 Hee built also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Maresha, and Ziph,

9 And Adoram, and Lachish, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aialon, & Hebron, which were in Iudah and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holds and put capitaines in them, and store of vittaille, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, I resorted vnto him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priestes office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And hee ordeined him Priestes for the hie places, and for the deuils and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their hearts to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, three yeere long: for three yeere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ishai, 19 Which bare him sonnes, Ieush, and Shemaiah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah the daughter of Abisalom which bare him Abijah, & Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Abisalom aboue all his wiues and his concubines: for hee tooke eigheteene wiues and threescore concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the sonne of Maakah the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

23 And hee taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreys of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euerie strong citie: and hee gaue them abundance of vittaille, and desired many wiues.

Or, when the Lord had established Rehoboams kingdome, 3 For such is the inclination of the people.

2 Therefore in the fifth yeere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charets, and three-score thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, even the Lubims, b Sukkims, and the ¶ Ethiopians.

4 And he tooke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Hierusalem, because of Shishak, and said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, c therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselues, and sayde, The Lorde d iust.

7 And when the Lorde sawe that they humbled themselues, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled themselues, e therefore I will not destroy them, but I will send them deliuerance shortly, and my wrath shall not f be powred out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuerthelesse they shall bee his seruants: so shall they know my g seruice, and the seruice of the kingdoms of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, and tooke the treasures of the house: of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, he tooke h even all: and he caried away the shields of gold, i which Salomon had made.

10 In the head whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, & committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the guard, that waited at the doore of the Kings house, 11 And when the King entred into the house of the Lorde, the guard came and bare them and brought them againe vnto the guard chamber.

12 And because hee k humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy all together. And also in Iudah the things prospered.

13 ¶ So King Rehoboam was strong in Ierusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and fourtie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and reigned l seuentene yeere in Ierusalem, the citie which the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

14 And hee m did euil: for hee prepared not his heart to seeke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam, first and last, are they not written in the n booke of Shemaiah the Prophet, and Iddo the Seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: and there o was warre alway betweene Rehoboam and Ieroboam.

16 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and ¶ Abijah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abijah makes warre against Ieroboam. 4 Hee sheweth the occasion. 12 Hee trusteth in the Lord and ouercommeth Ieroboam. 21 Of his wives and children.

IN the eighteenth yeere of King Ieroboam began Abijah to reigne ouer a Iudah.

2 Hee reigned three yeere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was b Michaiah the daughter of c Vriël of Gibeā) and there was warre betweene Abijah and Ieroboam.

3 And Abijah let the battell in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abijah stood vp vpon mount d Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me.

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to e Dauid for euer, even to him and to his sonnes by a couenant f of salt?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath g rebelled against his lord:

7 And there are gathered to him h gaine men and i wicked, and made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was k but a childe and ¶ tender hearted, and could not resist them.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and yee be a great multitude, and the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

9 ¶ Haue yee not driuen away the Priestes of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you Priestes like the people of other countreyes? whosoever cometh to † consecrate with a yong bullocke and seven rammes, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

10 But we belong vnto the Lord our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery l morning and euery evening burnt offerings and sweet incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of gold with the lamps thereof, to burne euery evening: for wee keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And beholde, this God m n with vs as a captain, and his Priestes with the sounding trumpets, to cry an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lorde God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

13 ¶ But Ieroboam caused an ambushment o to compass, and come behind them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambushment behind them.

14 Then Iudah looked, and beholde, the battell p was before and behinde them, when they cried vnto the Lorde, and the Priestes blew with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shout: and q even as the men of Iudah shouted, God r smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abijah and Iudah.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Iudah, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people slewe a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, s because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

20 And Ieroboam recovered no strength again in the dayes of Abiiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 So Abiiah waxed mighty, and married fourteene wiues, and begate two and twenty sonnes, and fixteene daughters.

22 The rest of the actes of Abiiah, and his manners & his sayings are written in the storie of the Prophet Iado.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Afa destroyeth idolatrie, and commandeth his people to serue the true God. 11 He prayeth unto God when he should go to fight. 12 He obtaineth the victory.

So Abiiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Afa his sonne reigned in his stead: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.

2 And Afa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away the altars of the strange gods, and the hie places, and brake down the images, and cut downe the † groues,

4 And commanded Iudah to seeke the Lorde God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the commandement.

5 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the hie places, and the images: therefore the † kingdome was quiet before him.

6 He built also strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore hee sayd to Iudah, Let vs build these cities, and make wallies about, and towers, gates, and barres, whiles the lande is † before vs: because wee haue fought the Lord our God, wee haue fought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.

8 And Afa had an armie of Iudah that bare shields and speares, three hundreth thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and drewe bowes, two hundreth and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out against him Zerah of Ethiopia, with an host of ten hundreth thousand, and three hundreth charrets, and came vnto Marefhah.

10 Then Afa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephahath, beside Marefhah.

11 And Afa cried vnto the Lord his God, and sayd, Lorde, * it is nothing with thee to helpe with many, or with no power: helpe vs, O Lord our God: for wee rest on thee, and in thy Name are wee come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, † let not man preuaile against thee.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Afa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Afa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lorde and before his host: and they caried away a mightie great spoyle.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the † feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoyled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoyle in them.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Afa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 Hee deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon † Azariah the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meet Afa, and sayd vnto him, O Afa, and all Iudah, and Benjamin, heere yeme. The Lord is with you, while yee be with him: and if ye seeke him, he will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season Israel hath bene without the † true God, and without Priest to teach, and without Law.

4 But † whofoener returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and fought him, hee was found of them.

5 And in that tinte there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 Bee yee strong therefore, and let not your hands bee weake: for your † worke shall haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Afa heard these wordes, and the prophesie of Obed the Prophet, hee was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and hee reuied the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Iudah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the † third moneth, in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Afa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the † spoile, which they had brought, even seven hundreth bullockes, and seven thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a covenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And † whofoener will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shalbe slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lorde with all their heart, and fought him with a whole desire, and hee was † found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

16 ¶ And King Afa deposeth † Maachah his mother from her regencie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Afa brake downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

Which partly came through lack of zeale in him, partly through the negligence of his officers, and partly by the superstition of the people that all were set taken away. 1 Because that God was called a God of Israel, by reason of his promise to Iacob: therefore Israel is sometime taken for Iudah: because Iudah was his chiefe people. m In respect of his predecessors.

Afa for feare of Baasha king of Israel, maketh a covenant with Benhadad king of Aram. 7 Hee is reprooved by the Prophet. 10 Whom he putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Physicians. 13 His death.

In the sixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Afa, came * Baasha king of Israel vp against Iudah, and built a Ramah, to let none passe out or go in to Afa king of Iudah.

2 Then Afa brought out siluer and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, & of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father and thy father: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, & breake thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto king Afa, and sent the captains of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Iion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphthali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Afa the king tooke all Iudah, and carried away the stones of Ramah and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the seer came to Afa king of Iudah, and sayd vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 * The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charers and horsemen, exceeding many, yet because thou diddest rest vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 * For the eyes of the Lord beholde all the earth, to shew himselfe strong with them that are of perfitt heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Afa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Afa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the actes of Afa first and last, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Afa in the niue and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was * diseased in his feete, and his disease was * extreme: yet hee sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the physicians.

CHAP. XVII.

Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honoure. 6 Hee aboliseth idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 Hee receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munition, and men of warre.

And Iehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Afa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because hee walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim.

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lorde stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and hee tooke away moreouer the hie places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne hee sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nedabiah, and Michaiiah, that they should teach in the citirs of Iudah.

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nehemiah, and Zebadiah, and Afahel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adonijah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, & had the booke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, & taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 And some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flockes, seven thousand & seven hundred rammes, and seven thousand and seven hundred hee goates.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grewe vp on high: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, in Iudah were captaines of thousands, Adiah the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And ¶ at his hand Iehohanan a captaine, and with him two hundred and fourescore thousand.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehoshaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10 Four hundred Prophets counsell Ahab to goe to warre. 16 Michaiah is against them. 23 Zidkiah smiteth him. 25 The king putteth him in prison. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

And Iehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but hee was ioyned in an affinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine yeeres hee went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slewed sheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to goe vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, Wilt thou goe with mee to Ramoth Gilead? And hee answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will sojourn with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of 400 Prophets foure hundred men, and sayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they saide, Goe vp: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the King of Israel sayde vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whome wee may aske counsell of the Lorde, but I feare him: for hee doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla: Then Iehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuch, and sayd, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 And the King of Israel, and Iehoshaphat King of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their apparell: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, and saide, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the King.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the King with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord lineth, whatsoever my God faith, that will I speake.

14 So hee came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiah, shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leave off? And he said, I Goe ye vp, and prosper, and they shall bee deli-uered into your hand.

15 And the King said vnto him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell mee nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, These haue no master: let them returne euerie man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israel said to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that hee would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Again hee said, Therefore heare yee the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hostes of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall perfwade Ahab king of Israel, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? and one spake and said thus, and another said that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and said, I will perfwade him. And the Lord said, Wherein?

21 And he said, I will goe out, and bee a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And hee said, Thou shalt perfwade, and shalt also preuaile: goe forth, and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the cheekes, and said, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah said, Beholde, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israel said, Take yee Michaiah, and carie him to Amion the gouernour of the citie, and to Ioash the Kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And hee said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the King of Israel and Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the King of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thy apparell. So the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the King of Aram had commaunded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the King of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets saw Iehoshaphat, they said, It is the King of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat cryed, and the Lord helped him, and mooued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets saw that hee was not the King of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drew a bowe mightily, and smote the King of Israel betweene the ioyns of his brigandine: Therefore hee said to his charetman, Turne thine hand, and carie me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

Hear ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: beleene his <sup>m</sup> Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed fingers vnto the Lorde, and them that should praye <sup>him</sup> that is in the beautiful Sanctuarie, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, <sup>a</sup> Prayse yee the Lorde, for his mercy <sup>lasteth</sup> for euer.

22 And when they began to shoute, and to prayse the Lorde, layd ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and <sup>o</sup> mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy <sup>them</sup>; and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to destroy one another.

24 And when Iudah came towarde Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude; and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat & his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies <sup>laden</sup> with precious jewells, which they tooke for themselves, till they could cary no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they <sup>a</sup> assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lorde: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then euery man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head to go again to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lorde had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols and with harpes, and with trumpets, <sup>euens</sup> vnto the house of the Lorde.

29 And the <sup>r</sup> feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And <sup>a</sup> Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fise and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne: and reigned fise and twenty yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the <sup>r</sup> way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit his places were <sup>r</sup> not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoshaphat first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which <sup>r</sup> is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphat King of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was giuen to doe euill.

36 And he ioynd with him, to <sup>a</sup> make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Dodanah of Ma-reshah prophesied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast <sup>a</sup> ioynd thy self with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy works: and the shippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Iehoshaphat dieth. 2 Iehoram succeeded him, 14 which killeth his brethren. 6 Hazan brought to idolatrie, 18 and seduced the people. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistines, 18 His miserable ende.

¶ Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and I was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great gifts of siluer and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdome gaue hee to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 ¶ And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdome of his father, and made himselfe strong, and <sup>b</sup> slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeeres in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to <sup>d</sup> wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the <sup>a</sup> couenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charers with him: and hee rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaines of the charers.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vntill this day. Then did <sup>a</sup> Libnah rebel at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer hee made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit <sup>r</sup> fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from <sup>a</sup> Eliiah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudah, 13 Euthast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to goe a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou.

14 Beholde, with great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues, and all thy substance.

15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill <sup>b</sup> thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lorde stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

<sup>a</sup> Thus God would not haue his to ioyne in foeticie with idolaters and wicked men.

CHAP. XXII.

And <sup>5</sup> the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his stead: for the amie that came with <sup>6</sup> the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

Two and <sup>7</sup> fourtie yeere olde was Ahaziah when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned <sup>8</sup> one yeere in Ierusalem. And his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter <sup>9</sup> of Omri.

Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counsellled him to doe wickedly.

Wherefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lords, like the house of Ahab: for they were his <sup>10</sup> counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

And hee walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

¶ And he returned to bee healed in Izreel, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael King of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because hee was diseased.

And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when hee was come, he went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Ninissi, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

And he sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him and buried him, because said they he is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her sonne was dead, she arose and <sup>11</sup> destroyed all the Kings seede of the house of Iudah.

But Iehoshebeath the daughter of the king, tooke Ioth the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among the Kings sonnes, that should bee slaine, and put him and his nourse in the bedde chamber: so Iehoshebeath the daughter of King Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for shee was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so he slew him not.

And he was with them hid in the <sup>12</sup> house of God fixe yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the <sup>13</sup> land.

CHAP. XXIII.

And <sup>5</sup> in the seventh yeere Iehoiada waxed bolde, and tooke the captaines of hundreths, to wit, Azariah the sonne of Iehoram, and Ishmael the sonne of Iehohanan, and Azariah the sonne of Obed, and Maasiah the sonne of Adaiah, and Bilshaphat the sonne of Zichri in covenant with him.

And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers <sup>6</sup> of Israel: and they came to Ierusalem.

And all the congregation made a covenant with the King in the house of God: and hee saide vnto them, Behold, the kings sonne must reigne, as the Lord hath said of the sonnes of Dauid.

This is it that ye shall do, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priest, and the Levites, shall be porters of the doores:

And another third part toward the kings house, and another third part at the <sup>7</sup> gate of the foundation, and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

But let none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priestes, and the Levites that minister, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

And the Levites shall compass the King round about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entred into the house, shall be slaine, and be you with the king, when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

¶ So the Levites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had commaunded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

And Iehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundreths speares, and shieldes, and bucklers which had bene king Dauids, and were in the house of God.

And he caused all the people to stand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar: & by the <sup>8</sup> house round about the king.

Then they brought out the kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne and <sup>9</sup> gave him the testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anointed him, and sayde, God saue the king.

¶ But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

And when shee <sup>10</sup> looked, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musicke, and and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, <sup>a</sup> Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundreds that were gouernours of the host, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, and he that followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they layed hands on her: and when shee was come to the entring of the horsagate by the kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Iehoiada made a <sup>b</sup> couenant betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they would be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars, and his images, and slew <sup>c</sup> Mattan the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Iehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whom Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, <sup>d</sup> as it is written in the Law of Moses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vnclane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And hee tooke the captaines of hundreds, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went thorow <sup>e</sup> the gate of the kings house, and set the king vpon the throne of the kingdome.

21 Then all the people of the land reioyced, and the citie was quiet <sup>f</sup> after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIIII.

<sup>g</sup> Ioash repairreth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiada he falleth to idolatrie. 21 Hee stoneth to death Zachariah the Prophet. 25 Ioash is killed of his owne seruants. 27 After him reigneth Athaliah.

Ioash <sup>h</sup> was seven yeere olde when hee beganne to reigne, and hee reigned fortie yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioash did vprightly in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of <sup>i</sup> Iehoiada the Priest.

3 And Iehoiada <sup>j</sup> tooke him two wiues, and he begate finnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioash mind to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And hee assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and said to them, Goe out into the cities of Iudah, and gather of all <sup>k</sup> Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hastened not.

6 Therefore the king called Iehoiada the <sup>l</sup> chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem <sup>m</sup> the taxe of Moles the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

7 For <sup>n</sup> d wicked Athaliah, and her children, brake vp the house of God, and all the things that were dedicated to the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the king commanded, <sup>o</sup> and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation thorow Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord <sup>p</sup> the taxe of Moles the seruant of God, layed vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, <sup>q</sup> they brought the chest vnto the kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much siluer, then the Kings Scribe, and one appointed by the high Priest, came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the king, and <sup>r</sup> Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workes of yron and brasie, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the worke <sup>s</sup> finished through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the king and Iehoiada, and hee made thereof <sup>t</sup> vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both morters and incense cups, and vessels of gold, and of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde and was ful of dayes, and died. An hundred and thirtie yeere olde <sup>u</sup> was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid with the <sup>v</sup> kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the <sup>w</sup> princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they <sup>x</sup> made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zachariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stood <sup>y</sup> aboue the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse yee the commandments of the Lord? surely yee shall not prosper: because yee haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, & stoned him with stones at the <sup>z</sup> commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the king remembered not the kindnesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he died, hee said, The Lord <sup>aa</sup> looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, and they came againe <sup>ab</sup> Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damascus.

gathered by him, and the <sup>r</sup> foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

sendeth backe them of Israel. <sup>11</sup> Hee ouercommeth the Edomites. <sup>14</sup> Hee falleth to idolatrie. <sup>17</sup> And Ioash king of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah. <sup>27</sup> He is slaine by a conspiracie.

Amaziah was five and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and hee reigned nine and twentie yere in <sup>a</sup> Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Iehoaddan of Ierusalem.

2 And hee did <sup>a</sup> vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfit heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, he slew his seruants, that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but <sup>a</sup> did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, <sup>a</sup> The fathers shall not die for the <sup>b</sup> children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euerie man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, & made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, thorowout all Iudah and Benjamin: and hee numbred them from <sup>c</sup> twentie yeere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men, to goe forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundred thousand valiant men <sup>d</sup> out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not <sup>e</sup> with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If <sup>f</sup> not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enimie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziah saide to the man of God,
What shall wee doe then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, <sup>g</sup> to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led foorth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of <sup>h</sup> Seir, ten thousand.

12 And <sup>a</sup> other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and carie them to the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to peeces.

13 But the men of the <sup>k</sup> armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and <sup>l</sup> worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to <sup>m</sup> deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as hee talked with him, <sup>n</sup> hee said vnto him, Haue they made thee the kings coun-seller? cease thou: why should they <sup>o</sup> smite thee?
And the Prophet ceased, but said, I knowe that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Ioash the sonne of Iehoahaz, the sonne of Iehu king of Israel, saying, Come,
I let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, <sup>a</sup> Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge:
abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for <sup>q</sup> it was of God, that he might deliuer them into <sup>h</sup> his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioash the king of Israel went vp: and he and Amaziah king of Iudah saw one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worfe before Israel, and they fled euerie man to his tents.

23 But Ioash the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Iehoahaz, in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Ie-rusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

24 And hee tooke all the golde and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obad Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, & the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash king of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Iehoahaz king of Israel, fiftene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the Acts of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Nowe after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, <sup>a</sup> they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: and when hee was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and

CHAP. XXVI.

1. 5 Vzziah obeying the Lord, prospereth in his enterprise. 16 Hee waxeth proud, and usurpeth the Priestes office. 19 The Lord plagueth him. 20 The Priestes drive him out of the Temple, and exclude him out of the Lords house. 23 His buriall, and his succession.

Then all the people of Iudah tooke Vzziah, which was sixtene yeere olde, and made him King in the stead of his father Amaziah.

2 Hee built Eloth, and restored it to Iudah after that the King slept with his fathers.

3 Sixtene yeere olde was Vzziah, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two & fiftie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And hee fought God in the dayes of Zechariah (which vnderstood the visions of God) & when as he fought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue giftes to Vzziah, and his name spred to the entring in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreouer Vzziah built towers in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wilderness, and digged many cisternes: for hee had much cattell both in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in Carmel: for he loued husbandrie.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bandes, according to the count of their number vnder the hande of Ieiel the Scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder the hande of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and sixe hundreth.

13 And vnder their hande was the armie for warre, three hundreth and seuen thousand, & fise hundreth that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemy.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shieldes, and speares, and helmes, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very tartificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him marueilously, till he was mightie.

16 And when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to his destruction: for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priestes of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the King, and said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priestes the sonnes of Aaaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: goe forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priestes, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priestes in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priestes looked vpon him, beholde, he was leproous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and hee was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 And Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the Kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Vzziah, first and last, did Ishaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the kings: for they said, He is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 His reigne and death. 9 Abaz his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Iotham was fise and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Vzziah did, saue that hee entred not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt their wayes.

3 Hee built the hie gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreouer hee built cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forests hee built palaces and towers.

5 And hee fought with the King of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie, because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel, and Iudah.

8 He was fise and twentie yeere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Ierusalem.

9 And Iotham slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the cite of Dauid: and Abaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

Ahaz * was thirte yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned fixeene yeere in Ierusalem, and did not vp rightly in the sight of the Lord, like Dauid his father.

2 But he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made euen molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreouer he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hillies, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lorde his God deliuered him into the hande of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and tooke of his, † many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: & he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For c Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah fixe score thousand in one day, all † valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a mightie man of Ephraim slew Maaseiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the King.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters and caried away much spoile of them, and brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lordes, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, & said vnto them, Behold, e because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, hee hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And nowe yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaidens vnto you, but are not you such, that f finnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Nowe therefore heare mee, and deliuer the captiues againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from the warre, 13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for this shalbe h a sinne vpon vs a gainst the Lord: yee intend to adde more to our finnes and to our trespasse, though our trespasse be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the armie left the captiues and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were named by name, rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gaue them meate, and gaue them drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the citie of Palme trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did King Ahaz sende vnto the Kings of Asshur, to helpe him.

17 (For the Edomites came moreouer, and slew of Iudah, and caried away captiues.

18 The Philistims also invaded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Bethhemesh, and Aialon, and Gederoth, and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grievously transgressed against the Lord.

20 And Tilgath Pileeser King of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz † tooke a portion * out of the house of the Lord and out of the Kings house and of the Princes, and gaue vnto the King of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did hee yet trespasse more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which * plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will p helpe mee: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lorde, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euery citie of Iudah hee made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 For loe, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wiues, are in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now I purpose to make a couenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turne away his fierce wrath from vs.

11 Now my sonnes, be not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehalelel: and of the Gerthonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimmah, and Edey the sonne of Ioah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Iehiel: and of the sonnes of Alaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah, and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, & came according to the commandement of the king, and by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannesse that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites tooke it, to cary it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and sayd, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the princes of the city, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullocks, and seuen rammes, and seuen lambs, and seuen he goats, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuary, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonne of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priestes receiued the blood, and sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes, and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goats for the sinne offering before the king and the Congregation, & they layd their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priestes slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering, and the sinne offering.

rel the burnt offering, and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with vials, and with harpes, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and al that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to praye the Lord with the words of Dauid, and of Alaph the Seer. So they prayed with ioy, and they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayd, Now yee haue consecrated your selues to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praye into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices and offerings of praises, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seenty bullocks, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for sanctification fixe hundred bullocks, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Levites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many, with the fat of the peace offerings and drinke offerings for the burnt offering: so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced, and all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation thorowout all Israel from Beerseba even to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Paschevnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king, and his princes, thorowout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Asshur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stifnecked like your fathers, but giue the hand to the Lord, and come into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if yee returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the posts went from city to city thorow the land of Ephraim and Manasse, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorne and mocked them.

11 Neuerthelesse, diners of Asshur, and Manasse, and of Zebulun, submitted themselves, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnleavened bread in the second moneth, a very great assembly.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slewe the Pascheouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood received of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Pascheouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasse, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselves, yet did eate the Pascheouer, but not as it is written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and heard the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleavened bread seuen dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priestes prayed the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priestes were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priestes and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

1 The people destroy idolatry. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 And provideth for their living. 13 He ordaineth officers to distribute to every one his portion.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel, that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and brake downe the high places, and the altars thorowout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasse, vntill they had made an end: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priestes and Leuites by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priestes and Leuites for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thanks, and to prayse in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 (And the kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, euen for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the euening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moones, and for the solemne feasts, as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

4 He commanded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue a part to the Priestes and Leuites, that they might be encouraged in the law of the Lord.

5 ¶ And when the commandement was spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits, of corne, wine, and oile, and honie, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them on g many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they b blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayd, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, wee haue i eaten and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commaunded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And caryed in the first fruits, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: and ouer them was Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Iehiel, and Azariah, and Nahath, and Afahel, and Ierimoth, and Tozabad, and Eliel, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah, were ouerscers ¶ by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commaundement of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Kore the sonne of Imnah the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lorde, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Ieshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Sechaniah, the cities of the Priestes, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their dayly portion: beside their generation being males k from three yeres old and aboue, euen to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuites from twentie yeere olde and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their l fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priestes, which were in the fields, and suburbs of their cities, in euery citie the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priestes, and to all the generation of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well, and vprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that he began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commaundements, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Saneherib invadeth Iudah. 2 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre. 3 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 4 Saneherib blasphemeth God. 5 Hezekiah prayeth. 6 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slain. 7 Hezekiah is not thankfull toward the Lord. 8 His death.

After these things faithfully described, Saneherib King of Asshur came and entred into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to t win them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah sawe that Saneherib was come, and that his t purpose was to fight against Hierusalem,

3 Then he tooke counsel with his princes and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 So many of the people assembled themselves, and stopt all the fountaines, and the riuier that ran through the middes of the cuntry, saying, Why should the kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And t he tooke courage, and built all the broken wall, and made vp the towers, and another wall without, and repayred a Millo in the b citie of Dauid, and mahy c darts and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and t spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be afrayde for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there bee moe with vs, then i with him.

8 With him is an d arme of flesh, but with vs is the e Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

9 * After this did Saneherib King of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while hee was f against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus sayth Saneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that yee will remaine in Ierusalem, during this siege?

11 Doeth not Hezekiah entise you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places, and his g altars, and commaunded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know yee not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countries? were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the h gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hande, that your God should bee able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Nowe therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue yehim: for none of all the gods of any nation or kindome was able to deliuer his people out of i mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his servants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his servant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel and speaking against him saying, As the gods of the nations of other countries could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loude voice in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they might take the cite.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, even the works of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the king, and the Prophet Ishaiah the sonne of Amoz<sup>2</sup> prayed against this and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and captaines of the host of the king of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanherib king of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue vnto him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of silver, and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels.

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stables for all beasts and rows for the stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led them freight vnderneath toward the cite of Dauid Westward: so Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, beholde, they are written in the vision of Ishaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 Manasseh an idolater. 9 Hee causeth Iudah to erre. 11 Hee is led away prisoner into Babylon 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 He aboliseth idolatrie, 16 And serueth vp true religion. 20 He dieth and Amos his sonne succeedeth, 24 Whom his owne seruants slay.

Manasseh was twelue yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned five and fifty yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had sayd, In Ierusalem shal my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to forcerie, and hee vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carved image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Solomon his sonne, In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer, 8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remooue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worfe then the heathen, whom the Lord hath destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lorde brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers.

13 And prayed vnto him: and God was entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Nowe after this hee built a wall without the cite of Dauid, on the West side of Gihon in the valley, euen at the entry of the fift gate, and compassed about Ophel, and rayised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods and the 16 Also hee prepared the altar of the Lorde, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, & of thanks, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuerthelesse the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his praier vnto his God, & the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, behold they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere, in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slewe all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Iosiah destroyeth the idoles. 8. And refresheth the Temple. 14 The booke of the Law is found. 21 He sendeth to Huldah the Prophetesse for counsell. 27 God heareth his prayer. 31 He maketh a covenant with God.

Iosiah was eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yeere.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of a Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yeere of his reigne (when he was yet a child) hee began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yeere he began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the carued images and molten images.

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: he brake also the groues, and the carued images, and the molten images, and stampd them to powder, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priestes vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules they brake all round about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land and the temple, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the son of Ioahaz the Recorder to reparaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered themoney that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Benaimin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should do the worke, and had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord to reparaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workmen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musicke.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward all the workmen in euery worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Lawe of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the booke to the King, and brought the King word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lorde, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workmen.

18 Also Shaphan the chaunceller declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen mee a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the king had heard the words of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commaunded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Afsaiah the Kings seruant, saying, 21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the wordes of the Lorde, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed went to Huldah the prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of Hallsah and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King word againe.

29 Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priestes and the Le-uites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the Covenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stood by his pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and keepe his Commandements, and his Testimonies, and his Statutes, with all his heart with all his soule, and that hee would accomplish the wordes of the Covenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused al that were found in Ieru-salem, and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the Couenant of God, euē the God of their fathers.

33 So Iofiah tooke away al the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers,

1 Iofiah keepeth the Pascheouer. 2 He setteth forth Gods seruice.
3 He fighteth against the King of Egypt, and dyeth. 24 The people bewaile him.

Moreouer, Iofiah kept a Pascheouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the Pascheo-uer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appoynted the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And hee sayd vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel and were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put which are signified. b So that the Leuites charge was not only to minister in the Temple, but also to instruct the people in the word of God, the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shall be no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren, the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Pascheouer, and sanctifie your selues, and 4 prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the wordes of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iofiah also gaue to the people sheepe, lambs and kiddes, all for the Pascheouer, euē to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Pascheouer, euē two thousand and sixe hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Netha-neel his brethren, and Hashabiah and Iehiel, and Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Pascheouer, fise thousand sheepe, and fise hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the kings commandement:

11 And they slewe the Pascheouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And they roasted the Pascheouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselues and for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Le-uites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the fingers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ie-duthun the Kings Seer: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from their seruice:
therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day to keepe the Pascheouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord according to the commandement of King Iofiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Pascheouer the same time, and the feast of the vneleavened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Pascheouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet:

neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Pasfeouer as Iofiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all Iudah, and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

19 This Pasfeouer was kept in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iofiah.

20 ¶ After all this, when Iofiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against k Carchemish by ¶ Perath, & Iofiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, thou king of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mineemie, and God commanded mee to make haste: leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Iofiah would not turne his face from him, but changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot at king Iofiah: then the king said to his seruants, Carie me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants tooke him out of that charret, and put him in the second charret which hee had, and when they had brought him to Ierusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudah and Ierusalem mourned for Iofiah.

25 And Ieremiah lamented Iofiah, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Iofiah in their lamentations to this day, and made the same for an ordinance vnto Israel: and beholde, they be written in the Lamentations.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iofiah, and his goodnesse, doing as it was written in the Law of the Lord, 27 And his deedes, first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel, and Iudah.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 After Iofiah, reigned Iehohaz. 4 After Iehohaz, Iehoiachin. 8 After him Iehoiachin. 11 After him Zedekiah. 14-17 In whose time all the people were caried away to Babel for contemning the admonitions of the Prophets. 21 And were restored againe the seventieth yeere after by king Cyrus.

Then * the people of the land tooke Iehohaz the sonne of Iofiah, and made him king in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Iehohaz was three and twentie yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned three moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of gold.

4 ¶ And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king ouer Iudah and Ierusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Iehohaz his brother, and caried him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakim was five and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines to carie him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also * caried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his Temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found vpon him, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah, and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ Iehoiachin was eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, king Nebuchad-nezzar sent and brought him to Babel, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and hee made Zedekiah his brother king ouer Iudah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yeere in Ierusalem.

12 * And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremiah the Prophet at the commaundement of the Lord, 13 But hee rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and he hardened his necke & made his heart obstinate, that hee might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which hee had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lorde God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising early and sending: for he had compasion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For he brought vpon them the king of the Caldeans, who slew their young-men with the sword in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither yong man nor virgin, ancient, nor aged. God gaue all into his hand, 18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these caried he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire: and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sworde, caried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to him, and to his sonnes, vntill the kingdome of the Persians had rule, 21 To fulfill the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremiah, vntill the lande had her fill of her Sabbaths: for all the dayes that shee lay desolate, shee kept Sabbath, to fulfill seuentie yeeres.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Scripture is translated out of the Greeke.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all doe feare, and tremble before thy power: for the Maieftie of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angrie threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repeatest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lorde, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, & done euill before thee, I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commaundements. I haue set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with mee for euer by reteruing euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, such the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue mee that am vnworthie, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will prayse thee for euer all the dayes of my life: for all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

THE ARGVMENT.

As the Lord is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and bee exercised vnder the crose, that they might conuert the world and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Jewes, and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, & moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pay them, & also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefite, hee keepeth them stil in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which endeauour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little, till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Law, as Chap. 7. 6. Hee returned to Ierusalem the first yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus. that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great company and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessarie for the Temple: and as his coming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

57 The sonnes of Shephatiah, the sonnes of Hattil, the sonnes of Pochereth Hazzebaim, the sonnes of Anai.

58 All the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants were three hundred and ninety and two.

And <sup>1</sup> when the <sup>2</sup> seventh moneth was come, and the children of Israel were in their cities, the people assembled themselves as one man vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then stood vp Ieshua the sonne of Ioizadak, and his brethren the Priestes, and Zerubbabel the <sup>3</sup> sonne of Shealtiel, & his brethren, and builded the Altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses the man of God,

3 And they set the Altar vpon <sup>4</sup> his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreys) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, <sup>5</sup> euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering <sup>6</sup> dayly, by number according to the custome day by day,

5 And afterward <sup>7</sup> the continuall burnt offering, both in the newe moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seventh moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not laide.

7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Tyrus, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto <sup>8</sup> Iapho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 ¶ And in the second yeere of their coming vnto the house of God in Ierusalem, in the <sup>9</sup> second moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Ioizadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priestes and the Leuites, & all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeere olde and aboue, to set forward the worke of the house of the Lord.

9 And Ieshua <sup>10</sup> stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Iudah together, to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadad with their sonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders layed the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priestes in their apparel with trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbals, to praye the Lord, <sup>11</sup> after the ordinance of Dauid king of Israel.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue prayse, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord, For hee is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they prayed the Lorde, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was layed.

12 Many also of the Priestes and Leuites and the chiefe of the fathers, ancient men which had seene the first house, (when the foundation of this house was layed before their eyes) <sup>13</sup> wept with a loud voyce, and many shouted aloud for ioy, 13 So that the people could not discern the sound of the shout for ioy, from the noyse of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude crie, and the noyse was heard farre off.

<sup>8</sup> Because they saw that it was nothing to glorie in that Temple, which Salomon had built, nor worth the labour to build it againe, as the Prophet said, that it should be more beautiful then the first: meaning the spiritual Temple, which are the members of Christs body.

But

BV<sup>1</sup> the adversaries of Iudah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie buildded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and sayde vnto them, We will build with you: for we seeke the Lord your God as ye do, and we haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Esar Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, saide vnto them: It is not for you but for vs to builde the house vnto our God: for we our selues together will builde it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land discourage the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building.

5 And they hired counsellors against them, to hinder their deuise, all the dayes of Cyrus King of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of Ahasuerus (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artahastates, Michrodath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahastates king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artah-astates the king in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions: Dinaie, and Apharsathcaie, Tarpelise, Apharsaie, Archetaie, Bablaie, Shushanachae, Dehaue, El-maie,

10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble Asnappar brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyonde the Riuer and Cheeneth.

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahastates. T N Y S R W A N T S the men beyonde the Riuer and Che-eneth, saue thee.

12 Be it knowen vnto the King that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Be it knowen nowe vnto the King, that if this citie be build, and the foundations of the wals laid, they will not giue tolle, tribute, nor cus-tome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Nowe therefore because I wee haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 We certifie the king therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles laid, by this meanes the portion beyonde the Riuer shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyonde the Riuer: Shelam and Cheeth.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me,

19 And I haue commaunded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein:

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruler ouer all beyonde the Riuer, and tolle, tribute and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, till I haue gi-uen another commandement.

22 Take heed: nowe that yee faile not to doe this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of king Artahastates letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

C H A P. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah doe prophesie. 3 The worke of the Temple goeth forward contrary to the mind of Tarnai, & his

THen Haggai a Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.

2 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to builde the house of God at Ierusalem, and with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tarnai, which was captaine beyonde the Riuer, and She-ther-boznai and their companions, and sayd thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to builde this house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

4 ¶ Then said we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tarnai captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and his companions, Aphasiechae, (which were beyonde the riuer) sent vnto King Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are laid in the walles, & this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and saide vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

6 Or, marke.

10 We asked their names also that wee might certifie thee, and that wee might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel * builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, * hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Caldean, and hee destroyed this house, and carried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Ierusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one f. Sheshbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he saide vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be build in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there be search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to build this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King sende his mind concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandments of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicated, the children of Israel kept the feast of vnleavened bread.

Then * king Darius gaue commandement, and they made search in the librerie of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem, Let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof threescore cubites, 4 Three orders of great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expenses be giuen of the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him goe vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai, and their companions Apharseaie, which are beyonde the Riuer, bee ye farre from thence.

7 Suffer yee the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shall do to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyond the Riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rammes, or lambes for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroy this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai the captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahsasthe king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth g. Adar, which was the sixt yeere of the reigne of Darius.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rams, foure hundred lambes, and twelue goates, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Pascheouer on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests and the Leuites were purified together) and they killed the Pascheouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselves vnto them, from the filthinesse of the Heathen of the land to seek the Lord God of Israel, did eate, 22 And they kept the feast of vnleavened bread seuen daies with ioy, for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Aschur vnto them, to encourage them in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

<sup>9</sup> For vpon the first day of the first moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fifth moneth came he to Ierusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

<sup>10</sup> For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

<sup>11</sup> ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artahshashtre gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and Scribe, euen a writer of the words of the commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

<sup>19</sup> And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

<sup>20</sup> And the residue that shall bee needfull for the house of thy God, which shall bee meet for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the kings treasure house,

<sup>21</sup> And I king Artahshashtre hath giuen commandement to al the treasurers which are beyond <sup>l</sup> the Riuer, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it be done incontinently, 9 Of the sonnes of Issachar, Obadiah the sonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighty male.

10 And of the sonnes of Shelomith the sonne of Issachar, and with him an hundred and threescore males.

11 And of the sonnes of Zebai, Zechariah the sonne of Zebai, and with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Hakkarah, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, that were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Jehiel, and Shemariah, and with them threescore males.

14 And of the sonnes of Bigvai, Vethai, and Zabud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the river that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode we three dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Arlef, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Methusalem the chiefe, and to Iosarib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding, 17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the chiefe at the place of Casiphia, and I told them the words that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Casiphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahasi the sonne of Levi the sonne of Israel, & Sherebiah with his sonnes and his brethren, even eighteen.

19 Also Habbabiah, and with him Ieshiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims, whom David had set, and the Princes for the seruice of the Levites, two hundred & twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against al them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Habbabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And weighed them the siluer and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundred and threie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundred talents, and in golde, an hundred talents.

27 And twentie basons of gold, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasse verie good, and pretibous as golde.

28 And I said vnto them, Yee are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the gold and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them vntill yee weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites receiued the weight of the siluer, and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 Then we departed from the riuer of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as layed wait by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the gold, and the vessel, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabad the sonne of Ieshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the Levites.

34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninete and sixe rammes, seuentie and seuen lambs, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

When as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests, and the Levites are not separated from the people of the land (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the Princes & rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespasse.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and satte downe astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I satte downe astonished vntill the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I rose vp from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for for our iniquities are increased ouer & ouer head, and our trespasse is growen vp vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, & for our iniquities haue we, our kings, and our Priests bene deli-uiered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, & in giuing vs a f naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, & giue vs a litle reuiuing in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, & to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shal we say, after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy ser-uants the Prophets, saying, * The land whereunto ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthines of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannes haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sons, nor seeke their * peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong & eat the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliue-rance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioine in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou be angrie toward vs till thou hast consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bin<sup>r</sup> reserued to escape, as appeareth this day:
behold, we are before thee in our trespasse: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.
W Hiles * Ezra prayed thus, and a confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechamiah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and sayde to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the lande, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away all the wiues (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter belongeth vnto thee:
we also will bee with thee: bee of comfort and doe it.

5 Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would doe according to this worde. So they swore.

6 And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iobanan the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drunke water: for he moued, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselues vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be forfait, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled themselves vnto Ierusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the raine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to increase the trespasse of Israel.

11 Now therefore giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and sayde with a loud voice, So will we doe according to thy words vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither is the worke of one day or two: for wee are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery city and the iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Asah-el, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tikvah ouer this matter, & Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and departed, euen Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chief fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Aeliezer, and Iarib, and

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set up worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of seventy yeres he raised up divers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captain to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners and planted religion: and the third builded up the walles, delivered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a goodly man and in great authoritie with the king, so that the king favoured him greatly, and gave him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 5 He confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

He wordes of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. In the moneth Chilleu, in the twentieth yee, as I was in the palace of Shushan, 3 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were delivred, which were of the residue of the captivitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they saide vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captivitie there in the prouince, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sat downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, & I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And saide, * O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee let thine eares bee attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the praier of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house have sinned:

7 We haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the wordes that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Yee will transgresse, and * I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if ye returne vnto me, & keepe my commandements, and doe them, * though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desie to feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, he came to Ierusalem, 17 and builded the walle.

Nowe in the moneth Nisan in the twentieth yee of king Artahhashte, the wine stood before him, and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the king. Nowe I was not beforetime sad in his presence.

2 And the king saide vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorow of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen, e To wit, the King Artahhashte.

a Which was the first month of the yere & correspondeth part of March and part of April. b Who is also called Darius, read Ezra 7. 1. & was the sonne of Hydaspes.

c I desired that he would bestow upon me grace to observe his commandements.

5 And said vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the city of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King sayd vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy iourney bee? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the king, and he sent mee, and I set him a time.

7 After, I sayd vnto the king, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyond the Riuer, that they may conuey mee ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Afaph the keeper of the kings parke, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then came I to the captaines beyond the Riuer, and gaue them the kings letters. And the king had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with mee, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountain, and to the kings fishpooles; and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by Brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming back, I entred by the gate of the valley, and returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that wee are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come, let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we bee no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the kings words that he had spokē vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Gessem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and sayd, What a thing is this that yee doe? Will ye rebell against the king?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you, yee haue no portion, nor right, nor memorial in Ierusalem.

Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheepe-gate: they repaired it, & set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Tericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

6 And the gate of the old fishpooles fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Meshullam the sonne of Besodajah: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the locks thereof, and the barres thereof.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanum, and the inhabitants of Zanuah: they built it, and set on the doores thereof, the locks thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubits on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-haccareh: hee built it, and set on the doores thereof, the locks thereof, and the barres thereof.

20 After him was earnest Baruch the sonne of Zacchai, and fortified another portion from the corner vnto the doore of the house of Eliafhib the high Priest.

21 After him fortified Merimoth, the sonne of Vrijah, the sonne of Hakkoz, another portion from the doore of the house of Eliafhib, euen as long as the house of Eliafhib extended.

31 After him fortified Malchiah the goldsmiths sonne, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the merchants ouer against the gate <sup>h</sup> Miphkad, and to the chamber in the corner:

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the sheepe-gate fortified the goldsmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindered, 15 but God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

But when Sanballat heard that wee builded the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieved, and mocked the Iewes.

2 And sayd before his <sup>a</sup> brethren and the army of Samaria thus he sayd, What do these <sup>b</sup> weak Iewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heaps of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and sayd, Although they build, yet if a foxe goe vp, he shall euen breake downe their stonie wall.

4 <sup>c</sup> Heare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray <sup>d</sup> in the land of their captiuitie.

5 And couer not their <sup>e</sup> iniquitie, neither let their sinne bee put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

6 So we build the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the <sup>f</sup> halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to <sup>g</sup> hinder them.

9 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Indah sayd, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, they shal not know, neither see, till we come into the mids of them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs <sup>h</sup> ten times, <sup>i</sup> From all places, whence ye shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swords, their speares, and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and sayd vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: <sup>j</sup> remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergions: and the rulers stood <sup>k</sup> behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other helde the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword girded on his loines, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then sayd I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

22 And at the same time sayd I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the ward (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, save euery one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

Nowe there was a great cry of the people, and of their wiues <sup>a</sup> against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that said, We, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp <sup>b</sup> corne, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that said, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that sayd, We haue borrowed money for the kings <sup>c</sup> tribute upon our landes and our vineyards.

5 And nowe our flesh <sup>d</sup> is as <sup>d</sup> the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, wee bring into subiection our sonnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there <sup>e</sup> is no power <sup>e</sup> in our hands: for other men haue our landes and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their cry and these words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and said vnto them, You lay <sup>f</sup> burthens every one vpon his brethren: and I set a great <sup>g</sup> assembly against them.

8 And I sayd vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe, or shall they bee <sup>h</sup> sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 <sup>i</sup> I sayd also, That which ye do, is not good. Ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, for the <sup>k</sup> reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants do lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this <sup>l</sup> burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundreth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oile <sup>m</sup> that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: wee will doe as thou hast sayd. Then I called the Priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lappe, and sayd, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, & praised the Lord: and the people did according to his promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahshastes, that is, twelue yere, I, & my brethren haue not eaten the <sup>n</sup> bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fortie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a <sup>o</sup> portion in the worke of this wal, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my Table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daily an ox, and fixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for mee, and <sup>p</sup> within ten dayes wine for all <sup>p</sup> in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

And when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more <sup>q</sup> breaches therein, (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates)

2 Then sent Sanballat and Geshem vnto mee, saying, Come thou that we may meete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to do, and cannot come downe: <sup>r</sup> why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto mee the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and <sup>s</sup> Gashmu hath faide it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wal, and thou wilt be their king according to these <sup>t</sup> words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined <sup>u</sup> the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these wordes it shall come to the kings eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou saiest: for thou feinst them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afayed vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: now therefore <sup>v</sup> encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabeel, and hee was <sup>w</sup> shut vp, and he sayd, Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for to preserve him,

hee had obeyed
this counsell, hee should have dis-

11 Then I sayd, Should such a man as I, flee?
Who is he, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to lye? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophesie against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was hee hyred, that I might bee afrayde, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might re-

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah, and San-the five and twentieth day of Elul, in two and fifty dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, even al the heathen that were among vs, they were afraid, and their courage failed them: for they knew, that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these daies were there many of the princes of Iudah, whose letters went vnto To-18 For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for hee was the sonne in law of that returned from the captiuitie are numbered.

NOW* when the wall was builded, and I had set vp the doores, and the porters, and the sin-

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Ierusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithfull man, and feared God about many)

3 And I sayde vnto them, Let not the gates

65 And s the Tirshatha sayd vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy, till there rose vp a Priest with * Vrim and Thurnnim.

66 All the Congregation together was two and forty thousand, three hundredth and threescore, 67 Besides their seruants & their maides, which were seven thousand, three hundredth and seven and thirtie: and they had two hundredth and fixe and fourtie singing men and singing women.

73 And the Priestes, and the Levites, and the porters and the fingers, and the rest of the people and the Nethinims, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the seventh moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law.
11 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God.
15 They keepe the feast of the Tabernacles or bootes.

And all the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the Scribe, that hee would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all <sup>b</sup> that could heare and vnderstande it, in the first day of the seventh moneth,

3 And hee read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and women, and then that vnderstood it, & the eares of al the people <sup>c</sup> bearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stode Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedfiah, and Michael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was <sup>d</sup> aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lorde the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Rani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiniah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Lawe of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, saide vnto the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people <sup>e</sup> wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, & send part vnto them, for whom none <sup>f</sup> is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lorde: be ye not fory therefore: for the 11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, and to make great ioy, because they had vnderstood the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priestes and the Levites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in<sup>h</sup> boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth.

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, euery one vpon the hooft of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And al the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eighth day a solemne assembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repents, and forsake their strange wines. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies towards them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this moneth the children of Israel were assembled with<sup>a</sup> fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the† strangers) and they stood and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood vp in their place and read in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they<sup>b</sup> confessed and worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stood vp on the staires of the Levites, Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cryed with a loud voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites sayd, emen Ieshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, Stand vp, and praye the Lord your God for euer, and euer, and let them praye thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth about all thankesgiuing and prayse.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and al that are in them, and thou preferrest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of<sup>c</sup> Vr in Caldea, and madeest his name Abraham.

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madeest a Covenent with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens & wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madeest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 For thou diddest breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the mids of the sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottoms as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And thou leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgments, and true lawes, ordinances and good Commandements, 14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and Lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and thou promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselves proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they harkened not vnto thy Commandements, 17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous works that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compasion, of long suffering, and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreouer, when they made them a molten calfe (and said, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness, the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way whereby they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy M A N from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou diddest also feed them forty yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not old, & their feete swelld not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Hethbon, & the land of Og King of Basan.

23 And thou diddest multiplie their children, like the starres of the heauen, and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Canaanites, and gauest them into their handes, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, ci-sternes digged out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & lived in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which c protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them succours, who laued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had f rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuested & cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestest among them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should doe and live in them) and g pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffnecked, and would not heare.

30 Yet thou † diddest forbear them many yeeres, and protestest among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepest covenant and h mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, that is, to our kings, to our princes, and to our priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of i Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou h hast dealt truly, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast l protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill works.

36 Behold, wee are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodnesse thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruit vnto the kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies, and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and wee are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this wee make a sure covenant, and write it, & our princes, our Lewites and our Priests seale vnto it.

C. H. A. P. XII.

The Priests and Levites which came with Zerubbabel vnto Ierusalem are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

These also are the Priests and the Levites that went vp with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua: to wit, Seraiah, Ieremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush, 3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth, 4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abijah, 5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,
 6 Shemaiah, and Ioiarib, Iedaiah,

8 And the Levites, Ieshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah: these were the thanksgiuings, he, and his brethren.

9 And Bakbukiah and Vnni, and their brethren were about them in the 4 watches.

10 And Ieshua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliashib, Eliashib begate Ioiada.

11 And Ioiada begat Ionathan, and Ionathan begate Iaddua.

12 And in the dayes of Ioiakim were these the chiefe fathers of the Priests: vnder Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Ieremiah, Hananiah, 13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan.

14 Vnder Melicu, Ionathan, vnder Shebaniah, Ioseph.

15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai,

16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnithon, Meshullam,

17 Vnder Abiiah, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and vnder Moadiah, Piltai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shannum, vnder Shemaiah, Iehonathan, 19 Vnder Ioiarib, Mattenai, vnder Iedaiah, Vzzi,

20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hashabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Iohanan and Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer & against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim the sonne of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgiuings and with songs, cymbales, viols and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselves together both from the plaine country about Ierusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the fingers had built them villages round about Ierusalem.

30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and clenfed the people, and the gates, & the wall.

31 And I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremiah,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the muscally instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by the stairs of the cite of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the watergate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gaue thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the tower of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the old gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gaue thanks, in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Eljoenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Iehohanan, and Malchiah, and Elam, 44 Also at the same time were men appointed ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes, to gather vnto them out of the fields of the ciues, the portions of the Law for the Priests, and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priests, and for the Leuites, that serued.

45 And both the fingers and the Leuites kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

46 * For in the dayes of Dauid and Asaph, of olde were chiefe fingers, and songs of praise, and thanksgiving vnto God.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah did all Israel giue portions vnto the fingers and porters, every day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

1. The Law is read. 2. They separate from them all strangers. 3. Nehemiah reprehends them that breake the Sabbath. 3a. An ordinance to Ierue God.

And on that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonites, and the Moabites should not enter into the Congregation of God,

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water; * but hired Balaam against them, that hee should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel: all those that were mixed.

4 ¶ And before <sup>b</sup> this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being <sup>c</sup> kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laide the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne of wine, and oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two & thirtieth yere of <sup>d</sup> Artahhashte King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and || after certaine dayes I obtained of the King.

7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vnderstood <sup>e</sup> the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieved mee sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offering and the incense.

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his land, <sup>even</sup> the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke, 11 Then reprooued I the rulers and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaias, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember mee, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my <sup>f</sup> kindeesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, & on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes saw I in Iudah them, that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they tolde vitales.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reprooued I the rulers of Iudah, and sayd vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers <sup>h</sup> thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie: yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem beganne to be <sup>i</sup> darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not bee opened till after the Sabbath, and <sup>j</sup> some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandises remained ouce or twise all night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I sayd vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should edoe and <sup>k</sup> keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember mee, O my God, concerning this, and pardon mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also I saw Iewes that married wiues of <sup>l</sup> Ashdod, of Animeth, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Ashdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the <sup>m</sup> one people, and of the <sup>n</sup> other people.

25 Then I reprobued them, and <sup>o</sup> cursed them, and smote certaine of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 * Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for hee was <sup>p</sup> beloved of God, and God had made him King ouer Israel: <sup>q</sup> yet strange women caused him to sinne.

THE ARGVMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supposition of Byeres wherein the Ebrewes, and the Grecians doe vary, diuerse authours write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1. & 9. 1. that hee was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also, Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest danger; but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, hee euer stirreth up some, by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashuerosh maketh a royall feast: vs. Whereunto the Queene Vasthi will not come, 19. for which cause she is disordered. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of men.

IN the dayes of Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundredth, and seuen and twenty prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerosh sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne, hee made a feast vnto all his princes and seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That hee might shew the riches and glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundredth and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Under an hanging of white, greene, and blue clothes fastened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in filiter rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of golde and of siluer vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marble and alabaster, and blue colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compell: for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the royall house of King Ahashuerosh.

10 Vpon the seuenth day when the King was merie with wine, he commanded Mehusian, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuches, that serued in the presence of King Ahashuerosh, 11 To bring Queene Vasthi before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shew the people and the princes her beautie: for shee was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vasthi refused to come at the Kings worde, † which he had given in charge to the eunuches: therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King saide to the wise men, † that knew the times (for so was the kings manner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, She-thar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marfena, and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the lawe, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the Princes, The Queene Vasthi hath not only done euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the Prouinces of King Ahashuerosh.

17 For the acte of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The King Ahashuerosh commanded Vasthi the Queene to bee brought in before him, but shee came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much despitefulnessse and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royall decree proceede from him, and let it bee written among the statutes of Persia, & Media, (& let it not be transgressed) that Vasthi come no more before King Ahashuerosh: and let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the Princes, and the King did according to the worde of Memucan.

22 For he sent lettets into all the prouinces of the King, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language,

† For which was in the hand of the eunuches.

† That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

† Which were his chiefe counsellors, that might haue alwaies access to him.

¶ By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to doe the like to their husbands. † That is her disobedience.

¶ Meaning, that they would take first occasion hereof to doe the like, and that the rest of women would by continuance doe the same.

¶ Let her be forgotten, & another made Queene.

C H A P. II.

1 After the Queene is put away, certaine young maides are brought to the king. 17 Ester pleases the king, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth unto the king those that would betray him.

After these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerosh was appeased, hee remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the king beautifull young virgins,

And let the king appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull young virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women vnder the hand of Hege the kings eunuch keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

And the maid that shall please the king, let her reigne in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Iew, whose name was Mordecai, the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemini,

Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie that was caried away with Ieconiah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babel had caried away)

And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Ester, his vnckles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and the maide was faire and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father and her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his own daughter.

And when the kings commandment, and his decree was published, and many maides were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

And the maid pleased him, and shee found fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her state, and seven comely maides to be giuen her out of the kings house, and he gaue charge to her and to her maydes of the best in the house of the women.

But Ester shewed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that shee should not tell it.

And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

And when the course of euery mayd came, to goe in to King Ahasuerosh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the manner of the women (for so were the daies of their purifications accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and sixe moneths with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

And thus went the maydes vnto the king) whatsoever she required, was giuen her to goe with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

In the euening she went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shashtgaz the kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except shee pleased the King, and that she were called by name.

Now when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that shee should go in to the king, she desired nothing, but what Hege the kings eunuch the keeper of the women saide: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

So Ester was taken vnto King Ahasuerosh into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is in the moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yeere of his reigne.

And the King loued Ester aboue all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that hee set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the power of a King.

And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai fate in the kings gate, Ester had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when shee was nourished with him.

In those dayes when Mordecai fate in the Kings gate, two of the kings eunuches, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay a hand on the king Ahasuerosh.

And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and he tolde it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

C H A P. III.

Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

After these things did King Ahasuerosh promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seate aboue all the princes that were with him.

And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the King had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgresseth thou the kings commandment?

And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet hee would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iew.

And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

Now he thought it too little to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahasuerosh, even the people of Mordecai.

they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adar.
8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahashuerosh, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the King lawes: therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.
9 If it please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thou haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammecha

11 And the king said vnto Haman, Let the sil uer be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.
12 Then were the kings Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman com manded) vnto the kings officers, and to the cap taines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euerie people, and to euerie prouince, ac cording to the writing thereof, and to euerie peo ple according to their language: in the name of king Ahashuerosh was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.
13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kil and to destroy all the Iewes, both young and olde, chil dren and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.
14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee given a commandement in all prouin ces, and published vnto al people, that they should be readie against the same day.
15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commande ment was giuen in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman fate drinking, but the citie of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Mordecai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the king against the Iewes. 16 Shee willesh that they pray for her.

NOW when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the mids of the citie, and cried with a great crie, and a bitter.
2 And he came euen before the Kings gate, but he might not enter withiu the kings gate, be ing clothed with sackcloth.
3 And in euerie prouince and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Iewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.
4 ¶ Then Esters maides & her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was verie heauie, and she sent rayment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but hee received it not.
5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the Kings eunuches, whom he had appointed to serue her, and gaue a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the city, which was before the kings gate.
7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to de stroy them.
8 Also he gaue him the copie of the writing and commission that was giuen at Shushan, to de stroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that shee should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.
9 ¶ So when Hatach came, hee tolde Ester the words of Mordecai.
10 Then Ester said vnto Hatach, and comman ded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces doe know, That whosoever man or woman, that commeth vnto the king in the in ner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that hee shall die, except him to whome the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirtie dayes.
12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.
13 And Mordecai saide, that they should an swere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Iewes.
14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fa thers house shall perish: and who knoweth whe ther thou art come to the kingdome for such a time.
15 Then Ester commaunded to answere Mor decai, 16 Goe, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eate not, nor drink in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my mayds will fast likewise, and so will I go into the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.
17 So Mordecai went his way, and did accord ing to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14. Haman prepareth a gallows for Mordecai.

AND on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King fate vpon his royall throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.
2 And when the King saw Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight:
and the King held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.
3 Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdome.
4 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banquet, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

6 And the king said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be gi-uen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition, and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shal prepare for them, and I will doe to morrow according to the kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull, and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuerthelesse, Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, hee sent, and called for his friends, and Zerefh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how that hee had set him above the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman saide moreover, Yea, Ester the queene did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared, saue me: and tomorrow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaille mee, as long as I see Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zerefh his wife and al his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fittie cubites hie, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the king vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and hee caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

¶ The same night † the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigtana and Terefh, two of the kings eunuches keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerosh.

3 Then the king said, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said,
There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court?
(Now Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said vnto him, What shall bee done vnto the man whome the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the king useth to weare, and the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse bee deli-uered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse thorow the street of the cite, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it bee done vnto the man whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse, as thou hast said, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke thorow the streete of the cite, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman hastened home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zerefh his wife, and all his friends, al that had befallen him. Then said his wife men, and Zerefh his wife, vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shall surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuches, and hastened to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The queene biddeth the king and Haman againe, and Zerefh for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

¶ So the king and Haman came to banquet with the queene Ester.

2 And the king said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee?
and what is thy request? It shall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are sold, I, and my people, to bee destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: but if wee were sold for seruants, and for handmaids, I would haue held my tongue, although the aduersarie could not recompense the kings losse.

5 Then king Ahasuerosh answered, and said vnto the queene Ester, Who is he? and where is he that † presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemye is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraide before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the queene Ester: for he saw that there was a mil-chief prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

C H A P. VIII.

After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent unto the Iewes.

The same day did King Ahashuerosh giue the house of Haman the aduersary of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feet weeping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King held out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it bee written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the King Ahashuerosh saide vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iew, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he layd hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the thirde moneth, that is the moneth of Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded, vnto the Iewes and to the princes, and captaines and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto every prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahashuerosh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: and he sent letters by postes on horsebacke and that rode on beastes of price, as dromedaries and coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerosh, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth of Adar, 13 The copie of the writing was, howe there should be a commandement giuen in all and every prouince, published among all the people, and that the Iewes should be ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beastes of price, and dromedaries, and went forth with speed, to execute the Kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apporel of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine lince and purple, and the citie of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and ioy and gladnes and honour.

17 Also in all and every prouince, and in all and every citie and place, where the Kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

C H A P. IX.

At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

So in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth of Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commaundement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerosh, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man could vnderstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the Kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sworde and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slewe the Iewes and destroyed foue hundred men,

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, & Arifai, and Aridai, and Vazezatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slewe they: but they layd not their hands on the spoile.

11 On the same day came the number of those that i Which hath part of February and part of March.

k The King gaue them licence to kill all that did oppose them.

l He sheweth by these wordes that follow what this light was.

m Conformed themselves to the Iewes religion.

n This was by Gods great providence, who turneth the joy of the wicked into sorrow, & the terror of the godly into gladnesse.

b Did them honour, and shewed them friendship.

c Which had conspired their death by the permission of the wicked Haman. Besides those three hundred, that they slew the second day, as verie is.

d Whereby they declared that this was Gods iust iudgement vpon the enemies of his Church, forasmuch as they sought not their owne gain, but to execute his vengeance.

that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King said vnto the Queene Ester, The Iewes haue slaine in Shuſhan the palace, and destroyed five hundred men, and the ten ſonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request more ouer, that it may be performed?

43 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let it be granted also to morow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to do according <sup>e</sup> vnto this daies decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was given at Shulban, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundred men of Shushan, but on the spoile they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stooode for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slewe of them that hated them, seenty and fise thousand: but they laid not their hand on the spoile.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shulhan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, & they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the walled townes, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euem a ioyfull day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecái wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Abaslueroth, both nere and farre.

21. Inioynning them that they should keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euerie yeere.

33. According to the dayes wherein the Iewes lifted from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and to send presents euerie man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Itwes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them,

14 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Iews aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when she came before the King, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked deuife (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vp on his owne head, and let them hang him and his foulnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called theſe dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and becauſe of all the words of this letter, & of that which they had ſeene beſides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

37 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their seede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not || faile to obserue those 9 two dayes every yeere, according to their writing, and according to their seafon.

28 And that these dayes should bee remembred, and kept throughout euery generation and euerie family, and euerie prouince, and euery citie: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them should not perish from their feed.

29 And the Queens After the daughter of Abihail & Mordecai the Jew wrote with all authority (to confirm this letter of Purim the second time)

30 And he sent letters vnto al the Iewes to the hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahasuerosh, with words of peace and trueth.

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the Queene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them: † felues and for their seedes with † fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Efter confirmed these words of Purim, and was written in the booke.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his mind and conscience, by the sharpe temptations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement words, & subtil disputations brought him almost to despair: for they set forth God as a ferece Iudge, and mortall enemie vnto him; which had cast him off: therefore in vaine he should seke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, & yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, & at length had good success. In this story we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euil: again his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their finnes, but that he had secret iudgements, whereof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments & affliction he braseth forth vnto many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this in his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Against the aduersaries mainteine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespasse, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, and mans sinnes yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despaire, and so they mainteine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Jam. 5. 11.

C H A P. I.

1 The holiness, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

Here was a man in the lande of Uz called Iob, and this man was an vpright and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And he had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousande sheepe, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, euery one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketing were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob euery day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when the children of God came and stood before the Lorde, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Doeth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made for him a hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his handes, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch all that he hath, to see if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shebeans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and sayd, The fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and sayde, Thy sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayd, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

as the wicked doe. * Eccles. 5. 14. 1 Tim. 6. 7. b That is, into the bellie of the earth, which is the mother of all. c Hee sayd hee confessed that God is iust, and good, although his hand bee sore vpon him. d But declared that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

C H A P. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visit him.

And on a day the children of God came and stood before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he continueth in his vprightnesse, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him without cause.

e Ged giueth no Satan power ouer man to graue him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him.

f That is, want to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for else hee can neuer goe out of Gods presence.

g That is, the Aradians.

h Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grievously, forasmuch as he might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made warre against him.

i This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another more grievous to trie him, and teach them obedience.

k Which cannot of impietie, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blockes, but that in their patience they haue affliction and griefe of minde: yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebell not against God.

l That is, when thou hadst thought against him, or while thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

m That is, the Angels, as Chap. 1. 6. b. Reade chap. 1. 6. Chap. 1. 11. Eccles. 14. 43.

n He proueth Iob's integritie by this, that hee could not be feared of when his plagues were grievously vpon him.

o That is, when thou hadst thought against him, or while thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

p Hee saith that hee receiued all tentations, as a rampart against all tentations.

q Meaning the grace of God, which serued Iob, as a rampart against all tentations.

r This figure sheweth, that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that must doe it. f Satan moued the vice, whereunto men are commonly subiect: that is, to be their rebellious, and to be content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disallowed in the time of their aduersitie.

s That is, the Angels, as Chap. 1. 6. b. Reade chap. 1. 6. Chap. 1. 11. Eccles. 14. 43.

t He proueth Iob's integritie by this, that hee could not be feared of when his plagues were grievously vpon him.

u That is, when thou hadst thought against him, or while thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

e Hereby hee meane that a mans owne skin is dea-re vnto him then another mans.
f Meaning his owne person.
g Thus Satan can goe so further in punishing, then God hath limited
him.
h This fore was most rebelling;
whereas also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod.
9. 9. and the can-nites to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28. 27. so that this temptation was most grieuous: for if Job had measured Gods fauour
by the vehemencie of his disaile, he might haue thought that God had cast him off.
i As deficiencie of all other helpe and meanes, & wonderfully afflicted with the sorow of his disaile.
k Satan vseth the same instrument against Job, as he did against Adam.
l Meaning, what gainedst thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he werethine enemy?

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, and sayd, e Skin for skin, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now our thine hand, and touch his f bones and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue g his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from the presense of the Lord, and smote Job with sore h boyles, from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne.

8 And hee tooke a i potshard to scrape him, and he fate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his k wife vnto him, Doeſt thou l continue yet in thine vprightnesse? m Blaspheme God, and die.

10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not n receiue euill? In all this did not Job iurine with his o lips.

11 Now when Iobs three p friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zo-phar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes afarre off, they knew him not: therefore they lift vp their voices and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled q dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they fate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nights, and none spake a word vnto him: for they saw that the griefe was very r great.

werethine enemy? This is the most grieuous temptation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them that they trust in God in vaine. m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, and so he meant that he should soone be rid out of his paine. n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as wee reioyce when hee sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to bee both mercifull and iust. o Hee so bridled his affection, that his tongue through impatiencie did not murmore against God. p Which were men of authority, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how hee was visited, they conceived an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his sinnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vied in those countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorow, &c. r And therefore thought that hee would not haue hearkened vnto their counsell.

CHAP. III.

4 Job a reprehended of impatiencie, 7 and vniustice, 17 and of the presumption of his owne righteousness.

T hen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 If wee assay to commune with thee, wilt thou bee grieved? but a who can withhold himselfe from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and b hast strengthened the weary hands.

falling, and thou hast strengthened the weake knees.

a His conclusion that Job was reproached, saying that God humbled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

e They that doe will can not but receive will.

f Hee sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blast of his mouth.

g Though men are contrary to their office, do not put forth against whom for their cruelty he cometh to lions and their children (as their whelpes) yet God both is able and his justice will punish them.

h A thing that I haue not before, was declared vnto me by vision: that is that who somer thinketh himselfe iust shall be found a sinner, when he cometh before God.

i In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioynd, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reverence.

k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Eliah, 1. King. 19. 12.

l Hee proueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie.

m If God find imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay folly to mans charge, when he would inflame himselfe against God?

being an innocent? or where were the vpriight destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that plow iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrils are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the Lion, and the voyce of the Lionesse, and the teeth of the Lions whelpes are broken.

11 The Lion perisheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelpes are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to mee secretly, and mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, & dread which made all my bones to tremble.

15 And the wind passed before mee, and made the haire of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before my eyes, and in silence heard I a voyce, saying, 17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, hee found no stedfastnesse in his Seruants, and laid folly vpon his Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moeth?

20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the euening: they perish for euer, without regard.

21 Doth not their dignity go away with them? doe they not die, and that without wisdom?

k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Eliah, 1. King. 19. 12. l Hee proueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie. m If God find imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay folly to mans charge, when he would inflame himselfe against God? n That is, in this mortall bodie, subiect to corruption, 1. Cor. 5. 4. o They see death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them. p No man for all this doth consider it. q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

CHAP. V.

1.2 Eliphaz sheweth the difference betwene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

Call now, if any will answer thee, and to which of the Saints wilt thou turne?

2 Doublelesse anger killeth the foolish, and enuie slayeth the ideot.

3 I haue seene the foolish well rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His children shall be farre from saluation, and they shall be destroyed in the gate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungry shall eate vp his harvest: yea, they shall take it from among the thornes, and the thirftie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For miserie commeth not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto trauel, as the sparks flie vpward.

a Though God sometime suffer the fathers to passe in this world, yet his indignation will light vpon their wicked children. b By publique judgement they shall be condemned, and none shall pitie them. c Though there be two or three causes in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him. d That is, the cause is not the cause of barrennesse and mans miserie, but his owne sinne. e Which doth mean that sinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before sinne it was not subiect to paine and affliction.

8 But I would inquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which doeth great things and vnsearchable, and marueilous things without number.

10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and poureth water vpon the streetes, 11 And setteth vp on hie them that be low, that the lowfull may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuises of the craftie: so that their handes cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 He taketh the wife in their craftinesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with daakenesse in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee saucth the poore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he smireth, and his hands make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in fixe troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field shall bee in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the graffe of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in y a full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due season into the barne.

27 Loe, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy selfe.

*i*oyce. u When we are in Gods fauour all creatures shall stee vs. x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to bee offended. y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. z We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrite shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man suffereth, commeth for his owne sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Job answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 He complaineeth of his friends.

But Job answered and sayd, 2 Oh that my griefes were well weighed, and my miseries well layed together in the balance!

3 For it would bee now heauier then the sand of the sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against me.

*w*ounded in conscience, which is the greatest battell that the faithfull can haue.

5 Doeth

k If I suffered as thou dost, I would seeke vnto God.

l He counselleth Job to humble himselfe vnto God, to whom all creatures are subiect, and whose works declare that man is inexcusable except hee glorifie God in all his workes.

m He sheweth by particular examples, what the workes of God are.

n 1. Cor. 3. 19.

o In things plaine and euident, they shew themselves fooles in stead of wise men.

p This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wife as he threatned, Deut. 28. 25.

q That is, he that humbleth himselfe before God.

r He compareth the slander of the wicked to sharpe swords.

s If the wicked be compelled at Gods workes to stoppe their mouthes, much more they that persecute God.

t Hee will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time but continually trust in him: but they shall haue comfortable issue, euen in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh.

u Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce.

x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to bee offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their advantage.

z We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrite shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man suffereth, commeth for his owne sinne.

a To know whether I complaine without iust cause.

b My griefe is so great, that I lacke wordes to express it.

c Which declarereth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but

d Thinke you that I cry without cause, feeling the bruite beasts doe not complain when they haue what they would? e Can a mans taste delite in that, that hath no savor? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they can not away with things that are vnto the mouth. f Herein be sinners double, both in willing through impatience to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through my impatience. h He feareth least he should be brought to inconueniences, his sorowes should continue. i Here I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? Or, wisdom, or law. k He compareth those friends which comfort vs not in misery, to a brook, which in summer, when we neede waters is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of raine, when we haue no need overfloweth with water. l They that passe thereby to go into the hote countries of Arabia, thinke to find water there to quench their thirst, but they are deceived. m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiveth them that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for consolation at your hands. n He toucheth the worldlings, which for necessity will give up of their goods, and much more than men, which would not give him comfortable words. o Shew mee wherein I haue erred, and will conesse my fault. p He that hath a good conscience doeth not shrinke at the sharpe words or reasonings of others, except they be able to perswade him by reason. q Doe you canill at my wordes because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in misery. r Consider whether I speake as one that is driven to this impatience through very sorow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

5 Doeth the wilde asse bray when he hath grasse? or loweth the ox when he hath fodder? 6 That which is e vnto the asse, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge? 7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorowes, are my meate. 8 Oh that I might haue my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for! 9 That is, that God would destroy mee: that he would let his hand goe, and cut me off. 10 Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denyed the words of the Holy one. 11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life? 12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse? 13 Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe? and that strength is taken from me? 14 He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty. 15 My brethren haue deceived me as a brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away. 16 Which are blackish with yce, and wherein the snow is hid. 17 But in time they are dried vp with heate and are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish, 19 They that goe to Tema, considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them. 20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither, and were ashamed. 21 Surely nowe are ye like vnto it: ye haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraid. 22 Was it because I saide, Bring vnto me? or giue a reward to me of your substance? 23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants? 24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to vnderstand, wherein I haue erred. 25 Howstedfast are the words of righteousness? and what can any of you iustly reprove? 26 Doe ye imagine to reprove my wordes, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the winde? 27 Yee make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and digge a pit for your friend. 28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face, 29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: retorne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doth not my mouth feele sorowes?

CHAP. VII.

1 Job sheweth the shortness and misery of mans life.

Is there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an hireling? 2 In this my continuall torment I am worse then an hireling.

2 As a servant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke, 3 So haue I had as an inheritance the moments of vanitie, and painefull nights haue beene appointed vnto me. 4 If I layed mee downe, I sayd, When shall I arise? and measuring the evening I am euensull with tolling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day, 5 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skinne is rent, and become horrible. 6 My daies are swifter then a weauers shirte, and they are spent without hope. 7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not retorne to see pleasure. 8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon mee, and I shall be no longer. 9 As the cloud vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come vp no more. 10 He shall retorne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more. 11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my mind. 12 Am I a sea? or a whalefish, that thou keepst me in ward? 13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me with dreames, and astonishest me with visions. 15 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to bee strangled and to die, then to be in my bones. 16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: I spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie. 17 What is man, that thou dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him? 18 And dost visit him euery morning, and triest him euery moment? 19 How long will it be yet thou depart from mee? thou wilt not let mee alone whiles I may swallow my spittle. 20 I haue sinned, what shall I doe vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe? 21 And why dost thou not pardon my trespass? and take away mine iniquitie? for nowe shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

that he might stay his hand. n After all tentacions faith brast forth and ledde Job to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that hee could bring himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith. o That is, I shall be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Job is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked and preserveth the good.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, 2 How long wilt thou talk of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mighty winde? 3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the Almighty subuert iustice? 4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, and hee hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie, rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning that Job ought to bee rewarded by the example of his children, that hee offend not God.

b My friends comfort me in words, but they are as the wind, which passeth away, and leaues no fruit behind. c I haue seene that his afflictions are rare and most terrible. d Thus hee speaketh in respect of the brevitye of mans life, which passeth away like the shadow of a man, in consideration whereof hee doeth much God to haue compassion on him. e If thou beholdest me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence. f Shall no man enjoy this mortal life. g Seeing I can by no means comfort my selfe, I will decline my griefe by word, and thus hee speaketh as one who comes with griefe of mind. h Am not I pained with sorow, mistaking thou then to say so much paine on mee? i So that I can haue no rest, night nor day. k He speaketh as one overcome with sorow, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith. l Seeing my term of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease. m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why dost thou giue him that honour to contend against him? Job vnderstandeth all kinds of perfection with God. n After all tentacions faith brast forth and ledde Job to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that hee could bring himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith. o That is, I shall be dead.

a Hath not an hired servant for a self and safe? then in this my continuall torment I am worse then an hireling.

5 Yet if thou wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty, 6 If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and he wil make the habitation of thy rightcoulesse prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increafe.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow)

10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

11 Can a rush growe without myre? or can the grasie growe without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cutte downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shalbe cut off, and his trust shalbe as the house of a spider.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall holde him fast by it, yet shall it not indure.

16 The tree is greene before the Sunne, and the branches spread out the garden thereof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folden about the house of stoues.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it deny, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither wil he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till he haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee, shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

23 To bee planted in another place, where it may growe a pleace more. 24 If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and thy latter end shall increafe.

CHAP. IX.

1 Job declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans rightcoulesse is nothing.

Then Iob answered, and sayd,

2 I knowe verily that it is so: for how should man compared to God be iustified?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answere him one thing of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, & mighty in strenght: who hath bene fierce against him, and hath prospered?

5 He remoueth the mountaines, and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 He commandeth the Sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres d. Aquas, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 Hee doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea marueilous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not:

12 When he passeth by, I perceiue him not. 13 Behold, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou? 14 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helpe doeth stroue vnder him. 15 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I finde out my words with him? 16 For though I were iust, yet could I not answere, but I would make supplication to my Iudge. 17 If I cry, and he answere mee, yet would I not beleue, that he heard my voyce. 18 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me without cause. 19 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse. 20 If we speake of strength, beholde, hee is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to pleade? 21 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: if I would be perfit, he shall iudge me wicked. 22 Though I were perfit, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life. 23 This is one point: therefore I sayd, He destroyeth the perfit and the wicked. 24 If the scourge should suddenly fall, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent? 25 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he? 26 My daies haue bene more swift then a post: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing. 27 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray. 28 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me; 29 Then I am afraid of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent. 30 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine? 31 If I wash my selfe with snowe water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 32 Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make me filthy. 33 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if we come together to iudgement. 34 Neither is there any vmpire that might lay his hand vpon vs both. 35 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me: 36 Then will I speake, and feare him not, but because I am not so, I holde me still.

and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

d It is agreeable to thy justice to do me wrong?

e Wilt thou be without compassion?

f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and condeme me?

g Doest thou this of ignorance?

h Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemy?

i By affliction thou keepst me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing euill, neither can any set me at liberty.

k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercie of God, in the wonderfull creation of man, and thereon groundeth that God should not shew himselfe rigorous against him.

l As brittle as a pot of clay.

n That is, thy fatherly care and providence whereby thou preservest me, and without the which I should perish straight way.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse that it is so.

p I will stray walke in fesse and humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.

2 I will say vnto God, c Condemne me not: shew me, wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it d good to oppress me, and to cast off the e labour of thine hand, & to fauour the f counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou g carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans dayes? or thy yerres, as the time of man,

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot do i wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned mee wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy mee?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as l the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milke? and turned me to cruds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen mee life, and m grace: and thy n visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I know o that it is so with thee.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not p lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shewe thy selfe q marueilous vpon mee.

17 Thou rennest thy plagues against mee, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: r changes and armies of s torments are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him f cease, and leaue off from me, that I may take a litle comfort,

4 For thou hast said, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But, oh that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That hee might shew thee the c secrets of wisdom, how thou hast d euerd double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are his, what canst thou do? d it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off and e shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For hee knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wilde asse f colt.

13 If thou g prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hand toward him:

14 If iniquitie bee in thine h hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy Tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift thy i face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and bee as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pitres, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes k of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shalbe sowow of mind.

21 Hee declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in him, which turne to God by true repentance. * Lent. 26. 5, 6. Hee sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XI.

2 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 Hee declareth the might, and power of God. 17 And howe hee chaungeth the course of things.

Then Job answered, and sayd,

2 In deede because that ye are the people onely, a wisdom must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferiour vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * I am b as one, mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he c heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 d Hee that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the rich.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safety that prouoke God, f whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beasts, g and they shall teach thee, then in deede they had, and the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did ride and despise their friend in his adversity.

c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.

d As the rich esteeme not a light or small good goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie.

c Which is true to stand in iudging of thy selfe, the signification that man will neuer overcome, while he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake off the controversy, and by some means.

d That is, the perfection of God, and it can be neuer so comprehended the height of the heuens, the depth of the hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

e If God would turne the face of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controule him?

f That is, vnderstanding, that what once gifts he hath altered, cannot God and not of nature.

g If thou repent, pray vnto him.

h Repentance that thou hast changed all things that thou hast.

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare to thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doeth not the eare discern the wordes, and the mouth take meat for it selfe?

12 Among the g ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: hee hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, hee will breake downe, and it can not be built: hee shutteth a man vp, and he cannot be loosed.

15 Behold, hee withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deceiued, and that deceiue, are his.

17 Hee causeth the counsellors to goe as spoyled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 Hee looeth the collar of kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 Hee leadeth away the princes as a pray, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 Hee taketh away the speach from the faithful counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 Hee powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weake.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe places from their darkenesse, and bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

23 Hee increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, & bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilkernes out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

26 His power in wordes as they that reasond against, were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God, that hee would not handle him rigorously.

LO mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For in deed yee forge lies, and all you are physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will yee contend for God?

9 Hee condemneth their zeale, which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway gazed on Gods iustice, as though it was not easiently ferme in his accept they had vnderaken the probation thereof.

9 Is it well that hee should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 Hee will surely reprocue you, if yee doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraide? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your memories may bee compared vnto ashes, and your bodies vnto bodies of clay.

13 Hold your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I take my flesh in my teeth, and take my soule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though hee slay mee, yet will trust in him, and I will reprocue my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shalbe iustified.

19 Who is he that will pleade with me? for if I now hold my tongue, I die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraide.

22 Then call thou, and I will answere: or let me speake, and answere thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and finnes? shew me my rebellion and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest mee to possesse mine iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the heeles of my feete.

28 Such a one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth eaten.

29 Thou makest mee thy prisoner, and dost so presse mine hand nor foote.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope sustineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAN that is borne of woman, is of short continuance and full of trouble.

2 Hee shooteth forth as a floure, and is cut downe: hee vanisheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine hand vpon such a one, and causest mee to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that hee may cease vntill his desired day, as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it bee cut downe, that it will yet sproute, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root of it wax old in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will budde, and as the hireling waiteth for the ende of his labour to receiue his wages, d Your fame shall come to nothing.

e Is not this a manifest signe of mans affliction, and that I doe not complaine without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f Whereby hee declaich that hee is not an hypocrite as they charged him.

g That is, cleaied and not cast off for my finnes, as you reason.

h To proue that God doth thus punish mee for my finnes.

i If I defend not my cause, every man will condemne me.

k He sheweth what these two things are.

l His prouers moue him to reason with God, not denying but that hee had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great finnes that had deferred such rigour: wherein hee offended that hee would know a cause of God why hee did punish him.

m Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.

n Thou makest mee thy prisoner, and dost so presse mine hand nor foote.

me, testifying the same in my face.

9 & His wrath hath torne me, and hee hateth

21 Oh that a man might pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeres accounted come, and I shall goe the way, whence I shall not returne.

C H A P. XVII.

1 Job saith that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it.
2 He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 3 shewing that hee looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut off, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.

3 Lay downe now, and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from vnder-standing: therefore shalt thou not see them vp on high.

a In stead of comfort, being now at death's doore, he had but them that mocked at him,
and discouraged him.
b I see still that they haue but to reue me.
c Hee resolued with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And on this for thee? e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man know not the cause.

5 For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speake flatterie to his friends.

6 Hee hath also made me a by word of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dim for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.

8 The righteous shalbe astonied at this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous will hold his way, & he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 All I you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not find one wise among you.

11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the night for the day, and the light that approched, for darknesse.

13 Though I hope, yet the graue shalbe mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worrne, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing that I hoped for?

16 They shall goe downe into the bottome of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

iudgment: but seeing that these things perishe, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euermlasting.

1 Bildad rebearseth the paines of Jobe vnfaithfull and wicked.

T Hen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,

2 When will yee make an ende of your words? b cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

3 Wherefore are wee counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?

4 Thou art as one that teareth his soule in his anger. Shall the earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shal be restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his feet, and he f walketh vpon the snares.

9 The grenne shall take him by the heele, and the theefe shall come vpon him.

10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Fearefullnesse shall make him afraid on eu-ry side, and shall driue him to his feet.

12 His strength shalbe famine: and destruction shalbe ready at his side.

13 He shall deuoure the inner parts of his skinne, and the first borne of death shall deu-oure his strength.

14 His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the King of feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shall bee dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

CHAP. XXI.

Job declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 In how much they haue despised God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 17 Downe they goe to be with the wicked for affliction neither good nor prosperitie.

BUt Iob answered, and said.
1 Heare diligently my wordes, and this shall be in stead of your consolations.
2 Suffer mee, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
3 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?
4 Marke mee, and bee abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.
5 Euen when I remember, I am afraide, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.
6 Wherefore do the wicked liue, and waxe olde, and grow in wealth?
7 Their feed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.
8 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
9 They builcke gendred, and faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.
10 They send forth their children like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.
11 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the found of the organs.
12 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly they goe downe to the grane.
13 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
14 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and what profit should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?
15 Lo, their wealth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.
16 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.
17 They shall be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.
18 God will lay vpon the sorow of the father for his children: when hee rewardeth him, hee shall know it.
19 His eyes shall see his destruction, and hee shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?
22 Shall any teach God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?
23 One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.
24 His breastes are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marrow.
25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleepe both in the dust, and the worme shall couer them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises wherewith ye do me wrong.
28 For ye say, Where is the princes house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?
29 May ye not aske them that goe by the way? and ye cannot deny their signes.
30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?
32 Yet shall hee be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
33 The slimie valley shall be sweet vnto him, and euery man shall drawe after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How then comfort ye me in vaine, seeing in your answers there remaine but lies?

reproue him in this worlde, yet des his a taken, the God will comfort. 15 He shall be glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before sent with a royall palace. 16 Saying, that he lieth in this worlde and the wicked adueritie.

CHAP. XXII.

Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 5 Hee accuseth him of vnmmercifulnesse. 13 And that hee damned Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said.
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himselfe?
3 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?
4 It is for feare of thee that hee will accuse thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To such as were weary thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.
8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee.
11 Or darknesse that thou shouldest not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.
12 Is not God on high in the heauen? and behold the height of the starres how high they are.
13 But thou sayest, How should God knowe can hee iudge through the darke cloude?

I Who made h to the wicked prosperitie and prospereth the godly, m Meaning the wicked. n To wit the godly. o As concerning this bodie: and this he speake according to the common iudgement. p Thus they called Iob house a derision, concluding that it was destroyed because he was wicked. q Which through long trailing haue experienced & taken the roofe to wit that the wicked doe prosper, and the godly line in a fiction. r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God will punish him in the last day. s Though man doe flatter him, and none dare bring him to an account, could not be con have prosperitie

a Though man prospereth, yet God could haue no profit of this his iniquitie: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iniquitie, but to his sinne. b Chap. 35. 7. c Least thou shouldest reproue or deride him? d Then hast bene cruel and without charite, and wouldst doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage. e When thou wast in power & authority, thou didst not iustice but wrong. f Thou hast not onely not shewed pittie, but oppressed them. g That is manifest affliction. h He accuseth Iob of impietie & contempt of Gods iudgement, though he would say, I thou passe not former, yet consider the height of the starres how high they are. i Hee reproueh Iob as though hee denied Gods providence, that he could not see the things that were done in his world.

k How God hath punished them from the beginning?

l He prooveth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.

m He answereth to that, which Iob had said, Chap. 2. 1. 7. that the wicked have prosperie in this world, desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. n The iust reioyes at the destruction of the wicked to two causes; first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this means conuinceth his labour and glory; secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care once his in that he punisheth their enemies.

o That is, the state and perfection of the godly is his vader Gods wiſe p Meaning, of the wicked.

q He exhortheth Iob to repentance and to returne to God.

r God will restore to thee all thy substance. f Which shall be in abundance like dust. t That is, the fauour of God. u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. x God will deliuer a whole country from perill, for the iust mans sake.

a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, and touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 22. 1. he declareth that he desireth nothing more, but that it should be found that God would not be found of him.

b Vſing his absolute power, and saying, because I am God, I may do what I will. c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answer him.

d When he of his mercie hath given strength to maintaine their crueltie. e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what side or poe sooner he turneth himselfe.

14 The cloudes hide him that hee cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heaven.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a river that overflowed.

17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty could do for them.

18 Yet hee filled their houses with good things, but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shall see them and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely, our substance is hid: but the first hath deuoured the remnant of them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe; I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperie.

22 Receiue I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of filner.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the ryland, and it shall be preferred by the purenesse of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

a Job affirmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power and iudgement of his Judge. b And that hee is not punished only for his finnes.

B Vt Iob answered, and said,

1 Though my talke be this day in bitterness, and my plague greater then my groning,

2 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.

3 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

4 I would know the wordes, that hee would answer me, & would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

5 Would hee pleade against me with his great power? No, but he would put strength in me.

6 There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

7 Behold, if I go to the East, hee is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him.

8 If to the North where he worketh, yet I can not see him: he wil hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my way, and trieth mee, and I shall come forth like the gold.

11 My foot hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, and I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.

13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.

14 For he will performe that which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.

16 For God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in darkenesse, but he hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

a good ende. i In many points man is not able to attaine to Gods will. k That I should not be without feare. l Hee sheweth the cause of which is, that he being in trouble, seeth no end, neither yet knoweth the a Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what chaſtise belongeth to the wicked. b How all things are gouerned by Gods providence. c And his destruction of the wicked.

CHAP. XXIII.

H OW should not the times be hidde from the Almighty, seeing that they which knowe him, see not his dayes?

2 Some remoue the land markes, that rob the flocks and feed thereof.

3 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes oxe to pledge.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.

5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wilderness, goe soorth to their businesse, and rise early for a pray: the wilde ruelle giueth him and his children food.

6 They reape his prouision in the field, but they gather the late vintage of the wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they embrace the rocke for want of a couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.

10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleanings from the hungry.

11 They that make oyle betweene their walles, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men cry out of the city, and the soules of the flame cry out: yet God doeth not charge them with folly.

13 These are they, that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the pathes thereof.

14 The murtherer riseth early, and killeth the poore and the needy: and in the night hee is as a theefe.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye shall see me, and disguileth his face.

16 They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day:

which are appointed for the purpose: meaning that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger. m For the great oppression and extortion. n Oye out and call for vengeance. o God doth not condonne the wicked, but he is to passe ouer it by his long silence. p That is, Gods word, because they are reprobate and thereby. q By the particular vices and the licenſe thereof, hee sheweth that God punisheth not the wicked and rewardeth the iust.

they know not the light.

17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the drie ground and heat consume the snow waters, so shall the graue the sinners.

20 The pitifull man shall forget them: the worme shall feele his sweetnesse: he shall bee no more remembred, and the wicked shall bee broken like a tree.

21 He doth euil intreat the barren that doth not beare: neither doth he good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the y nightie by his power, and when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

23 Though men giue him assurance to bee in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the toppes of an eare of corne.

25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who will proue me a liar, and make my words of no value?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, 2 Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number in his armes? and vpon whom shall not his light arise?

4 And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane that is borne of woman?

5 Behold, he will giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 How much more man, a worme, euen the soune of man, which is but a worme?

power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light which is in him: can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his myracles.

But Iob answered, and said,

2 Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? sauest thou? arme that hath no strength?

3 Whome counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou shewest right well as the thing is.

4 To whom doest thou declare these words? or whose spirit commeth out of thee?

5 The dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.

6 The graue is naked before him, and there is no couering for destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the North ouer y empty place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his clouds, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.

9 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne:

the deepe places of the earth. There is nothing hid in the earth, but he seeth it. Meaning, the graue wherein things perishe.

g. He causeth the whole heauen to turne about the North pole.

and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, vntill the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding he finiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but in how litle a portion heare we of him? and who can vnderstand his secretfull power?

1 Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. m. If these few things, which wee see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes.

CHAP. XXVII.

The constancie and perswasse of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall viter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnesse, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprocue mee of my dayes.

7 Mineemie shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Wil God heare his crie, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Will hee set his delight on the Almighty? will hee call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teache you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all ye your selues haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanities?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

14 If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall bee buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay,

17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

18 Hee buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

21 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: & it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

b That is, he is hidden the heauens, which are called his throne. i So long as this world endureth. k Not that heauen hath pillar: to vphold it, but he is spoken by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen it selfe is not able to abide his reproofe.

l Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. m. If these few things, which wee see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes.

1 The constancie and perswasse of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall viter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnesse, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprocue mee of my dayes.

7 Mineemie shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Wil God heare his crie, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Will hee set his delight on the Almighty? will hee call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teache you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all ye your selues haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanities?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

14 If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall bee buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay,

17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

18 Hee buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdome of God is unsearchable,

THe siluer surely hath his veine,<sup>a</sup> and the gold his place,<sup>b</sup> where they take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an ende to darknesse,<sup>c</sup> and hee trieth the perfection of all things:<sup>d</sup> hee setteth a bond of darknesse,<sup>e</sup> and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant,<sup>f</sup> and the waters<sup>g</sup> forgotten of the footes, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, and vnder it, as it were fire, is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place of sapphirs, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no fowle hath knowen, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The Lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the Lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the s rockes, and uttereth with the mountaines by the rootes.

10 Hee breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth curie precious thing.

11 Hee bindeth the floods, that they doe not overflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth hee to light.

12 But where is wisdome found?<sup>h</sup> and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not i the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 <sup>k</sup> Gold shal not be giuen for it, neither shal siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shal not bee valued with the wedge of gold of ophir,<sup>l</sup> nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.

17 The gold nor the crystall shal bee equall vnto it, nor the exchange shal be for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of corall, nor of the i gabish: for wisdome is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shal not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh wisdome? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the m fowles of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For hee beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen.

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When hee made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, the feare of the Lord is wisdome, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisdome of God.
b There is nothing but it is compassed within certaine liues, and ha's an end, but Gods wisdome.
c Meaning him that dwelleth thereby.
d Which a man cannot vnderstand.
e This is, come, and vnderstand it, brimstone or cole, which fully consumeth fire.
f Hee alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, where into neither fowles nor beasts can enter.
g After that hee hath declared the wisdome of God in the secrets of nature, hee describeth his power.
h Through Gods power and wisdome may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heavenly wisdome cannot be attained vnto.
i It is too high a thing for a mans attaine vnto in this world.
k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.
l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.
m Meaning that there is no figure all meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heavenly wisdome, which hee receiveth by the faith that his hee in He maketh God onely the author of this wisdome, and the giver thereof.
n From it.
o Hee declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdome, as he sheweth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

CHAP. XXIX.

Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the same pest. 7. 21. his authority. 21. Justice and equitie.

SO Iob proceeded, and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as <sup>in</sup> times past, when God preferred me!

3 When his light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorowe the darknesse,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my pathes with butter, and when the rocke powred mee out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, <sup>even</sup> to the iudgement seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the streete.

8 The yong men saw mee, and hid themselves, and the aged rose, and stood vp.

9 The princes stayed talke, & laid their hand on their mouth.

10 The voice of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the rooffe of their mouth.

11 And when the eare heard mee, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witness to mee.

12 For I deliuered the poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put on iustice, and it couered mee: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the iawes of the vniuerse man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiplie my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the dew shall lie vpon my branch.

20 My glorie shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men giue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.

24 If I laughed on them, they beleueed it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

25 I appointed out the way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 13. 21. because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23. Death is the benefe of all flesh.

BVt now they that are yonger then I, mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the dogges of my flockes.

men were glad to doe me reverence, the yong men now contemning to be my shepherds, or to keepe my dogges.

a Elr. man. before.
b When I hid his face.
c I was in my affliction.
d Then I was by the gates, when they were silent with me.
e By their fault, I was silent, because they were silent.
f The great presence of the great presence.
g So that hee had none occasion to be such a father as they were.
h Being silent of their light, and afraid of my glorie.
i Acknowledging my wisdome.
k All that heard me praised me.
l Testifying that I did good vnto them.
m Because his necessities did so much charge him with wickedness, he is compelled to render account of his life.
n That is, I did succour him, as was in silence, so hee had cause to praise me.
o I delighted to doe iustice, as others did to wear coller of parell.
p That is, as I was in my bed, when all trouble and vniuersality.
q My father doth honour me.
r That is, my pleasure was in them.
s As the drie ground thirsteth for the raine.
t That is, they thought it was a lie, as they thought vnto it, I would comfort them.
u They were afraid to offend me, and could not be angry.
v I had them in commandment.

1 For whereto should the strength of their hande haue serued me, seeing age & perished in them?

2 For pouerty and famine they were solitary, fleeing into the wildernes, which is darke, desolate and waste.

3 They cut vp || nettles by the bushes, and the juniper rootes was their meate.

4 They were chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thiefe.

5 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

6 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themselves.

7 They were the children of fobles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

8 And now am I their song, and I am their talke.

9 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

10 Because that God hath loosed my f corde and humbled mee, & they haue loosed the bridle before me.

11 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pusht my feete, and haue trode on mee as on the paths of their destruction.

12 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none helpe.

13 They came as a great breach of waters, & vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

14 Feare is turned vpon me: and they pursue my soule as the wind, and mine health passeth away as a cloud.

15 Therefore my soule is now powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

16 It pearceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

17 For the great vehemencie is my garment chaged, which compasseth me about as the collar of my coate.

18 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

19 When I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare me, neither regardst me, when I stand vp.

20 Thou turnest thy selfe cruelly against me, and art enemy vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

21 Thou takest me vp, and causdest me to ride vpon the p winde, and makest my strength to faile.

22 Surely I know that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

23 Doubtlesse none can stretch his hand vnto the graue, though they cry in his destruction.

24 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heauinesse for the poore?

25 Yet when I looked for good, & euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenesse.

26 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

27 I went mourning without funne: I stood vp in the congregation and cryed.

28 I am a brother to the Dragons, and a companion to the Ostriches.

29 My skinne is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with heate.

30 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his verses, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faultless.

1 Made a couenant with mine eyes: why then should I thinke on a mayde?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the almightie from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not hee beholde my wayes and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my footes hath made haste to deceite,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine vprightnes.

7 If my stepp hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me sow and let another eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue layde waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure to destruction, and which shall roote out all mine increase.

13 If I did contemne the judgment of my seruant, and of my mayde, when they did contend with me, 14 What then shall I do when God standeth vp? & when he shal visit me, what shal I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made him? hath not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widow to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath growen vp with me as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue seene any perishe for want of cloathing, or any poore without couering, 20 If his loynes haue not blessed me, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift vp mine hande against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was a fearefull vnto me, & I could not be deliuered from his highnes.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue laid to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did beholde the sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightnesse,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God above)

29 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated

&.iii.

a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.

b Would not God then haue punished me?

c I haue declared that the leare of God was a bridle to stay him from all wickednesse.

d He sheweth wherein his vprightnes standeth, that is, in as much as he was blameles before men, & sinned not against the second table.

e That is, hath accomplished the lust of mine eye.

f According to the curse of the lawe, Deut. 28.33.

g Let her be made a floure.

h He sheweth that albeit man neglecteth the punishment of adulterie, yet the wrath of God will neuer cease till such be destroyed.

i When they thought themselves euill created by me.

k If I had oppressed others, how should I haue escaped Gods iudgement?

l He was moued, to shew pitie vnto seruants, because they were Gods creatures as he was.

m By long waiting for her request.

n He nourished the fatherlesse and maintained the widowes cause.

o To oppress him, & to do him iniurie.

p Let me rotte in pieces.

q I refrained not from sinning for feare of men, but because I feared God.

r If I was proud of my worldly prosperitie and felicitie, which is meant by the shining of the sunne and brightnesse of the moone.

s If mine owne doings delighted me.

t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him aloue.

n My seruants moued me to be reueged of mine enemie, yet d d I meuet with him hart x And not confessed it freely:
whereby it is eu-dent that he iusti-fied himselfe before men, and not before God.
y That is, I reuenged the wrong
written and committed, and was afraid to offend
them.
z I suffered them to speake euill of me, and went not out of my house to reuenge it.
a This is a sufficient token of my righteousnesse, that God is my witness and will iustifie my cause.
b Should not this booke of his accusations be a praise and commendation to me?
c I will make him account of all my life, without feare. d As though I had withholden their wages that laboured in it. e talks which he had me, or was moued to joy when euill came vpon him.

30 Neither haue I suffered my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse vnto his soule.

31 Did not the men of my <sup>a</sup> Tabernacle say, Who shall giue vs of his flesh? wee cannot bee satisfied.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid <sup>x</sup> my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosome, 34 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did <sup>y</sup> feare me: so I kept <sup>z</sup> silence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Oh that I had some to heare me! beholde my <sup>a</sup> signs: that the Almighty will witness for me: though mine aduersary should write a booke against me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, and binde it as <sup>b</sup> a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and go vnto him as to a <sup>c</sup> prince.

38 If my land <sup>d</sup> cry against mee, or the furrowes thereof complaine together.

39 I haue eaten the fruites thereof without filuer: or if I haue grieved <sup>e</sup> the soules of the masters thereof, 40 Let thistles grow in steade of wheate, and cockle in the stead of barley.

THE <sup>f</sup> WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.

Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner. <sup>f</sup> That is, he with his three friends.

CHAP. XXXII.

2 Elihu reprooueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

SO these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he <sup>t</sup> esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the <sup>a</sup> Buzite, of the family of <sup>b</sup> Ram, was kindled: his wrath, <sup>i</sup> say, was kindled against Iob because he iustified himselfe <sup>c</sup> more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because thed could not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken: for <sup>d</sup> they were more ancient in yeeres then he)

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the Buzite answered and sayde, I am yong in yeeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to shew you mine opinion.

7 For I sayd, The dayes <sup>e</sup> shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirite in man, <sup>f</sup> but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not <sup>g</sup> alway wise, neither doe the aged <sup>h</sup> alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare me and I will shew also mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out <sup>i</sup> reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reproveth Iob, nor answered his words:

13 Left ye should say, Wee haue <sup>b</sup> found wisdom: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath <sup>i</sup> he not directed <sup>bis</sup> words to me, neither will I answer <sup>b</sup> him by your words.

15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had wayted (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am ful of <sup>1</sup> matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that brast.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answer.

21 I will not now accept the person of men, neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue <sup>a</sup> titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man and to drawe him from sinne. 19. 29 Hee afflicteth man and suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thanks to God.

Wherefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my words.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The <sup>a</sup> Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in <sup>b</sup> Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terror shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand <sup>c</sup> be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of <sup>thy</sup> words:

9 I am <sup>d</sup> cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hath found occasions against mee, and counted me for his enemy.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doest thou strue against him? for he doeth not <sup>e</sup> giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh <sup>f</sup> once or twise, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and <sup>g</sup> visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon <sup>their</sup> beds,

16 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, <sup>which</sup> he <sup>h</sup> had sealed,

17 That hee might cause man to turne away from <sup>his</sup> enterprise, and that hee might hide the <sup>i</sup> pride of man, 18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life should not passe by the sword.

19 He is also stricken with sorrow vpon his bed, the cause of his iudgements, or els by afflictions or by his messenger. <sup>k</sup> He sheweth for what ende God punisheth man, to beat downe mans pride, and to purge from euill.

h And Elihu saith, as though you had answered him.

k Hee hath sealed the hearings,

knowing.
l I haue counted

mine iniquities,

and the griefe of his bones is sore,

20 So that his life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meate.

21 His flesh faileth that it cannot bee seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life to the buriers.

23 If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand to declare vnto man his righteousness.

24 Then will he haue mercy vpon him, and will say, Deliver him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will bee fauourable vnto him, and hee shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteousness.

27 He looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and peruered righteousness, and it did not profite me, 28 Hee will deliver his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Lo, all these things will God worke twice or thrise with a man, 30 That hee may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: keepe silence, and I will speake.

32 If there be y matter, answer me, and speak: for I desire to iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast not, heare mee: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisdom.

34 That God will eare him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing. 35 God will forgive his finnes and accept him as iust. 36 That is, done wickedly. 37 His finne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward mee. 38 God will forgive the penitent sinner. 39 Meaning oftentimes, euen as oft as a sinner doeth repent. 40 If thou doubt of any thing, or see occasion to speake against it. 41 That is, how often, wherein mans iustification consisteth.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu charged Iob, that he called himself righteous. 22 Hee sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

Moreouer Elihu answered, and sayd, 2 Heare my words, yee wife men, and hearken vnto me ye that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare tryeth the words, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, & God hath taken away my iudgement.

6 Should I lie in my right? my wound of the arrowe is grievous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scornfulnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath sayde, It profiteth a man nothing that he should walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should bee in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause every one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whom hath he appointed ouer the earth beside himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If he set his heart vpon men, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit, and his breath, 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust:

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this and hearken to the voyce of my words.

17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they bee all the worke of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the nightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and hee seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darknesse no shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee shall breake the mighty without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their works: he shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers.

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it bee vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the hypocrite doeth reigne, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely it appertaineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Will he perforce the thing through thee? for thou hast reprov'd it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I: now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell mee, and let a wife man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his words according to wisdom.

36 I desire that Iob may bee tried, vnto the ende, touching the answers for wicked men.

37 For hee addeth rebellion vnto his sinne: he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

c Thus hee speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should affliction at his pleasure. d That hee may speake as much as he can, that wee may answer him and all the wicked that shall see such arguments. e He standeth stubbornely in the maintenance of his cause.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doeth godlinesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God. but man. 13 The wicked cry vnto God and are not heard.

Elihu spake moreouer, and sayd,

2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast sayd, What profiteth it thee and what availeth it mee, to purge me from my sinne?

4 Therefore

5 To destroy him.

6 The breath of lie which hee giveth man.

7 If God were not iust, howe could hee gouerne the world?

8 If man of nature were to speake euill of such as haue power, then much more ought they to be afraid to speake euill of God.

9 When they looke not for it.

10 The messenger of visitation that God shall send.

11 God doeth not a litle man about measure, so that he should haue occasion to contend with him.

12 For all his creatures are at hand to see him, so that he needeth not to seeke for any other army.

13 Make them manifest that they are wicked.

14 Declare the things that wee hid.

15 Meaning openly in the sight of all men.

16 By their cruelty and extortion.

17 When tyrants sit in the throne of iustice which vnder pretence of executing iustice are but hypocrites and oppress the people.

18 A figure that God hath drawn backe his countenance and fauour from that place.

19 Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.

20 Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob because hee would be wiser then God.

21 Will God vnto thy counsel in doing his workes?

b Such as are in the life of sin.

c If they can not control the clouds, with their perfume to inflict God?

d Neither doeth thy sinne hurt God, nor thy unrighteousnes profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt man, and cause him to cry, who if he sought to God which sendeth comfort, should be deliv-red.

f Because they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

g God is just, howsoever thou iudge of him.
h For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, thou shouldst not be able to open thy mouth.

a He sheweth that when we speake of God, we must lift vp our spirits more than our naturall sense is able to reach.

b Then shall perceive that I am a faithfull instructour, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

c Strong and constant: of understanding: for these are the gifts of God: & he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God punisheth now Ioh, it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore he will not persevere the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will shew grace.

e He preferreth the godly to honour.

f He will move their hearts to seele their finnes that they may come to him by repentance, as he did Manassah.

g That is, their folly or obstinacy, and so little trust of their owne destruction. h Which are in wilful disobedience to God, and therefore are cast out of his favour. i When they are in wilful disobedience, they seeke not to God for succour as Ahab, Chab, 18. 12. Truist, 16. 11.

k They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age. l If thou hadst bene obedient to God, he would have brought thee to liberty and wealth.

Therefore will I answer thee, & thy companions with that.

1 Look vnto the heauen, and see and behold the clouds which are hier then thou.

2 If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy finnes bee many, what doest thou vnto him?

3 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiveth he at thine hand?

4 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: thy righteousness may profit the sonne of man.

5 They cause many that are oppressed, to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.

6 But none sayeth, Where is God that made me, which gieth songs in the night?

7 Which teacheth vs more then the beasts of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

8 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

9 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the Almighty regard it.

10 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

11 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremities.

12 Therefore Iobhopeneth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

a Elihu sheweth the power of God, & And his iustice. b And wherefore he punisheth: c The properties of the wicked.

d Elihu also proceeded and sayd,

1 Suffer me a litle, and I wil instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

2 I will fetch my knowledge a farre off, and will attribute righteousness vnto my Maker.

3 For truly my words shall not be false, and he that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

4 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is mightie and valiant of courage.

5 Hee maintaineth not the wicked, but hee giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

6 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with kings in the throne, where he placeth them for ever: thus they are exalted.

7 And if they bee bound in fetters and tyed with the cords of affliction,

8 Then will he shew them their f worke, and their finnes, because they haue bene proud.

9 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and comandeth them that they resume from iniquity.

10 If they obey and serue him, they shall end their daies in prosperity, & their yeres in pleasures.

11 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the sword, and perish without knowledge.

12 But the hypocrites of heart increace the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

13 Their soule dieth in youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

14 Hee delivereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

15 Euen so would hee haue taken thee out of the strait place into a broad place, and not shut vp beneath: and I that which reiteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

16 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

17 For Gods wrath is, left hee should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

18 Wil he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excell in strength.

19 Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

20 Take thou heede: looke not to iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

21 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

22 Who hath appoynted to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

23 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

24 All men see it, and men beholde it afarre off.

25 Behold, God is excellent, and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeres bee searched out.

26 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine f powreth downe by the vapour thereof.

27 Which raine the cloudes doe drop and let fall abundantly vpon man.

28 Who can know the diuisions of the clouds, and the thunders of his Tabernacle?

29 Beholde, hee spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

30 For thereby hee iudgeth the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

31 He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to goe against it.

32 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

33 hath double vie: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth snowe any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitful, all cloudes to dash against another. a The colde vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloudes of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the colde cloud moneth vp toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, saye and thunder clappes.

CHAP. XXXVII.

a Elihu prooueth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifested by his works: b As by the thunders, c The snowe, d The whirlwinds, e And the raine.

1 At this also mine heart is astonished, and is mooued out of his place.

2 Heare the sound of his voice, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: hee thundereth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he wil not stay them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundereth marueilously with his voice: he worketh great things which we know not.

6 For he sayth to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: likewise to the small raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof hee shutteth vp euery man, that all men may know his worke.

8 Then the beastes goe into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlwind commeth out of the South, and the cold from the North winde.

a At the blowing off of the wind, and lightning whereby hee declareth that the faithfull are fully touched with the moiest of God, when they behold his worketh. b That is, the thunder, when they speake to one to walke their duities, and to bring them to the consideration of his worketh. c Memory, the raine of the raines of the small raine, and the great raine of his power. d By the raine and thunders God causeth men to know their finnes. e An eborist, it is called the jestering winde, because it scattereth way the cloudes and purgeth the ayre.

a The word of God is the power of God, for by the word of God, the iustice of God is declared. b God doeth not in thine, lest thou shouldst forget God in thy vanity, and to perish. c Hee is not careles in holding the case of Gods iudgements, when hee desireth to know And so man should be careles of Gods iudgements. d The word of God is the power of God, for by the word of God, the iustice of God is declared. e Our infirmitie hindereth us, that we cannot attaine to the full knowledge of God. f That is, the more content of these drops of water, which hee spreadeth in the clouds. g Meaning of the cloudes, which hee calleth the Tabernacle of God. h Vpon the clouds. i That men can not come to the knowledge of the springs thereof. j He sheweth that the raine

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breath of the waters is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloude of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world :

13 Whether it bee for punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob : stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the varietie of the cloud, and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfitt in knowledge?

17 Or howe thy clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the Southwinde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tel vs what we shall say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darknessesse.

20 Shall it bee told him when I speake? or shall man speake when hee shalbe destroyed?

21 And nowe men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The brightness commeth out of the North: the prayse thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth nor.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceite.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weaknesse of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice, and prouidence of the Creator is knownen.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirlwinde, and sayd,

2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding.

5 Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who layd the corner stone thereof?

7 When the starres of the morning e prayed me together, and all the children of God reioyced:

8 Or who hath shut vp the Sea with doores, when it issued out and came forth as out of the wombe?

God workes much lesse the secret causes of his iudgements. The starrs and dumbe creatures are layd to prayse God, because his power, wisdom and goodnes is manifest and knownen therein. f Meaning, the Angels.

9 When I made the cloudes as a covering thereof, and darknesse as the swaddling bands thereof:

10 When I stablished my commandment vpon it, and set barres and doores, 11 And sayd, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and heere shall it stay thy proud waues.

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, I & all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the hie armie shalbe broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darknesse, 20 That thou shouldst receiue it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snowe? or hast thou seene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East wind vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spouts for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders, 26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the earth to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restraine the sweete influences of the Pleiades? or loose the bands of Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set the rule thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voice to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Loe, here wee are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the reines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number clouds by wisdom? or who can cause to cease the bottles of heauen.

38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, and the clots are fast together?

g As though the great sea were but as a little babe in the hands of God to turne to and fro.

h That is, Gods decree and commandment, as verse 10.

i To wit, to life, since thou wast borne.

k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wicked men, canst abide the light, but hide themselves.

l The earth which seemed to the night to haue no forme, by the rising of the sunne, as it were created anew, and all things therein clad with new beauty.

m If thou art not able to seeke out the depth of the sea, how much lesse art thou able to comprehend the counsell of God?

n That thou mightest appoint it his way and limits.

o To punish mine enemies with thee, as Erod 9. 18. Iosh. 10. 11.

p The yce conereth it, as though it were paved with stone.

q Which starres arise when the sunne is in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring forth.

r Which starre bringeth in winter.

s Certaine starres so called: some thinke they were the twelve signes.

t The North starre with those that are about him.

u Canst thou cause the heauenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies?

x In the secret parts of man.

y That is, the cloudes wherein the water is contained as in bottles.

z For when God doeth not open these bottles, the earth commeth to his incumbrance.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The liberie and providence of God, which extendeth unto the young rauen, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God.
37 Iob confesseth and humblyeth himselfe.

a After he had declared Gods warkes in the heauens, he sheweth his marvellous providence in earth, even toward the bruite beastes.
b Rende Psal. 147.

c He chiefly mentioneth wilde goates and hinds, because they bring forth their young with most difficultie.
d That is, how long they go with young.
e They bring forth with great difficultie.

f That is, the barren ground where no good fruits grow.

g It is possible to make the vnicorne tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the will of God, whereby he governeth all the world.

h They write that the ostrich couereth her eggs in the sand, and because the country is hot and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.

i If he should take care for them.
k That is, to haue a care, and naturally off: from toward his young.
l When the young ostrich is grown vp, he couereth the hie.
m That is, giuen him courage, which is meant by saying - and shewing his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke.
n He beateth with his hoofs.
o He foittideth the ground that it smother nothing vader him.

Wilt thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lions whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in waite?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate, when his birdes b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats bring forth young? or doest thou marke when the c hinds doe calue?

5 Canst thou number the moneths that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe themselves: they e bruise their young, and cast out their sorowes.

7 Yet their young waxe fatte, and growe vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 It is I which haue made the wilderness his house, and the f salt places his dwellings.

10 Hee derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crie of the driuer.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the vnicorne s serue thee? or will he tarie by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his band to labour in the furrow? or will he plow the valleyes after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that hee will bring home thy feed, and gather it vnto thy barn?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his eggs in the earth, and maketh them h hote in the dust, 18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 He sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his young ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauelled i in vaine.

20 For God hath deprived him of k wisdome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When l time is, he mounteth on high: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength, or couered his necke with m neyng?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong neyng is fearefull.

24 He n diggeth in the valley, and reicyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the hardest man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword, 26 Though the quiver rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He o swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and he beleaseth not that it is the noyse of the trumpet.

28 He smelleth the battell afarre off, and the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wisdome, stretching out his wings toward the p South?

30 Doth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on high?

31 Shee abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold afarre off.

33 His young ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is she.

34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, & said,

35 Is this q to learne, to striue with the Almighty? he that reprooueth God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am r vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea, twise, but I will proceed no further.

CHAP. XL.

How weak man's power is, being compared to the warkes of God.
10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and governing of the great beasts.

A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of s the whirlwind, and sayd,

2 Gird vp nowe thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanul t my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe nowe with b maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, & abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde c their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d faue thee.

10 ¶ Behold now e Behemoth (whom I made f with thee) which eateth g grasse as an ox.

11 Behold nowe, his strength is in his loynes, and his force is in the naui of his bellie.

12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: the sinewes of his stoues are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like staues of bras, and his small bones like staues of yron.

14 h He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: i he that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him fourth grasse, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fenues?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuer compass him about?

18 Behold, he spoyleth the riuer, k and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoever meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out l Liuiathan with an hooke, & with a line which thou shalt cast down vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnesse of this monster Lianathan God sheweth his greatnesse and his power, which nothing can resist.

None is so fierce that dare stirre him vp. Who is he then that can stand before me?
2 Who hath preuented mee that I should make an ende? All vnder heauen is mine.
3 I will not keepe silence concerning his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
4 Who can discouer the face of his garment?
or who shall come to him with a double bridle?
5 Who shall open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.
6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.
7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them.
8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundred.
9 His niesings make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
10 Out of his mouth goe lamps, and sparkes of fire leape out.
11 Out of his nostrils commeth out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.
12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.
13 In his necke remaineth strength, and labour is reiected before his face.
14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselves, and cannot be moued.
15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.
16 The mightie are afraid of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselves.
17 When the sword doth touch him, hee will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergeon.
18 He esteemeth yron as straw, and brasie as rooten wood.
19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.
20 The darts are counted as straw: & he laugh-eth at the shaking of the speare.
21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and hee spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.
22 He maketh the depth to boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oymment.
23 He maketh a path to shine after him, one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: hee is made without feare.
25 He beholdeth all his things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Job. 9 Hee prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and deas.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,
2 I know that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.
3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vn-derstood not, euen things too wonderfull for me, and which I knew not.
4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.
5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee, 6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.
7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanire, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for yee haue not spoken of mee the thing that is right, like my seruant Job.
8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because yee haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seruant Iob.
9 So Eliphaz the Temanire, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had sayd vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.
10 Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so much as he had before.
11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion on him, & comforted him for all the euil that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a piece of money, and euery one an earring of gold.
12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob, more then the first: for hee had fourteene thousand sheepe, and sixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.
13 He had also seuen sonnes, and three dachters.
14 And he called the name of one Temimah, and the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the third Keren-happuch.
15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, & their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.
16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourtie yeeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.
17 So Iob died, being old, and full of dayes.

THE PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost to bee esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wisdom, are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great and high maiestie of God, here we may see the brightnesse thereof shone most cleerely. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approach neere therunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, here we may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life everlasting, here is Christ our onely redeemer, and mediator most euidently described. The rich man may learne the true use of his riches. The poore man may find full contentation. He that will reioyce shall know the true ioy, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecutors of the children of God shall see how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet hee bridaleth them, in so much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here wee may haue most present remedies against all tentations and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laide vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Esau, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth, hee did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to studie and meditate the heavenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures: 2. and that the wicked contemners of God, though that they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornfull.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord, & in his law doth he meditate day & night.

3 For hee shall be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruite in due season: whose leafe shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall doe, shall prosper.

4 The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the wind driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet David reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer, and aduance it euen to the end of the world, 2. and therefore exhorteth kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christ, kingdome.

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vaine?

King, cannot preuaile against Christ.

2 The Kings of the earth band themselves, & the Princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

3 Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs.

4 But he that dwelleth in the heauen, shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto mee, Thou art my sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aske of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessell.

10 Be wise now therefore, ye kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 Kisse the Sonne, lest he be angry, and yee perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne. Blessed are all that trust in him.

all rulers to repent in time, 2. In signe of homage. 3. When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to bee but in the mid way of their destruction suddenly come, 1. Thess. 5.3.

PSAL. III.

1 David driven forth of his kingdom, was greatly comforted in minde for his finnes against God: 2. And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bold through his promises against the great railing and terror of his enemies, yea, against death it selfe, which hee saw present before his eyes. 3. Finally, he reioyceth for the good successe that God gaue him, and all the Church.

Or praises, according to the E- bernes and were chiefly inscribed to praise and giue thanks to God for his benefices. They are called the Psalmes or Songs of David, because the most part were made by him.

2 When a man hath giuen vantage to euill counsellors, to his owne conceits, hee becometh to forget himselfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the first of the sinners. 3. But tremble when they see Gods wrath. 9. Dm. 6. 26. 10. Like as not to know, is to reprove and reiect.

me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine innocencie that is in me.

righteousnesse, and will sing praise to the Name

PSAL. VIII.

The Prophet considering the excellent liberalitie and fatherly providence of God towards man, whom hee made, as it were a god ouer all his works, doth not only giue great thanks, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compasse such great mercies.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world: which hast set thy glorie about the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordeined strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the auenger.

3 When I beholde thine heauens, euen the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordeined,

4 What is man, say I, that thou art mind-full of him? and the sonne of man, that thou vi-sitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the workes of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The fowles of the aire, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth thorowe the paths of the seas.

9 O Lorde our Lorde, how excellent is thy Name in all the world.

MO PSAL. IX. 2

After hee had giuen thanks to God for the sundry victories that hee had sent him against his enemies, and also proued by manifold experience, how ready God was at hand in all his troubles:
14 Hee being now likewise in danger of his enemies, desireth God to helpe him according to his wont, 17 and to destroy the malicious arrogancie of his aduersaries.

To him that excelleth vpon Muth Labben.

A Psalm of David.

I will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy maruellous works.

2 I will be glad, and reioyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe:
they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudgeth right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities:
their memoriall is perished with them.

7 But the Lord shall sit for euer: hee hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For he shall iudge the world in righteoufnesse, and shall iudge the people with equitie.

9 The Lord also will be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his works.

12 For when hee maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate mee, thou that liftest mee vp from the gates of death,

14 That I may shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughters of Zion, and reioyce in saluation.

15 The heathen are sunken downe in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foot taken.

16 The Lord is knowen by executing iudge-ment: the wicked is snared in the worke of his owne hands. Higgaion. Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not be alway forgotten: the hope of the afflicted shall not perish for euer.

19 Vp Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.

20 Put them in feare, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but men. Selah.

PSAL. X.

Hee complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyrannie, and all kinde of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, to wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore sitting apart all feare & reuerence towards God, thinke they may doe all things without controuling. 15 Therefore hee calleth vpon God to send some remedie against these despicable euils, 16 and at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliuerance.

him into iudge-
ment.

ked in their euen-tides.

fall of the wicked must alway be considered.

to be noted.

God promiseth not to helpe vs before we haue felt the crosse.

Which they can not learne without the feare of thy iudgement.

a So soon as we enter into affliction, we thinke God should help vs but that is not alwayes his due time.
 b The wicked man reioyceth in his owne lust: he boasteth when he hath that he would: he braggeth of his wit and wealth & blesteth himselfe, and thus blasphemeth the Lord.
 c Or, sufficeth at.
 d Or, not be moued because he was neuer in euill.
 e The euill shall not touch mee, Iū 23.19. or els he speake th thus, because he neuer felt euill.

 k For thou hast vitally destroyed him.

 n Or, destroy no more man vpon the earth.

Why standest thou farre off, O Lord, & hidest thee in a due time, euē in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them bee taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetous blesteth himselfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proud, that hee seeketh not for God: hee thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudgements are high aboue his sight: therefore hee defiecth he all his enemies.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceite, and fraud: vnder his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in wait in the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 Hee lieth in wait secretly, euē as a lion in his denne: he lieth in wait to spoile the poore: he doth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth: therefore heaps of the poore doe fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will neuer see.

12 Arise, O Lord God, lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? he sayth in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.

14 Yet thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou mayest take it into thine handes: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: searsh his wickednesse, and thou shalt finde none.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the heathen are destroyed forth of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou benedict thine eare to them.

18 To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthly man cause to feare no more.

P S A L. XI.

1 This Psalm containeth two parts. In the first David sheweth how hard assaults of temptation hee sustained, and in how great anguish of mind he was, when Saul did persecute him. 2 Then next hee reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessity, declaring his iustice aswell in gouerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

P S A L. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to find succour to his children. 2 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, hee commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

7 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

g Note that of this 14. Psalme, the 5. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and may seeme vnto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalme in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in more fully to expresse the manners of the wicked, and are gathered out of the 5. 140. and 10. Psalms, the 59. of the Prophet Ishaiah, and the 16. Psalme, and are alleged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romans.

MO PSAL. XV. 3

This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing uprightly and godly, might winne that they were his speciall and holy people.

APsalme of Dauid.

Lord, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle? who shall rest in thy holy Mountaine?

2 He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousnesse, and speaketh the trueth in his heart.

3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueth a false report against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare the Lord: he that sweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

5 He that giueth not his money vnto vsury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, shall neuer be mooued.

PSAL. XVI.

David prayeth to God for succour not for his workes, but for his faiths sake. 4 Protesting that he baseth all idolatry, taking God onely for his comfort and felicitie. 8 Who suffereth his to lacke washing

Michtam of Dauid.

Preserue mee, O God: for in thee doe I trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my well doing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The sorowes of them, that offer to an other god, shall be multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

6 The lines are fallen vnto me in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsell: my f reines also teach me in the nights.

8 God teacheth me continually by secret inspiration.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before mee: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.

9 Wherefore mine heart is glad, and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope. 10 For thou wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

Here he complaineth to God of the cruell pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus ragged without any cause giuen on his part. 6 Therefore he desireth God to reuenge his insolencie and deliuer him.

The prayer of Dauid.

Hear a the right, O Lord, consider my crie: I hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfaigned.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equity.

3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest no thing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the wordes of thy lips I kept me from the pathes of the cruell man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet doe not slide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, O God: incline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shew thy merueilous mercies, thou that art the Saviour of them that trust in thee, from such as g resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings.

9 From the wicked that oppresse mee, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fat, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:

12 Like as a lyon that is greedy of pray, and as it were a lyons whelpes lurking in secret places.

13 Vp Lord, disappoint him: cast him down: deliuer my soule from the wicked with thy sword.

14 From men by thine hand, O Lord, from men of the world, who haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine hid treasure: their children haue ynough, and leaue the rest of their substance for their children.

15 But I will behold thy face in righteousness, and when I awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

ting against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourab ned vnto vs. 6 And am deliuered out of my great troubles.

PSAL. XVIII. 3

This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thanksgiving in the entring into his kingdome, wherein he extollet and praised most highly the merueilous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 32 Also he sette forth the image of Christs kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquere and ouercome by the vnspokeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should strive there against.

g The faithfull are sure to perseuer to the end. h That is reioyce both in body and soule. i This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members haue immortalky. k Where God is iouureth, there is perfit felicitie.

a My righteous cause. b The vengeance that thou shalt shew against mine enemy. c When thy Spirit examined my conscience. d I was innocent toward mine enemy both in deeds and thought. e Though the wicked provoked me to doe euill for euill, yet thy word kept me backe. f He was assured that God would not refuse his request. g For all rebell against thee, which trouble thy Church.

h For their crueltie cannot be satisfied but with my death. i They are past vp with pride, as the stomacke that is choked with fete. k Stop his rage.

l Or, which is thy sword. m By thine heavenly power. n Or, whose synny hath too long endured. o And feele not the smart that Gods children oft times doe. p This is the full felicitie, comfort, and countenance opt-

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song ( in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul ) and said,

I Will loue thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

2 * The Lord is my rocke, and my fortresse, and he that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.

3 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthy to be prayfed: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

4 * The sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made me afraid.

5 The || sorowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

6 * But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voice out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 * Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines moued and shooke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a * consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heauens also & came down, and darkenesse was vnder his feete.

10 And hee rode vpon g Cherub, and did flie, and hee came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darknesse his <sup>h</sup> secret place, and his pavilion round about him, euen darknesse of waters, and cloudes of the aire.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his clouds passed, hailestones and coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue <sup>i</sup> his voyce; hailestones and coales of fire.

14 Then he sent out <sup>k</sup> his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanel of waters were scene, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue and taken mee: hee hath drawn mee out of many <sup>m</sup> waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my <sup>n</sup> strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were <sup>o</sup> too strong for me.

18 They presented mee in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: p he deliuered me because he fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded mee according to my <sup>q</sup> righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his <sup>r</sup> commandements from mee.

23 I was vpriight also with him, and haue kept me from my <sup>s</sup> wickednesse.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness, and according to the purenesse of mine hands in his fight.

25 With the <sup>t</sup> godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpriight man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpriight.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt <sup>u</sup> cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.

29 For by thee I haue <sup>x</sup> broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is vncorrupt: the <sup>y</sup> word of the Lord is tried in the fire: hee is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my <sup>z</sup> way vpriight.

33 He maketh my feete like hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine <sup>a</sup> high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of || brasse is broken with mine ames.

35 Thou hast also giuen mee the <sup>b</sup> shield of thy saluation, and thy right hande hath stayed me, and thy <sup>c</sup> louing kindnesse hath caused mee to encrease.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and my heeles haue not slid.

37 * I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded mee with strength to battell: them that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast <sup>e</sup> giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They <sup>f</sup> cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the <sup>g</sup> heathen: a people, whom I haue not <sup>h</sup> known, shall serue me.

44 As soone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall <sup>i</sup> be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall <sup>k</sup> shrink away, and feare in their priue chambers.

46 Let the Lorde lue, and blessed bee my strength, and the GOD of my saluation be exalted.

47 It <sup>l</sup> is God that giueth me power to auenge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set me vp from them that rose against mee: thou hast deliuered mee from the <sup>m</sup> cruell man.

49 Therefore <sup>n</sup> I will praise thee, O Lorde, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his king, and sheweth mercy to his annointed, euen to Dauid, and to his <sup>o</sup> feede for euer.

PSAL. XXIII.

Because the Prophet had procured the great mercies of God at divers times, and in sundry manners, he gathereth a certaine assurance, fully perswading himselfe that God will continue the very same goodnesse toward him for ever.

P S A L. XXVI.

a David oppreſſed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and aſſured of his integritye towardes Saul, deſireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. b Finally he maketh mention of his ſacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and deſireth to be in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence he was baniſhed by Saul, promiſing integritye of life, and open prayes and thankſgiving.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 Vdge me, O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocency: my truſt hath bene alſo in the Lord: therefore ſhall I not ſlide.

2 Prooue I me, O Lord, and trie me: examine my reines, and mine heart.

3 For thy louing kindeſſe is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth.

4 I haue not haunted with vaine perſons, neither kept company with the diſſemblers.

8 O Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thine houſe, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my ſoule with the finners, nor my life with the bloody men:

11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: re-deeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.

12 My foot ſtandeth in vprightneſſe: I will praife thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

P S A L. XXVII.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 The Lord is my light & my ſaluation, whom ſhall I feare? the Lord is the ſtrength of my life, of whom ſhall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my fleſh, they ſumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoſte pitched againſt me, mine heart ſhould not be afraid: though warre be raiſed againſt me, I will truſt in this.

4 One thing haue I deſired of the Lorde, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the houſe of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beaute of the Lorde, and to viſite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble hee ſhall hide mee in his Tabernacle: in the ſecret place of his pavilion ſhall hee hide me, and ſet me vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now ſhall he lift vp mine head about mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle ſacrifices of ioy: I will ſing and praife the Lord.

7 Harken vnto my voice, O Lorde, when I crie: haue mercie alſo vpon mee and heare mee.

8 When thou ſayeſt, Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lorde, I will ſeek thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from mee, nor caſt thy ſeruant away in diſpleaſure: thou haſt bene my ſuccour: leaue me not, neither forſake me, O God of my ſaluation.

10 Though my father and my mother ſhould forſake mee, yet the Lorde will gather me vp.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lorde, and leade me in a right path, becauſe of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the luſt of mine aduerſaries: for there are falſe witneſſes riſen vp againſt me, and ſuch as ſpeake cruelly.

13 I ſhould haue fainted, except I had beleued to ſee the goodneſſe of the Lord in the land of the living.

14 Hope in the Lord: be ſtrong, and he ſhall comfort thine heart, and truſt in the Lord.

P S A L. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and heauinesse of heart to see God discomfured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them. 2 And crieth for vengeance against them: and at length appeareth himselfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 3 Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithfull.

A Psalme of David.

Vnto thee, O Lord, doe I cry: O my strength, be not deafe toward me, lest if thou answer mee not, I be like them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voice of my petitions, when I crie vnto thee, when I hold vp my hands toward thine holy Oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalt them for euer.

P S A L. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world (which for the most part thinke there is no God.) 2 As the least to feare him for the thunders and tempests: for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateth sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to him, and wooeth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of David.

Giue vnto the Lord, ye sonnes of the mighty: giue vnto the Lord glory and strength.

2 Giue vnto the Lord glory due vnto his Name: worship the Lorde in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mighty: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and Shirion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voice of the Lord diuideth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of Kadeth to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calue, and discovereth the forests: therefore in his Temple doeth every man speake of his glory.

10 For some maketh them to cast their calues. 11 Maketh the woods bare, or ploweth the most fecund places. 12 Though the wicked are no thing moued with these sights, yet the faithfull praise God.

a He counteth himselfe as a dead man, till God shew his fauour toward him, and grant him his petition. b He vied this outward weakness to helpe the weakness of his faith: for in that place was the Arke, and there God promised to shew the tokens of his fauour. c Destroy not the good with the bad. d He thus prayeth in respect of Gods glory, and not for his owne cause, being assured that God would punish the persecutors of his Church. e Let them be verily destroyed, as Malac. 1. 4. f Because he felt the assistance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his praises. g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

a He exhorteth the proud tyrants to humble themselves vnder Gods hand, and not to be inferiour to brute beasts and dumble creatures. b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of the clouds, ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger. c That is, y thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men thinke their power to be able to resist God? d Called also Hermon. e It causeth the lightnings to shoot and glide. f In places most desolate wherewith strength there is no presence of God, or ploweth the most fecund places. i Though the wicked are no thing moued with these sights, yet the faithfull praise God.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.

P S A L. XXX.

1 When David was deliuered from great danger, hee rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then severe and rigorous towards his children. 7 And also that the fall from prosperitie is aduersitie in sudden. 8 This done, hee returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

A Psalme or song of the dedication of the house of David.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lorde my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, yee his Saints, and giue thanks before the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at evening, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I said, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lorde of thy goodnesse haddest made my mountaine to stand strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I go downe to the pit? shal the dust giue thanks vnto thee? or shall it declare thy truth?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

P S A L. XXXI.

1 David deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemies being readie to take him. 15 Then hee affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally hee exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God and to loue him, because he preserveth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

IN thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: let mee neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy righteousness.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to me: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto me a strong rocke, and an house of defence to saue me.

7 I will be glad and reioyce in thy mercy: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast known my soule in aduersities.

8 And thou hast not shut mee vp in the hand of the enemy, but hast let my feet at large.

9 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine eye, my soule & my belly are consumed with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse, and my yeeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproch among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing mee in the streete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessell.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God.

18 Let the lying lips bee made dumbe, which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodnesse, which thou hast laied vp for them that feare thee! and done to them that trust in thee, euery before the fonnes of men!

20 Thou doest hide them priuily in thy presence from the pride of men: thou keepest them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed bee the Lord: for hee hath shewed his marvellous kindnesse toward me in a strong citie.

22 Though I said in mine haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet thou heardest the voyce of my prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.

23 Loue ye the Lord all his Saints: for the Lord preferueth the faithfull, and rewardeth abundantly the proud doer.

b He sheweth that all our felicity standeth in this, that the Lord is our God.

i He proueth that all things are governed by Gods providence and not by fortune.

k Therefore he knoweth the wicked enterprises.

l If kings and the mighty of the world cannot be saved by worldly weapons, but only by Gods providence, what have others to trust in that have not like means?

m God sheweth that toward his of his mercy, which man by no means is able to compass.

n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which wholly depend on Gods providence.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stand for ever, and the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: even the people that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwell in the earth.

15 He fashioneth their hearts every one, and understandeth all their works.

16 The King is not saved by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mightie man delivered by great strength.

17 A horie is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliver any by his great strength.

18 Behold, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them that trust in his mercy.

19 To deliver their soules from death, and to preferue them in famine.

20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercie, O Lord, bee vpon vs, as wee trust in thee.

P S A L. XXXIIII.

1 After Dauid had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Samu. 21. 17. where in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a generall name to all the kings of the Philistines) he prayeth God for his deliuerance, 3 prouoking all others by his example to trust in God: to feare and serue him: 14 who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 15 and utterly destroyeth the wicked in their finnes.

A Psalme of Dauid, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who draue him away, and he departed.

a He proueth that neuer to become vniuersall of Gods great benediction for his deliniance.

b They that are beaten downe with the experience of their own euils.

c Which I conceived for the dangers wherein I was.

d They shalbe bold to flee to thee for succour, when they shall see thy mercie toward me.

e Though Gods power be sufficient to governe vs, yet for mans infirmity he appointeth his Angels to watch ouer vs.

f The godly by their patient obedience manifeste more then they which raine and spoile.

g It they bid the last trial h That is, the true religion and worship of God. 1. Pet. 3. 10. i Seeing all men naturally desire felicity he wonderth why they call themselves willingly into miserie.

I Will alway giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shalbe in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lord: the humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They shall looke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cryed, and the Lord heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth round about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord yee his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The Lyons doe lack and suffer hunger, but they which seeke the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto mee: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is he that desireth life, and loqueth long dayes for to see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschew euill and do good: seeke peace and follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their crie.

16 But the face of the Lord is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous crie, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and will saue such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shal slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord redeemeth the soules of his seruants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

P S A L. XXXV.

1 So long as Dauid was enuie to Dauid, all that had any authority under him, to flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to please and to avenge his cause, 8 that they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they layed for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 and that the innocents, which take part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruants. 28 And so he promiseth to speake forth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

A Psalme of Dauid.

P Lead thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strue with mee: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare, and stop the way against the that persecute me, say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned back, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit, and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at vnwares, and let his net, that hee hath layed priuily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall be joyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him: yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoyleth him!

11 Cruel witness did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to haue spoyled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my selfe with fasting:

for e both in soule and bodie, 1 That would not suffer me to be taken from me all comfort, and brought me into dispaire.

1 The name of God doth not only deliuer the wicked, but also abolisheth their name for euer. 1 When they seeme to be loved up with afflictions, God is as ready to deliuer them. 2 And as God saith, all the bones of his bond. 3 These wicked enterprises shall come to their own destruction. 4 For when they seeme to be secure, come with great dangers and death. 5 It is, then God, the which handeth their redemption.

a He desired God to vnderstand his cause against them that did persecute him and flander him. b Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost stirreth vnto him the outward weapons of his power. c As for me against these temptations, that thou art the author of my saluation. d Scize them with the spirit of giude, so that their enterprises may be foolish & they receive no ill reward. e Shewing that we may not call God to be a vengeance, but only for his glory, and when our cause is iust. f When he promiseth to his children peace. g Which he prepared against the children of God. h He striueth with his deliniance, only to God, praying him to be merciful to his. i To 16 With the false scoffers at bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my defollate soule from the lions.
18 So will I giue thee thanks in a great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.
19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vniuistly reioyce ouer me, neither let them winke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.
20 For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitfull words against the quiet of the land.
21 And they gaped on me with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, our eye hath seene.
22 Thou hast seene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.
23 Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.
24 Iudge mee, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousnesse, and let them not reioyce ouer me.
25 Let them not say in their hearts, Our soule reioyce: neither let them say, Wee haue deuoured him.
26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with confusion and shame, that lift vp themselues against me.
27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, that loue my righteousnesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the prosperitie of his seruant.
28 And my tongue shall utter thy righteousnesse, and thy praise euery day.

He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance, and for the destruction of his aduersaries.

P S A L. XXXVI.

The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednesse. 6 Then hee turneth to consider the unspeakable goodnesse of God toward all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be confirmed and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke. 13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked and saueth the iust.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednesse saith to the wicked man, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.
2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.
3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.
4 He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

The reprobate reacheth to wisdoms doctrine, and put not difference betweene good and euill. By describing in large the nature of the reprobate, hee admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.
6 Thy righteousnesse is like the mighty mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man and beast.
7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.
8 They shalbe satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.
9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall wee see light.
10 Extend thy louing kindnesse vnto them that know thee, and thy righteousnes vnto them that are vpriight in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked men moue mee.
12 There they are fallen that work iniquity: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

He sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that know him, and leade their liues vpriightly. 1 Let not the proude advance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked drme me away. 2 That is, in their pride whoso in they flatter themselves.

P S A L. XXXVII.

This Psalm consisteth exhortation and consolation for the weake, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously flourisheth the wicked doe liue for the time, he doeth affirme their felicitie to bee vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ende they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserably the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and persecuted.

A Psalm of David.

Ret not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.
2 For they shall soone bee cut downe like grasfe, and shall wither as the greene herbe.
3 Trust thou in the Lorde and doe good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.
4 And delite thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.
5 Comput thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.
6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnesse as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone day.
7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.
8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe also to doe euill.
9 For euill doers shalbe cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.
10 Therefore yet a little while and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.
11 But meeke men shal possesse the earth, and shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.
12 The wicked practiseth against the iust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.
13 But the Lord shal laugh him to scorne: for he seeth that his day is comming.
14 The wicked haue drawn their sworde and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore their doings, Job 31.7 &c. 2 Meaning, except hee moderate his afflictions, hee shall beled to doe as they doe. 3 He correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time be come. 4 Math. 5.5. 1 The godly are assured that the power and erist of the wicked shall not preuaile against them but fall on their owne deeces, and therfore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, and offer vp their reares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

Though wicked as he seemeth to overflow all the world, yet by thine heauenly prouidence thou governest heauen and earth.
1 For the mountaines of God: for whatsaueur is excellent is thus called.
2 The depth of thy prouidence governeth all things, and dispo- seth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerhelme the world.
3 Onely Gods children haue ymogh of all things both concerning this life and the life to come.
4 He sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that know him, and leade their liues vpriightly. 1 Let not the proude advance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked drme me away. 2 That is, in their pride whoso in they flatter themselves.

He admonisheth vs not to vex our selues for the prosperouse estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state better.
2 For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their state in a moment.
3 To trust in God, and doe according to his will, are sure tokens that his prouidence will neuer faile vs.
4 Be not led by thine owne wisdom, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.
5 As the hope of the day light causeth vs not to be offended with the darkenesse of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that God will cleare our cause and restore vs to our right.
6 When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he fauoureth their doings, Job 31.7 &c. 2 Meaning, except hee moderate his afflictions, hee shall beled to doe as they doe. 3 He correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time be come. 4 Math. 5.5. 1 The godly are assured that the power and erist of the wicked shall not preuaile against them but fall on their owne deeces, and therfore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, and offer vp their reares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

David like a stone from a distaffe, which hee selfe is chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore praises God to turne away his wrath. 5. He reuereth the greatness of his griefe by many wordes and circumstances, as when he saith the arrowes of Gods ire, for aske of his friends, euill increased of his enemies. 22. But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedy helpe at his hands.

A Psalm of David for remembrance.

Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.
2 For thine arrowes haue light vpon mee, and thine hand lieth vpon me.
3 There is nothing found in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my sinne.
4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head: and as a mightie burden they are too heauie for me.
5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnesse.
6 I am bowed, and crooked very fore: I goe mourning all the day.
7 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing found in my flesh.
8 I am weakened and sore broken: I f roare for the very griefe of mine heart.
9 Lord, I poure my whole desire before thee, and my fighting is not hid from thee.
10 Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, even they are not mine owne.
11 My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand a farre off.
12 They also that seek after my life, lay snares, and they that goe about to doe me euill, talke wicked things and imagine deceit continually.
13 But I as a deaf man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.
14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.
15 For on thee, O Lorde, doe I wait: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.
16 For I said, Heare me, lest they reioice ouer me: for when my foot slippeth, they extoll themselues against me.
17 Surely I am ready to halt, and my forow is euer before me.
18 When I declare my paine, and am sorie for my sinne,
19 Then mine enemies are aliue, and are might-ie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

To the excellent musician. A Psalm of David.

Thought, b I will take heede to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

2 I was dumme & spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, c & my sorow was more stirred.

3 Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and d I spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me knowe how long I have to live.

5 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely every man in his best state is altogether e vanitie. Selah.

6 Doubtlesseman walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

7 And nowe Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

8 Deliuier me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the f foolish.

9 I should haue bene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, because g thou didst it.

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth h makest his beauty to consume: surely every man is vanitie. Selah.

12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my crie: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, k before I goe hence and be not.

14 I The word signifieth all that be desired, as health, force, strength, beantie, and in whatform hee hath desire, so that the word of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. 1 For his sorowe caused him to thinke that God would destroy him vnto where by we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their sorowes, when death and despaire assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

David deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his prouidence towards all mankind. 5 Then doeth hee promise to giue himselfe wholly to Gods service, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterwards he giueth thanks and prayseth God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Waited a patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me and heard my cry.

2 Hee brought me also out of the b horrible pit, out of the myrie clay, and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put in my mouth: a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it & feare and shall trust in the Lord.

4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lorde his trust, and regardeth d not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.

5 O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts towards vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are moe then I am able to expresse.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire:

7 And I haue offered thee the sacrifice of the righteousnes of all, and confessed that his counsell towards vs are faire a-bove our capacities: we cannot so much as tell them in order.

(for f mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me,

8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Lawe is within mine heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.

10 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within mine heart, but I haue declared thy i trust and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercy and thy truth from the great Congregation.

11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercie from mee, O Lord: let thy mercy and thy truth alway preserue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart k failed me.

13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer mee: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them bee l confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be m be destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, n The Lord be praised.

17 Though I be poore and needy, the Lorde thinketh on mee: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

1 He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. m Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. n As the faithfull alwayes praye God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

David being grievously afflicted, blesteth them that pity his case, 9 And complaineth of the treason of his owne friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, & not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giveth most heartie thanks to God. To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that a iudgeth wisely of the poore: The Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keepe him, and preserue him aliuie: he shalbe blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his enemies.

3 The Lord will strengthen him vpon the b bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his c bed in his sicknesse.

4 Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies d speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if hee come to see mee, hee speaketh e lies, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

7 All they f hate me, whisper together against me: euen against me doe they imagine mine hurt.

8 f A mischief is light vpon them, & he that lyeth shall no more rise.

9 Yea, my t familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eate of my bread, g hath lifted vp the heele against me.

10 The enemies thought by his sharpe punishments that God was become his mortall enemy. t Ebr. the man of my peace. g As David left his falschoode, and as it was chiefly accomplished in Christ, Iohn 13. 18. so shall his members continually proue the same.

1 Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and here David esteemeth the ceremonies of the Lawe nothing in respect of the spiritual service.

2 When thou haddest opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this ende.

3 In the Church assembled in the Sanctuary.

4 David here numbeth 3 degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy, whereby he pitifully voucheth righteousnesse, which significeth his continual protection, and his truth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation.

5 As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was utterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly meened mine heart to pray.

6 He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.

7 He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.

8 Not condemning him as accused, whom God doth visit, knowing that there are diuers causes, why God layeth his hand vpon vs, yea, and a reward he restoreth vs.

9 When for sorow and griefe of mind he casteth himselfe vpon his bed.

10 Thou hast restored him in his sickbed and sent him comfort.

11 That is, curse me and cannot haue their cruell hate quenched, but with my shamefull death.

12 For pretending to comfort me, he conspireth my death in his heart and braggeth thereof.

2 The faithful make this their comfort, that the wicked perish: for their punishment for Gods sake, March. 2. 1. Psal. 14. 1 There is no hope of recovery, except thou put in thine hand and make vs vp.

22 Surely for thy sake are we slaine continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre off for euer.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our misery and our affliction?
25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.
26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy mercies sake.

ly sufficient ransom to deliuer both body and soule from all misery.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his bowe, strength, beauty, riches, and power are praised, and also his marriage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman blessed, 10 If that shee can renounce her people and the loue of her country, and giue her selfe wholly to her husband. Under the which figure, the wonderfull maiestie and increase of the kingdom of Christ and the Church by his soule new taken of the Gentiles is described.

To him that excelleth on a Shoshannim a song of loue to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

My heart will vtter forth a good matter: I will intreate in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.

2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

3 Girdeth thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mightie, to wit thy worship and thy glory,

4 And prosper with thy glory: ride vpon the word of truth & of meekenesse and of righteousness: so thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pearce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdom, is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou louest righteousness, and hatest wickednesse, because God, euen thy God, hath anoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse about thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the yuorie palaces, where they haue made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable viues: vpon thy right hand did stande the Queene in a vesture of gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.

11 So shal the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyrus with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious in thy clothing is of breddred gold.

14 She shall be brought vnto the King in rayment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy & gladnes shal they be brought,

1 A song of triumph or thanksgiving for the deliuerance of Jerusalem, after Sennacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden and maruailous deliuerance by the mightie hand of God. 8 Whereby the Prophet commendeth this great benefit, doeth exhort the faithfull to giue themselves wholly into the hands of God, doubting nothing but that under his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his desire to affrage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busie against the iust.

God is our hope and strength, and helpe in troubles, ready to be found.

2 Therefore will not we feare, though the earth be moued, and though the mountaines fall into the middes of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof rage and bee troubled, and the mountaines shake at the surges of the same, Selah.

8 Come and beholde the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.

A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the bande of many Kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are given to God, and the state of this city is prayed, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. The Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Abac, Jehoshaphat, Aza, or Ezechiah: for in their times chiefly was the city by ferreine princes assaulted.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be prayed in Citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces therof God is known for a 4 For lo, the Kings were gathered, and went together.

5 When they saw <sup>f</sup> it, they marvelled: they were astonied, and suddenly driuen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and sorow, as

Hear <sup>a</sup> this, all ye people: giue eare, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as he, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom, and the meditation of my heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and utter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I <sup>b</sup> feare in the euil daies, when iniquity shall compass me about, as at mine heelles?

6 They trust in their goods, and boast them-because of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. 21 Therefore the Prophet doeth reprooue this grosse error, and pronounceth the Name of God to David being now King, and having had many victories, sheweth by euident signes, that God clothed him King, assuring the people that God will prosper them, if they approve the same. 1 After, he prayeth vnto God to finish that that he hath begun.

To him that excelleth vpon Shushan Eduth, or Micham. A Psalme of David to teach. When he fought against Aram Naharaim, and against Aram Zobah, when Ioab returned and slew two thousand Edomites in the salt valley.

O God thou hast cast vs out, thou hast scattered vs, thou hast bene angry, turne againe vnto vs.

2 Thou hast made the land to tremble, and hast made it to gape: heale the breaches thereof, for it is shaken.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heavy things: thou hast made vs to drinke wine of giddines.

4 But now thou hast giuen a banner to them that feare thee, that it may be displayed because of thy truth. Selah.

3 For thou hast bene mine hope, and a strong tower against the enemy.

This Psalme partly containeth meditations, whereby David encourageth himselfe to trust in God against the assaults of iustitutions. And because our mindes are easily drawn from God by the allurements of the world, he sharply reproveth this vanitie, so the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

To the excellent musician Ieduthan. A Psalme of David.

YEt my soule keepeth silence vnto God: of him cometh my saluation.

2 Yet he is my strength and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not much be moued.

3 How long wil ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall be as a bowed wall, or as a wall shaken.

5 Yet my soule keepe thou silence vnto God: for mine hope is in him.

6 Yet is he my strength, and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not be moued.

7 In God is my saluation and my glory, the rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.

David after he had bene in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this Psalme. 3 Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderfull deliuerance, in whose mercie hee trusted, both in the midst of his miseries, 9 Prophecising the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 And contrariwise happinesse to all them that trust in the Lord.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from feare of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the conspiracie of the wicked, from the rage of the workers of iniquitie.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sword, and shote for their arrowes bitter words.

4 To shoote at the vpriight in secret: they shoote at him suddenly and feare not.

5 They encourage themselves in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares priuily, and say, Who shall see them?

6 They haue fought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they sought out, euen euery one his secreete thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

The more that the wicked see Gods children in miserie, the more hold and impudently are they in oppressing them. 7 There is no way so secret and subtil to doe that which they inuent not for his destruction.

7 But God wil shoote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shall be at once.

8 They shall caule their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whosoever shall see them, shall flee away.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the ungodly, 14. nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and so cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19. forasmuch as the wicked vanishe away, 24. and the godly enter into life everlasting, 28. in hope whereof he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Y<sup>e</sup> God is good to Israel: euē to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had well neere slipt.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are <sup>b</sup> no bonds in their death, but they are lustie and strong,

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 <sup>c</sup> Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and crueltie conereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: † they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

They glorie in their pride, as some doe in their chaine, and in crueltie, as some doe in oppression.

9 They <sup>d</sup> set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh thorow the earth.

10 Therefore his <sup>e</sup> people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they <sup>f</sup> say, How doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I haue cleansed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly I haue bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, <sup>g</sup> I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me, 17 Vntill I went into the <sup>h</sup> Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord, when <sup>h</sup> thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image deified.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reins:

22 So foolish was I & ignorant: I was a <sup>l</sup> beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway <sup>m</sup> with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide mee by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glorie.

25 Whom haue I in <sup>n</sup> heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my <sup>o</sup> portion for euer.

27 For loe, they that withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that <sup>p</sup> goe a whoring from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me <sup>q</sup> to draw neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

out Gods iudgements, the more doth hee declare himselfe a beast. <sup>m</sup> By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer mee, to preferue mee. <sup>n</sup> Hee sought neither helpe nor comfort of any flue of God onely. <sup>o</sup> He teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiency, and only contentment. <sup>p</sup> That is, forsake thee to seeke others. <sup>q</sup> Though all the world shrinke from God, yet he promisseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

10 And I said, This is my death: yet I remembered the yeeres of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembered the workes of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonders of olde.

12 I did also meditate all thy workes, and did deuise of thine actes, saying,

13 Thy way, O God, is in the Sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God!

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arme, euen the sonnes of Iakob & Ioseph. Selah.

16 The waters saw thee, O God: the waters saw thee, and were afraid: yea, the depths trembled.

17 The cloudes powred out water: the heauens gaue a sound: yea, the thine arrowes went abroad.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was round about: the lightnings lightened the worlde: the earth trembled and shooke.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters, & thy footsteps are not known.

P S A L. LXXVIII.

22 Hee sheweth how God of his mercy chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, 8 Reprobing the subburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not onely understand,

23 That God of his free mercie made his Couenant with their ancestors, 17 But also seeing them so malicious and peruerse, 24 might be ashamed, and so turne wholly to God. In this Psalm the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the summe of all Gods benefites, to the intent the ignorant and grosse people might see in few words the effect of the whole history of the Bible.

25 A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

26 Heare my doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

27 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of old.

28 Which we haue heard and knowen, and our fathers haue told vs.

29 We wil not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will shew the prayes of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that he hath done:

30 How he established a testimony in Iakob,

31 were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 6.7.

and ordeined a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

32 That the posteritie might know it, and the children, which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

33 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandements:

34 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

35 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bow, turned backe in the day of battell.

36 They kept not the Couenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law, 37 And forgate his actes, and his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them.

38 Hee did marueilous things in the sight of their fathers in the lande of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

39 He diuided the Sea, & led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

40 In the day time also hee led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire.

41 He claue the rocks in the wilder nesse, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

42 He brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

43 Yet they sinned still against him, and prouoked the Higheest in the wilder nesse, 44 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meat for their lust.

45 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilder nesse?

46 Behold, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

47 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Iakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 48 Because they beleeued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

49 Yet he had commanded the clouds aboute, and had opened the doores of heauen,

50 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

51 Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate enough.

52 Hee caused the East winde to passe in the heauen; and through his power he brought in the South winde.

53 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the sand of the sea.

54 And he made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

55 So they did eate, and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

56 They were not turned from their lust, but the meate was yet in their mouthes,

58 Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath the more it lusteth them,

59 Hee sheweth where in the children should be like their fathers: that is, in maintaining Gods pure Religion.

60 Hee sheweth wherein the vice of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefites, and in obed eace.

61 Though these fathers were the seede of Abraham and the chosen people, yet hee sheweth by their rebellion p. occasion, falsehood, and hypocrisy, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

62 By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vnfaithfull to God, and by their multitude and authoritie had corrupted all others.

63 He proueth that not onely the posteritie, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

f Though others were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God.

f Thus sinne by continuance maketh men insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended.

g Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought vnto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loved him not.

h Whatsoeuer commeth not from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocrisie.

i Because hee would euer haue some remnant of a Church to praise his Name in earth, he suffered not their sins to overcome his mercie.

j That is, they tempted him oftentimes.

k As they all doe that measure the power of God by their capacite.

l The forgetfulness of Gods benefits is the roote of rebellion and all vice.

m This worde signifieth a confused mixture of flies and venomous wormes. Some take it for all sorts of serpents: some for all wilde beasts.

them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned still, and beleaued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did hee consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily.

34 And when he slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not vpriight with him: neither were they faithfull in his covenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull, forgate their iniquity, and destroyed them not, but oftentimes called backe his anger, & did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For hee remembered that they were flesh: yea, a winde that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned, and tempted God, and limited the Holy one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he deliuered them from the enemy.

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 Hee sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the grasshopper.

47 Hee destroyed their vines with haile, and their wilde figge trees with the hailestone.

48 Hee gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flocks to the thunderbolts.

49 Hee cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euill Angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared not their foule from death, but gaue their life to the pestilence.

51 And smote al the first borne in Egypt, euen the beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But hee made his people to goe out like sheepe, & led them in the wilderness like a flocke.

53 Yea, hee caried them out safely, and they feared not, and the Sea couered their enemies.

54 And he brought them vnto the borders of his Sanctuary: euen to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchased.

55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, & made the tribes of Israel to dwel in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies.

57 But turned backe, and dealt falsly like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bow.

58 And they prouoked him to anger with their high places, and moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 So that he forsooke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And hee gaue vp his people to the sworde, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The fire deuoured their chosen men, and their maidens were not praised.

64 Their Priests fell by the sworde, and their widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his wine cryeth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetuall shame.

67 Yet hee refused the tabernacle of Ioseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, and mount Zion which hee loued.

69 And he built his Sanctuary as an high place, like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, and tooke him from the sheepefolds.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with young brought he him to feed his people in Iakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after their returne from Babylon: first they put him in vaine of their delinquency, to the intent that hee should not leave the worke of his grace imperfect. 2 Next they complaine of their long affliction. 3 And thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. 4 For their delinquency was a figure of Christs kingdome, vnder the which should be perfit felicitie.

9 To him that excelleth. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Orde, thou hast bene fauourable vnto thy land: thou hast brought againe the captiuitie of Iakob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the iniquitie of thy people, and couered all their sinnes. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawn all thine anger, and hast turned backe from the fiercenesse of thy wrath.

4 Turne vs, O God of our saluation, and release thine anger towards vs.

5 Wilt thou be angry with vs for euer? and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people may reioyce in thee?

7 Shewe vs thy mercy, O Lord, and graunt vs thy saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God wil say: for he will speake peace vnto his people, and to his Saints, that they turne not againe to folly.

9 Surely his saluation is neere to them that ding to his nature he would be mercifull vnto them. e Hee confesse that our nation consisteth onely of Gods mercie. f Hee will sende all prosperitie to his Church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them, also by his punishment the full shall learne to beware that they retaine not to like offences. feare

a This Psalm seemeth to haue bene composed, as a forme of prayer against the dangers that the Church was in in the daies of Iehosaphat. b He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church. c The eld of God are his secret ones: for hee hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preliueth them from all dangers. d They were not content to take the Church as prisoner, but sought utterly to destroy it. e By all secret means. f They thought to haue subverted thy counsell, where in the perpetuity of the Church was established.

g Or, Ze. g The wickednesse of the Ammonites and Moabites is described in that they promoued these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren. h By these examples they were confirmed that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed. a David cometh to the Church, not haue access to the Church of God to make profession of his faith, and to profite in his grace. b For some time the Priests could enter into the Sanctuary, and the rest of thy people into the courts. c So that the poore brides have more liberie then I. d Who tradeth nothing in himselfe, but in thee onely, and leaue of thee to rule his life. e That is, of manserie trees, which was a barren place so that they must passe through must digge new waters, signifying that no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Christs Church, neither yet that God will euer faile them. f They are now weaned, but increase in strength and courage: till they come to Gods house. g That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent. h Hee would with to line but one day rather in Gods Church among the worldlings. i But will from time to time increase his blessings towards his more and more.

j They confesse that Gods mercie was the cause of their delinquency, because hee loosed the land which hee had chosen. k Thus hee testified them that they had not come into indignation. l Not enuie in withholding thy rod but in forgiving offences, and in touching our hearts to confesse them. m An inward paine they had felt Gods mercie, so now being oppressed by the long continuance of euill, they pray vnto God that hee would quicken them.

P S A L. LXXXVI.

David sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth humbly for deli-uerance: sometimes rebearing his miseries. 5 Sometimes the mercies recited. 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 He complains also of his aduersaries, and requirerh to be deliuered from them.

A Prayer of David.

Incline eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.
2 Preferue thou my soule, for I am b merci-full: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I c cry vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, Lord, art good and d mercifull, and of great kindnesse vnto all them that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, Lord, vnto my praier, and e hearken to the voice of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there f is none that can doe like thy workes.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and s worship before thee, O Lord, and shal glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 h Teach me thy way, O Lord, and I will walke in thy truth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for ever.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me, & thou hast deliuered my soule from i the lowest graue.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue k fought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitifull God and mercifull, slow to anger, and great in kindnesse and truth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me:
giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew a token of thy goodnesse toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast holpen mee and comforted me.

The holy Ghost promisseth that the condition of the Church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, should pious men.

*This is from most great danger of death: out of the which none but onely the hand of God could deliuer him. k He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proud tyrants reigne, and that the lacke of Gods leaue is as a priviledge to all vice and cruelty. l He boasteth not of his owne vertues,

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodnesse of God. 23 For his testament and covenant, that he had made betwene him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid.
38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally he prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promise.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will sing the mercies of the Lorde for euer:
with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

2 For I b said, Mercy shall be set vp for euer:
thy truth shalt thou c stablish in the very hea-uens.

3 d I haue made a covenant with my chosen:
I haue ssworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation.
Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the e heauen shall praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy truth in the f Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equall to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the s sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the h Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mighty Lorde, and thy truth is about thee!

9 i Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnesse and equitie are the stablishment of thy throne: mercie and truth goe before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can m reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy n countenance, O Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.

17 For thou art the o glory of their strength, and the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. i For hereby hee iudgeth the world, and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father and faithfull protector vnto his.
m Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father. n They shall be preferred by thy Fatherly providence. o In that they are preferred and continue, they ought to giue the praise and glory onely to thee, and by thy fauour our hornes shalbe exalted.

18 For our p shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto q thine Holy one, and saydest, I haue layd helpe vpon one that is r mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with mine
Holy oyle haue I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I wil t destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My truth also and my u mercie shall be with him, and in my Name shall his v horne be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the x floods.

26 He shall cry vnto me, Thou art my y Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I wil make him my first borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.

28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my Couenant shall stande fast with him.

29 His seede also will I make to endure z for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 * If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my Commandements:

32 Then will I visite their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.

33 a Yet my louing kindnesse will I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my truth.

34 My Couenant will I not breake, nor b alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I haue ssworne once by mine holines, † that I will not faile Dauid, saying,

36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the Sunne before me.

37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull c witnesse in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast d broken the Couenant of thy seruant, and prophaned his e crowne, casting it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles:
thou hast layd his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that goe by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stande in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignity to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The dayes of his f youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selah.

46 g Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer? shall thy wrath burne like fire?

and impatiencie. * By this he meaneth the horrible dissipation and reuolting of the kingdome which was vnder Ieroboam: or els by the Spirit of propheticke Ezechiel tivity of Babylon. f He sheweth that the kingdome fell before it came to per-

A prayer of Moses, the a man of God.

Lord, thou hast bene our <sup>b</sup> habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the <sup>c</sup> mountaines were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, and the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting that art our God.

3 Thou <sup>d</sup> turnest man to destruction : againe thou sayest, Returne, ye sonnes of Adam.

4 For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast <sup>f</sup> ouerflowed them, they are as a sleepe, in the morning he groweth like the grasse :

6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we <sup>g</sup> are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret finnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger : we haue <sup>h</sup> spent our yeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore yeres and ten, and if they be of strength, <sup>i</sup> fourescore yeres : yet their strength is but labour and forowe : for it is cut off quickly, and we flee away.

11 <sup>k</sup> Who knoweth the power of thy wrath ? for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that we may apply our hearts vnto <sup>l</sup> wisdom.

13 Returne (O Lord, <sup>m</sup> how long ? ) and bee pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercy in the morning : so shall we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeres that we haue seene euill.

16 Let thy worke bee seene toward thy seruants, and thy glory vpon their <sup>o</sup> children.

17 And let the <sup>p</sup> beautie of the Lord our God be vpon vs, & <sup>q</sup> direct thou <sup>r</sup> worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hands.

<sup>1</sup> Here is described in what assurance hee liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himselfe wholly to his protection in all temptations. <sup>14</sup> A promise of God to those that loue him, know him, and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glory.

Who so dwelleth in the <sup>a</sup> secretes of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almighty.

2 <sup>b</sup> I will say vnto the Lorde, O my hope, and my foretresse : hee is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely he will deliuer thee from the <sup>c</sup> snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers : his <sup>d</sup> truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 <sup>e</sup> Thou shalt not be afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flyeth by day :

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse : nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and tenne thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine <sup>f</sup> eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou <sup>g</sup> hast said, The Lord is mine hope : thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euill come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 <sup>h</sup> For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lyon and aspe : the <sup>i</sup> yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou treade vnder feete.

14 <sup>k</sup> Because he hath loued me, therefore wil I deliuer him : I will exalt him because hee hath known my Name.

PSAL. XCII.

<sup>1</sup> This Psalme was made to bee sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God, and to prayse him in his workes : the Prophet reioyceth therein. <sup>6</sup> But the wicked is not able to consider that the <sup>ungodly</sup>, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. <sup>12</sup> In the end is described the felicity of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalme or song for the a Sabbath day.

It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High.

2 To declare thy louing kindenesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 Vpon an <sup>c</sup> instrument of tenne strings, and vpon the viose with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy <sup>d</sup> workes, and I wil reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy works ! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An <sup>e</sup> vnwise man knoweth it not, and a Christs coming abolished. <sup>d</sup> Hee sheweth what is the vse to write, meditate Gods workes. <sup>e</sup> That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes nor his iudgement, against them, and therefore a most iustly perishe.

f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, & blest them with all felicitie.

h Though the faithfull seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God as the cedars doe in mount Lebanon. i The children of God shall haue a power aboue nature, and their age shall bring forth most fruitfullnes.

a As God by his power and wisdom hath made and governeth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers.

b Wherein thou fittest and governest the world. c Gods power appeareth in ruling the iniquitous waters.

d Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating and governing, his great mercie also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and consent.

a Whole office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.

b Shew by effect that thou art Iudge of the world to punish the wicked.

c That is, bragge of the cruelty & oppression: or effence themselves aboue all other.

d Seeing the Church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we see it so now, and therefore we must call to God, to take our cause in hand.

e He sheweth that they are desperate in malice: forasmuch as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholly to doe wickedly. f Hee sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, see and vnderstand their wickednesse. g If God punish whole nations for their finnes, it is more folly for one man, or els a few to thinke that God will spare them.

foole doeth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish) that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art f most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

10 g But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, and I shall bee anoynted with fresh oyle.

11 Mine eyes also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as bee planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruite in their age: they shall be fat and flourishing, 15 To declare that the Lorde my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

P S A L. XCII.

1 He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateh downe all people which lift them up against his maiestie, 5 and prouoketh to consider his promises.

The Lord a reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall be established, that it can not be mooued.

2 Thy b throne is established of olde: thou art from euermore.

3 c The floods haue lifted vp, O Lorde: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waies.

4 The waues of the sea are marueilous through the noise of many waters, yet the Lorde on high is more mightie.

5 Thy d testimonies are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine House, O Lord, for euer.

6 In thy e house, O Lord, shall be praised thy word and consent.

P S A L. XCIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 I ben doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did see in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 23 whom the Lord will destroy.

O Lord God a the auenger, O God the auenger, shew thy selfe b clearly.

2 Exalt thy selfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked c triumph?

4 They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themselves.

5 They d smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse.

7 e Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iakob regard it.

8 Vnderstand, yee vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?

9 Hee that f planted the eare, shall hee not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall hee not see?

10 Or he that chastiseth the g nations, shall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?

11 The Lorde knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou h chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pitte is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 For i iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpight in heart shall follow after it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not k holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I sayd, I My foot slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my m thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.

20 Hath the throne of iniquitie n fellowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Law?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And hee will recompense them their wickednes, and o destroy them in their owne malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is malice, but most, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

A prayer of the afflicted, when he shall be in distresse, and poure forth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my cry come vnto thee.

3 Hide not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.

3 For my dayes are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.

4 Mine heart is smitten, and withereth like grasse, because I forgate d to eate my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning my bones doe cleane to my skinne.

6 I am like a pelicane of the wildernesse: I am an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparow alone vpon the house toppe.

8 Mine enemies reuile me daily, and they that rage against me, haue s sworne against me.

9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping, 10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou O Lord, doest remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory,

16 When the Lord shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created, shall praise the Lord.

19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuary: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth, 20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Ierusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 He abated my strength in the way, and shortened my dayes.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the mids of my dayes: thy yeeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforetime layd the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waxe old as doeth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

s Which

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and judgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes known vnto Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie, slow to anger and of great kindnesse.

9 He will not alway chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is about the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remooued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flowre of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kindnes of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children.

18 Vnto them that keepe his covenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excell in strength, that doe his commandement in obeying the voice of his word.

21 Praise the Lord all ye his hosts, ye his seruants that doe his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soule, prayse thou the Lord.

23 Praise the Lord, exhort the Angels, which willingly doe it, to consider our duty, and awake out of our sluggishnesse.

P S A L. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, and the gouernance of the same by his maruillous prouidence.

2 When the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light, as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 Hee set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer mooue.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deepe as with a garment: the waters would stand about the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 If by thy power thou diddest not bridle the rage of the sea, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleys, which runne betweene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

14 Hee causeth grasse to grow for the cattell, and herbe for the vie of man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth.

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengthneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted.

17 That the birds may make their nests there: the stork dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the goates: the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moone for certaine seasons: the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creepe forth.

21 The Lyons roare after their pray, and seeke their meate at God.

22 When the Sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in their dennes.

23 Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euening.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes: in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayst giue them food in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they dye and returne to their dust.

30 Again if thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, & thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth the mountaines, and they smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my words be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners bee consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there be no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

36 Our Creator. 1 Gods mercifull free giueth strength vnto the earth, but his fowere countenance burneth the mountaines. 1 Who infect the earth, but his fowere countenance burneth the mountaines. 1 Who infect the earth, but his fowere countenance burneth the mountaines.

5 Remember his maruailous workes, that he hath done, his wonders, and the iudgements are through all the earth.
6 Yee seed of Abraham his seruant, yee children of Iacob, which are his elect.
7 Hee is the Lord our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.
8 Hee hath alway remembred his covenant, and promise, that he made to a thousand generations, 9 Euen that which he made with Abraham, and his oath vnto Izhak:
10 And since hath confirmed it to Iacob for a law, and to Israel for an euerlasting covenant.
11 Saying, f Vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 Albeit they were few in number, yea very fewe and strangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people, 14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reprocued 8 Kings for their sakes, saying, 15 Touch not mine banoyned, and doe my i Prophets no harme.
16 Moreouer, hee called a famine vpon the land, and vtterly brake the k staffe of bread.
17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was sold for a slaue.
18 They held his feete in the stockes, and hee was laide in yrons, 35 And did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruite of their ground.

36 He smote also all the first borne in their land, euen the beginning of all their strength.
37 Hee brought them forth also with filker and golde, and there was none feeble among their tribes.
38 Egypt was t glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.
39 He spred a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.
40 They asked, and he brought quails, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.
41 He opened the rocke and the waters flowed out, and ranne in the drie places like a riuer.
42 For he remembred his holy promise to Abraham his seruant,

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus doe magnifie the goodness of God among the iust and repentant: 4 Desiring to bee brought againe into the land of Gods mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifold maruells of God wrought in their deliverance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rebuked, 47 They doe pray and desire to bee gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may prayse the Name of the God of Israel.

I Prayse ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his prayse?
3 Blessed are they that keepe iudgement, and doe righteousness at all times.
4 Remember me, O Lord, with the fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluation, 5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.
6 Wee haue d sinned with our fathers: wee haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.
7 Our fathers vnderstoode not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.
8 Neuertheless hee saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knownen.
9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dryed vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.
10 And he saued them from y aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of theemie.
11 And the waters couered their oppressors: not one of them was left.
12 Then beleueed they his words, and sang prayse vnto him.
13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his 8 counsell,

God appeared in this, that hee would change the order of nature, rather than his people should not be deliuered, although they were wicked. * Exod. 14. 27. f The wonderfull workes of God caused them to beleue for a time, and to prayse him.
g They would peruent his wisdom and providence.

14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but hee sent <sup>b</sup> leanness into their soule.

16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and <sup>i</sup> swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their <sup>k</sup> glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had I not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest hee should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that <sup>m</sup> pleasant land, and beleued not his word, 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not vnto the voice of the Lord.

26 Therefore <sup>n</sup> hee lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreies.

28 They ioyned themselues also vnto <sup>o</sup> Baalpeor, and did eate the offerings of the <sup>p</sup> dead.

29 Thus they sprouoked <sup>q</sup> him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But <sup>r</sup> Phinehas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staid.

31 <sup>s</sup> And it was <sup>t</sup> imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of <sup>u</sup> Meribah, so that <sup>v</sup> Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirite, so that hee spake vnaduisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their <sup>w</sup> sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, <sup>x</sup> even the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stayned with their owne workes, and went <sup>y</sup> a whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them were lordes ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and <sup>z</sup> their enemies were not able to stand before them.

they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many <sup>a</sup> a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet hee saw when they were in affliction, and hee heard their cry.

45 And hee remembered his couenant toward them, and <sup>b</sup> repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lorde our God, and <sup>c</sup> gather vs from among <sup>d</sup> heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy prayse.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

disperfed, and gaue vs constancie vnder the crosse, that with one confite. I wee may all prayse thee.

1 The 7 prophet exhorteth all these that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to give thanks 9 for this mercifull providence of God, governing all things at his good pleasure, 20 sending good and euill, prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 48 Therefore as the righteous therein reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouths stopped.

Praise <sup>e</sup> the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let them, <sup>f</sup> which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

4 When they wandred in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in,

5 <sup>g</sup> Both hungry and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

13 Then they <sup>i</sup> cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse.

14 He brought them out of darknesse, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bandes asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the p Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wilderness, and the springs of waters into drinesse.

34 And a fruitfull land into barrenesse for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

35 Again he t turneth y wilderness into pooles of water, and the dry land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungry, and they build a citie to dwell in.

37 And low the fieldes, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitfull r increase.

38 For he blesteth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattell.

39 Again men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, euill and sorow.

40 He powreth t contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of y way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The u righteous shall see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that hee may obserue these things? for they shall vnderstand the louing kindnesse of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seven and fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contemned, is, 1 That David giueth himselfe with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 2 And sheweth himselfe of the promise of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalme of David.

O God, mine heart is a prepared, so is y my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

a These rocke af-fecton declareth that he is free from hypocrisie, and that fluggishnesse slayeth him not. || Or, my glory, because it chiefly sheweth forth the glory of God.

Awake viole and harpe: I wil awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the b people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercie is great about the heauens, and thy truth vnto the clouds.

5 c Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: d helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his e holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shalbe mine, and Manasse shalbe mine: Ephraim also shalbe the strength of mine head: Iuda is my lawgiuer.

9 Moab shalbe my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 f Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and diddest not goe soorth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall doe valiantly: for he shall treade downe our enemies.

1 David being falsely accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him, and to destroy his enemies. 8 And under them be speakes of Judas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

H Old not thy tongue, O God of my a praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon mee: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, b but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded me euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 c Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be iudged, let him be condemned, & let his d prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his e charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds & beg and seeke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let f the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoyle his labour.

12 Let there bee none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there be any to shew mercy vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following, let their name be put out.

14 g Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

lawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iust indgement eprined of all. g Thus sheweth the Lorde to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

b He prophesie of the calling of the Gentiles, except they would not heare the goodnesse of God.

c Let all the world see thy iudgement, in that thou dost not God, conuict, and to confesse that thou art glorious.

d When God by his benefices maketh vs partakers of his mercie, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning Saul, will he shew his like confidence, and holie in his promise, so that such nations followinge of this Psalme.

f Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

g I had declared that I had none other refuge, but thou, O Lord, who art my confidence, was as a rock.

h Whether it were Dauid or Saul, or some familiar friend that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of private affection, but moved by Gods Spirit, that God would take vengeance vpon him.

i As to the death all things came to their profit: so the reputation of this thing that is good, was in their damnation.

k This was easily accomplished in Iudas, who was a Jew.

l He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their wickednesse.

m Thus sheweth the Lorde to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

n This was easily accomplished in Iudas, who was a Jew.

o He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their wickednesse.

p Thus sheweth the Lorde to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

16 Because he remembered not to shew mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorowfull hearted to slay him.

17 As he loued cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as hee loued not blessing, so shall it bee farre from him.

18 As he clothed himselfe with cursing like a rayment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it bee vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith hee shall be alway girded.

20 Let this bee the reward of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them that speake euill against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according vnto thy Name: deliuer mee, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like a shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the grafhopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatnesse.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: • saue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shall knowe that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shal arise, and be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I wil giue thanks vnto thy Lord greatly with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For hee will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would condemne his soule.

32 Hee will be little power, but with the iudges & princes of the world

1 David propheseth of the power and euerslasting kingdome giuen to Christ, 4. and of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Leui.

A Psalme of David.

THE Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Zion: be thou ruler in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling: thine armie in holy beautie: the youth of thy wombe shall be as the morning dew.

4 The Lord sware, & wil not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 Hee shall iudge among the heathen: hee shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head ouer great countreys.

7 Hee shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall hee lift vp his head.

8 As Melchi zedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king saue onely in Christ, who is the power of God able to resist him. 9 Vnder this similitude of a cup, that is so greedie to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scarce drinke by the way, hee sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

Prayse ye the Lord.

1 Will I praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The works of the Lord are great, & ought to be sought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull and glorious, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderful workes to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compassion.

5 He hath giuen a portion vnto them that feare him: hee wil euer be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The workes of his hands are truth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in truth and equitie.

9 Hee sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his covenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

11 In effect doth hee declare himselfe iust and true in the gouernment of the same, they onely are wise, that feare God and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word.

c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giving the barren children, hee sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie means, but also by miracle.

3 They had then swallowed vs vp quickly, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 Then the waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praised be the Lord, which hath not giuen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our help is in the Name of the Lord, which hath made heauen and earth.

P S A L. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A Song of degrees.

1 They that trust in the Lord, shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the rod of the wicked shal not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednesse.

4 Doe well, O Lord, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shal the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shalbe vpon Israel.

6 He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites, and of the unchaste.

P S A L. CXXVI.

1 This Psalm was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderful after the ieremyes of captiuitie foretold by Ieremie, Chap. 25. 12 and 29. 10.

A Song of Degrees, or Psalme of David.

1 When the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, wee were like them that dreame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then saide they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the diuers in the South.

5 They that sow in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping, and caried precious seede: but they shall returne with ioy, and bring their sheaues.

7 Selues sufficiently thankfull. d It is no more impossible to people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wilderness and barren places. e That is, seede which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

P S A L. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politick standeth by Gods meere providence and blessing, 3 And that to haue children well nurtured, is an especiall grace and gift of God.

A Song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

1 Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vaine that build it: except the Lord keepe the citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread of sorrow: but he will surely giue rest to his beloued.

3 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruit of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man, so are the children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quier full of them: for they shall not bee ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

6 Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessing, and not the number. g Such children shall be able to stoppe their aduersaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously assailed before iudges.

d For the wicked did not onely foolishly rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

a Though the world be subject to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure and be defended by Gods providence. b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crocke, lest they should imbrace wickednesse, yet this crocke shall not so rest vpon them, that it should drive them from hope, as haue no zeale.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore tooke away all excuse of ingratitude. b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioyce when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it. c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderful works, the faithfull can neuer shew them.

a That is, gouerne and dispose all things pertaining to the family. b The publike estate of the commonwealth. c Which watch and ward are also magistrates, and rulers of the citie. d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with griefe of minde.

P S A L. CXXVIII.

1. He sheweth that blessedness appertaineth not to all uniuersally, but to them onely that feare the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

A song of degrees.

Blessed is euery one that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his wayes.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitfull vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the oliue plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall bless thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of Ierusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

a God approacheth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word.
b The world effecteth them happy which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy Ghost approacheth them best, that live of the meane profit of their labours.
c Because Gods fauour, appeareth in none outward thing, more then in increase of children, he promisseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shall be granted. e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this private blessing were nothing.

P S A L. CXXIX.

1. He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4. For by the righteous Lords it shall be delivered. 6. And he exhorteth for all their glorious shew, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

They haue oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth (may I Israel now say)

2 They haue oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the graske on the house tops, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the glainer his lap:

8 Neither they which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

a The Church now afflicted, ought to remember, how her condition hath ever bene such from the beginning: to be molested most grievously by the wicked: yet in time it hath ever bene delivered.
b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliver his, as oxen out of the plough.
c The enemies that lift themselves most high, and as it were approach neere to the Sunne, are consumed with the heat of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, the wicked shall perish, and none shall passe for them.

P S A L. CXXX.

1. The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries doe cry vnto God, and are heard. 3. They confesse their sinnes, and see vs to Gods mercie.

A song of degrees.

Out of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voice of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lord, straightly markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And hee shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

a Being in great distress and sorrow.
b He declareth that we cannot be lust before God, but by forgiveness of sinnes.
c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore, the faithfull reuerence thee.
d He sheweth to whom the mercy of God doth appertaine: to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

P S A L. CXXXI.

1. Dauid charged with ambition and greedy desire to reigne, protesteth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

Lord, mine heart is not haucie, neither are mine eyes lofty, neither haue I walked in great matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe, like one wained from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is wained.

3 Let Israel waite on the Lord from henceforth and for euer.

P S A L. CXXXII.

1. The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, desire that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie, and the building of the Temple, to pray there as was foretold, Gen. 12.5.

A song of degrees. 28

Lord, remember Dauid with all his affliction: 2 Who sware vnto the Lord, and vowed vnto the mightie God of Iakob, saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eyelids to slumber:

5 Vntill I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iakob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fields of the forest.

7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he wil not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my Couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying,

14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

15 I will surely blesse her vitayles, and will satisfie her poore with bread,

16 And wil cloth her Priests with saluation, and her Saints shall shout for ioy.

17 There will I make the horne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordained a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

a As thou first madest promise to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that whosoener they shall aske for their people it may be granted. b Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. c Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifull of the place: for he promisseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was barren. d That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. e Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promisseth to restore it.

P S A L. CXXXIII.

1. This Psalme containeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

Behold, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery one together.

a Against Dauid, though some fauoured him, yet when he was established king as Ierusalem they ioyned all together like brethren, and therefore he sheweth by these commendations the commendation of brotherly love.

a He sheweth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernours.
b Which passeth the measure and limits of his vocation.
c He was voyde of ambition and wicked desires.

a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom: and how great care he had about to build the Temple.
b Because the chief charge of the king was to let forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would he be content with any worldly thing, were it neuer so needfull, before he had executed his office.
c That is, the Arke, which was signe of Gods presence.

d The common brute was that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Bethlehem a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldst place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a rock, and compassed about onely with hilles.
e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remove to some other place.
f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Church and in the people.

a Because the greatest part were Ierusalem as Ierusalem they ioyned all together like brethren, and therefore he sheweth by these commendations the commendation of brotherly love.

Hee exhorteth the Leuites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A Song of degrees.

Behold, praise ye the Lord, all yee seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

The Lord, that hath made heauen & earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

And there fore hath all power, blesse thee with his Fatherly love
Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

Hee exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate soeuer they be, to praise God for his maruillous workes. And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hath declared his Maiestie, 15 To the confution of all idolaters and their idoles.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise the name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

Yee that stand in the House of the Lord, and in the courts of the House of our God.

Praise yee the Lord: for the Lord is good:
sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

For the Lord hath chosen Iakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen & in earth, in the sea, and in al the depths.

Hee bringeth vp the clouds from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: hee draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

He smote the first borne of Egypt, both of man and beast.

Hee hath sent tokens and wonders into the mids of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

Hee smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings:

As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:

And gaue their land for an inheritance,
euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

For the Lord will iudge his people, and be pacified toward his seruants.

The ydoles of the heathen are siluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

They that make them, are like vnto them:
so are all that trust in them.

Praise the Lord, yee house of Israel: praise the Lord, yee house of Aaron.

Praise the Lord, yee house of Levi: yee that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI. 23

A most earnest exhortation to give thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his merite liberallie.

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie

Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie
endureth for euer:

Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which by his wisdom made the heauens:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which hath stretched out the earth vpon
the waters: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which made great lights: for his mercy endureth for euer:

As the Sunne to rule the day: for his mercy
endureth for euer:

The Moone and the starres to gouerne the night: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which smote Egypt with their first borne,
(for his mercy endureth for euer)

And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for euer:

With a mighty hand and stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which diuided the red Sea in two parts:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

And made Israel to passe through the mids
of it: for his mercy endureth for euer:

And ouerthrew Pharaoh and his hoste in the red Sea: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which led his people thorow the wildernesse: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which smote great Kings: for his mercie

And slew mighty Kings: for his mercy

As Sihon king of the Amorites: for his

And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy
endureth for euer:

And gaue their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which remembered vs in our base estate:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

And hath rescued vs from our oppressours:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which giueth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Praise ye the God of heauen, for his mer-

P S A L. CXLI.

David being grievously persecuted vnder Saul, onely fleeth vnto God to haue succour. 3 Desiring him to bridle his afflictions, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

J A P salme of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voice when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting vp of mine handes as an evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euil, that I should commit wicked works with them that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their delicacies.

5 Let the righteous finise me: for that is a benefit: and let him reprove me, and it shall be a precious oyle that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen spray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my wordes, for they are sweete.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the granes mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leane not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layd for me, and from the greynes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into his nets together whiles I escape.

The people, which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shall repent and come to God, when they see their wicked rulers punished. h Hee appaereth that David was miraculously deliuered out of many deaths, as 2 Cor. i. 9. i Into Gods nets, where by hee catcheth the wicked in their owne malice. k As thus none of them escape.

P S A L. CXLI. 29

The Prophet neither astonied with feare, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde desired by earnest prayer to God, who did perseute him.

A P salme of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer when he was in the cause.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

troubles either despise and murmure against God, or els seek to God, to haue redred in their miseries.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexity in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would know me: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Harken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

ioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon mine head.

P S A L. CXLI.

An earnest prayer for remission of finnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruellly perseute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace. 10 To be governed by his holy Spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his life in the true feare of God.

J A P salme of David.

Hear my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answere me in thy truth, and in thy righteousness.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that liueth, be iustified)

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: hee hath layd me in the darkenesse, as they that haue bene dead long agoe:

4 And my spirit was in perplexity in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.

5 Yet doe I remember the time past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine hands vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

7 Heare mee speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew me the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuere mee, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

10 Teach me to doe thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercie slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy seruant.

h Let thine holy Spirit conuise me how to come forth of these great cares and troubles. i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings that I might be defended by thy power. k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his woide, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for in soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into error. m Which shall be a signe of thy Fatherly kindnesse toward me. n Refusing my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

P S A L. CXLI.

Here prayeth the Lord with great affliction and humility for his kingdome restored, and for his victories obtained. 5 Demanding helpe and the destruction of the wicked. 9 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praise. 15 And declareth wherein the felicitie of any people consisteth.

a When a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warrior & mightie conquerour.

b Lib. my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet cannot satisfie himselfe with any wordes. c He confesseth that neither by his owne authoritie power or pollicie his kingdome was gotten, but by the secret grace of God.

d To give vnto God iust praise for to confesse our felicitie to be vnworth y of so excellent benefites, & that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercy.

e He deliuech God to continue his grace, and to send helpe for the present necessitie.

f By these manner of speeche he sheweth that al the lets in the world cannot hinder Gods power, which he apprehended by faith.

g That is deliuer me from the cummulation of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprise, as though they were strangers.

h For though they shake handes they keepe not promise. i That is, a rare and excellent song, with great benefites descender. k Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus Isa. 45. 1. forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glory. l He deliuech God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting the protection of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefites. m That the very corners of our houses may bee full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings. n He acknowledgeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least alio to Gods fauour. o And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet hee recompenseth them with better things.

a He sheweth what sacrifice is acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God still continueth his benefites towards vs, we ought neuer to be weary in praying him for the same. b Hereby hee declareth that all power is subiect vnto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure Gods glory. c Forasmuch as the ende of mans creation, and of his preferation in this life is to praise God, therefore he requirerh that not onely we our selues doe this, but cause all other to doe the same.

¶ A Psalme of David. 30
Blessed be the Lord my strength, which stretcheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 He is my goodnesse and my fortresse, my towre and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which subdueth my people vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth.

5 Bowe thine heauens, O Lord, and come downe: touch the mountains & they shal smoke.

6 Cast forth the lightning and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer mee, and take mee out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers.

8 Whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto kings, and rescueth Dauid his seruant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue mee, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

12 That our sonnes may be as plants growing vp in their youth, & our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our corners may be full and abounding with diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streets:

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out, nor crying in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people, that be so, yea blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed when the kingdome of Dauid florished
1 Wherin he describeth the wonderfull providence of God, as well in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 2 He prayeth God for his iustice and mercie. 3 But specially for his louing kindeNESse toward those that call vpon him, that hee spare him, and loue him: 4 For the which he promisseth to praye him for euer.

8 The Lord is gracious, and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy works praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

11 They shew the glory of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power.

12 To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renoume of his kingdome.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifeteth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

PSAL. CXLVII. 30

1 The Prophet prayeth the heauens, to shewe power, iustice and providence of God vpon all his creatures. 2 But specially vpon his Church, which hee gathereth together after their dispersion. 3 Declaring his word and iudgement so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

4 Hee d counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord relieueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the e ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with prayse: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God, 13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates i strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 Hee setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the t flour of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his k commandment vpon earth, and his word runneth very l swiftly.

16 Hee giueth snow like wooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the cold thereof?

18 He sendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 Hee sheweth his m word vnto Iacob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 Hee hath not dealt so with enery nation, neither haue they n knowen his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 Hee praiseth all creatures to praise the Lord in heauen and earth and all places. 2 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the same, after that he had chosen them and ioynted them vnto him.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and 3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, c and cryest for vnderstanding :

4 If thou seekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for d treasures, 5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and find the e knowledge of God.
6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 Hee || preferueth the state of the righteous :
he is a shield to them that walke vprightly, 8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudge-ment : and he preferueth the way of his Saints) 9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteoutnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, and every good path.
10 ¶ When wisdom entreteth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soule, 11 Then shall f counsell preferue thee, and vnder-standing shall keepe thee, 12 And deliuer thee from the euill way, and from the man that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the 8 wayes of righteousnesse to walke in the wayes of darknes :
14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight
h in the frowardnesse of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are crooked and they are lewd in their paths.
16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange i woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes, 17 Which forsaketh the k guide of her youth, and forgetteth the l covenant of her God.
18 Surely her m house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto n the dead.
19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not again, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.
21 For the iust shall dwell in the o land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.
22 But the wicked shall bee cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be rooted out of it.

To them that are dead in body and soule o They shall enjoy spirituall promises of God, as the wicked shall be voyd of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 12 To them that follow the word of God, all things succed well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my Lawe, but let a dayes and the yeeres of life, and thy prosperitie.

3 Let not b mercy and trueth forsake thee :
binde them on thy c necke, and writethem vpon
the table of thine d heart.
4 So shalt thou find fauour and good vnder-standing in the sight of God and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lorde with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.
7 ¶ Hee nor will in thine owne eyes : but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.
8 So health shall be vnto thy e nauell, and ma-row vnto thy bones, 9 And thou shalt be able to comprehend the whole bodie, as by health hee meaneth all the in the Law both corporall and spirituall.

9 ¶ Honour the Lorde with thy riches, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.
10 So shall thy barnes bee filled with abundance, & thy pressies shall g burst with new wine.
11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lorde, neither bee grieved with his correction.
12 ¶ For the Lord correcteth him, whome hee loueth, euen as the father doth the child, in whom he delighteth.

and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
14 For the merchandise thereof is better then the merchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.
15 It is more precious then pearles : and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

in her left hand riches and glory.
17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.
18 She is a tree i of life to them that lay holde on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.
19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the k foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the hea-uens through vnderstanding.
20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the clouds drop downe the dewe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisdom and counsell.
22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace
vnto thy || necke.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way :
and thy foot shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not bee afraid :
and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweet.
25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it commeth.
26 For the Lorde shall be for thine assurance, and shall preferue thy foot from taking.
27 ¶ Withhold not the good from m the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.
28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come again, and to morrowe will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.
29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbor, seeing he doeth dwell n without feare by thee.
30 ¶ Striue not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.
31 ¶ Bee not o enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.
32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord : but his p secret is with the righteous.
33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked : but hee blesteth the habitation of the righteous.
34 With the scornfull q he scorneth, but hee giueth grace vnto the humble.
35 The wise shall inherite glory : but foolles dishonour, though they be exalted.

this in the person of a Preacher.
1. vers. 8.

b Meaning, Dauid his father.

c He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of y<sup>e</sup> world, which make it their last study, or els care not for it at all.

f Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and natural to the wicked, then to sleepe, eat or drinke.

g Gotten by wicked means and cruel oppression.

h Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, until they come to full perfection, which is when they shall be ioynd to their head in the heauen.

i That is, they shall have health of body, vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained.

k For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life.

l Kepe a measure in all thy doings.

m For, vnderstanding.

n That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another then to her husband.

o By oyle and honey he meaneth flattering and craftie inticements.

p All her doings lead to destruction.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother,

4 When hee taught me, and sayd vnto me, Let thine heart holde fast my words: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and shee shall keepe thee: loue her and she shall preferue thee.

7 Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and about all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 Shee shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, shee shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, and the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not bee strait, and when thou sleepest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auid it, and goe not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth except they cause some to fall.

17 For they este the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more and more vnto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darknesse: they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that find them, and health vnto all them that keepe them.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remooue thy foot from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 4 An adulteress. 5 He will be a man to live on his labours and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge,

2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an hony combe, and her mouth is more soft then oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her feete goe downe to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are moueable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare yee mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house,

9 Left thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

10 Left the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours bee in the house of a stranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine ende, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voice of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation and assembly.

15 Drink the water of thy cisterne, and of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streets.

17 But let them be thine, euen thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.

18 Let thy fountaine be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hinde and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why shouldst thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cords of his owne sinne.

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great folly.

doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation: escape the iudgement of God. 24 Because he will not giue eare to Gods word and be admonished.

3 Instruction for fowlers. 6 The fowling and slugging is stirred to worke. 12 Hee describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To forsake adulterie.

MY sonne, if thou be surety for thy neighbour, and hast striken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe, and humble thy selfe, and solcite thy friends.

4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye lids.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

7 For shee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in harvest.

9 Howe long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when d She hath more now, men as she lare to wickednesse.

e That is, strength & goods to her that will haue no priue upon these 123 instead of Samsone, and the prodigall sonne.

f The goods gotten by thy hands.

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the wayes, yet had I almost fallen to ruin.

i Hee teacheth vs forbearing, shewing vs to line of our owne labours and to be beneficial to the godly that want.

10 * Tet a little sleepe, a little slumber, & a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

11 Therefore thy pouertie commeth as one that traueleth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

12 The vnthristie man f and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he f signifieth with his feet: he instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery.

16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h feet that be swift in running to mischief, 19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth vp contentions among h brethren.

20 ¶ My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine i heart, and tie them about thy necke, 22 It shall leade thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the k commandement is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and l corrections for instruction are the way of life, 24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her m eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsel of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 ¶ Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.

30 Men do not despise a thiefe, when he stealeth to satisfie his p soule, because he is hungry.

31 But if hee be found, hee shall restore seuen fold, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But hee that committeth adulterie with a woman, he t is deftute of vnderstanding: he that doth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 Hee shall finde q a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For ielousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

35 Hee can not beare the sight of any ransome: neither will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God. 5 which will preferre us from the harlots, & whose manners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my words, and hide my commandements with thee.

2 Keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue, & mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3 Bind them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of rhine heart.

4 Say vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ As I was in the window of mine house I looked thorow my window,

7 And I saw among the fooles, and confedered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed thorow the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlots h behauiour, and h subtil in heart.

11 (Shee d is babbling and lowd, whose feet can not abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at euery corner)

13 So she caught him & kissed him, and t with an impudent face sayd vnto him, 14 I haue e peace offerings: this f day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, h carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken t with him a bagge of filuer, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips she intified him.

22 And he followed her straightwayes, as an g oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and b as a foole to the stockes for correction, 23 Till a dart strike thorow his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that t he is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her paths.

26 For shee hath caused many to fall downe wounded, & the strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.

c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue a desire vnto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this world.
d That is, except a man haue wisdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counsellor.
e So that he that doeth not hate euill, feareth not God.
f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignities, or riches come not of mans wisdom or industry, but by the providence of God.
g That is, studie the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profit.
h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spirituall treasures and heavenly riches.
i For there can be no true iudice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.
k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wisdom, which he magnifieth and praiseth thorough his bookes meaning thereby the eternall sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, whom Saint Iohn calleth the word that was in the beginning, Iohn 1.1.
l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God which is meant by this word, Wisdom, who was before all time, and ever present with the Father.
m Some read, a chiefe worker signifying that this Wisdom, even Christ Iesus, was equall with God his father, & created, preternaturall, and still worketh with him at Ioh. 5.17.
n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God.
o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God, in whom wisdom tooke pleasure: inasmuch as for mans sake the diuine wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspeakable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.
6 Giue eare, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes shall teach things that be right.
7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lips abhorre wickednesse.
8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.
9 They are all plaine to them that will vnderstand, and straight to them that would finde knowledge.
10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine gold.
11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.
12 I wisdom dwell with d prudencie, and I find forth knowledge and counsels.
13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things I doe hate.
14 I haue counsel and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
15 By me kings reigne, and princes decree iustice.
16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that seeke me early shall find me.
18 Riches and honour are with mee: h euen durable riches and righteoufnesse.
19 My fruit is better then gold, euen then fine gold, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.
20 I cause to walke in the way of righteoufnesse, and in the mids of the path of iudgement.
21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.
22 The Lord hath possessed mee in the beginning of his way: I was before his works of old.
23 I was set vp from euerslasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.
25 Before the mountaines were settled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.
27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compasse vpon the deepe.
28 When hee established the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe.
29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters should not passe his commandement, when he appointed the foundations of the earth.
30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was dayly his delight, reioicing alway before him.
31 And tooke my solace in the compasse of his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.
32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.
33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the posts of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, & shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
35 But he that sinneth against me hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

1 Wisdom calleth all to her feast. 2 The scorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the barter.

Wisdom hath built her house, and hewen out her seven pillars.
2 Shee hath killed her victuals, drawn her wine, and prepared her table.
3 She hath sent forth her maidens, and crieth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,
4 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she sayeth, 5 Come, and eate of my meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.
6 Forfake your way, ye foolish, and yee shall liue: and walke in the way of vnderstanding.
7 He that reproveth a scorner, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked,getteth himselfe a blot.
8 Rebuke not a scorner, lest hee hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.
9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderstanding.
11 For thy dayes shall be multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life shall be augmented.
12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy selfe, and if thou bee a scorner, thou alone shalt suffer.
13 A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.
14 But shee sitteth at the doore of her house on a seate in the high places of the citie, 15 To call them that passe by the way, that goe right on their way, saying, 16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith also, 17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hid bread is pleasant.
18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghests are in the depth of hell.

i Hee sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things. k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profit and commoditie thereof. l By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfeite the word of God: as appeareth verse 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter, and all that followe, vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which hee calleth Parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice: and also sheweth what profit cometh of wisdom, and what hindrance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.
2 The treasures of a wickednesse profit nothing: but righteoufnesse deliuereth from death.

a Christ had prepared his Church.
b This is, many chiefe sayes and principall parts of his Church, as were the Porters, Prophets, Apostles, Priests, and Doctors.
c He compareth wisdom with great price: which keeps open house for all that come.
d Meaning true preachers, which are not infected with mans wisdom.
e He that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is void of malice.
f By the manner of drinke, is meant the word of God, and the euill nature of the sinners.
g On of the commandments, whereby God would punish this sinners in his house, which is the Church.
h For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him.
i Meaning that they are inuincible, which Christ calleth dogs and swine: or he saith, hee knoweth this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but hee sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profit.
j Hee sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things. k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profit and commoditie thereof. l By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfeite the word of God: as appeareth verse 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.
m That is, wickedly gotten.

3 The Lord will not famish the foule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A || slouthfull and maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rotte.

8 The wise in heart will receiue commandments: but the foolish in talk shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh || boldly: but hee that peruerteth his wayes, shall be knowne.

10 Hee that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and he that is foolish in talke, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well-spring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Harred stirreth vp contentions: * but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is found, and a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the needie is their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many words there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as a fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doth adde no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euermlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer be remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

C H A P. XI.

Falſe balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perſite & weight pleaſeth him.

2 When pride commeth, then commeth shame: but with the lowly is wiſedome.

5 The righteouſneſſe of the vpright ſhall direct his way: but the wicked ſhall fall in his owne wickedneſſe.

6 The righteouſneſſe of the iuſt ſhall deliuer them: but the tranſgreſſors ſhall be taken in their owne wickedneſſe.

7 When a wicked man dieth his hope periſheth, and the hope of the vniuſt ſhall periſh.

8 The righteous eſcapeth out of trouble, and the wicked ſhall come in his ſtead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous ſhall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the proſperitie of the righteous the citie is reioyceth: and when the wicked periſh, there is ioye.

11 By the || bleſſing of the righteous the citie is exalted: but it is ſubuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour, is deſtitute of wiſedome: but a man of vnderſtanding will keepe ſilence.

13 He that goeth about as a ſlanderer, diſcouereth a ſecret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counſell is, the people fall: but where many counſellers are, there is health.

17 He that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne ſoule: but hee that troubleth his owne || fleſh, is cruell.

19 As righteouſneſſe leadeth to life: ſo he that followeth euill, ſeeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand ſoyne in hand, the wicked ſhall not be vnpuniſhed: but the ſeed of the righteous ſhall eſcape.

22 As a iewell of gold in a ſwines ſnout: ſo is a faire woman which lacketh diſcretion.

23 The deſire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that ſcattereth, and is more increaſed: but he that ſpareth more, then is right, ſurely commeth to pouertie.

25 The liberal perſon ſhall haue plentie: and he that watereth, ſhall alſo haue raine.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people will curſe him: but bleſſing ſhall be vpon the head of him that ſelleth corne.

11 A true weight and ballance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge are his worke.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickednesse: for the throne is stablished by iustice.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and the king loueth him that speaketh right things.

14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.

15 In the light of the kings countenance is life: & his fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.

16 How much better is it to get wisdom, then gold? and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, & he keepeth his soule, that keepeth his way.

18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble minde with the lowly, then to diuide the spoyles with the proud.

20 He that is wise in his busines, shal find good: and he that trusteth in the Lord, he is blessed.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetnesse of the lips shall increase doctrine.

22 Vnderstanding is a wellspring of life vnto the that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is folly.

23 The heart of the wife guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lips.

24 The sweet words of consolation, which come forth of the mouth of the wise, are as a precious ointment.

25 The heart of the righteous is as a wellspring of life, and the instruction of fooles is folly.

26 The heart of the wife guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lips.

27 Hee that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth babbleth euill things.

29 The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioyceth the heart, and a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.

32 He that refuseh instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.

33 The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour goeth humilitie.

24 Faire words are as an hony combe, sweetnes to the soule, and health to the bones.

25 There is a way that seemeth right vnto man, but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.

26 The person that traueleth, traueleth for himselfe: for his mouth craueth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth vp euill, and in his lips is like a burning fire.

28 A froward person soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man deceiueh his neighbour, & leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He shutteth his eyes to deuise wickednes: he moueth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of righteousness.

32 Hee that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mightie man: and hee that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.

33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is a drie morsell, if peace be with it, then Ban house full of sacrifices, with strife.

2 A discrete seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and he shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.

3 As is the firing pot for filner, and the fornice for gold, so the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 The wicked giueth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.

5 Hee that mocketh the poore, reprocheth him that made him: and hee that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be vnpunished.

6 Childrens children are the crowne of the elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.

7 High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.

8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whithersoouer it turneth.

9 Hee that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but hee that repeateth a matter, separateth the prince.

10 A reproofe entreth more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.

11 A seditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shalbe sent against him.

12 It is better for a man to meete a beare robbed of her whelps, then a foole in his folly.

13 He that rewardeth euil for good, euil shal not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore or the contention be medled with, leaue off.

15 He that iustificeth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?

17 A friend loueth at all times: and a brother is borne for aduersitie.

18 A man destitute of vnderstanding, i toucheth the hand, and becommeth suretie for his neighbour.

19 He loueth transgression that loueth strife: and hee that exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.

20 The froward heart findeth no good: and he that 21 He that begeth a foole, getteth himselfe sorow, and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

22 * A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorrowfull mind drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the <sup>l</sup> bo- some to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 * Wisdome is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the <sup>m</sup> corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a * heauinesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the princes should smite such for equitie.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of vnderstanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole, when hee holdeth his peace is counted wise, and hee that stoppeth his lippes, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

For the desire thereof hee will * separate him- selfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wisdome.

2 A foole hath no delite in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be <sup>b</sup> discouered.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

4 The words of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the wellspring of wisdome is like a flowing riuier.

5 It is not good to * accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgment.

6 A foolies lippes come with strife, & his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A foolies mouth is his owne destruction, and his lippes are a snare for his soule.

8 The wordes of a tale-bearer are as flatter- ings, and they goe downe into the <sup>f</sup> bowels of the belly.

9 Hee also that is slouthfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waster.

10 The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth <sup>g</sup> vnto it, and is exalted.

11 * The rich mans riches, are his strong citie: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 * Before destruction the heart of a man is haucie, and before glorie goeth lowlinesse.

13 * Hee that answereth a matter before hee heare it, it is folly and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infir- mitie: but <sup>a</sup> a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the care of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A mans gift <sup>i</sup> enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.

17 * He that is first in his owne cause, is iust: then commeth his neighbour and maketh in- quirie of him.

18 The lot <sup>l</sup> causeth contentions to cease, and maketh a partition among the mightie.

19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a palace.

20 With the fruite of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lippes shall he be filled.

tongue, and they that * loue it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Hee that findeth a <sup>p</sup> wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to shew him selfe friendly: for a friend is neerer <sup>q</sup> then a brother.

19. 14. q That is, oft times such are found which are more ready then he that is more bound by doctie.

CHAP. XIX.

Better * is the poore that walketh in his vp- rightnesse, then hee that abuseth his lippes, and is a foole:

2 For without knowledge the mind is not good, and he that hasteth with his feete, sinneth.

3 The foolishnesse of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 * A false witnesse shall not bee vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

6 Many reuerence the face of the prince, and euerie man is friend to him that giueth gifts.

7 All the breshren of the poore doe hate him: how much more wil his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant <sup>a</sup> with words, yet they will not.

8 He that possesseth vnderstanding, bloueth his owne soule, & keepeth wisdome to find goodnes.

9 A false witnesse shall not bee vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.

11 The discretion of a man deferreth his an- ger: and his glorie is <sup>d</sup> to passe by an offence.

12 * The kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the graspe

13 * A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his fa- ther, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife commeth of the Lord.

15 Slothfulnesse causeth to fall asleepe; and a deceitfull person shall be affamished.

16 He that keepeth the commandement, keepeth his owne soule: but hee that despiseth his wayes, shall die.

17 Hee that hath mercie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord wil recompense him that which he hath giuen.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of much anger shall suffer punish- ment, and though thou <sup>f</sup> deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.

20 Heare counsell and receiue instruction, that thou maiest be wise in thy latter end.

21 Many deuises are in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

22 That that is to bee desired of a man, is his <sup>h</sup> goodnesse, and a poore man is better then a liar.

23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with euill.

24 * The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bo- some, and will not put it to his mouth againe.

25 Smite a scorner, and the foolish will be- ware: and reprove the prudent, and he will vn- derstand knowledge.

26 Hee that destroyeth his father, or chafeth away

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more when hee bringeth it with a wicked mind?

28 A false witness shall perish: but hee that heareth, speaketh continually.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the just, he will direct his way.

30 There is no wisdom, neither understanding, nor counsell against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battell: but saluation is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

A Good name is to be chosen above riches, and a louing fauour is above silver and about gold.

1 The rich and poore meete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

2 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish go on still, and are punished.

3 The reward of humilitie, and the feare of God is riches, and glory, and life.

4 Thornes and snares are in the way of the froward: but he that regardeth his soule, will depart farre from them.

5 Teach a child in the trade of his way, and when he is old he shall not depart from it.

6 The rich ruleth the poore, and the borrower is seruant to the man that lendeth.

7 Hee that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the rod of his anger will faile.

8 He that hath a good eye, hee shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread to the poore.

9 Cast out the scorner, and strife shall go out: so contention and reproch shall cease.

10 Hee that loveth purenesse of heart, for the grace of his lips, the King shall be his friend.

11 The eyes of the Lord preferre knowledge: but he ouerthroweth the wordes of the transgressour.

12 The slouthfull man saith, A Lyon is without, I shall be slaine in the streete.

13 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pit: he with whom the Lord is angry, shall fall therein.

14 Foolishnesse is bound in the heart of a child: but the rod of correction shall drive it away from him.

15 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the rich, shall surely come to poverty.

16 Incline thine eare, and heare the wordes of the wife, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

17 For it shall be pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy belly, and if they bee directed together in thy lips.

18 That thy confidence may be in the Lord, I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heede.

19 Haue not I written vnto thee three times in counsels and knowledge, 20 That I might shew thee the assurance of the words of truth, to answer the words of truth to them that send to thee?

21 Robbe not the poore because hee is poore, neither oppress the afflicted in iudgement.

22 For the Lord will defend their cause, and spoyle the soule of those that spoyle them.

23 Make no friendship with an angry man, neither go with the furious man, 24 I left thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

25 Be not thou of them that touch the hand, nor among them that are surety for debts.

26 If thou hast nothing to pay, why causest thou that hee should take thy bed from vnder thee?

27 Thou shalt not remoue the auncient bounds which thy fathers haue made.

28 Thou seest that a diligent man in his businesse standeth before Kings, and standeth not before the base sort.

CHAP. XXIII.

When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee,

1 And put the knife to thy throte, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

2 Be not desirous of his dainty meates: for it is a deceiueable meat.

3 Trauaile not too much to be rich: but cease from thy wisdom.

4 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches take her to her wings, as an Eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

5 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his dainty meates.

6 For as though he thought it in his heart, so will he say vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

7 Thou shalt vomit thy morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete words.

8 Speake not in the eares of a foole: for hee will despise the wisdom of thy words.

9 Remoue not the auncient bounds, and enter not into the fields of the fatherlesse.

10 For hee that redeemeth them, is mightie: he will defend their cause against thee.

11 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

12 Withhold not correction from the child: if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not die.

13 Thou shalt smite him with the rod, and shalt deliuer his soule from hell.

14 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also,

15 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

16 Let not thine heart bee enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

17 For surely there is an ende, and thy hope shall not be cut off.

18 O thou my sonne, heare, and bee wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

19 Keepe not company with drunkards, nor with gluttons.

20 For the drunkard and the glutton shall be poore, and the sleeper shall bee clothed with ragges.

21 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

22 Buy the truth, but sell it not: likewise wisdom, and instruction, and vnderstanding.

23 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and hee that begetteth a wise child, shall haue ioy of him.

24 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and she that bare thee shall reioyce.

25 My sonne, giue mee thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wayes.

26 For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a

CHAP. XXIII.

BE not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsell thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell is health.

7 Wisdom is his to a foole: therefore hee cannot open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an author of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is abomination vnto men.

10 If thou bee faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuer them that are drawne to death: and wilt thou not preferue them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: hee that pondereth the hearts, doeth not hee vnderstand it? and hee that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? will he not also recompense euery man according to his works?

13 My sonne, eate hony, for it is good, and the honycombe, for it is sweet vnto thy mouth.

14 So shalt the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule if thou find it, and there shall bee an end, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no wait, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iust man falleth seuen times, and riseth, againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Bee thou not glad when thine enemie falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when hee stumbleth.

18 Least the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath from him.

19 * Fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shall be none end of plagues to the euill man: the light of the wicked shall bee put out.

21 My sonne, feare the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are seditious.

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them sboth?

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTAIN TO THE WISE. It is not good to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 Hee that faith to the wicked, * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodnesse.

26 They shall kisse the lips of him that answereth vpriight words.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready the things in the field, and after, build thine house.

28 Bee not a witnesse against thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lippes?

29 * Say not, I will to do him, as he hath done to me, I will recompense euery man according to his worke.

30 I passed by the field of the slouthfull, and by the vineyard of the man destitute of vnderstanding.

31 And lo, it was all growen ouer with thornes, and nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

32 Then I beheld, and I considered it well: I looked vpon it, and receiued instruction.

33 Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

3 Take the drosse from the siluer, and there shall proceede a vessel for the finer.

4 Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

5 Boast not thy selfe before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

13 As the cold of the snow<sup>1</sup> in the time of harvest, so is a faithfull messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and wind without raine.

15 A Prince is pacified by staying<sup>1</sup> of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the bones.

16 If thou haue found honie, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouerfull, and vomit it.

17 Withdraw thy foote from thy neighbours house, lest he be wearie of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth false witnesse against his neighbour is like an hammer and a sword, and a sharpe arrow.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sliding foot.

20 He that taketh away the garment in the cold season, is like vinegar powred vpon nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauy heart.

21 If he that hateth thee be hungry, giue him bread to eate, and if he be thirftie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay coales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 As the North wind driueth away the raine, so doeth an angry countenance the flandering tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house tope, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

25 As are the cold waters to a weary soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well & a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eate much hony: so to searh their owne glory, is not glory.

28 A man that refraineth not his appetite is like a city which is broken downe without wals.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snow in the Summer, and as the raine in the Haruest are not meete, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

2 As the sparrow by flying, and the swallow by flying escape, so the curse that is causelesse, shal not come.

3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

4 Answer not a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest thou also be like him.

5 Answer a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest he be wise in his owne conceit.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as hee that cutteth off the feete, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that lift vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glory to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing vp in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole, and rewardeth the transgressers.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceit? more hope is of a foole then of him.

13 The slouthfull man sayth, A lion is in the way: a lion is in the streetes.

14 As the doore turneth vp his hinges, so doeth the slothfull man vpon his bed.

15 The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and it grieveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As he that fained himselfe madde, casteth firebrands, arrowes, and mortall things, 19 So dealeth the deceitfull man with his friend and faith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the cole maketh burning coales, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kinde strife.

22 The wordes of a tale bearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

23 As siluer drosse overlaid vpon a potsherd, so are burning lips, and an euill heart.

24 Hee that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

25 Though hee speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deuite: but the malice therof shalbe discouered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit shal fall therein, and he that rolleth a stone, it shal returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

Boast not thy selfe of to morowe, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weightie: but a foolies wrath is heauier then them both.

4 Anger is cruell, & wrath is raging: but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a louer are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an honie combe: but vnto the hungry soule euery bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest, so is a man that wandreth from his owne place.

9 As ointment & perfume reioyce the heart, so doth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by heartie counsell.

10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neither enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie: for better is a neighbour that is neere, then a brother farre off.

11 My sonne, be wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprooueth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on still, and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 He that praileth his friend with a loude voice, rising early in the morning, it shalbe counted to him as a curse.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked see when none pursueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lion.

2 For the transgression of the land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnder-standing and knowledge a realme likewise endu-reth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppress the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no food.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Law, set themselves against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgment: but they that seeke the Lord vnderstand all things.

6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then hee that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vsury & interest, gathereth c them for him that will be merciful vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shall be abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an euil way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vpriht shall inherit good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie him.

12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.

13 He that hideth his finnes, shall not prosper:
but hee that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lion, and an hungry beare, so is a wicked ruler over the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressor: but hee that hateth couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doth violence against the blood of a person, shall see vnto the graue, and they shall not stay him.

18 Hee that walketh vprightly shall be saved:
but he that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgresse for a piece of bread.

22 A man with a wicked eye hateth to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 Hee that rebuketh a man, shall finde more faueur at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 Hee that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lorde, shall bee in fauour.

26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be deliuered.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curses.

28 When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselues: but when they perish, the righteous en-crease.

CHAP. XXIX.

A Man that hardeneth his necke when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed, and cannot be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: but hee that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the coun-trei: but a man receiuing gifts, destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euil man is his snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloodie men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole poureth out all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his seruants are wicked.

13 The poore & the vsurer meete together, and the Lord lightneth both their eyes.

14 A King that iudgeth the poore in trueth, his throne shall be established for euer.

uer him.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.
17 Correct thy sonne, and he will giue thee rest, and will giue pleasures to thy soule.

18 Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the Law, is blessed.

19 A seruant will not be chastised w words: though he vnderstand, yet he will not answer.

20 Seest thou a man hasty in his matters? there is more hope of a foole, then of him.

21 Hee that delicately bringeth vp his seruant from youth, at length he will be euen as his sonne.

22 An angry man stirreth vp strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 The pride of a man shall bring him low: but the humble in spirit shall enioy glory.

24 He that is partner with a chiefe, hateth his own soule: he heareth cursing & declareth it not.

25 The feare of man bringeth a share: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be exalted.

26 Many doe seeke the face of the ruler: but euery mans iudgement commeth from the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

To humble our selues in consideration of Gods workes. 5 The word of God is perfite. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 15 Of things that are neuer satiate. 18 Of others that are wonderfull.

THE WORDES OF AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKH.

The prophesie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, euen to Ithiel, and Vcal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

3 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to heauen, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell.

5 Euery word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that put their trust in him.

6 Put nothing vnto his word, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee: denie me them not before I die.

8 Remoue farre from mee vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: feede me with good conuenient for me.

9 Left I be full, and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or left I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, & when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are haughty, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their iawes as knives to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men,

15 The horseleach hath two daughters which cry, Giue, giue. There be three things that wil not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is enough.

16 The graue, & the barren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that sayth not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father & despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the rauen i of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eate it.

18 There be three things hid from mee: yea, foure that I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the ayre, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the mids of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquity.

21 For three things the earth is mooned: yea, for foure it cannot luteine it selfe.

22 For a seruant when hee reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate, 23 For a hatefull woman, when she is married, & for a handmaid that is heire to her mistresse.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are a wife, and full of wisdom:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in summer:

26 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet goe they forth by bands:

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion that is strong among beastes, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lustie grayhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

CHAP. XXXI.

Hee exhorteth to chastitie and iustice, 10 and sheweth the conditions of a wife and worthy woman.

1 THE WORDS OF KING LEMUEL: The prophesie which his mother taught him.

2 What my sonne! & what the sonne of my wombe! & what, O sonne of my desires!

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, nor thy wayes, which is to destroy kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke.

5 Left he drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that hee may forget his pouerty, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumbe in the wantonnesse, and neglect his office, which is to execute iudgement: comfort the heart, as Psalme 104. 15. g Defend their cause that are not able to helpe themselves.

h The leach hath two forkes in the tongue, which here be called her two daughters, whereby shee sucketh her blood, and is neuer satiate: euen so are the common extortioners insatiable.

9 Open thy mouth: iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

10 ¶ Who shall find a vertuous woman? for her price is farre above the pearles.

11 The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall haue no neede of spoyle.

12 She wil doe him good, and not euil all the dayes of her life.

13 She seeketh wooll and flax, and labourereth cheerefully with her hands.

14 She is like the ships of merchants: she bringeth her foode from asfarre.

15 And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giueth || the portion to her housholde, and the ordinarie to her maydes.

16 Shee considereth a field, and k getteth it: and with the fruite of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loynes with strength, and strengtheneth her armes.

18 Shee feeleth that her merchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 Shee putteth her handes to the wheele, and her hands handle the spindle.

20 Shee stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putteth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She feareth not the snowe for her familie: for all her familie is clothed with skarlet.

22 Shee maketh her selfe carpets: fine linnen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is knowen in the gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of the land.

24 She maketh || sheetes, and selleth them, and giueth girdles vnto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall reioyce.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the law of grace is in her tongue.

27 Shee ouerleeth the wayes of her houshold, and eateth not the bread of idlenesse.

28 Her children rise vp, and call her blessed: her husband also shall praye her, saying, 29 Many daughters haue doue vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Favour is deceitfull, and beautie is vanitie: but a woman that feareth the Lord, shee shall bee prayed.

31 Giue p her of the fruite of her hands, and let her owne workes praise her in the gates.

ECCLESIASTES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon as a Preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the decaye of all vanities of this world: that man should not bee addicted to anything vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which see their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that, that he is vnited with God, and shal enjoy his presence: so that all other things must be rejected, saue inasmuch as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

1 All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of vaine industry. 12 All mans wisdom is but folly and griefe.

He wordes of the a Preacher, the soune of Dauid king in Ierusalem.

2 Vanitie of vanities, sayeth the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his trael, which he suffreth vnder the sunne?

4 One generation passeth, & another generation succedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth down, and draweth to his place where he riseth.

6 The winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

7 All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers go vnto the place, whence they returne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 ¶ What is it that hath bene? that that shalbe: & what is it that hath bin done? that which shal be done: & there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 ¶ One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth long: euent to the all day, which is yet subiect to corruption. e By the sunne, wind, and riuers he sheweth that the greuel labour and longest hath an end, and therefore the e can be no felicitie in this world. f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth it with water, the which poure out springs and riuers into the sea againe. g Hee speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

10 Is there anything, whereof one may say, Behold this, It is new? it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memory of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bene king ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisdom, by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this fore trauell hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and behold all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: & that which faileth, cannot be nured.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excell in wisdom all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisedome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisedome and knowledge, I madnesse and foolishnesse: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorow.

committed, much lesse remedie them. I That is, vaine things which serued no pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. In Wisedome and knowledge cannot bee com: by without great paine of body and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

Pharisees, sumptuous buildings, riches, and possessions are but vanity.
14. The wise and the foole have both one ende touching the bodily death.

I Sayd in my heart, Goe to now, I will prooue a thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I sayd of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I fought in mine heart to give my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisedome, and to take holde of follie, till I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeces and sheepe aboute all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue provided me men fingers, and women fingers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisedome remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauel.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the Sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold wisedome, and madnes, and folly: (for who is the man that will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisedome, more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenesse: yet I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befallerh vnto me, as it befallerh to the foole. Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall bee no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come, shall all be forgotten. And how dyeth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne is grievous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the Sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wife, dome, and in knowledge, and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed here, shall hee giue his portion: this also is vanitie, and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the Sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man: but that he eat, and drinke, and delight his soule with the profit of his labour: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haste to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisedome, & knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this also is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

All things haue their time. 14. The workes of God are perfect, and cause men to feare him. 17. God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

To all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to bee borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, & a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to bee farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath hee that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauel that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautifull in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the work that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall doe, it shall be for euer: to it can no man adde, & from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall be hath now bene: for God requieth that which is past.

16 And moreouer, I haue seene vnder the Sun the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice, where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iust n That I might seeke the true iustice, which is in God.

o Among other griefes that was not the least, so leaue that which he had gotten by great trauell, to see that had taken no pain there, and, and when he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

p When man hath all laboured, hee can get no more then food, and refreshing, yet hee contenteth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3. 13. q Meaning to pleasures.

r He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetually next to each vs not to be grieved, if we haue not all things as once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as we would wish.

b Reade Chap. 1. 13.

c God hath giuen man a desire, and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

d Reade Chap. 2. 24. & these places declare that we should do all things with sobrietie and in the feare of God, so attach as he giueth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, o it shall come to passe. f God onely can see that, which is past, to requite.

g Meaning, with God, howsoever man neglect his dactie.

h And made them pure in their first creation.

i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference betwixt one man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: as the eye cannot iudge any other wile of a man being dead, than of a beast, which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith we easily know the difference as verie 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleueeth herein. l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and Chap. 3. 11, 12. Chap. 5. 17. and Chap. 8. 17. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life, then to vie the prizes of God iustly and comfortably: not to knowe further, is a special gift of God bestowed by his Spirit.

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning a tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.

b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

c He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to see, or see troubles.

d The more perverse that the worke is, the more is it enuiled of the wicked.

e For idleness he is compelled to do by himselfe.

f For as much as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himselfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to live in mutual society, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

g By this proverb he declareth how necessarie it is, that men should live in societie.

h That is, from a poore and beset estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen. 41. 14.

i Meaning, that is borne a King.

iust and the wicked: for time is there for every purpose and for every worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God had purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are such as one condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue all one breath, & there is no excellencie of man above the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend vpward, and the spirit of the beast descend downeward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shalbe after him?

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 2 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 3 Mans societie is necessarie. 4 A young man poore and wife is to be preferred to an old King that is a foole.

So I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppress them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which now are dead, above the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I count him better then them both, which hath riot yet bene: for hee hath not seene the euil works which are wrought vnder the sun.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all perfection of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbor: this also is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfuls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, & there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet is there none end of all his trauaile, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doeth he thinke, For whom do I trauaile and defraud my soule of pleasure? this also is vanity, & this is an euil trauaile.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but wo vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one howe should there bee heate?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold coard is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the prison he commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is borne in the kingdom, is made poore.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sun with the second child, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioice in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heed to thine mouth when thou entrest into the house of God, and be more neere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of fooles: for they know not that they doe euill.

fires, they thinke themselves abused, as other haue bene in time more for him. m That is, with what affection thou comest of God. n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 2 The courteous can neuer haue enough. 3 The labourers sleepe is sweete. 4 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 5 To liue iustly, and with a consented minde, is the gift of God.

Be not a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart bee hastie to vter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2 For as a drame commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voice of a foole is in the multitude of words.

3 When thou hast vowed a vow to God, defer not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vow, then that thou shouldest vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voyce, and destroy the works of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many words: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seeest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for hee that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is ouer all: the king also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and he that loueth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that traueileth is sweete, whether hee eate little or much: but the facietie of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euil sickenesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches referred to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill trauel, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As hee came forth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to go as he came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes, that in all points as he came, so shall he goe, and what profit hath he that he hath traueiled for the wind?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in darknesse

1 He doth not enjoy his fathers riches. 2 Job 1. 21. wisdom 7. 6. 1 Tim. 6. 7. 3 Manning in vaine, and without profit. 4 In affliction and griefe of minde.

k Which is the Kings sonne, or him that shall succeed, to eate the credit with them in house of giue.

l They are not able by all means to creepe into sinne, but when they obtaine their greedy desires, and can not to haue the will God with content.

a Either in vowing or in paying meaning, that we should be as necessitate Gods word.

b He leaueh not to pay for the words taken or taken repetitions, but considereth thy heart and fast mind.

c Deut. 23. 21. He speaketh of vowing, which is approved by Gods word and sent to his glory.

d Could not be selfe to sinne by vowing rashly, as they do which make a vow to live vniuaine, and such like.

e That is, before Gods messengers, when he shall estimate thy doing, although thy ignorance should be a just excuse.

f Meaning, that God will requite these things, and therefore we must depend upon him. g The riches of the earth are to be preferred, above all things which appertaine to this life.

h Kings and Princes cannot maintain their cities without villages, which thing commendeth the excellencie of villages.

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the things which commeth by his great feeding.

k When countie men kinde up riches which come to their defoliation.

with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.
 17 Behold deuen, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he travaileth vnder the sunne: for the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.
 18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his paine, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.
 19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The mistake of those to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

Here is an euill, which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men.
 2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that he desireth: but God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euill sicknesse.
 3 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule be not satisfied with good things, and he be not buried, I say that an vntimely fruite is better then hee.

4 For hee cometh into vanitie, and goeth into darkenesse: and his name shall bee couered with darkenesse.

5 Also he hath not seene the sun, nor knownen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twise tolde, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wife man more then the foole? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanitie, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: and it is knownen that it is man: and he cannot strue with him that is stronger then hee.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoid the contrary.

Surely there be many things that increase vanitie: and what aualeth it man?

2 For who knoweth what is good for man in the life, and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing hee maketh them as a shadow? For who can shew vnto man what shall be after him vnder the sunne?

3 A good name is better then a good oymment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to goe to the house of mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.

8 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wife man mad, and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The ende of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

11 Be not thou of an hastie spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of filuer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giveth life to the possessors thereof.

15 Behold the worke of God: for who can make straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldest thou bee desolate?

19 Bee not thou wicked ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdome shall strengthen the wife man more then ten mightie princes that are in the city.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all the words that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought, I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what may it bee? and it is a profound deepnesse, who can find it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know, and to enquire, and to search wisdom, and reason, and to knowe the wickednesse of folly, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.

28 And I find more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Beholde, sayeth the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to find the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

31 Onely Ioe, this haue I founde, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue fought many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

To thy Princes and Magistrates. 17 The works of God passe man's knowledge.

V Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doth make his face to shine: and the strength of his face shall be changed.

1 I advertise thee to take heed to the mouth of the king, and to the word of the oath of God.

2 Haste not to goe forth of his sight: stand not in an euill thing: for he will doe whatsoever please him.

3 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

4 He that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the time and iudgement.

5 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the miserie of man is great vpon him.

6 For he knoweth not that which shall be; for who can tell him when it shall be?

7 Man is not lord over the spirit to retaine the spirit: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessors thereof.

8 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

9 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

10 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

11 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shall be well with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

12 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: he shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

13 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the wicked: and there bee wicked men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

14 And I prayed ioy: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the sunne, saue to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

15 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to behold the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe, 16 Then I behelde the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

CHAP. IX.

By no outward thing can man knowe when God liueth or be seeth. 18 No man knoweth his ende. 19 Wisdom excelleth strength.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnes is in their hearts while they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is ioined to all the liuing, there is hope for it: it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

5 For the liuing knowe that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Goe, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loved all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sun all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy traucile wherein thou labourest vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man knowe his time, as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and hee deliuered the citie by his wisdom: but none remembered this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wife are more heard in quietnesse, then the cry of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

Dead flies cause to stink, and putrefie the countenance of the apothecary: so the little folly of him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a fool is at his left hand.

3 And also when the fool goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he collecteth into all that he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise up against thee, leave not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an evil that I have seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the rich sit in the low place.

7 I have seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whetted the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a fool deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the word of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter ende of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the fool multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slothfulnesse the roofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but silver answereth to all.

20 Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the foule of the heauen shall carie the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be libell to the poore. 2 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 3 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 4 God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

3 If the clouds be full, they will poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

other that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of darkness, because they are many, all that cometh to vanitie.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 2 The soule returneth to God. 3 Wisdom is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

Remember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, while the full dayes come not, nor the yeres approach, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them.

2 While the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders shall cease, because they are fewe, and they wake darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the doores shall bee shut without by the base leuind of the grinding, and hee shall rise vp at the voice of the bird: and all the daughters of singing shall be abased.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the hissing thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driven away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

6 While the silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden p ewer broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the wheele broken at the cisterne.

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, sayth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an vpright writing, euen the words of truth.

11 The wordes of the wise are like goades, and like nailes fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one yastour.

12 And of other things beside these, my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none end in making

3 The watchmen that were about the citie, found me: to whom I sayd, Have you seene him whom my soule loveth?

4 When I had past a little from them, then I found him whom my soule loved: I tooke holde on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceived me.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? how much better is thy loue then wine? and the fauour of thine oyntments then all spices?

11 Thy g lippes, my spouse, droppe as honie combs: honie and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the fauour of thy garments is as the fauour of Lebanon.

3 I haue put off my coate, how shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, how shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrrhe, and my fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone & past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

6 Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

e He sheweth that the beginning of the Church was small, but that it grew vp to a great multitude.

7 There are threescore Queenes and fourescore concubines, & of the damels wout number.

HOW beautifull are thy goings with shooes, O princes daughter! the ioints of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workman.

2 Thy nauell is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heap of wheat compassed about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

d Or, galleries.

7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I will goe vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughes: thy breasts shall now bee like the clusters of the vine: and the fauour of thy nose like apples,

9 And the roote of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, and caufeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10 I am my welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

d This the spirit speaks.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs goe forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs goe vpearly to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape: or whether the pomegranates flourish: there will I giue thee my loue.

a The Church called of the Gentiles, speaks thus to the Church of Ierusalem.

9 If she be a wall, we will build vpon her a siluer palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boards of cedar.

e The Iewish Church speaks this of the Church of the Gentiles. f If she be a wall and fast, she is meet for the husband to dwell in.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

g The Church professeth fidelitie and constancie.

11 Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon: hee gaue y vineyard vnto keepers: euery one bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of siluer.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Salomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of siluer, and two hundreth to them that keepe the fruit thereof.

i Christ dwelleth in his Church, whose voyce the faithful heare.

13 O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to heare it.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promise, Deuter. 18. 15. that hee would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interpret and declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vilitie and profite of those to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two Tables: secondly to the promises and threatnings of the Lawe: and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesu Christ, who is the end of the Lawe. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more cleerely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesu Christ, in whome this Covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as hee saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which hee had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdom. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as most principal points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his Sermons that hee preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isaiah 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it downe and reserued it among their Registers: and so by Gods providence these bookes were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, hee was of the Kings stocke for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah king of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in law hee was (as the Hebrewes write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among other is to bee obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certainty thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah reproveth the Jewes for their ingratitude and stubbornness, that neither for benefites nor punishments would amend. 21 Hee sheweth why their sacrifices are reiectid, and wherein Gods true service standeth. 24 He prophesiech of the destruction of Ierusalem. 25 And of the restitution thereof.

A Vision of Iſaiah, the ſonne of Amoz, which he ſaw concerning Iudah and Ieruſalem, in the daies of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah.

2 Heare O heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath ſayd, I haue nourished and brought vp children, but they haue rebelled againſt me.

3 The ſoxe knoweth his owner, and the aſſe his maſters crib: but Iſrael hath not knowne: my people hath not vnderſtood.

4 Ah, ſinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a ſeede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forſaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the Holy one of Iſrael to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore ſhould ye be ſinmitted any more?

for ye fall away more and more: the whole head is ſicke, and the whole heart is heavy.

6 From the ſole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds and ſwellings, and ſores full of corruption: they haue not bene wrapped, nor bound vp nor mollified with oyle.

8 And the daughter of Zion ſhall remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a beſieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hoſtes had reſerued vnto vs euen a ſmall remnant, wee ſhould haue bene as Sodom, and ſhould haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Lawe of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What haue I to do with the multitude of your ſacrifices, ſaith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, & of the fat of fed beaſts: and I deſire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

Every part of the body ſuſtained the leaſt, as the chief was plagued.

Their plagues were ſo grievous that they were incurable, and yet they would not repent.

z This kinde of reasoning, by the second table, the Scriptures use in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holines and religion in word, but when their charity and love toward their brethren should appear, they declare that they have neither faith nor Religion.

required this of your hands to tread in my courts?

13 Bring no mo oblations, in vaine: incense is an abomination vnto me: I cannot suffer your new moones, nor Sabbaths, nor solemne dayes (as is iniquity) nor solemne assemblies.

14 My soule hateth your newe moones and your appoynted feastes: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.

15 And when you shal stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though yee make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.

16 Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euil of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to do euil.

17 Learne to do well: seeke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse and defend the widow.

18 Come now, and let vs reason together, saith the Lord: though your finnes were as crimson, they shall be made white as snow: though they were red like skarlet, they shall be as wooll.

19 If ye consent and obey, yee shall eate the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithfull city become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, and iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.

22 Thy filuer is become drossie: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of thieves: euery one loueth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doth the widowes cause come before them.

24 Therefore saith the Lorde God of hostes, the mightie One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine aduersaries, and auenge mee of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine hande vpon thee, and burne out thy drossie, till it be pure, and take away all thy tynne.

26 And I will restore thy Iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward shalt thou be called a city of righteousness, and a faithfull city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shalbe together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.

29 For they shalbe confounded for the oakes, which ye haue desired, and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they both shall burne together and none shall quench them.

2 It shalbe in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the House of the Lord shall bee prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shalbe exalted about the hilles, and all nations shall flow vnto it.

3 And many people shall go, and say, Come, and let vs go vp to the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iakob, and he will teach vs his waies, and we wil walke in his paths: for the Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem.

4 And hee shall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they shall breake their swords also into mattocks, and their speares into fiethes: nation shal not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.

5 O house of Iakob, come yee, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iakob, because they are full of the East manner, and are forcerers as the Philistims, and abound with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of filuer and gold, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charres were infinite.

8 Their land was also full of idols: they worshipped the worke of their owne handes, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, and a man humbled himselfe: therefore spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his Maiestie.

1 For the sinne of the people, God will take away the wise men and giue them foolish prynces. 14 The countenances of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

For loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem and from Iudah the stay<sup>a</sup> and the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, & the man of warre,<sup>b</sup> the iudge and the prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint<sup>d</sup> children to bee their prynces, and babes shall rule ouer them.

5 The people shalbe<sup>e</sup> oppressed one of another, and every one by his neighbour: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When euery one shall<sup>f</sup> take holde of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he shall<sup>g</sup> sweare, saying, I cannot bee an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue & workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The<sup>h</sup> trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not. Wo be vnto their foules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.

10 I say ye, Surely it shalbe well with the iust: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shalbe euill with him: for the reward of his hands shalbe giuen him.

12<sup>k</sup> Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, & destroy the way of thy pathes.

13 The Lord standeth to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the<sup>l</sup> Ancients of his people & the prynces thereof:

For ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoile of the poore<sup>m</sup> is in your houses. 15 What haue ye to doe, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes? 16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with<sup>n</sup> stretched out neckes, and with<sup>p</sup> wandering eyes, walking and mincing as they go, & making a<sup>r</sup> tinkling with their teete, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion, balde, and the Lord shall discouer their secret parts.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the calles, and the round tyres,

19 The sweete bailes, and the bracalets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, and the headbands, and the tables, and the earringes,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparell and the vailles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes, 23 And the glasse and the fine linnen, and the hoodes and the<sup>s</sup> launes.

24 And in stead of sweete sauour, there shall be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, & in stead of dressing of the haire, baldnesse, and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning in stead of beauty.

25 Thy men<sup>t</sup> shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she, being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

disolatenesse, and also the common weale, which haue not remedied it.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

And in that day shall<sup>a</sup> seuen women take hold of one man, saying, Wee will eate our owne bread, and we will weare our owne garments: onely<sup>b</sup> let vs bee called by thy name, and take away our reproch.

2 In that day shall the<sup>d</sup> budde of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall bee excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then hee that shall be left in Zion, and hee that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shalbe called holily, and euery one shall be<sup>e</sup> written among the liuing in Ierusalem.

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthinesse of the daughters of Zion, & purge the<sup>f</sup> blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of g iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the<sup>g</sup> glory shall be a defence.

6 And a couering shalbe for a shadow in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a couert for the storme<sup>k</sup> and for the raine.

For ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoile of the poore<sup>m</sup> is in your houses. 15 What haue ye to doe, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes? 16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with<sup>n</sup> stretched out neckes, and with<sup>p</sup> wandering eyes, walking and mincing as they go, & making a<sup>r</sup> tinkling with their teete, m That is, yee show all cruelty against them.

n He meneth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themselues to all wantonnesse and dissolution. o Which declared their pride. p As a signe, that they were not chaste.

q Which shewed their wantonnesse. r They delighted then in slippers that did creele, or had litle plates sowed vpon them, which tinkled as they went.

s In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

t Meaning, that God will not onely punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this disolatenesse, and also the common weale, which haue not remedied it.

a When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselves to any condition.

b Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wiues.

c For so they thought it to be without an head and husband.

d He comforteth the Church in their desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should be as plentiful toward the faithfull, as though the spring out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8. Some by the bud of the Lord meane Christ.

e He alludeth to the booke of Exod. 32. meaning Gods secrete counsel, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting. f That is, the cruelty, extortion, auarice, and all wickednesse. g When things shalbe redressed that were amisse. h He alludeth to the pillar of the cloud, Exod. 13. 21. meaning that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in euery place. i The faithfull are called the glory of God because of his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promiseth to bee the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

y As they that go to seeke wild beasts among the bushes.

z The mountaines contrary to their wont, shall be filled by such as shall see to them for succour.

a That thou maist write in great letters to the intent it may be more easily read.

b Meaning, after the common fashion because all men might read it.

c Because the thing was of great importance he tooke these two witnesses, which were of credite with the people, when he set this vp vpon the doore of the Temple, albeit Vriah was a flattering hypocrite. 2. Tim. 1. 11.

d Meaning, to his wife, and this was done in a vision.

e Or, make speede to the spoile: haste to the pray.

f Before any child be able to speake.

g Which was a fountain at the foote of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small river through the citie, meaning that they of Iudah, distrustful their own power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.

h That is, the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates.

i It shall be ready to drowne them.

k He speaketh this to Mesiah, or Christ, in whom the faithful were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed vterly.

l To wit, ye that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c.

m To encourage me that I should not shrink for the infidelitie of this people, and so neglect mine office.

n Consent not ye that are godly, to the league and friendship that this people seeke with strangers and idolaters.

o Meaning, that they should not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God.

p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and leaue to doe any thing contrary to his will.

q He will defend you which are his elect, and reiect all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Jewes should stumble and fall. Luke 24. 30. 33. 1. pet. 2. 7, 8.

23 And at the same day every place, wherein shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of silver: so it shall be for the briers and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with 7 bowe shall one come thither: because all the land shall be briers and thornes.

25 But on 2 all the mountaines, which shall be digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briers and thornes: but they shall be for the sending out of bullockes, and for the treading of sheepe.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Jewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

Moreover, the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great roll, & write in it with a mans pen, Make speede to the spoile: haste to the pray.

2 Then I tooke vnto me 6 faithfull witnesses to recorde, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Ieberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the 4 Prophetesse, which conceived, and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, || Maher-shalal-haz.

4 For before the 6 childe shall haue knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria, before the king of Asshur.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of 8 Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of 8 the Riuer mightie and great, euen the King of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and go ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow and passe through, and shall come vp to the i necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O 8 Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye 1 people, and ye shall be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in piece.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to mee in taking m of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A 1 confederacie to all them, to whom this people faith a confederacie, neither feare you 2 their feare, nor be afraid of them.

13 p Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a 9 Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall and shall be broken and shall be snared and shall be taken.

16 Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will waite vpon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I will looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the 1 children whom the Lord hath giuen me, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, 2 by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the soothsayers, which whisper & murmur, "Should not a people enquire at their God? from the x liuing to the dead?"

20 To the 7 Law, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this word: it is because there is no 2 light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall go to and fro in 1 it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euen fret himselfe, 6 and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpon wand.

22 And when he shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and 6 darkenesse, vexation and anguish, and he is driuen to darkenesse.

y Seeke remedie in the word of God where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. b In whom afore they put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophesie of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

YET the darkenesse shall not be according to the affliction, b that it had when at the first he touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor afterwarde when hee was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Iordan in Galilee of 6 the Gentiles.

2 The people that 4 walked in darknes, haue seene a great 6 light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadowes of death, vpon them hath the 1 light shined.

3 Thou hast 8 multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioiced before thee according to the ioy in haruest, and as men reioice when they diuide a spoile.

4 For the 8 yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressor hath thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely euery battell of the warriour is with noise, & with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be 1 with burning and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a child is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernement is vpon r Though all these things are mine, keep my word, and seal it in your hearts.

s Meaning, that those were willing to heare and obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to liue.

t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the will of the Lord.

u Answer the wicked thou, Should not Gods people seeke succour onely at him?

x That is, will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and sends helps at the death, which is the illusion of Satan?

y Seeke remedie in the word of God where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. b In whom afore they put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

a He comforteth the Church againe after these great tribulations, promising to rehouse them to great glory in Mesiah.

b Where with Iacob was promised, 6 it by Tighlab-baal, which was a light house in respect of that which they suffered a way by Salomon, who carried the Israelites away captiues.

his shoulder, and he shall call his name Wonderfull, Counsellor, The mightie God, The everlasting Father, the Prince of peace.

7 The encrease of his gouernment and peace shall haue none end: hee shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement & with iustice, from henceforth, euem for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes will performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Iakob, and it hath lighted vpon m Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euem Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 The a bricke are fallen, but we will build it with hewen stones: the wild figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless, the Lord wil raise vp the aduerfaries of o Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistims behind, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes, 14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and taile, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them are deuoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their young men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speaketh follie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse p burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briars and the thornes, and wil kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes, shal the land bee darkened, and the people shall bee as the meat of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungrie: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shal not be satisfied: euery one shall eat the flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shalbe against Iudah: yet for al this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them. 21 The remnant of Israel shall be saved.

VOe vnto them that decree wicked decrees, and write grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may spoyle the fatherless.

3 What will yee doe now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from farre? to whome will yee flee for helpe? and where will yee leaue your glorie?

4 Your riches & authoritie, that they may be safe, & that ye may receiue them again.

4 Without mee euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the slaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O c Asshur, the rodde of my wrath: and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send f him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoile and to take the pray, and to tread them vnder feete like the mire in the streete.

7 But hee thinketh not so, neither doeth his heart esteeme it so: but hee imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as g Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing their idoles were about Ierusalem, and about Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I wil visit the fruit of the proud heart of the king of Asshur, and his glorious and proud lookes, 13 Because hee said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shal the k axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shal the saw exalt it selfe against him that mooueth it? as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men leanness, and vnder his glory he shall kinde a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shalbe as a fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shal burne, and deuoure his thornes & his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glorie of his forest, and of his fruitfull fieldes both foule and flesh: and he shalbe as the fainting of a standard bearer

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be fewe, that a child may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israel in trueth.

21 The remnant shall returne, euem the remnant of Iakob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption I decreed shall ouerflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euem determined, in the middes of all the land.

24 Therefore, shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteousness, shalbe the land as he hath determined, and after save a small port on.

d Because they haue forsaken me, some shall goe into captiuitie, and the rest shall be slaine.

e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is the Assyrians against the Iewes, which are but hypocrites, and in the first and seventh verse is declared the difference of the work of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and after for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of Gods justice, it is Gods worke, but in respect of their owne malice, it is work of the deuill.

g Seeing that I haue ouercome as well one citie as another, so that none could resist, shall Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

h When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) then will he burne the rods.

i Meaning, of Samaria.

k Here we see that no creature is able to doe any thing, but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to doe his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verse 6.

l Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people and a fire to burne his enemies.

m That is, the Assyrians.

n To wit, bodie and soule utterly.

o When the battle is lost, and the standard taken.

p This is the end of Gods plagues towards him, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others.

q This small number which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is God wills.

r God wills.

a He calleth to the Medes & Persians, and all those that should execute Gods vengeance.

Or, fortis.
o As I haue begun to destroy the Assyrians in Samaria: so will I continue, and destroy them wholly, when I shall deliuer you from Babylon.
p From the Iewes.
q Read Chap. 13. 1.
r He willeth the Philistines not to reioyce because the Iewes are diminished in their power: for their strength shall be greater then euer it was.
f The Israelites, which were brought to most extreme misery.
t To wit, my people.
u That is, from the Iewes, or Assyrians: for they were both North from Palestina.
z But they shall be all ready, and ioyne together.
y Which shall come to enquire of the state of the Church.
z They shall answer: y the Lord doth defend his Church, and them that ioyne themselves thereto.

a Read Chap. 13. 1.
b The chiefe city, whereby the whole country was meant.
c The Moabites shall see to their idoles for succour, but it shall be too late.
d Which were cities of Moab.
e For as in the West parts the people vsed to let their haire grow long, when they are ouercome, so in the East parts they cut it off.
f The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God that should come vpon them.
g Meaning, that it was a citie that euer liued in pleasure, and neuer felt sorrow.

graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and slaine thy people: the seede of the wicked shall not be renowned for euer.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hostes) & will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the soune, and the nephew, sayth the Lord:

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I will sweepe it with the befoeme of destruction, sayth the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shall stand:

25 ¶ That I will breake to pieces Aschur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I tread him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from them, and his burden shall bee taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations.

27 Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who should disanull it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 ¶ In the yeere that king Ahaz dyed, was this a burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that did beate thee, is broken: for out of the serpents root shall come forth a cockatrice, and the fruit thereof shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall bee fed, and the needy shall lie downe in safetie: and I will kil thy roote with famine, and it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, crie, O citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolued, for there shall come from the North a smoke, and none shall be alone, at his time appointed.

32 What shall then one answer y the messengers of the Gentiles? that the Lord hath stablished Zion, and the poore of his people shall trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

A prophesie against Moab.

THe burden of Moab. Surely Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall go vp to the Temple, & to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall be baldnesse, and euery beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they bee girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voyce shall be heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shall shewt: the soule of euery one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine heart shall crie for Moab: his fugitiues shall flee vnto Zoar, an heffer of three yere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Hironaim they shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

6 For the waters of Ninrim shall be dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willowes.

8 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab: and the howlings thereof vnto Eglaim, and the shriking thereof vnto Beer-Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall bee full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euen lions vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

Send a yee a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wildernesse, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall bee at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsel, execute iudgement, make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall ende: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercie shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hastening iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kirharseth shall yee mourne, yet they shall bee stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: the lordes of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazer: they wandred in the wildernesse: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I weepe with the weeping of Iazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy haruest a shouting is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioicing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall found like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kirharseth.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And nowe the Lord hath spoken, saying, and shout for ioy, when they cary thy commodities from thee, for very sorrowe and compasion. They shall vse bil meases to shewe helpe of their idoles and all in vaine: for Chemoz their great god shall not be able to helpe them.

b He denoteth the miserable desolation and sight of the Moabites.

i To hide themselves, and their goods there. k Of them that are slaine. l So that by no means they should escape the hand of God: thus will he punish y enemies of his Church.

a That is, after a sacrifice: whereby he denoteth their long delay which would not repay when the Lord called them there: in the new top lace, showing the vengeance of God is vpon them. b There is no remedie, but you must flee. c He sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would give no shadow nor comfort, they are now left comfortless. d The Assyrians shall oppress the Israelites, but for a while. e Meaning, Chaldeans.

f The vaite confidence, and proud brags shall deceiue them, as ler. 48. 2. g For all your mourning, yet the citie shall be destroyed, euen vnto the foundations. h That is, the Assyrians and other enemies. i Meaning, that the country of Moab was now destroyed, and all the precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countries, and ouer the sea. k He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue moued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 115. 2. l The enemies are come vpon them, as Ierem. 48. 2. m For very sorrowe and compasion. n They shall vse bil meases to shewe helpe of their idoles and all in vaine: for Chemoz their great god shall not be able to helpe them.

1 Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

OH, the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the river of Ethiopia,

2 Sending ambassadours by the sea, even in vessels of reed upon the waters, saying, c Goe, yee swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible people from their beginning even hitherto: a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote, whose land the floods haue spoyled.

3 All yee the inhabitants of the world, and dwellers in the earth, shall see when f he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when hee bloweth the trumpe, yee shall heare.

4 For so the Lord said vnto mee, I will g rest and behold in my tabernacle, as h the heat drying vp the raine, and as a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the floure is finished, and the fruits is riping in the floure, then he shall cut downe the branches with hooks, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes:

6 They shall be left together vnto the fowles of the mountaines, and to the beasts of the earth: for the fowle shall summer vpon it, and euery beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.

7 At that time shall a k present bee brought vnto the Lord of hostes (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote, whose land the riuers haue spoyled), to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

Assyrians, as chap 8 7. f When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians. g I will stay a while from punishing the wicked. h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of floures, whereby he meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. i Not onely men shall conteme them, but the brut beasts. k Meaning, that God will pitie his Church, and receive that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conversion to the Lord.

THE burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord b rideth vpon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be moued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the mids of her.

3 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians, so euery one shall fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the d spirit of Egypt shall faile in the mids of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the forcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruell lords, and a mightie king shall rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall e faile, and the riuers shall be dried vp, and wasted.

6 And the riuers f shall goe farre away: the riuers of defence shall bee emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flags shall be cut downe.

politic, and wisdom. e Hee sheweth that the sea and Nilus that great riuers, whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not bee from his anger, but that hee would sende the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them vnder as slaves. f For Nilus ran into the sea by streames, as though they were so many sipes.

a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia which lieth toward the sea, which was so full of ships that the failes (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea b Which in those countreys were great, inasmuch as they made ships of them for swiftnesse.

c This may be taken, that they sent other to comfort the Iewes, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did sollicite the Egyptians, and promised them aide to goe against Iudah.

d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues, made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threatned, Deut. 32.

CHAP. XVII.

1 A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 17 Calamitie moueth to repentance.

THE burden of b Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

2 The cities of c Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraide.

3 The munition also shall cease from d Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the e glory of the children of Israel, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day the glory of f Iakob shall be impouerished, and the farnesse of his flesh shall be made leane.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth g the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shall be as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of h Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall i be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tree, two or three berries are in the top of the vpmost boughes, and foure or fiue in the high branches of the fruite thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy one of Israel.

8 And hee shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things which his own fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs & branches, which they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange m vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to flourish: but the harvest shall bee gone in the day n of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrow.

12 o Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sound like the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noyse of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee farre off, and shall be chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the wind, and as a rouling thing before the whirlewinde.

14 And loe, in the evening there u t trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoyle vs, and the lot of them that rob vs.

Is the citie of Israel shall no more bee able to defend their inhabitants, then heere, when God shall send the enemies to plague them m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countreys. n As the Lord threatned the wicked in his Law, Levit. 26. 14. o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and possessed of many nations. p Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

10 He appointed a testimony vnto the enemies of the Church. 11 Who will observe fully the same for the which hee is hired, and serue no longer, but will euer long for it.

12 Hee Chap. 17. 13 The chiefes citie of Syria.

14 It was a country of Syria by the river Arnon. 15 It meaneth that the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these reuelings of Syria and Israel, when as they had compassed the country of Iakob.

16 The ten tribes, gathered in their multitude, and all Iacob will be gathered there: for he saith that they shall be brought downe, and the Syrians also.

17 Meaning, of the ten tribes which heeded themselves of their rebellious, profane, arrogant, and malicious.

18 As the abundance of corne doth not leaue the harvest men that should cut it downe: no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, when God shall appoint to destroy them.

19 Which valley was full of Iakob.

20 Iakob God would have his conquest full, he p-mitteth to receive some of this people, and to bring them to repentance.

21 Hee sheweth that Gods corrections were bring forth some fruit, and made his enemies to flee from their faces, and to humble themselves to him.

22 As the Canaanites left their cities, when God did plague the Israelites there, so the citie of Israel shall no more bee able to defend their inhabitants, then heere, when God shall send the enemies to plague them m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countreys.

23 As the Lord threatned the wicked in his Law, Levit. 26. 14. o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and possessed of many nations.

28 Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

29 Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

30 Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

31 Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

32 Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q Hee compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which cometh out at night, and in the morning is gone.

g The Hebrew word is mouh, whereby they mean the spring out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.
h The Scriptures use to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, figs, sith, and such other things, whereby countries are enriched.
i Called also Tanes, a famous cite vpon Nilas.
k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who persuaded the king that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and to hee flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise.
l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and some called the great Cairn.
m The principall vpholders thereof are the chiefest cause of their destruction.
n For the spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken & giddie with the spirit of error.
o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.
p Considering that through their occasion the lewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare lest the like light vpon them.
q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God by the speech of Canaan, meaning, the language wherein God was then serued.
r Shall renounce their superstitions, & protest to serue God aright.
s Meaning of five cities five should serue God, and the sixt remaine in their wickednes: and so of the sixt part there should be but one left.
t There shall be euident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarkes, and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place and full manner how hee would bee worshipped.
u This declareth that this prophesie should bee accomplished in the time of Christ.
x By these ceremonies hee comprehendeth the spirituall seruice vnder Christ.

7 The grasse in the riuer, and at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuer shall wither, and be drinen away, and be no more.
8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the riuer, shall lamente, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.
9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of diuers sorts, shall be confounded, & they that weaue nets.
10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds shall be heauie in heart.
11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say yee vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wise? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?
12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?
13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of Noph are deceived, they haue deceived Egypt, euens the corners of the tribes thereof.
14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit of errours: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.
15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may doe, nor the taile, the branch nor the ruff.
16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: for it shall be afraide and feare because of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.
17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shall bee afraide thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which hee hath determined vpon it.
18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.
19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the mids of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.
20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witness vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crie vnto the Lord, because of the oppressours, and he shall send them a Sauour, and a great man, and shall deliuer them.
21 And the Lord shall be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and do sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.
22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, & he shall be intreated of them, and shall heale them.
23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Aschur, and Aschur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Aschur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Aschur.
24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Aschur, euens a blessing in the mids of the land.

There shall be euident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarkes, and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place and full manner how hee would bee worshipped.
u This declareth that this prophesie should bee accomplished in the time of Christ.

a The three yeeres captiuitie of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three yeeres going naked of Isaiah.
1 In the yeere that Tartan came to Ashdod, (when Sargon king of Aschur sent him, and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it,
2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Goe, and loose the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foote. And hee did so, walking naked, and barefoote.
3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three yeeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia, 4 So shall the king of Aschur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men and olde men, naked and barefoote, with their buttockes vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.
5 And they shall feare, and bee ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glorie.
6 Then shall the inhabitant of this gyle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for helpe to be deliuered from the king of Aschur, and how shall we be deliuered?

CHAP. XXI.

x Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes.
1 The burden of the desert sea. As the whirlwinds in the South use to passe from the wilderness, so shall it come from the terrible land.
2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto mee, The transgressour against a transgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Goe vp to Elam, besiege Media: I haue caused all the mourning thereof to cease.
3 Therefore are my foliues filled with sorow: sorowes haue taken me as the sorowes of a woman that trauelleth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amazed when I saw it.
4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnesse troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath beene turned into feare vnto me.
5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: eat, drinke: arise, yee princes, anoynt the shieldes.
6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.
7 And hee saw a charret with two horsemen: a charret of an asse, and a charret of a camell: and hearkened, and tooke diligent heed.
8 And hee cried, A lion: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and I am set in my watch euery night:
9 And beholde, this mans charret commeth with two horsemen. And he answered and said, Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken vnto the ground.
10 O my threshing, and the corne of my floore. That which I haue heard of the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

b That is the citie of Babylon by the Medes and Persians.
c The Assyrians & Caldeans, which had destroyed other nations, shall be ouercome of the Medes & Persians: and this he prophesied as hundred yeeres before it came to passe. d By Elam he meant the Persians.
e Because they shall find no succour, they shall meane no more, or I haue caused them to come mourning vnto Babylon and distressed.
f This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians.
g He prophesied the death of Nebuchadnezzar, as Dan. 5.30. who in 7 mo. of his pleasures was destroyed.

16 Take an harpe and go about the city: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make sweete melodie, sing moe longs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the ende of seventy yeeres shall the Lord visite Tyus, and shee shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be holy vnto the Lord: it shall not be laid vp nor kept in store, but her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eate sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

19 Though shee have bene chastised of the Lord, yet she shall returne to her olde wicked practises, and for gaine shall give her selfe to all mens lusts like an harlot.

20 Hee sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyus to repentance, and turne her heart from unice and filthie gaine unto the true worshiping of God, and libertie toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the finnes of the people. 13 A remnant reuered shall praise the Lord.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and hee maketh it waste: hee turneth it vpside down, & scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like Priest, and like seruant, like master, like mayde, like mistress, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vsury.

3 The earth shall be cleane emptied, and vtterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away, the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the everlasting Couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of mery heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noyse of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the heart ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The city of vanity is broken downe: euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streetes: all ioy is darkened: the mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an oliue tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, euen the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth wee haue heard prayes, euen glory to the iust, and I sayd, My leanneffe, my leanneffe, woe is me: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that flecth from the noyse of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heavy vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord visite the host above that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be shut vp in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be visited.

23 Then the moone shall be abashed, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hosts shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glory shall be before his ancient men.

24 No more than they did at Nochs flood. 25 There is no power in high as mountains, but God will visite him with his rods. 26 Not with his rods, as verse 25, but hee comforted. 27 When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the same shall be before his ancient men.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that that hee sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, by the punishing the wicked & maintaining the goodly.

O Lord, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will prayse thy Name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to thy counsels of old, with a stable trueth.

2 For thou hast made a <sup>b</sup> citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the <sup>d</sup> mightie people giue glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bin a strength vnto the poore, even a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadowe against the heate: for the blast of the mighty is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, <sup>f</sup> as the heate in a dry place: hee will bring downe the song of the mighty, as the hear in the shadow of a cloude.

6 And in this <sup>h</sup> mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine <sup>i</sup> the couering that couereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 Hee will destroy death for euer: and the Lorde God will <sup>k</sup> wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lee, this is our God: we haue waited for him, & he will saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we will reioice and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shal the hand of the Lord rest, and <sup>l</sup> Moab shalbe threshed vnder him, even as straw is threshed in <sup>m</sup> Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as hee that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy wals shall he bring downe and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, even vnto the dust.

<sup>i</sup> Meaning, that ignorance and blindness, whereby wee are kept backe from Christ. <sup>k</sup> Hee will take away all occasions of sorrowe and gill with perfect ioy, Revel. 7. 17. and 21. 4. <sup>l</sup> By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church. <sup>m</sup> There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chr. 2. 48. and another in the land of Moab, Ieremie 48. 2. which seemeth to haue bene a plentiful place of wine, Chap. 10. 37.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall <sup>a</sup> this song bee sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: <sup>b</sup> saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the trueth, may enter in.

3 By an assured <sup>d</sup> purpose wilt thou preferue perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwell on high: <sup>e</sup> the high citie hee will abase: even vnto the ground will he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, even the feete of the f poore, and the steps of the needie.

<sup>e</sup> There is no power for him that can let God, when he will destroy him. <sup>f</sup> God will let the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the iust is righteousnesse: thou wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy <sup>g</sup> iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne <sup>h</sup> righteousnesse.

10 Let mercie be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousnesse: in the land of vprightnesse will he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine high hand: but they shall see it; and hee confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other <sup>m</sup> lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, but wee will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The <sup>n</sup> dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased <sup>o</sup> the nation, O Lord: thou hast encreased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lorde, in trouble haue they <sup>p</sup> visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth neere to the traualle, is in sorow, and crieth in her paines, so haue wee been in thy <sup>q</sup> sight, O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceived, wee haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth <sup>r</sup> winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of <sup>r</sup> the world fall.

19 <sup>s</sup> Thy dead men shall liue: even with my body shall they rise. Awake, & sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy <sup>t</sup> dewe is as the dew of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: <sup>x</sup> enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her <sup>y</sup> blood, and shall no more hide her flaine.

again by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust when they seele the dewe of Gods grace. <sup>x</sup> He exhorteth the patient in their affliction, and to waite vpon Gods worke. <sup>y</sup> The earth shall vomite and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath dranke, that it may crye for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdome of Satan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

IN that day shall the Lord with his sore and great <sup>a</sup> and mighty <sup>b</sup> sword shall visit Liuiathan, that pearcing serpent, euē Liuiathan, that crooked serpent, & he shal slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard <sup>c</sup> of redde wine.

3 I the Lorde doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: left any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

<sup>c</sup> Meaning, of the best wine, which the vineyard, that is, the Church, should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.

<sup>g</sup> We haue constantly abode in the adversities where with thou hast afflicted vs.

<sup>r</sup> Our sorowes had none end, neither did we enioy the comfort that we looked for.

<sup>t</sup> He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory.

<sup>u</sup> The contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

briers & the thorns against me in battel? I would go through them, I would burne them together.
5 Or will hee feelee my strength, that hee may make peace with me, and be at one with me?
6 Hereafter Iakob shall take roote: Israel shall flourish and grow, and the world shall be filled with fruit.

that smote him? or is hee slaine according to the

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. 2. The untoward-ness of them that should learne the worde of God. 14. God doeth all things in time and place.

WO to the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty shall be a fading flour, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fatte, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lorde hath a mighty and strong host like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewind that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that ouerflowe, which throwe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, even the crown & the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beauty shall bee a fading flour, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fatte, and as a the hasty fruit afore summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in hand he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beauty vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that

6 <sup>l</sup> Sixth in iudgement, and for <sup>l</sup> strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.
 7 But <sup>g</sup> they haue erred becaufe of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest and the people haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone a-fray through strong drinke: they faile in vision:
 they stumble in iudgement.
 8 For all <sup>the</sup> tables are full of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.
 9 <sup>h</sup> Whome shall he teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstand the things that he heareth? them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breasts.
 10 For <sup>i</sup> precept <sup>must</sup> be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.
 11 For with a stammering <sup>k</sup> tongue and with a strange language shal he speake vnto this people.
 12 Vnto whom <sup>l</sup> hee said, <sup>m</sup> This is the rest:
<sup>n</sup> giue rest to him that is weary: and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.
 13 Therefore shall the worde of the <sup>o</sup> Lorde be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle and there a litle, that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
 14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye <sup>l</sup> scornful men, that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.
 15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a <sup>p</sup> couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made a <sup>q</sup> fallshood our refuge, and vnder vanity are wee hidde.
 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold,
 I will lay on Zion a stone, a <sup>r</sup> tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. Hee that be-leeueth, <sup>s</sup> shall not make haste.
 17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and <sup>t</sup> righteousness to the balance, and the <sup>u</sup> haile shal sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflow <sup>v</sup> the secret place.
 18 And your couenant with death shalbe dis-annulled, and your agreement with hell shal not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be troden downe by it.
 19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely <sup>y</sup> feare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.
 20 For the bedde is <sup>z</sup> strait, that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrowe that one cannot wrappe himselfe.
 21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount <sup>a</sup> Perazim: hee shalbe wroth as in the valley <sup>b</sup> of Gibe-on, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.
 22 Now therefore bee no mockers, lest your bonds increale: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.
 23 Hearken ye, and heare my voice: hearken ye and heare my speech.

24 Doeth the plow-man plow all the day, to fow? doeth he open, and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it plaine, will he not then fow the fitches, and fow cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shal a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread come when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, neither doth the wheele of his cart still make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophetic against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

A H an altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: b let them kill lambes.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shalbe heauinesse and sorow, and it shal be vnto me like an altar.

3 And I wil besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and wil cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the d ground, and thy speech shalbe as out of the dust: thy voyce also shal bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shal whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shalbe like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shal be as chaffe that passeth away: and it shal be in a moment, even suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame, or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shalbe like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, and make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

Meaning that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, the heart to vnderstand.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people come neere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lips, but haue remoued their heart farre from me, and their feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore behold, I will againe do a marueilous worke in this people: even a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisedome of their wise men shal perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shalbe hid.

15 Woe vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their workes are in darknesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuises shal it not be esteemed as the potters clay? for shal the worke say of him that made it, He made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shalbe p turned into Carmel? and Carmel shal be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shal the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eies of the blind shal see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shal receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shal reioyce in the Holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shal cease, & the scornfull shalbe consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie, shal be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, and tooke him in a snare: which reprobued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lorde vnto the house of Iaakob, even he that redeemed Abraham: Iaakob shal not now be confounded, neither now shal his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the mids of him, they shal sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the Holy one of Iaakob, and shal feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 He reprooueth the Iewes which in their aduersitie used their owne counsels. 2 And sought helpe of the Egyptians. 10 Despiseth the Prophets. 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them. 18 But offereth mercie to the repentant.

W Oe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shal be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

7 For the Egyptians are vanity, and they ſhall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto e her, Their ſtrength is to ſit ſtill.

8 Now go, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the laſt day for euer and euer,

10 Which ſay vnto the Seers, See not, and to the Prophets, Prophesie not vnto vs right things: but ſpeake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie k errors.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aſide out of the path: cauſe the Holy one of Iſrael to ceaſe from vs.

12 Therefore thus ſaith the Holy one of Iſrael, Becauſe you haue caſt off this word, and truſt in violence, and wickednes, and ſtay thereupon, 13 Therefore this iniquity ſhall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a ſwelling in a hie wall, whoſe breaking commeth ſuddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broken without pite, and in the breaking thereof is not found m a ſheard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water o of the pit.

15 ¶ Thus ſaid the Lord God, the Holy one of Iſrael, In reſt and quietneſſe ſhall ye be ſaued: in quietneſſe and in confidence ſhall bee your ſtrength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue ſaid, No, but we will flee away vpon n horſes. Therefore ſhall ye flee. We wil ride vpon the ſwifteſt. Therefore ſhal your perſecuters be ſwifter.

17 A thouſand as one ſhall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of ſiue ſhall ye flee, till ye be left as a ſhip maſt vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon a hill.

18 Yet therefore wil the Lord wait, that he may haue q mercie vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compaſſion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of r iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people ſhall dwell in Zion, and in Ieruſalem: thou ſhalt weepe no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voice of thy cry: when he heareth thee, he will anſwere thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduerſitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine ſhall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes ſhall ſee thy || raine.

21 And thine eares ſhall heare a word behind thee, ſaying, This is the way, ¶ walke ye in it, when thou turneſt to the right hand, and when thou turneſt to the left.

22 And ye ſhall t pollute the covering of the images of ſiluer, and the rich ornament of thine images of golde, and caſt them away as a menſtruous cloth, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto it, ¶ Get thee hence, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a moſt filthy thing, and ſaying that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and in ſinnes enemies to idolatrie.

23 Then ſhall he giue raine vnto thy ſeede, when thou ſhalt ſowe the ground, and bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhall be fat and as oyle: in that day ſhall thy cattell be fed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen alſo and the yong aſſes, that till the ground, ſhall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the ſhouell and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie x mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill ſhall there be riuers and ſtreames of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers ſhall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moone ſhall be as the light of the y Sunne, and the light of the Sunne ſhalbe ſeuē fold, and like the light of ſeuē dayes in the day that the Lord ſhall binde vp the breach of his people, and heale the ſtroke of their wound.

27 Behold, z the Name of the Lord commeth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his ſpirit is as a riuier that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth aſunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there ſhall be a bridle to cauſe them to erre in the iawes of the people.

29 ¶ But there ſhall be a ſong vnto you as in the night, when a ſolemne feaſt is kept: and gladneſſe of heart, as he that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the Mightie one of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhal cauſe his glorious voice to be heard, and ſhall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with ſcattering and tempeſt, and haileſtones.

31 For with the voice of the Lord ſhal Aſhur be deſtroyed, which ſmote with the e rod.

32 And in euery place that the ſtaffe ſhal paſſe, it ſhal d cleaue faſt, which the Lord ſhal lay vpon him with e tabrets & harpes, and with battels, and lifting vp of hands ſhall he fight f againſt it.

33 For g Tophet is prepared of old: it is euen prepared for the h King: he hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuier of brimſtone, doeth kinde it.

g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, h So that their eſtate or degree cannot exempt the wicked. ¶ By theſe figuratiue ſpeeches he declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

2 But he yet is e wiſeſt: therefore he wil bring euill, & not turne backe his word, but he wil ariſe againſt the houſe of the wicked, and againſt the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the government of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

Behold, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule in iudgement.

2 And that man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and as a refuge for the tempest: as rivers of water in a drie place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a weary land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A niggard shall no more be called liberal, nor the churle rich.

6 But the niggard wil speake of niggardnesse, and his heart wil worke iniquity, and do wickedly, and speake falsly against the Lord, to make empty the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirftie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he deuifeth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words, & to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man wil deuife of liberall things, and he wil continue his liberalitie.

9 Rise vp, ye womē that are at ease: heare my voice, ye careless daughters: hearkenē to my words.

11 Ye women that are at ease, bee astonied: feare, O ye carelesse women: put off the clothes: make bare, and gird sackcloth vpon the loines.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The destruction of them by whom God hath punished his Church.

Woe to thee that a spoilest, and wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shall doe wickedly against thee.

2 O Lord haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast our arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoile shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and he shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for hee dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgment & iustice.

6 And there shall bee stability of thy times, strength, saluation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Behold their messengers shall crie without, & the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

CHAP. XXXVI.

NOW <sup>a</sup> in the <sup>b</sup> fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Ashtur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the King of Ashtur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great host, & he stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came fourth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the <sup>c</sup> steward of the house, and Shebna <sup>d</sup> the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Afaph the recorder.

4 And <sup>e</sup> Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the King of Ashtur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, <sup>f</sup> Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel & strength <sup>g</sup> are for the warre: on whom then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pearce it: so <sup>h</sup> is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose hie places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Ashtur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou <sup>i</sup> despise any captaine of the <sup>j</sup> least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 <sup>k</sup> Then said Eliakim, and Shebna and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, <sup>l</sup> Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall?

13 And he answered them, saying, My master hath said, and so not to hope for any helpe of God. <sup>m</sup> Or, turne backe, Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneherib his captaines. <sup>n</sup> Thus the wicked to decieve vs, will pretend the will of the Lord: but wee must trie the spirit, whether they be of God or no. <sup>o</sup> They were a'raid, lest by his wordes he should haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to goe to some appointment with him.

that they may eate their owne dooing, and drinke their owne <sup>p</sup> pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Ashtur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah decieve you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: this cite shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Ashtur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Ashtur, Make <sup>q</sup> appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, <sup>r</sup> euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Least Hezekiah decieve you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Ashtur?

19 Where is the god of <sup>s</sup> Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they <sup>t</sup> kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Afaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

AND <sup>a</sup> when the King Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the stwarde of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth vnto <sup>b</sup> Iſaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the <sup>c</sup> birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath <sup>d</sup> heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Ashtur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then <sup>e</sup> lift thou vp thy praiser for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

<sup>a</sup> King. 19. 1. <sup>a</sup> In signe of griefe and repentance. <sup>b</sup> To haue comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seeke vnto God and his ministers. <sup>c</sup> We are in as great sorrow as a woman that is without child, and cannot be deliuered. <sup>d</sup> That is, will declare by effect that he hath heard in for whom God doeth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that he knoweth not the time, or heareth not the sound in command.

g Which was a cite toward Egypt, thinking thereby to have stayed the force of his enemies.

h Then God would have him to utter a most horrible blasphemy before his destruction: as to call the authors of all truth, & deceivers some gather hereby that Saneherib had disclosed unto Saneherib the answers that Isaiah sent to the King.

p Declaring hereby that they that are enemies to Gods Church, fight against him, whose quorell his Church onely maintaineth.
q He boasteth of his power, in that that his armie is so great, that it is able to drie vp whole rivers, and to destroy the waters, which the Lewes had closed in.

7 Beholde, I will send a blast vpon him, and he shall heare a noyle, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Ashtur fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be giuen into the hand of the King of Ashtur.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the Kings of Ashtur haue done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed? as Gogzan, and Haran, and Rezech, and the children of Eden which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the cite of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it, and he went vp into the house of the Lorde, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lorde.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which I dwellst betwene the Cherubims, thou art vey God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lorde, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lorde, and see, and heare all the words of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Truth it is, O Lorde, that the kings of Ashtur haue destroyed all lands, and their countrey.

19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, of wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore, O Lorde our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lorde.

21 Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Ashtur,

22 This is the word that the Lorde hath spoken against him, The virgine, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Ierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou railled on and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice and lifted vp thine eyes on high against the holy one of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou railled on the Lorde, and said, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the height of his top, and to the forefront of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged, and drunke the waters, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard howe I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long agoe? and should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and lide on ruinous heapes, as cities defended?

27 Whose inhabitants haue small power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the grasie of the field and greene herb, or grasie on the house tops, or come blasted afore it be growen.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy fury against mee.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hooke in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

30 And this shall be a y signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this yere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yere such things as grow without sowing: and in the third yere, low ye and reape, and plant vineyardes, and eate the fruite thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take root downward, and beare fruit vward.

32 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the reule of the Lorde of hostes shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lorde concerning the King of Ashtur, He shall not enter into this cite, nor shoute an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, and not come into this city, saith the Lorde.

35 For I will defend this cite to saue it, for mine owne sake, and for my seruants Danids sake.

36 Then the Angel of the Lorde went out, and smote in the campe of Ashtur an hundred fourescore, and five thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 So Saneherib King of Ashtur departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at Nineueh.

38 And as he was in the Temple worshipping of Nisroch his god, Adramelech and Sharezer his soanes, slew him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Ararat: and Sardanaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

1 Hezekiah is sick. 2 He is restored to health by the Lorde, and liueth fiftene yere after. 3 Hee giueth thanks for his benefite.

ABOUT that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Iaiiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lorde, leane ouerly to depend vpon God and aspire to the heauen, was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, seeing he had sinned quickly after his deliuerance from so great calamitie, as one vnto the Church, forasmuch as he left no sonne to reigne after him: or as yet Manasse was not borne: and when he reigned, we see what a tyrant he was.

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, laying,

5 Go, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I have heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I will adue vnto thy dayes fifteen yeeres.

6 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the king of Asshur, & this citie: for I will defend this citie.

7 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing that hee hath spoken,

8 Behold, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the dial of Ahaz by the sunne, ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

9 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said in the cutting off of my dayes, I shal goe to the gates of the graue: I am deuiued of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remooued from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weaner my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned to the morning: but he brake all my bones like a lyon: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, it hath oppressed me, comfort mee.

15 What shall I say? for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke feebly al my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, q to them that ouerlie them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knowne, that thou causedst me to sleepe and hast giuen life to me.

17 Behold, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my finnes behind thy backe.

18 For the graue cannot confesse the death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the liuing, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we will sing my song, all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of drie figs and lay it vpon the boyle, and hee shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiah is reproved because hee showed his treasures vnto the ambassadors of Babylon.

At the same time, Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, & shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious oylment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, & said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said hee, When haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes, 6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntill this day, shalbe caried to Babel: nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shal proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

8 ¶ Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and hee said, Yet let there be peace, and truth in my dayes.

5 And the glory of the Lord shalbe reueiled, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

27 Why sayest thou, O Iakob, and speakest O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euertlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is wearie: there is no learching of his vnderstanding.

29 But he giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, hee encreaseth power.

30 Euen the young men shall faint, and bee wearie, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings, as the eagles: they shall run, and not bee wearie, and they shall walke and not faint.

1 Gods mercie is chusing his people. 6 Their idolatrie. 17 Deliueraunce promised to Zion.

Kepe a silence before me, O ylands, and let the people renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who raised vp iustice from the East, and calleth him to his foote? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the king? he gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 Hee pursued chem, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feete.

4 Who hath wrought and done it? he that calleth the generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the first, & with the last I am the same.

11 Behold, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them and shalt not finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall bee as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

a Because they will not acknowledge this benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliver them, but stretch themselves to be freed of their own merits through their own merits and incredulity. b There shall be none to deliver them, or to will the cause to reform that, which he hath spoiled. c Meaning, Gods wrath.

a After these threatenings he promises deliverance to his Church, because he hath no power to destroy them, adopted them, and called them. b When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefit, and the love of thy God, and it shall encourage thee. c By water and fire he meaneth all kind of troubles and perils. d I turned back, heribis power against their countries, made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldst have done, and so were as the payment of thy ransom, chap. 37. e I will outface a my man rather than thou shouldst perish for God more esteeme one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the world. f He propheseth of their deliverance from the captivity of Babylon, and so of calling of the universal Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut. 32. 7. g Meaning, that he could not be victorious of them, except he would neglect his own Name and glory. h Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous work, nor all their idols are able to do the like, as Chap. 41. 22. i To prove that the things which are spoken of them, are true. k Showing, that the malice of the wicked hindreth them in the knowledge of the truth, because they will not hear when God speaketh by his word. l The Prophets and people to whom I have given my Law. m Meaning specially Christ, and by him all the righteous.

Did not the Lord, because we have sinned against him? for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Lawe. 25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell: and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

a The Lord comforteth his people. He promitteth deliverance to the Jews. 11 There is no God but one alone.

But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Iaakob: and he that formed thee, O Israel, b Feare not: for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the <sup>c</sup> waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not ouerflow thee. When thou walkest thorough the very fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave <sup>d</sup> Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my fight, and thou wast honourable, and I loved thee, therefore will I give <sup>e</sup> man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy feede from the <sup>f</sup> East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Give: and to the South, <sup>g</sup> Keepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, & my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Euery one shall bee called by my <sup>h</sup> Name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered <sup>i</sup> together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their <sup>j</sup> witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them <sup>k</sup> heare, and say, It is truth.

10 You <sup>l</sup> are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my <sup>m</sup> seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleue mee, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before mee there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, <sup>n</sup> euery I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, & I haue saved, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange <sup>o</sup> god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in <sup>c</sup> the Sea, and a path in the mighty <sup>d</sup> waters.

17 When he <sup>e</sup> bringeth out the <sup>f</sup> chariot and horse, the armie and the power lie together, and shall not rise, they are extinct, and quenched as towes.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold I do a new thing now: shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euery make a way in the <sup>g</sup> desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde <sup>h</sup> beasts shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gave water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to give drinke to my people, euery to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not <sup>i</sup> called vpon mee, O Iaakob, but thou hast <sup>j</sup> wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou <sup>k</sup> hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honored me with thy sacrifice. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest me no sweete <sup>l</sup> sauer with money, neither hast thou made mee drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me to serue with thy finnes, and wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, <sup>m</sup> euery I am hee that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Put me in <sup>n</sup> remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou that thou maiest be iustified.

7 And who is like mee, that shall call and shall declare it, and set it in order before mee, since I appointed the ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let them shew vnto them.

8 Feare yee not, neither be afraid: haue not I told thee of olde, and haue declared it? you are euen my witness, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and their delectable things shall nothing profit: and they are their owne witnesses, that they see not nor know: therefore they shall bee confounded.

10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all that are of the fellowship thereof, shall be confounded: for the workmen themselves are men: let them all bee gathered together, and stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an hungred, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: hee fashioneth it with a red threed, he plaineth it, & he purtrayeth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man, that it may remaine in an house.

14 Hee will hew him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the raine doth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he wil take thereof, and warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet hee maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole, and boweth vnto it.

16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof hee eateth flesh: he roseth the roste, and is satisfied: also hee warme himselfe, and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue benee at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, he worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuere mee: for thou art my god.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstood: for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof: I haue roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shal I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bowe to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceived him that he cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these (O Iakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy sinnes as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 Reioyce yee heauens: for the Lord hath done it: shewt, ye lower parts of the earth: braist forth into praises, yee mountaines, O forest and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wife men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 He confirmeth the word of his seruant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Ye shall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the deepe, Be drie, and I will drie vp the floods.

28 He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard: and he shall performe all my desire: saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely layed.

29 Hee sheweth that Gods worke should be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt thorow the sea. f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person by whom it should be, more then an hundred yeeze before he was borne.

Thus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anointed, whose right hand I haue holden to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loynes of kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will goe before thee, and make the crooked straight: I will breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darknesse, and the things hid in secret places, that thou maiest know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

4 For Iakob my seruants sake, and Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not known me.

The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles, 3 Hee calleth the Jewes to the consideration of his workes.

B El is bowed downe: Nebo is fallen: their idoles were vpon the beastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not rid them of the burden, and their soule is gone into captiuitie.

3 Heare ye me, O house of Iakob, & all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are borne of mee from the wombe, and brought vp of mee from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I will beare you vntill the hoare haire: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will cary you, and I will deliuer you.

5 To whom will ye make me like, or make me equall, or compare me that I should be like him?

6 They draw gold out of the bag, and weigh siluer in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bow downe and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they cary him and set him in his place: so doth he stand, and can not remouue from his place. Though one crie vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe to minde, O you transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me.

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will doe whatsoever I will.

11 I call a bird from the East, and the man of my counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare me yee stubburne hearted, that are farre from iustice.

13 I bring nere my iustice: it shal not be far off, and my saluation shal not tarie: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glorie vnto Israel.

i That is, Cyrus, which shal come as swift as a bird, & fight against Babylon.

The destruction of Babylon, and the cause wherefore.

Come downe, and sit in the dust: O virgine, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no throning,

He call the idolaters to remembrance, warning them to looke vnto him with the eyes of faith.

a That is, the thing which I haue promised shall be faithfully performed.

b The knowledge of God in the world worshipping shall be theore all the must not only haue a These were the chief idoles of Babylon.

b Because they were of gold and silver, the heathen and Persians carried them away.

c The beasts which carried the idoles, fell downe under their burden.

d He denoteth the idoles, which had neither soules nor sense.

e Hee sheweth the difference betweene the idoles and the true God, for they may be caried of others, but God himselfe carrieth his as Deut. 32. 11.

f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserve you for euer.

g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mightie as the idoles of their enemies: therefore hee describeth the original of all the idoles: make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to reprooue them vile. Baruch. 4. 35.

h Become wise, meaning that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like mad men.

i Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that which I haue determined: I which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise.

a Which shall lead in wealth and vncertainty, and haue yet beene overcome by any enemy.

b throne, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.

2 Take the mill stones, and grinde meale: loose thy lockes: & make bare the foote: vncouer the leg, and passe through the floods.

3 Thy filthinesse shall be discouered, and thy shame shall be seene: I will take vengeance, and I will not meete thee as a man.

4 Our redeemer, the Lorde of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, & giuen them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercie, but thou didst lay the very heauy yoke vpon the ancients.

7 And thou saidst, I shal be a ladie for ever, so that thou didst not set thy minde to these things, neither didst thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest carelesse. She sayth in her heart, I am & none els: I shal not sit as a widow, neither shall knowe the losse of children.

9 But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children & widowhood: they shal come vpon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebel, & thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whome thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profit, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gassers, and prognosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things that shal come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shal burne them: they shal not deliuer their owne lines from the power of the flame: there shalbe no coales to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shall they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen thy merchants from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrite of the lewis is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Egypt.

Heare yee this, O house of Iaakob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are comie out of the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the Name of the Lord, & make mention of the God of Israel, but not in trueth nor in righteounesse.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and stay themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of old, & they went out of my mouth, & I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 But thou sayest that they could not accuse him in any thing, for as much as he had promised what he had promised.

4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an iron sinew, and thy brow braffe.

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not yee declare it? I haue shewed thee newe things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest grievously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the wombe.

9 For my names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praise wil I refrain it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I haue fined thee, but not as filter: I haue chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name be polluted? surely I wil not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iaakob and Israel, my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laide the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I cal them, they stand vp together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, and heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued him: he wil doe his will in Babel, and his arme shalbe against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, & his way shal prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profit, and leade thee by the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou hadst hearkned to my commandements! then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, & thy righteounesse as the waues of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had bene as the sand, and the fruit of thy bodie like to the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 Goe yee out of Babel: flee yee from the Caldeans, with a voice of ioy: tell & declare this: shew it forth to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iaakob.

21 And they were not thirstie: hee led them thorow the wildernes: hee caused the waters to flow out of the rocke for them: for hee claue the rocke and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

23 What things shall doe thee good. x That is, he professed himselfe to be a prophet, and hee had forewarned them of their captiuitie, and the cause thereof, hee shewed them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. x Hee shewed that it shalbe as ealie to deliuer them, as hee did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus hee speaketh that the wicked hypocrite should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. 21.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lorde exhorteth all nations to leaue his promises. 6 Christ.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, & at thy stubbornnesse and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

f How thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon.

g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefit and declare it vnto others?

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisdom.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church.

k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that I must saue thee.

l For I had respect to thy weaknesse and infirmities: for in flower there is some parente, but in vs there is nothing but dross.

m I took thee out of the fornace where thou shouldest haue bene consumed.

<sup>a</sup> This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithful, that these promises should come to passe, for they were al made in him, and in him should be performed.

<sup>b</sup> This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Phil. 2.7.

<sup>d</sup> God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.

<sup>e</sup> By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members, and their head.

<sup>f</sup> That Christ in his members complained, that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God.

<sup>n</sup> Signifying, that before Christ renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.

<sup>o</sup> To them that are in the prison of sinne and death.

<sup>p</sup> Christ is the saluation of all that beleue, and will deliuer them from the tyrants of their enemies.

Hear ye me, O yles, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lord hath called a me from the wombe, & made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

<sup>2</sup> And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quier.

<sup>3</sup> And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, * Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

<sup>4</sup> And I said, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lorde, and my worke with my God.

<sup>5</sup> And now sayth the Lord, that formed mee from the wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall be my strength)

<sup>6</sup> And hee said, It is a small thing that thou shouldst be my seruant to raise vp the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

<sup>7</sup> Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy one, to him that is despised in foule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shall see, and arise, and princes shall worship; because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the Holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

<sup>8</sup> Thus sayth the Lord, <sup>1</sup> In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and will giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayest raise vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

<sup>9</sup> That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darkenesse, Shewe your felues: they shall feede in the wayes, and their pastures shall bee in all the toppes of the hilles.

<sup>10</sup> They shal not be hungry, neither shal they be thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion on them, shall lead them: euen to the springs of water shal he driue them.

<sup>11</sup> And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.

<sup>12</sup> Behold, these shall come from farre: and loe, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of Sinim.

<sup>13</sup> Reioice, O heauens: and be ioyfull, O earth: brast forth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

<sup>14</sup> But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

<sup>15</sup> Can a woman forget her child, & not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

of mine hands: thy walls are etier in my sight.

<sup>17</sup> Thy builders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

<sup>18</sup> Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I liue, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all vpon thee as a garment, and girde thy selfe with them like a bride:

<sup>19</sup> For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shal surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee, shall be farre away.

<sup>20</sup> The children of thy barrenesse shal say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for mee: giue place to me that I may dwell.

<sup>21</sup> Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten mee these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

<sup>22</sup> Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift vp mine hand to the Gentiles, and set vp my standart to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armies: and thy daughters shall be carried vpon their shoulders.

<sup>23</sup> And Kings shall bee thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shall be thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet: and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

<sup>25</sup> But thus saith the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mighty shal be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I wil contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children.

<sup>26</sup> And I will feed them that spoyle thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: and al flesh shal know that I the Lord am thy sauiour and thy redeemer, the mightie one of Iakob.

CHAP. L.

Thus sayth the Lord, Where is that bill of your mothers diuorcement, whom I haue cast off? or who is the creditour to whom I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are yee sold, and because of your transgression is your mother forsaken.

<sup>2</sup> Wherefore came I, and there was no man? I called, & none answered: mine hand so shortened, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I drie vp the sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

<sup>4</sup> The Lord God hath giuen mee a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is wearie: he will raise their doctrine, and conuert. <sup>e</sup> Am I not as able to helpe you your fathers of olde, when I dried vp the red sea, and killed the fish in the reedes, and also afterward in Iordan? <sup>f</sup> As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure. <sup>g</sup> The Prophet doeth reuerent here the person and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministerie of Gods word. <sup>h</sup> To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie.

<sup>z</sup> He saith what are the remembrance of the Church to haue many children, which are multiplied by the word of God, and governed by his spirit. <sup>a</sup> He the word that Christ will not gather this great number of the Jewes, but also of the Gentiles.

<sup>b</sup> Meaning, that Kings shall be connected to the Gospel, and becom their power and authority for the preservation of the Church.

<sup>c</sup> Being ioyful with the Church, they shall humble themselves to Christ their head, & give him all honour.

<sup>d</sup> He maketh this an objection, as though the Church were strong, and had them in full possession.

<sup>e</sup> This is the answer to their objection, that none is stronger than the Lord, who hath a more full spirit vnto them. <sup>f</sup> I will cast them to destroy one another, as Isa. 55. 12. Chap. 55. 12.

<sup>h</sup> A high should declare that I haue cut her off, meaning, that they could shew none. <sup>i</sup> Signifying, that he would them out for any debt or poverty, but that they should themselves to sinne to buy their owne lusts and pleasures.

<sup>j</sup> He comes by his prophets and ministers, but they would not beleeue, as I haue before said. <sup>k</sup> The Prophet doeth reuerent here the person and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministerie of Gods word. <sup>l</sup> To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie.

me vp in the morning: in the morning he will waken mine eare to heare, i as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hidde not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not bee confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shal not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustificeth me, who wil contend with mee: Let vs stand together, who is mine aduersary? let him come neere to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shal wake old as a garment: the mothe shall eate them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voice of his seruant: he that walketh in darkenesse, and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kinde as a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in forow.

CHAP. LI.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, 22 and her deliuerance.

Hear me, ye that follow after righteousness, and yee that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the rocke whence yee are hawen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shal comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioy and gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voice of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto mee, my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a Law shall proceed from me, & I wil bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousness is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine armes shal iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shal trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousness shall not bee abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law: Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worrne shall eate them like wooll: but my righteousness shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, Rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as in the olde time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, euen the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euermore ioy shalbe vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse: and forowe and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortall man, and the soune of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of mine hand, that I may plant thee in heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunke at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whom shee hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, & lie at the head of all the streets as a wilde bull in a nette, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregges of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke no more.

23 But I wil put it into their hand that spoyle thee: which haue said to thy soule, Bowe downe, that we may goe ouer, and thou hast layd thy bodie as the ground, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the messengers thereof.

A Rise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for hencefoorth there shall no more come into thee the vncircumcised and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy selfe from the dust: arise, and sit downe, O Ierusalem: loose the bands of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter Zion.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought, & they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, saith the Lord? and my Name all the day continually is blasphemed?

CHAP. LIII.

1 Of Christ and his kingdome, whose words fewe will beleue. 2 All men are sinners. 3 Christ is our righteousnesse. 4 And is dead for our sinners.

W<sup>H</sup>O will beleue our report? and to whom is the blame of the Lord reueiled?

2 But hee shall growe vp before him as a branch, and as a roote out of a dry ground: he hath neither forme nor beautie, when we shall see him, there shall be no forme that wee should desire him.

3 Hee is despised and reiected of men: he is a man full of sorowes and hath experience of infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised and we esteemed him not.

4 The beginning of Christes kingdome shall be small and contemptible in the sight of men, but it shall growe wonderfully, and flourish before God. d Read Chap. 11. 1. e Which was by Gods singular providence for the comfort of sinners. f By the preaching of the Gospel.

4 Surely hee hath borne our infirmities, and carried our sorowes: yet wee did iudge him, as if he were plagued and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, hee was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was vpon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All wee like sheepe haue gone astray: wee haue turned every one to his owne way, and the Lord hath laid vpon him the iniquitie of vs all.

7 Hee was oppressed and hee was afflicted, yet did hee not open his mouth: hee is brought as a sheepe to the slaughter, and as a sheepe before her shearer is dumme, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 Hee was taken out from prison, and from iudgement: and who shall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the liuing: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 And he made his graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though hee had done no wickednesse, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, and make him subiect to infirmities: when hee shall make his soule an offering for sinne, he shall see his seed, and shall prolong his dayes, and the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 Hee shall see of the trouble of his soule, and shall bee satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous seruant iustifie many: for hee shall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and he shall diuide the spoyle with the strong, because he hath powred out his soule vnto death: and hee was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sinne of many, and prayed for the trespassers.

1 Moes of the Gentiles shall beleue the Gospel them of the Iewes. 2 God leaueh him for a time, to whom afterward hee sheweth mercie.

R<sup>E</sup>IOYCE, O barren that diddest not beare: breake forth into ioy and reioyce, thou that diddest not trauaile with child: for the desolate hath moe children then the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtaines of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy cords, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seede shall possesse the Gentiles, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not bee ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not bee put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproch of thy widowhood any more.

5 For he that made thee, is thine husband, (whose Name is the Lord of hostes) and thy redeemer the Holy one of Israel, shall bee called the Father vnder Cyrus was her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished, when she came to her age, which was vnder the Gospel. c Signifying, that for the great number of children that God should giue her, she should come to want room to lodge them. d The afflictions which thou sufferedst at the beginning.

a After that he hath declared the death of Christ he speaketh to the Church, because she should see the fruite of the sonne, & called her barren, because that in the beginning she was as a widow without hope to haue any children. b The Church in this her affliction and captiuitie shall bring forth many children: when shee was at liberty, or this may be spoken by admission considering the great number that shee should come of her. was forsaken in youth.*

God of the woole g world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a young wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a little while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment, in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with euertlasting mercie haue I had compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shal remooue, and the hilles shal fall downe: but my mercie shall not depart from thee, neither shall the couenant of my peace fal away, saith the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires, 12 And I will make thy windowes of emerauds, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shalbe taught of the Lord, and much peace shalbe to thy children.

14 In righteousness shalt thou be established, and be farre from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare: for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Behold, the enemy shall gather himselfe, but without me: whosoever shall gather himselfe in thee, against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I haue created the smith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his worke, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and euery tongue that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lords seruants, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the faithfull.

HO, euery one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that haue no siluer, come, buy and eate: come, I say, buy wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out siluer, and not for bread? and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, and eate that which is good, and let your foule delight in fatnesse.

3 Encline your yeares, and come vnto mee: heare, and your foule shall liue, and I will make an euertlasting couenant with you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gaue g him for a witnesse to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people, all things necessary to the spirituall life, as these are necessary to the corporall life. d He reproued their ingratitude which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meane time spare neither cost nor labour to obtaine those which are nothing profitable. e You shall be fed abundantly. f The same couenant which through my mercie I ratified and confirmed to Dauid, that it should be eternall, 2 Sam. 7. 13, act. 13. 34. g Meaning Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee because of the Lorde thy God, and the holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may be found: call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is very readie to forgiue.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe, and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue seed to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,

11 So shall my worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shal not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hils shall breake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes there shall grow firre trees: for nettles shall grow the myrrhe tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euertlasting signe that shall not be taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepherds that deuoure their focke.

THUS saith the Lorde, a Keepe iudgement and doe iustice, for my saluation is at hand to come, and my righteousness to be reueiled.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: he that keepeth the Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the son of the stranger, which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a drie tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and keuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take hold of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them wil I giue in mine House and within my wals, a place and a name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euertlasting name, that shall not bee put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to bee his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and inbraceth my couenant,

7 Them wil I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shalbe accepted vpon mine altar: for mine

10 Their watchmen are all blind: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumbe dogs: they can not barked: they lie and sleepe, and delight in sleepe.

11 And these greedie dogges can neuer haue enough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their own way, euerie one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill our felues with strong drinke, and to morow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

Gods wrath against them. I We are well yet, and to morrowe let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 2 Of the wicked idolaters, 3 and their vaine confidence.

The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken away from the euill to come.

2 Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beds, euerie one that walketh before him.

3 But you wretched children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whom haue ye iested? vpon whom haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seede?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euerie greene tree? and sacrificing the children in the valleys vnder the tops of the rockes?

6 Thy portion is in the smooth stones of the river: they, they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a very high mountaine: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the doores also & posts hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy selfe to another then me, and wentest vp, and didst enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant betwene thee and them, and loudest their bed in euerie place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest to the kings with oile, and diddest increase thine ointments, and send thy messengers faire off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou weariedst thy selfe in thy manifold iourneys, yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

And whom didst thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast liyed vnto me, and hast not remembered me, neither set thy mind thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long time? therefore thou fearest not me.

I will declare thy righteousness, and thy workes, and they shall not profit thee.

When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the wind shall take them all away: vanitie shall pull them away: but he that trusteth in me shall inherit the land, and shall possesse mine holy Mountaine.

And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

For thus saith he that is high and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to renew the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, for the spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

For his wicked couetousnesse I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid mee, and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

I haue seene his waies, and will heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

I create the fruite of the lips, to be peace: peace vnto them that are faire off, and to them that are neere, saith the Lord: for I will heale him.

But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

Their euill conscience doth euer torment them, and neuer haue rest, read Chap. 48. 12.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 3 The fast of the faithfull. 4 Of the true Sabbath.

Crie aloud, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iacob their finnes.

Yet they seeke me daily, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they will draw neere vnto God, saying,

Wherefore haue we fasted, and thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you will seeke your will, and require all your debts.

Behold, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: ye shal not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voice to be heard aboute.

Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bow religion. So long as you vs contention and oppression prayer shall not be heard.

b The soule of the righteous shall be in ioy, and their body shall rest in the grave vnto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

c Meth came to the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the name of Gods people deided Gods word & his promises: boasting openly, that they were the children of Abrahams, but because they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he called them bastards, and the children of fornicators, which forsooke God, and fledde to wicked means for succour.

downe his head, as a bul-rush, and to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake enery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from his thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy righteousnesse shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkenes, and thy darkenes shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drough, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt bee like a watred garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repaire of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word, 14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hie places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of finnes. 16 God alone will preserve his Church though all men faile.

Behold, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heavy, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated between you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanity, & speake vaine things: they conceiue mischief, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice egges, and weaue the spiders web: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie in their hands.

7 Their feete runne to euill, and they make halte to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, & there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth iustice come neere vnto vs: we wait for light, but lo it is darkenes: for brightness, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 Wee grope for the wall like the blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like beares, and mourne like doves: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our finnes testifye against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and hee that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe a praye: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did saue it, and his righteousnesse it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For he put on righteousnes, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for cloathing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompence, as to requite the fury of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will fully repay the ylands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sunne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my Covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

22 Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he is yeaith the one with the other, and promisseth to gae them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall haue abundance though they suffer for a time.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold:
all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall couer thee:

Lord.

7 All the sheepe of Kedar shall be gathered they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine Altar:

and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloude, and 9 Surely the yles shall waite for mee, and the may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their siluer, and their golde with them vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continumen may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gen-

Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breastes of Kings:
and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mighty one of Isaak.

17 For brasse will I bring gold, and for yron will I bring siluer, and for wood brasie, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernment a peace, and thine exactions righteoulines.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation, thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightnesse of the Moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy Moone bee hid: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and the dayes of thy sorrow shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possesse the land for ever, the grasse of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a strong nation:
and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

C H A P. LXI.

1 Hee prophesies that Christ shall minster, and sent to preach,
10 The ioy of the faithfull.

The Spirit of the Lord God is vpon mee, therefore hath the Lord anointed mee: hee hath sent mee to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the broken hearted, to preach libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bound the opening of the prison.

2 To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beauty for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of glad-nesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called a tree of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the olde waste places, and raise vp the former desolations, and they shall repare the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand and feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priestes of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receiue double, and for confusion, they shall reioyce in their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement, and hate robbery for bount offering, & I will direct their worke in trueth, and will make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed mee with the garments of saluation, and co-uered me with the robe of righteoulinesse: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tyreth herselfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteou-nesse to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

Iewes in times past, now they shall haue double authority one twice so much. I will not receiue their offering, which are hypocrites or that d-prime me of my glory. I the Lord, I the Church, I the sheweth what shall be the affection, when they see this their deus.

CHAP. LXII.

The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christes coming. 6 The diligence of the Followers to preach.

For Zions sake I will not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

Thou shalt also bee a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

It shall no more be said vnto thee, Forsaken, neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

For as a yong man marieth a virgin, so shall thy soune marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: yet that are mindfull of the Lord keepe not silence.

And giue him no rest, till he repaire and vntill he set vp Ierusalem the praise of the world.

The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I wil no more giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

Goe through, goe through the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standart for the people.

Beholde, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the endes of the world: tel the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Sauour commeth: behold, his wages is with him, and his worke is before him.

And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A citie fought out and not forsaken.

For the restauration whereof all the world shall praise the Lord, and shall say, The Lord hath done this for us, and we will prepare for the restauration of the time, as Chap. 57. 14. Yee Prophets and ministers shew the people of this their deliuerance, which was done by our saluation by Christ, Zech. 9. 9. matth. 21. 5. Hee shall haue of power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 48. 10. O that is, one ouer whom God hath a singular care to recover her when she was lost.

CHAP. LXIII.

God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benedictions toward his Church.

Who is this that commeth from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? hee is glorious in his appaell, and walketh in his great strength, I speake in righteousness, and am mighty to saue.

Wherefore is thine appaell red, & thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans for these were the chief enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision and the mixed of Abraham and Isaac, hee is the chiefe religion, & hated the true worshippers, Ps. 137. 7. I haue asked them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and saith, Ye see the vengeance in deeds the vengeance which my Prophets threatened. And thus hee is to them which the Lord answere.

I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall besprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the day of my redeemed is come.

And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained mee.

Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

I will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the prayes of the Lorde according vnto all that the Lorde hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

For hee sayd, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so hee was their Sauiour.

In all their troubles hee was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and hee bare them and caryed them alwayes continually.

But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to bee their enemy, and he fought against them.

Then he remembered the olde time of Moses & his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vp out of the Sea with the shepherd of his sheepe? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within them?

Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euermourning Name.

Hee ledde them through the deepe, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from me.

Doubtlesse thou art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israel knowvs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

O Lorde, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

The people of thine holinesse haue possesed to his pasture.

Having declared Gods benedictions toward his Church, hee turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces towards them. Thy great affection which thou hast towards vs, O Lord, from the whole body of the Church. Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father. By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude dust deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and dust punish some by thee according to thy iust judgement. Meaning, for the Conuents sake made to Abraham, Isaac and Iacob his seruants.

d Showing that when God justifieth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliuerance of his Church. e God herewith that he hath no neede of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their dutie through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, as Chap. 19. 16. f I will forsake them, and make them to giddy, that they shall not know which way to goe. g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benedictions in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles. h For I did chide them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deserve mine expectation. i Hee bare their afflictions and griefe as though they had bene their owne. k Which was a witness of Gods presence: and this may be referred to Christ, who when he belonged to the office of saluation. l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benedictions, which he had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past. m Meaning, Moses. n That is, in Moses, that he might well gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is ledde to their flocks. p Having declared Gods benedictions toward his Church, hee turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces towards them. q Thy great affection which thou hast towards vs, O Lord, from the whole body of the Church. r Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father. s By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude dust deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and dust punish some by thee according to thy iust judgement. u Meaning, for the Conuents sake made to Abraham, Isaac and Iacob his seruants.

<sup>a</sup> That is, respect of the promise, which is perpetual: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan, a thousand and four hundred years his Covenant, then sed it, but a little while: for our adversaries have troden downe thy Sanctuary: <sup>b</sup> We have bene as they, over whom thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whom thy Name was not called:

<sup>c</sup> and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember to punish their sinnes.

C H A P. LXIII.

OH, that thou wouldest breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

<sup>2</sup> As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boile, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy adversaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

<sup>3</sup> When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

<sup>4</sup> For since the beginning of the world, they haue not heard nor vnderstood with the eare, neither hath the eye seen another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

<sup>5</sup> Thou diddest meete him, that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembered thee in thy ways: behold, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: yet in them is continuance, & we shall be saved.

<sup>6</sup> But we haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousness is as filthy cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

<sup>7</sup> And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stirreth vp himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast confirmed vs because of our iniquities.

<sup>8</sup> But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: wee are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine hands.

<sup>9</sup> Be not angry, O Lord, about measure, neither remember iniquities for euer: loe, we beseech thee beholde, we are all thy people.

<sup>b</sup> O Lord by thy iust iudgement thou mayest utterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet wee appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to bee thy children. <sup>c</sup> For so the flesh iudgeth when God doeth not immediately send succour. <sup>d</sup> Which were dedicate to thy seruice, and to call vpon thy Name. <sup>e</sup> Wherein were reioyced and worshipped thee. <sup>f</sup> That is, at the contempt of thine owne glory: though our sinnes haue deferred this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory that to be diminished.

C H A P. LXV.

I haue bene sought of them that asked not: I was found of them that sought me not: I sayd, Behold mee, behold me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

imaginations.

<sup>3</sup> A people that prouoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense vpon bricks, <sup>4</sup> Which remaine among the graves, and lodge in the deserts, which eat swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

<sup>5</sup> Which say, Stand apart, come not neere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that burneth all the day.

<sup>6</sup> Behold, it is written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosome.

<sup>7</sup> Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers, shall be together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, & blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore will I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

<sup>8</sup> Thus sayeth the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

<sup>9</sup> But I will bring a feede out of Iacob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherit my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

<sup>10</sup> And Sharon shall be a sheeppfold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue fought me.

<sup>11</sup> But ye are they that haue forsake the Lord, and forgotten mine holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnished the drinke offerings vnto the number.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore wil I p number you to the sword, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answere: I spake, and ye heard not, but did euil in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall eat, and ye shall be hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and ye shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shall be ashamed.

<sup>14</sup> Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and ye shall cry for sorow of heart, and shall howle for vexation of minde.

<sup>15</sup> And ye shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

<sup>16</sup> He that shall blesse in the earth shall blesse himselfe in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

<sup>17</sup> For loe, I will create new heauens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered nor come into minde.

<sup>18</sup> But be you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for beholde, I will create Ierusalem, as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall inioy in olde age the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the feed of the blessed of the Lord, and their buds with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answer, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

25 The Wolfe and the lambe shall feed together, and the lion shal eat straw like the bullocke: and to the serpent dust shalbe his meat. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 2 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 3 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetuall Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

Thus sayeth the Lorde, * The * heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that ye will build vnto me? & where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hand made, and all these things haue bene, sayth the Lorde: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my words.

3 He that killeth a bullocke, as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he that remembereth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne wayes, and their foule delighteth in their abominations.

4 Therefore will I chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them; because I called, and none would answer: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things that I would not.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shal appeare to your ioy, and they shalbe ashamed.

6 A voice soundeth from the citie, euen a voice from the Temple, the voice of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

and before her paine came, she was deliuered of a man childe. 8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shal the earth be brought forth in one day? or shal a nation be borne at once? for as soone as Zion travelled, she brought forth her children. 9 Shall I cause to trauell, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth, and shalbe barren, saith thy God? 10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalem, & be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her, 11 That ye may sucke, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milke out, and be delighted with the brightnesse of her glory. 12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend my peace, ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shalbe borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees. 13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, yee shall be comforted in Ierusalem. 14 And when ye see this, your hearts shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies. 15 For beholde, the Lord will come with fire, and his charrets like a whirlewinde, that hee may recompense his anger with wrath, & his indignation with the flame of fire. 16 For the Lord will iudge with fire, and with his sword all flesh, and the flaine of the Lord shal be many. 17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one tree in the mids eating swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the mouse, shalbe consumed together, saith the Lord. 18 For I will visit their works, and their imaginations; for it will come that I shall gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my glory. 19 And I will set a signe among them, and will send those that escape of them, vnto the nations of Tarsish, Pul, and Lud, and to them that draw the bowe, to Tubal and Iauan, yles afarre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles. 20 And they shal bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon horses, and in charrets, and in horselitters, and vpon mules, and swift beastes, to Ierusalem mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessell in the House of the Lord. 21 And I will take of them for Priests, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 2 Against the priests and false prophets. 3 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe, and cry in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindnesse of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness in a land that was not sowed.

3 Israel was as a thing, hallowed vnto the Lord; and his first fruites: all they that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, sayth the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus sayth the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone so farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become vaine?

6 For they sayd not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through the wilderness, through a desert, and waste land, through a drie land, and by the shadowe of death, by a lande that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same; but when ye entered, yee defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests sayd not, Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the Lawe, knewe me not: the pastors also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in Baa, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet plead with you, sayth the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For goe ye to the yles of Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto Kedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their glory, for that which doeth not profite.

12 O yee heauens, be astonied at this: be afraid and vtterly confounded, sayth the Lord.

That is, spake vaine things, & brought the people from the true gods, to the idols of Baa, which was the chiefe idol of the Moabites, and meant all idoles. Signifying that he would not as he might, fight against them, but sheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, they might be ashamed and repent. Meaning the Grecians and Italians. That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious, and whom all other people reprobouing the Iewes, that they were lesse diligent to follow the true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities. Meaning, the Iewes, which were their deities, Ioh. 1. 5. 36. f. He sheweth that the idolaters abhorre the Iewes ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods judgement against the same.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken mee the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge them pits, even broken pits that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a servant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The Lions roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes haue broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Asshur? to drinke the water of the Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reprove thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, sayth the Lorde God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saydest, I will no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou minnest about vpon all hie hills, and vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with g nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, sayth the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I followed Baalim? behold thy wayes in the valley, and know what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedary, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wild asse vnto the wilderness, that snuffeth vp the wind by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her back? all they that seeke her, will not weary themselves, but will find her in her moneth.

25 Keepe thou thy feete from barenesse, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saydest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the thiefe is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes and their priests, and their prophets.

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee to me by faith and repentance. Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worship the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice. He compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both valleys and hills are full of their idolatrie. Hee compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for there can neuer be tamed nor yet weary: for as hee runneth, hee can take his winde at every occasion. That is, when he is with foale, and therefore the hunters wait their time: so though they canst not be tamed backe now from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquities shall be at the full, God will meet with thee. in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore will ye please with me? yee all have rebelled against me, sayth the Lord.

30 I have smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your owne sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14. He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 20. He reprooueth Iudah and Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

They say, If a man put away his wife, & shee goe from him, and become another mans, shall hee returne againe vnto her? shall not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne againe to me, sayth the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, & with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, and the flatter raine came not, and thou haddest a whores forehead: thou wouldest not bee ashamed.

4 Diddest thou not still cry vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will hee referue it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebellious Israel hath done? for she hath gone vp vpon euery highmountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I sayde, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saw.

8 When I sawe, howe that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but shee went also and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath euen defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuerthelesse for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with her whole heart, but fainedly, sayth the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath justified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, sayth the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, sayth the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, & hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but yee would not obey my voice, sayth the Lord.

14 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, sayth the Lord, for I am your Lorde, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, sayth the Lord, they shall say no more, The Ark of the covenant of the Lorde: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lorde, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lorde in Ierusalem: and thencefoorth they shall followe no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayd, How did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayd, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, sayth the Lord.

21 A voice was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruered their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O yee disobedient children, returne, and I will heale your rebellions. Behold, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly she hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudah no righteous man is found, neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudah is destroyed of the Caldeans.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

O Israel, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt b sweare, The Lord lieth in iudgement, and in righteousness, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glorie in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudah, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp c your fallow ground, and fowe not among the thornes: bee circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burne that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions.

5 d Declare in Iudah, and shew forth in Ierusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land: crie, and gather together, & say, Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standert in Zion: e prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The f lion is come vp from his den, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shalbe destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with sackcloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the King shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shall bee astonished, and the g Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast h deceiued this people, and Ierusalem, saying, Yee shall haue peace, and the sword pearceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it bee said to this people and to Ierusalem, A drie iwinde in the hie places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither k to fanne nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie wind shall come vnto me from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Behold, hee shall come vp as the l cloudes, and his charrets shalbe as a tempest: his horses are lighter then eagles. m Woe vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou mayest be faued: how long shal thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

r Chap. 16. 10.
s Meaning, the Prophet Jeremiah.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they haue not sorrowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the Forrest shall slay them, and a Wolfe of the wildernesse shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shall be torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken me, and ssworne by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselves by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning like fed horses: for euery man *neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Climbe vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full ende: i take away their barlement, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grievously trespassed against mee, sayth the Lord.

12 They haue k denied the Lord, and said, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shall be as wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus sayth the Lord God of hostes, Because yee speake such words, behold, I will put my wordes into a thy mouth, like a fire, and his people shall be as wood, and it shall deuoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you o from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thine haruest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes & thy daughters: they shall eate vp thy sheepe and thy bullocks: they shall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they shall destroy with the sworde thy fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust.

18 Neuer thelesse, at those daies, saith the Lord, I will not make a full ende of q you.

19 And when * yee shall say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God doe these things vnto vs? then shalt thou answere them, Like as yee haue forsaken mee and serued strange gods in your land, so shall yee serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iaakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying,

1 Heare now this, O foolish people, and without vnderstanding, which haue *eyes and see not, which haue eares and heare not.

2 Feare yee not mee, saith the Lord? or will yee not be afraid at my presence, which haue placed the sand for the * bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it cannot passe, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not prauaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it?

3 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

4 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine both early and late in due season: hee resemeth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the haruest.

5 Yet your iniquities haue turned away these things, and your finnes haue hindred good things from you.

6 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay waite as hee that letteth snaires: they haue made a pit, to catch men.

7 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

8 They are waxen fat and shining: they doe ouerpasse the deeds of the wicked: * they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

9 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.

11 The * prophets prophesie lies, and the priests receive gifts in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will ye then doe in the ende thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The coming of the Syrians and Caldeans, 16 Hee exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

O yee children of a Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the mids of Ierusalem, and blowe the trumpet in b Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon Beth-haccerem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to a beautifull and daintie woman.

3 The Pastors with their flockes shall come vnto her: they shall pitch their tents round about by her, and euery one shall feede in his place.

4 Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes said, Hew down wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must bee visited: all oppression is in the mids of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so shee casteth out her malice: s crueltye and spoyle is continually heard in her before me with sorrow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate q Of Topheth read 2. King. 23. 10.

r But commanded the contrary, as Levit. 18. 21. & 20. 3. deut. 8. 10.

14 Therefore wil I do vnto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp cry or prayer for them, neither intreat me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke mee to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall bee powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be wel vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels of the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early every day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare mee nor encline their eare, but hardened their necke, and did worfe then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these words vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on die hie places: for the Lord hath reiecte and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lord: they haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie places of Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth till there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall bee meate for the fowles of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah, and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord mooueth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth his lying doctrine and the couetousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

At that time, sayth the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graues.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the host of heauen, whom they haue loued, and whom they haue serued, and whom they haue followed, and whom they haue fought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as doing vpon the earth.

3 And death shall bee desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they fall and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they gaue themselves to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? every one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stork in the ayre knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle and the crane and the swallows obserue the time of their comming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

8 How doe ye say, We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with vs? Lo, certainly in vaine made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: loe, they haue reiecte the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto others, and their fields to them that shall possesse them: for every one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, every one dealeth falsly.

11 For they haue healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall bee cast downe, sayth the Lord.

2. Reg. 18. 17.

a The enemies for greedinesse of gaine shall despoyle your graues, and lay you befor the gods, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can helpe you.
b Because of the affliction, therefore shall feele through Gods iudgements.

c Is there no hope that they will returne?

d They are full of hypocrisy, and every one followeth his own course, take wisdom my confidencie.
e He accuseth them in that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements than their birds are of their appointed seasons to discerne the cold and heat, as 1. 1.
f The Law doth not profit you, neither needed it to haue bene written for ought that you haue learned by it.
g They that seeme wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance: for all wisdom consisteth in Gods word.

i Read chap. 14.

1 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade, and the things that I have given them shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? assemble your selves, and let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and given vs water with gall to drinke, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came, and for time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neyng of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noise of the neyng of his strong horses: for they are come, and have denoured the land with all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I will send serpents and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would have comforted my selfe against sorow, but mine heart was heavy in me.

19 Beholde the voice of the crie of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a furre country, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why haue they prouoked mee to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the Summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

Meaning, that no mans helpe or meenes could cure them: for in Gilead was precious balme. Chap. 46. 1. as also deuiding the voice confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue been the Physicians of their souls, and dwell at Gilead, Hos. 6. 8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people.
2 In the knowledge of God ought we ouly to reioyce.
3 The vncircumcision of the heare.

Oh, that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they bee all adulterers, and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not known mee, saith the Lord.

4 Let every one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for every brother will vso deceit, and every friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And every one will deceiue his friend, and will not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

They were corrupt, and none could finde an honest man. They had refused to know me, because they refused to know the Lord. They had refused to know the Lord, because they refused to know the truth.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will melt them, and trie them: for what shoulde I doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart hee layeth wait for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my foule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp, so that none can passe thorow them, neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the foule of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passeth thorow?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein.

14 But haue walked after the stubburnesse of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will feed this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue knownen, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heed, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull workmen, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye-liddes gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are wee destroyed, and utterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, and teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

22 Speake, Thus saith the Lord, The carkeises of men shall lie, euen as the doung vpon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glorie in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which shew mercy, iudgement, and righteousness.

i He sheweth that the children can not excuse themselves by their fathers sinners, for both in-ther and child if they be wilful, shall perish.

m Heede Chap. 3. 24.

n Seeing you can now lament your own sin, call for their sorow, who were so sinners, that they by their sinners may prouoke on to lone sorrow.

p He denieth the superstition of the women which made an art of mourning, and taught weeping with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no way to deliuer the wi-thered from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most sure off, hee see they soon are taken.

r Forasmuch as none can save him- selfe by his owne labour, nor any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and relye in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 2 Cor. 1. 3. 2. Cor. 1. 7.

s These things point out necessa-ry to the wretched his mercy, which is con- sidered in our sal-uation: his iudgement, which he ex- ecuteeth often against the wicked: it is in him, who by he deserveth and is worthy that the saluall.

will bee your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe . that I haue sworne vnto your fathers , to giue them a lande, which floweth with milke & honie, as appeareth this day. Then answered <sup>b</sup> I, and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare yee the words of this couenant and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuerthelesse they would not obey, nor encline thine eare; but every one walked in the stubbornnes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the wordes of this couenant, which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel & the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, & the inhabitants of Ierusalem goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not bee able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streets of Ierusalem haue yee set vp altars of confusion, <sup>a</sup> even altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp a cry, or prayer for them: for when they cry vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my beloved <sup>a</sup> tarie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh <sup>a</sup> goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A Greene olive tree, faire, and of goodly fruit: but with a noyse and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, & of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lorde hath taught mee, and I know it, even then thou shewedst me <sup>a</sup> their practices.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the lande of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lorde therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands).

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visit them: the young men shall die by the sword: their sonnes and their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, even the yeere of their visitation.

<sup>1</sup> The Prophet marvelleth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although hee confesse God to be righteous. 2. The Jews are forfakers of the Lord. 3. Hee speaketh against passions and preachers, that seduce the people. 4. The Lord strengtheneth his word vnto the nations that trouble Iudah.

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the way of the wicked prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken root: they grow, and bring forth fruit, thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their <sup>a</sup> reines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seene me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbs of euery field wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, He will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast runne with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thought thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iordan?

6 For euery thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken <sup>a</sup> mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearly beloved of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

<sup>c</sup> They professe God in mouth, but denie him in heart, which is heere meant by the words, I haue left mine heritage. d The Hebrew word is, Sa: a false them meaning, that God would be satisfied in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterward they should be more fully his heauie iudgement when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercie.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Ierusalem is figured. 11 Why Iffrael was re ceived to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 25
He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lorde vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, & put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I brought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me
the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe to ward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe toward Perath, and take the gir dle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, & digged, & tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profita ble for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem,

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my word, and walke after the stubburnesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall bee as this girdle, which is profitable to no thing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to me the whole house of Is rael, & the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lord, that they might bee my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euerie bottell shall be filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Doe we not know that euerie bottell shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priestes and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunken nesse.

14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lorde: I will not spare, I will not pitie, nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glorie to the Lord your God before he bring a darkenesse, and or euer your feet stum ble in the darke mountaines, & whiles you looke for light, he turne it into the shadowe of death and make it as darkenesse.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, and mine eie shall weepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall bee caried away captiue: it shall be wholly caried a way captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke that was ginen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shall visit thee?
(for thou hast taught them to be captiues and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered & thy heelles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his skin? or

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the dearth that should come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The vnsauisfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

The word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the dearth.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the cry of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and couered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plow men were ashamed, and couered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

7 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drew their wind like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 O Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

8 O thou hope of Israel, the sauour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by, to tarie for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy Name is called vpon of vs: forsake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not restrained their feet, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but he will now remember their iniquitie, and visit their sinnes.

11 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, i Thou shalt not pray to do his people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, beholde, the prophets say vnto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name: I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom these prophets do prophesie, shall be cast out in the streets of Ierusalem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall be none to burie them: both they and their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednesse vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes drop down teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grievous plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, behold the slaine with the sword: and if I enter into the city, behold them that are sicke of hunger also: moreover, the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandering into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly reiected Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that wee cannot be healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 Wee acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showers? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore wee will wait vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Jewes, 3 but threatened to destroy them with foure plagues.

Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shal we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoint ouer them foure kindes, sayth the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I will scatter them also in all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the sonne of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which hee did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shall bee sory for thee? or who shall go to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fanne f in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes are increased by me aboute the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the assembly of the yong men, a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the city suddenly and speedily.

a The Lord forbidding Jeremiah to marrie, sheweth him what should be the affliction vpon Iudah. 13 The captiuitie of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

The word of the Lorde came also vnto mee, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus sayeth the Lorde concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters, that are borne in this place and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land.

4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ Woe is mee, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striueth with the whole earth: I haue neither lent on vsury, nor men haue lent vnto me on vsury: yet euery one doth curse me.

11 The Lord sayd, Surely thy remnant shall haue wealth: surely I will cause thy enemy to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall the yron breake the yron, and the brasie that commeth from the North?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I giue to be spoiled without gain, and that for all thy finnes euen in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember mee, and visit me, and reuenge me of my persecuters: take mee not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found by me, & I did eat them, and thy word was vnto me the ioy and reioicing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hosts.

17 I sate not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I reioice, but sat alone because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heauinesse continuall? and my plague desperate and can not be healed? why art thou vnto me as a liar, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou returne, then wil I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the precions from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them returne vnto thee, but return not thou vnto them.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee, and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

received them with as great ioy, as hee that is afflicted eateth strong brasen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee, and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

but they shall be as dung vpon the earth, and they shall bee consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shall bee meat for the fowles of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, sayeth the Lord, euen mercy and compassion.

6 Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and drinke.

9 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes, the voyce of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voice of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shewe this people all these words, and they shall say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lorde pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? and what is our sinne that we haue committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them; Because your fathers haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Law,

12 (* And ye haue done worse then your fathers: for beholde, you walke euery one after the stubbornnes of his wicked heart, & will not heare me)

13 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

14 Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more be said, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, 15 But, The Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the landes where hee had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers, and they shall fish them, and after, wil I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine, and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are vpon all their waies: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie carions and their abominations.

19 O Lorde, thou art my force, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the endes of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

h That is, their sonnes and daughters, which they offered to Moloch. i He wondred at the great mercy of God in this deliuerance, which should not only extend to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles. k Our fathers went most vnto the idolaters, therefore it cometh only of Gods mercy, that hee should be so merciful, and haue not utterly cut vs off.

1 The forwardnes of the Jewes. 5 Curied be those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The living waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath is commended.

The sinne of Iudah is written with a pen of yron, and with the point of a diamond, and grauen vpon the table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your altars.

2 They remember their altars as their children, with their groues by the greene trees vpon hilles.

3 O my mountaine in the field, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to bee spoiled, for the sinne of thy high places throughout all thy hie borders.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabite the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

14 Heale me, O Lord, and I shall bee whole: saue mee, and I shall be saued: for thou art my praise.

There cometh of their contempt of God, for a time he doth not see their sin, but for a time he doth see it, and then he will punish them, for it shall be as men that see not their sin, and then he will punish them.

In the field of the Law of God they haue written idollatrie and all abominations in their heart.

Your sinnes are written in all the tables of your heart, and they are as a book open before me, and I will punish them.

Some read, So that their children remember their sinnes, and follow their fathers in wickednes.

2100 that was my mountaine shall now be left awaye field, I leaue them without rest, not giue the land rest, at such times, dayes, and nights, as I appointed, thou shalt be as a tree that is planted by the water, and shall not see when the heat cometh, but her leafe shall be greene, and shall not care for the yere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

15 The word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying, 15 Beholde, they say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pasture after thee, neither haue I desired the day of miserie, thou knowest that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye Kings of Iudah, & all Iudah, & all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem, 22 Neither carrie forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded you fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their necks stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuerthelesse, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, & from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifices of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counsell: but when hee threateth, it is a calling to repentance, and when hee giveth man grace to repent, the threatening (which enforceth a condition in it) is taken away: and this the scripture calleth repentance in God, because it is appointed to mans judgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne felles will.

d As no man that hath thirke refueth fresh conduit waters which he hath at home, to goe and seek water abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seek for helpe and succour at strangers and heathen God, which was present with them.

e That is, the way of truth which God had taught by his law, read Chap. 5. 16.

f I will shew mine anger and not my fauour toward them.

g This argument the wicked haue euery vnto against the seruants of God. The Church cannot erre: we are the Church, and therefore whosoever speaketh against vs, they ought to die.

1. King. 22. 24. Chap. 7. 4. and 20. 2. malice. 4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pompe, and in multitude, but is known by the grace of the holy Ghost.

h Let vs slander him, and accuse him: for we shall be beloued.

i Seeing the obdurate malice of the aduersaries which growe dayly more and more, the Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnall affliction prayeth for their destruction because hee knew that it should lead to Gods glory, and profite of his Church.

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to root it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, & concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight, and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations and doe euery man after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snowe of Lebanon, which commeth from the rocks of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Law shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wife, nor the word from the Pophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not give heed to any of his wordes.

19 Hearken vnto mee, O Lord, and heare the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the crie be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

The Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnall affliction prayeth for their destruction because hee knew that it should lead to Gods glory, and profite of his Church.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me: tendeth to death: forgive nor their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them bee ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

These prophesies the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus saide the Lord, Goe and buy an earthen bottell of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the Eastgate: and thou shalt preach there the words, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the wordes of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shall tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto others gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commaunded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feed them with the flesh of their sonnes, and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitnesse, wherewith the enemies that seeke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee, 11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, & the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the host of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and saide to all the people,

CHAP. XX.

2 Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the worde of God. 3 He propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 His complainte that he is a mocking stocke for the worde of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Pasfur, the sonne of Immer, the priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things, 3 Then Pasfur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the hie gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pasfur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pasfur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to bee a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friendes, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and hee shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliuer all the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pasfur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy friendes, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lorde, thou hast deceived mee, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast preuailed: I am in derision dayly: every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed a defolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision dayly.

9 Then I sayd, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feare on euery side. I Declare, said they, and we will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shal preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lord is with mee like a mighty gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 But, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, and seest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man child is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noone tide, 17 Because he hath not slaine mee, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorow, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He propheseth that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

The worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pasfur, the sonne of Maasiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maasiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lorde for vs, (for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wondrous workes, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then sayd Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your handes, wherewith yee fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this city.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, & with a mighty arme euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man, and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sword and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: hee shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this citie, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but hee that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this city, for euil and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the King of Babel, and hee shall burne it with fire.

11 And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressour, lest

C H A P. XXII.

g He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousness. g Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. h The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

Thus sayd the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, * Execute yee iudgement and a righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shal the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, * and ride vpon charets and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I b sweare by my selfe, sayeth the Lorde, that this House shalbe waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah, Thou art c Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will d prepare destroyers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe e cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 f And many nations shall passe by this city, and they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lorde done thus vnto this great city?

9 Then shall they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 g Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, but weepe for him g that goeth out: for hee shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching h Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue ledde him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 g Woe vnto him that buildeth his house by vnrighteousnesse, and his chambers without equite: hee vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 Hee saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windowes, and seeling with cedar, and paint them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou clovest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy k father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, hee prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but one-ly for thy couetousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, m enen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shal not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 Hee shall be buried, as an asse m is buried, m enen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 g Goe vp to n Lebanon, and cry: shewte in o Bashan, and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saydest, I will not heare, this hath bene thy maner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feede all thy pastors, p and thy louers shall goe into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the q cedars, how beautifull shalt thou be when forowes come vpon thee, as the sorrow of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though r Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose s face thou fearest, s enen into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where yee were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land, whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole? or as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, hee and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O t earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this t man destitute of chuldre, a man that shal not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

WO be vnto the pastours that destroy and scatter the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastours that feede my people, Yee haue scattered my flocke, & thrust them out, and haue not visited them: beholde, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your works, sayth the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall growe and increase.

4 And I will set vp shepherds ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall any of them bee lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous branch, and a King shall reigne and prosper, and shall execute iustice and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saued, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousness.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But, the Lord liueth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey, and from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath overcome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine Houe, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slipperie wayes in the darknesse: they shall be driuen soorth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, & caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophets of Ierusalem filthinesse: they commit adultery and wa ke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto me as Sodome, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone soorth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise mee, The Lord hath sayd, Yee shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stood in the counsell of the Lorde that hee hath perceiued, and heard his word? Who hath marked his worde and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shal not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue perfourmed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes yee shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednesse of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets sayd, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Doethy prophets delight to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceite of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, and hee that hath my word, let him speake my worde faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheate, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steale my word euen one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweet tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Behold, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lorde, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I den, which the sinners were not able to sofrine, therefore they would say, You seeke nothing els, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reiect the word of God as a grievous burden, and was brought to contempt and derision, hee will teach them another manner of speech, and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teach them to aske with reverence, What sayth the Lord?

o Reade Chap. 4. 14. and 8. 11.

v Hee sheweth that Satan saith vnto false prophets to bring the people from God. x Let the false prophet declare that it is his owne fantasie, and not stande r my word as though it were a cloke to couer his lies.

y Meaning that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies, and to speake the word of God: but that there be iudgement in alleging it, and that it may appere to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezek. 3. 17.

c Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, hee will teach them another manner of speech, and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teach them to aske with reverence, What sayth the Lord?

CHAP. XXVI.

Jeremiah mouerh the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the falſe Prophets and Prieſtes, and brought to iudgement. 23 Uryah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah King of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, ſaying,

1. Thus ſayeth the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords Houſe, and ſpeake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worſhip in the Lordes Houſe, all the wordes that I commaund thee to ſpeake vnto them: keepe not a word backe,

2. If ſo be they will hearken, and turne euery man from his euil way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, becauſe of the wickedneſſe of their workes.

3. And thou ſhalt ſay vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes which I haue ſet before you,

4. And to heare the wordes of my ſeruants the Prophets, whom I ſent vnto you, both riſing vp early, and ſending them, and will not obey them,

5. Then will I make this Houſe like a ſhiloh, and will make this cite a curſe to all the nations of the earth.

6. So the Prieſtes, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah ſpeaking theſe wordes in the Houſe of the Lord.

7. Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of ſpeaking all that the Lord had commaunded him to ſpeake vnto all the people, then the Prieſtes, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and ſayd, Thou ſhalt die the death.

8. Why haſt thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, ſaying, This Houſe ſhalbe like ſhiloh, and this cite ſhall be deſolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered againſt Jeremiah in the Houſe of the Lord.

9. And when the Princes of Iudah heard of theſe things, they came vp from the Kings houſe into the Houſe of the Lord, and ſate downe in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords Houſe.

10. Then ſpake the Prieſtes, and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, ſaying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophe-ſied againſt this cite, as ye haue heard with your eares.

11. Then ſpake Jeremiah vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, ſaying, The Lord hath ſent mee to propheſie againſt this Houſe and againſt this cite all the things that ye haue heard.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, yee shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then saide the Princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite * prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah king of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Zion shalbe plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shalbe an heape, and the mountaine of the house shalbe as the hie places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did he not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Vrijah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-iareim, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King fought to slay him. But when Vrijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they set Vrijah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

Jeremiah at the commandments of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were there, whereby they are manifested to be subiects vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. ¶ He warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they beleue not false Prophets.

N the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Ioliah King of Iudah came this worde vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus sayeth the Lord to mee, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke.

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, & to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah,

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, & the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beastes of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntill the very time of his lande come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your forcerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, & serue him, those wil I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will yee die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets that speake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that yee might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be brought againe from Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this citie be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord bee with them, let them intreate the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie.

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when he carried away captive Iehoii This is of the House of the Lord: to wit, Zion, and these examples the godly alledged to deliuer Ieremiah out of the Priests hands, whose rage else would not haue bene in it, but by his death.

k So that the citie was not destroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of the hands of Sennacherib.

l Here is declared the fury of tyrants, who cannot abide to heare Gods word declared but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they procure nothing, but procure Gods iudgements so much the more.

m As in the sixth, Hezekiah's example is to be followed, for in this other Iehoiakim's action is to be abhorred for Gods plague did light on him, and his household.

n Which declares that nothing could haue appeased their fury, if God had not imposed this horrible man to stand valiantly in his defence.

a As touching the disposition of these prophesies, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether observe the order of times, but did set some first, which should be after, and contrariwise: which if the reader will be well, it shall auoid many doubts, and make the reading much more easie.

b By such figures the Prophet, used sometimes to confirme his prophesies, which notwithstanding they could not doe of themselves, but in as much as they had a revelation for the same. 22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visit them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The selfe prophetic of Hananiah. 12 Jeremiah representeth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

And that same yeere in the beginning of the reignes of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the fourth yeere, and in the fift moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azar the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the House of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and sayd,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah sayd vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the preface of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Jeremiah sayd, So be it: the Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue, from Babel into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before mee and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowen that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet rooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying, 13 Goe and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then sayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yeere in the seventh moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babilon. 10 Hee prophesieth their returne after seventy yeeres. 16 Hee prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem. 21 He threateth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of Shebnaiah is prophesied.

Now these are the wordes of the booke that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders, which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuches, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workmen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elafah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue caused to be caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruits of them,

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that yee may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whether I haue caused you to be caried away captiue, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that bee among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, that after seuentie yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and perfourme my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, sayth the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you crie vnto mee, and ye shall goe and pray vnto mee, and I will heare you.

13 And ye shall seeke mee, and finde me, because 15 ¶ Because ye have said, The Lord hath raised vs vp 8 Prophets in Babel,

16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivitie :

17 Such thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughty.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence : and I will make them a terror to all kingdoms of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment, and an hissing, and reproch among all the nations whither I have cast them, 19 Because they have not heard my wordes, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, but yet would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord all ye of the captivitie, whom I have sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maseiah, which prophesie lies vnto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliuer them into the hands of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captivitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babel burnt in the fire, 23 Because they have committed a villenie in Israel, and have committed adulterie with their neighbours wives, and have spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I have not commaunded them, euen I know it, and testify it, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for every man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore, why hast thou not reproued Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he seps vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captivitie is long : build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivitie, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and hee caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed : hee shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall hee behold the good, that I will do for my people, saith the Lord, because hee hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 How manereth the compass, 18. and comforteth the church.

The word, that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captivitie of my people Israel and Iudah, saith the Lord : for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Again, these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Wee haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund now and behold, if man trauell with childe : wherefore doe I beholde euery man with his hands on his loynes as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into palenesse?

7 Alas, for this day is great : none hath bene like it : it is euen the time of Iakobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serue themselves of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and David their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iakob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel : for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seed from the land of their captivitie, and Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee : though I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet I will not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister : there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy soulders haue forgotten thee : they seeke thee not : for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquities : because thy sinnes are increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 I Therefore

16 Therefore all they that devour thee, shall be devoured, and all thine enemies every one shall goe into captivitie: and they that spoile thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that robbe thee, will I give to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The castaway, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring againe the captivitie of Iakobs tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shall be builded vpon her owne heape, and the palace shall remaine after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceede thanksgiving, and the voice of them that are ioyous, and I will multiplie them, and they shall not bee few: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as aforatime, and their congregation shalbe established before me: and I will visit all that vexed them.

21 And their noble ruler shall be of themselves, and their gouernour shall proceed from the mids of them, and I will cause him to draw neere, and approach vnto mee: for who is this that directeth his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will bee your God.

23 Behold, I the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlewind that hangech ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He remembereth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the firstall joy of the faithfull in the church.

At the same time, saith the Lord, wil I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: I walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of old, say they: Yea, I haue loued thee with an everlasting loue, therefore with mercy haue I drawn thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgin Israel: thou shalt still be adorned with thy tymbrels, and shalt goe forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall crie, Arise, and let vs goe vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioice with gladnesse for Iakob, and shoute for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish prayse and say, O Lord, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the North countrey, and gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deliuered also: a great company shall returne hither.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the rivers of water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre off, and say, He that scattereth Israel, will gather him, and will keepe him, as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and ransomed him from the hand of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifullnesse of the Lord, euen for the wheate and for the wine and for the oyle, and for the increafe of sheepe, and bullocks: and their soule shalbe as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgin reioice in the dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & wil comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I wil replenish the soules of the Priests with fatnesse, and my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning, and bitter weeping: Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, sayth the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an vntamed calfe: & conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: and after that I was instructed, I swore vpon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproch of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my deare sonne or pleasant child? yet since I spake vnto him, I still remember him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I wil surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp signes: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgin of Israel: turne to these my cities.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice, and holy mountaine.

24 And Judah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocks.

28 And like as I have watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so wil I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, sayeth the Lord.

C H A P. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because hee prophesied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon. 7 Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his servants, and he is their Lord.

The word that came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchadnezzar.

3 For then the King of Babels hostes besieged Ierusalem: and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hands of the king of Babel, and hee shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely bee deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face.

5 And he shall leade Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, vntill I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Caldeans, yee shall not prosper.

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, Buy vnto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kinred appertaineth vnto thee to buy it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & said vnto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, euen seuen shekels, and ten pieces of filuer.

10 And I writ in the booke, and signed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession being sealed according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open,

12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, euen this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying, e Having understood this vision of the Messiah to come, in whom the two houses of Israel and Judah should be joyued, I rejoiced.

f I will multiply, and enich them with people and cattell.

17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing hard vnto thee.

18 *Thou shewest mercy vnto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great & mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,

19 Great in counsell, & mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon al the waies of the sonnes of men, to giue to euery one, according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his workes)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, & with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terroure,

22 And hast giuen them this land, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them, even a land, that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the mountains, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hande of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the felde for siluer, and take witnesses: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for mee?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar, King of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, & burne it with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee to anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked me to anger, with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this city hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, even vnto this day, that I should remoue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priestes, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe and not the face: though I taught them, & rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine,

34 But they set their abomination in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it,

35 And they built the hie places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes & their daughters to passe through the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should doe such abomination, to cause Iudah to sinne.

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 *Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them one heart and one way that they may feare mee for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an euerlasting covenant with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to do them good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to doe them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so will I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shall be possessed in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, and shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, 44 Men shall buy fields for siluer, and make writings and seale them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, & round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, & in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

Meremias the word of the Lorde came vnto Ieremias the second time (while hee was yet shut vp in the court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I will answere thee, and shew thee great and mightie things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the mountains, and by the sword,

5 They come to fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this citie, because of all their wickednesse.

6 ¶ Behold, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reuile vnto them the abundance of peace, and truth.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against mee, and whereby they have rebelled against me.

9 And it shall bee to mee a name, a <sup>h</sup> ioy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this <sup>case</sup>.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate, without man, and without beast, <sup>even</sup> in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate, without man, & without inhabitant, and without beast)

11 The voice of ioy and the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hostes, because the Lorde is good: for his mercie <sup>endureth</sup> for ever, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the House of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Againe in this place, which is desolate, without man, & without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall bee dwelling for shepherds to rest their flockes.

13 In the cities of the <sup>h</sup> mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes and at that time, will I cause the branch of righteousness to growe vp vnto Dauid, & he shall execute iudgement and righteousness in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saued, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and hee that shall call me her, is the Lord our <sup>h</sup> righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, & to offer meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant bee broken with Dauid my seruant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Levites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Levites, that minister vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah saying,

24 Considerest thou not what I this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath euen cast them off? thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant bee not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth, 26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iacob and Dauid my seruant, and not take of his seed to be rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iacob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 He threatneth that the cite, and the King Zedekiah shall bee giuen into the hands of the king of Babel. 11 He rebuketh their crueltie toward their seruants.

¶ He worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this cite into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely bee taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the King of Babel, & he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burne <sup>o</sup> downes for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the King of Babels host fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah, that were left, <sup>even</sup> against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the worde that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them,

9 That every man should let his <sup>e</sup> seruant goe free, and every man his handmaid, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, & that none should serue himselfe of them, <sup>to wit</sup>, of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that every one should let his seruant goe free, & every one his handmaid, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they repented and caused the seruants and the handmaidens, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord saying,

15 And yee were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, euerie man to his neighbour, and yee had made a covenant before mee in the house, whereupon my Name is called.

22 Behold, I wil command, saith the Lord, and cause them to retorne to this cite, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

Here propheseth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Jewes.

The word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the dayes of Iohoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Go into the house of the Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iazaniah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazzinuah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan the sonne of Igdash a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was about the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cuppes, and said vnto them, Driue wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, Ye shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your dayes ye shal dwell in tents, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our dayes, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build wee houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field, nor feed,

10 But wee haue remained in tentes, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the hoste of Aram: so we dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will yee not receive doctrine, to obey my wordes, saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that hee commanded his sonnes, that they shold drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, kising earely, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp earely, and sending them, saying, * Retorne now euerie man from his euill way, and amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and yee shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euil that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, & I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah saide vnto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that hee hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

roule, and readeth it before them all. 21. Thinking as he is in the fire. 22. There is another written at the commandment of the Lord.

And in the fourth & yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

Take thee a roule or booke, & write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgieue their iniquitie and their finnes.

Then Jeremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying,
I am shut vp, and cannot goe into the House of the Lord.

Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule, wherin thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords House vpon the fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the words of the Lord in the Lords House.

And in the fift yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth mo-neth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretary, in the hier court at the entry of the newe gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke
all the words of the Lord,

Then he went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes sate there, euen Elifhama the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan, the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the son of Chusai, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read, in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid both one and other, and saide vnto Baruch, We will certifie the King of all these wordes.

And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with inke in the booke.

Then saide the princes vnto Baruch, Goe, & hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

And they went in to the king to the court, but they laide vp the roule in the chamber of E-lifhama the Chancellour, and tolde the King all the words, that he might heare.

So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, & hee tooke it out of Elifhama the Chancellours chamber, & Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of al the princes, which stood beside the King.

Now the king sate in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, he cut it with the pen-knife and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his seruants that heard all these wordes.

Neuer thelesse, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burne the roule: but he would not heare them.

But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hummelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule and the words that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying,

Take thee againe another roule & write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt.

And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus sayeth the Lord, thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Hee shall haue none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

Then tooke Jeremiah another roule, and gave it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Jeremiah al the words of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added

C H A P. XXXVII.

Zedekiah succedeth Ieremiah. 3 The firstest vnto Ieremiah to pray for him. 12 Ieremiah going into the land of Benjamin, is taken. 15 He is beaten and put in prison.

ANd king Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for a Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim, whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel made king in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey the words of the Lord which he spake by the ministry of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiah went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste came out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.)

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Thus shal ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shal returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shal come againe, and fight against this citie, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus sayeth the Lord, Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole hoste of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man rise vp in his tent, and burne this citie with fire.

11 ¶ When the hoste of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the land of Benjamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the gate of Benjamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irijah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou fliest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flie not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Irijah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and layd him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time, 17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, & said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreover, Ieremiah sayd vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giue him dayly a peece of bread out of the bakers streete, vntill all the bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebed-melech, the king commandeth Ieremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the king how he might escape death.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, shal die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but hee that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This citie shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said vnto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus hee weakeneth the handes of the men of warre that remaine in this citie, and the handes of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can doe you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coards: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah stucke fast in the myre.

7 Nowe when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, one of the Eunuches which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the King sate in the gate of Benjamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the Kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and he dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him and went to the house of the king vnder the tresurie, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and olde worne clouts, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayd vnto Ieremiah, Put now these olde rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine arme holes, betweene

13 So they drew vp Ieremias with coards, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremias remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Ieremias the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the House of the Lord, and the king sayd vnto Ieremias, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremias sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slay me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly vnto Ieremias, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then sayd Ieremias vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth vnto the king of Babels princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this city shal not be burnt vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then shal this cite be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king sayd vnto Ieremias, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer mee into their hands, and they mocke me.

20 But Ieremias sayd, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shal it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Iuda's house, shalbe brought forth to the king of Babels princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perfwaded thee, and haue preailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this city shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Ieremias, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, & say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the king, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the king sayd vnto thee.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the king that he would not cause mee to returne to Iehonathans house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremias and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Ieremias abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-rezzar besieged Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah's friends, taken of the Caldeans. 6 His seruants are slain. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Ieremias is provided for. 13 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

IN the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the cite was broken vp.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, euen Neregal, Sharezer, Shamgarnebo, Sarlechim, Rab-saris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fledde, and went out of the cite by night, through the kings garden, and by the gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernesse.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer hee put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the cite, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyardes and fieldes at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremias t vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying, 12 Take him, and looke wel to him, and do him no harme, but doe vnto him euen as he shal say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Ieremias out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carie him home: so hee dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremias, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring my wordes vpon this cite for euil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

C H A P. XL.

Jeremiah hath licence to goe whither hee will. 6 Hee dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

The words which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramath, where he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were carried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lorde hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loofe thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with mee into Babel, come, I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with mee into Babel, tarie still: behold, all the land is || before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore bee faine, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wheresoeuer it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitayles and a rewarde, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the captaynes of the hoste, which were in the fieldes, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the lande, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the lande, that were not caried away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanehumeth, and the sonnes of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, Behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer fruits, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue || taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, and that were in all the countreyes, heard that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that hee had fet ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan,

12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreover Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste that were in the field, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And sayde vnto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall knowe it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

C H A P. XLI.

Ishmael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him.

Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

In the seventh moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the feede royall, and the princes of the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & all the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euen fourescore men hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent, and cut, with offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: and when he met them, he sayd vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midst of the cite, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that sayd vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he stayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Aia the king had made because of Basa king of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all

g For vnder the colour of entertaining of Ishmael he sought only to make them to destroy one another.

h Thus the godly which thinke no harme to others, are fourest decaying, and neuer lacke such as conspire their destruction.

a The cite was destroyed in the fourth moneth: and in the seventh moneth, which contained part of September, & part of October, was the gouernour Gedaliah slaine. b Meaning, Zedekiah. c They did come together as family friends.

d For they thought that the Temple had not bene destroyed, and therefore came up to the fast of Tabernacles: but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they shewed these signes of sorrow.

e For his death was kept secret, and he feared that hee lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem and the Temple: because they slew them when they seemed to followe Gedaliah. f Aia fortified Mizpah for feare of the enemies, and cast ditches and trenches. g King. 15. 22.

g Which had his captives under Zedekiah.

all the captains of the host that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah hath done,

12 Then they allooke their men, and went to fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Ishmael carried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had carried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) even the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whom hee had brought againe from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in Gerush Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the King of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captiues take counsell of Jeremiah what they ought to doe.
2 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captiues of the hoste, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

3 And sayde vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, Heare our prayer wee beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes doe beholde)

4 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

5 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shal answere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

6 Then they said to Jeremiah, The Lord be a witnesse of truth, and faith betweene vs, if wee doe not even according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

7 Whether it be good or euill, wee will obey the voice of the Lord God, to whom wee sende thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

8 And so after ten daies came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah.

9 Then called he Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most.

10 And saide vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent me to present your prayers before him,

11 If ye wil dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roots you out: for I repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

12 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand.

13 And I will grant you mercie that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

14 But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voice of the Lord your God,

15 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

16 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If ye set your face to enter into Egypt, and dwell there.)

17 Then the sword that ye feared, shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

18 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shal my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall be a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch, and ye shall see this place no more.

20 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

21 Surely ye dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs even according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will doe it.

22 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath sent me vnto you.

23 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 Iohanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the minde of Jeremiah. 2 Jeremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

3 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there.

4 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but Austeritie. Hee sheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, would obey and embrace his word, if they were assured that the truth: though inuolde they bee most farre from all obedience. Hee doth not only condemn and hate the messengers of God, but speake wickedly of all them that support or follow the godly.

5 Hee doth say,

6 Because all things hearts and wyes are in his hand, he can turne them as he pleases: hee will therefore they shall not be able to see him, but only they God, Psal. 138. 8.

7 Thus God taketh the poe in the which hee is the owner of: for they thought themselves free in Egypt, and there they were destroyed: and the Egyptians, Chap. 43. 9.

8 Hee doth say, and as if hee were saying that this should come vpon them for their inuolde and stubbornness. For ye were fully minded to goe into Egypt, whither God spake to the contrary.

9 To wit, in Egypt.

10 Who was also called Ieriah.

11 This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods minde.

12 When the hypocrites are speaking the wicked things, they are read: Ili. 30. 10.

13 Hee doth say, so false that they are messengers of God.

14 Thus the wicked, and the false, and the k The declaration of hypocrites, which would know of Gods word what they should doe, but will not follow: hee is inuolde in a speech with that thing which they haue purpose to doe.

l There are some men ready to abuse the Name of God, and when it is in vaine, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falsehood use Ieriah, our all resistance, and make it a means for them to decore the simple and the godly.

thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and cary vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Ionathan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Ionathan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene drinen, to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 Euen men and women, and children, & the Kings daughters, and every person, that Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, & Ieremias the Prophet, & Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the lande of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bricke kull, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will send and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pavilion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, & he shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 He shall breake also the images of Beth-she-meth, that is in the land of Egypt, & the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

Hee reprooueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that sit light by the shewing of the Lord, are chastened. 16 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Jewes therein, is prophesied.

The word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the Land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burne incense, and to seruise other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets rising early, and sending them saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue yee forgotten the wickednesse of your fathers, and the wickednesse of the kings of Iudah and the wickednesse of their wiues, and your owne wickednesse and the wickednesse of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will set my face against you to euill, and to destroy all Iudah, 12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah that haue set their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all bee consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall euen be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a detestation and an astonishment and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in the Land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the lande of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the lande of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, wee will not heare it of thee.

17 But wee will doe whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for then had wee plenty of vitales and were well, and felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, we were satiate with bread. This is still the argument of idolaters, which esteeme religion by the belly, and in stead of acknowledging Gods workes, who sendeth both plenty and dearth, health, and sickness, they ascribe it to their idoles, and so dishonour God. For, Iew. 107. 14.

He sheweth that we ought to keepe in memory Gods plagues fro the beginning, that considering them, we might liue in his feare, & know if he haue not spared our fathers, yea, his princes, and rulers, and also whole countreys, & nations, for their sinnes, but we vile wormes, cannot look to escape punishment for ours. For hee doth.

For, lift up their hands.*

Meaning but a few. This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, and to follow our own fantasies: for Satan overfliceth such and doth not leave them till he haue brought them to extreme impudencie and madness, euen to iustifie their wickednesse against God and his Prophets.

Reads Cha. 3. 18. It seemeth that the papists gathered of this place their Salua Regina, or Regina coli lare, calling the virgin Mary Queene of heauen, and so of the blessed virgin, and mother of our Saviour Christ made an idole: for here the Prophet condemneth the idolaters.

For, we were satiate with bread. This is still the argument of idolaters, which esteeme religion by the belly, and in stead of acknowledging Gods workes, who sendeth both plenty and dearth, health, and sickness, they ascribe it to their idoles, and so dishonour God. For, Iew. 107. 14.

her, did we make her cakes, to make her glad, and poure out drinke offerings vnto her without our 19 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, both you and your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and that he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickednes of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because you haue burnt incense, and because yee haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreouer Ieremiah said vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives haue both spoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will performe our vowes that we haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings to her: yee will performe your vowes, and doe the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Behold, I haue sworne by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liueth.

27 Behold, I will watch ouer them for euill & not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, vntill they vterly be destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe to you, sayeth the Lord, when I visit you in this place, that ye may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euill.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will geue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I geue Zedekiah king of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel his ene-mie, who also fought his life.

CHAP. XLV.

a Ieremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Ierusalem.

¶ He word that Ieremiah the prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, when he had written these words in a booke at the mouth of Ieremiah, in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah king of Iudah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee,
 O Baruch,

3 Thou diddest say, Woe is me now: for the Lord hath laied for me my sorow: I am fainted in my mourning, and I can finde no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I haue built, will I destroy, and that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, even this whole land.

5 And seekest thou great things for thy selfe?
 seeke them not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for a pray in all places, whither thou goest.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 He prophesie the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliueraunce promised to Israel.

¶ The wordes of the Lord, which came to Ieremiah the Prophet against the Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the ri-uer Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchad-rez-zar king of Babel smote in the fourth yere of Ie-hoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah.

3 Make ready buckler and shield, and goe forth to battell.

4 Make ready the horses, & let the horsemen get vp, and stand vp with your fallets, fourbush the speares, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore haue I seene them afraid, and driuen backe? for their mighty men are smitten, and are fled away, and looke not backe: for feare was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fall towards the North by the river Perath.

7 Who is this, that commeth vp as a flood, whose waters are moued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and his waters are moued like the riuers, and he saith, I will go vp, and will couer the earth: I will destroy the cite with them that dwell therein.

9 Come vp ye horses, and rage ye charrets, and let the valiant men come forth, the black Moors, and the Lybians that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lorde God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that he may auenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall deuoure, and it shall be faciate, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hosts hath a sacrifice in the North countrey by the river Perath.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and take balme, O virgine, the daughter of Egypt: in vaine shalt thou vse many medicines: for thou shalt haue no health.

12 The nations haue heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the lande: for the strong hath stumbled against the strong, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lord spake to Ieremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaime in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, and say, Stand still and prepare thee: for the sword shall deuoure round about thee.

15 Why are the valiant men put backe? they could not stand because the Lord did driue them.

16 He made many to fall, and one fell vpon another: and they said, Arise, let vs goe againe to our own people, and to the land of our natiuitie from the sword of the violent.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of a great multitude, * hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, Surely as Tabor is in the mountaines, and as Carmel is in the sea, so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee gear to goe into captiuitie: for Noph shall be waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a faire calfe, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men, * are in the middes of her like fat calves: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they could not stand, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voyce thereof shall goe forth like a serpent: for they shall march with an armie, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot be counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, & are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the common people of No and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliuer them into the hands of those that seeke their liues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hands of his seruants, and afterward she shall dwell as * in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But feare not thou, O my seruant Iakob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall returne and bee in rest, and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, O Iakob my seruant, saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and I wil vtterly destroy all the nations, whither I haue driuen thee: but I will not vtterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not vtterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The wordes of the Lord against the Philistims.

The wordes of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shall be as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflow the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle,

3 At the noise and stamping of his hooves of his strong horses, at the noise of his charrets, and at the rubbing of his wheles: the fathers shall not looke backe to their children, for feebleness of hands,

4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistims, and to destroy Tyrus, and Zidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the yle of Caphtor.

5 Baldness is come vpon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt thou cut thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be or thou cease! turne againe into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The wordes of the Lord against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and cruelty.

Concerning Moab, thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kirithaim is confounded and taken: Mifgah is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshben: for they haue deuised euil against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it bee no more a nation: also thou shalt bee destroyed, O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shall be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourners shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and save your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall goe forth into captiuitie with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perishe and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth, and hee hath seled on his lees, and hath not bene powered from vessell to vessell, neither hath he gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall emptie his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong men are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste.

b Meaning, that it is not possible that the wicked should by any means escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

a There were cities of the Moabites, which Nebuchad-nezzar tooke before he went to fight against Neco king of Egypt.
b Thus shall the Babylonians encourage one another.
c Reade Isa 39. 10.

d Horonaim and Luhith were two places whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15. 5.

e Hide your selves in barren places, where the enemy will not pursue after you, chap. 17. 6.

f That is, the idoles which are the workes of thine hands. Some read in thy possessions, for in the word may signifie, as 1. Sam. 5. 2.

g Both thy great idole, and his ministers shall be led away captiues, so that they shall then know that it is in vaine to looke for helps of idoles, Isa. 11. 2.

h Hee sheweth that God would punish the Caldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a couerage, and callet this executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his worke: though the Caldeans sought another end, Isa. 10. 12.

i Or, decrifiedly. Hath not bene remoued as the leaves haue, but haue liued at ease, and as a wine that feedeth it selfe on his lees.

k As the case of Beth-el was not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer the Moabites, 1. Ebr. gone vp, or destroyed.

l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches?

m Thus they that see, shall not see.

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine country, vpon Holon and vpon Iahazah, and vpon Mephath, 22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth-gamul, and vpon Beth-meon,

24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of the land of Moab farre or neere, 25 The <sup>a</sup>horne of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him <sup>a</sup>drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision:

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though hee had bene found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art <sup>a</sup>mooued.

28 O yee that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 <sup>a</sup>We haue heard the pride of Moab (<sup>b</sup>hee is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the hautesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, sayth the Lord, <sup>a</sup>but it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, for they doe not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will crie out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I wil weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the lea <sup>a</sup>of Iazer: the destroyer is fallen vpo thy summer fruits, & vpon thy vintage.

33 And ioy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepresse: none shall treade with shouting: <sup>a</sup>their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh and vnto Iahaz haue they made their noyse: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the heifer of three yere old shall goe lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the hie places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a <sup>a</sup>shaume, and mine heart shall sound like a shaume for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 <sup>a</sup>For euery head shall be <sup>a</sup>balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be vpon all the houle tops of Moab, and in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying. How is he destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, <sup>a</sup>he shall flee as an eagle, & shall spred his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strongholdes are wonne, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab as that day shall be as <sup>a</sup>heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 <sup>a</sup>Feare, and pit, and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, & he that getteth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in <sup>a</sup>snare: for I will bring vpo it, <sup>a</sup>euery vpon Moab, the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow <sup>a</sup>of Heshbon, because of the force: for <sup>a</sup>the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the sedition children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the <sup>a</sup>latter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus saith the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

<sup>a</sup>The words of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Usum.

Vnto the children of <sup>a</sup>Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their king <sup>b</sup>possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in <sup>c</sup>his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil cause a noyse of warre to be heard in <sup>d</sup>Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall goe into captiuitie, and his Priests, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: shee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring <sup>a</sup>a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered euery man <sup>a</sup>right forth, & none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And <sup>a</sup>afterward I wil bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 <sup>a</sup>To Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wisdom no more in <sup>a</sup>Teman? is counsel perished from their children? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, yee inhabitants of Dedan (<sup>a</sup>they are turned backe, and haue consuled to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the <sup>a</sup>grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue <sup>a</sup>some grapes? if theeues come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncovered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say, 11 Leauethy <sup>a</sup>fatherles children, & I wil preserue them aliue, and let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus sayeth the Lorde, <sup>a</sup>Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, sayeth the Lord, that <sup>a</sup>Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumor from the Lord, & an care ouer the widowes and the fatherles. <sup>a</sup>I haue not spied, and how should I picke thee? <sup>a</sup>Which was a chiefe citie of Edom.

<sup>a</sup> They said this, the Moabites, who haue succored the Ammonites. <sup>b</sup> The Ammonites had destroyed the Moabites in the past, and now because of their power, the Moabites shall strike them for help. <sup>c</sup> Which named themselves of their idols as though he could haue defended them. <sup>d</sup> That is, they shall be reioiced by the Moabites.

<sup>a</sup> They were punished from the Moabites by the river Arnon, and after that the Moabites were carried away into captiuitie, they visited the country of Gad.

<sup>f</sup> Signifying, that power and riches cannot preuaile when as God will execute his iudgements.

<sup>g</sup> That is, without looking backe, and as euery one can see a way to escape.

<sup>h</sup> In the time of Christ when the Gentiles shall be called.

<sup>i</sup> Which was a citie of Edom called by the name of Teman. Elphaz was one of the wise men who came of Esau. <sup>k</sup> The enemies that shall destroy him as though they fled away, shall come backe and invade your land, and possesse it.

<sup>l</sup> Meaning, that God would surely destroy them, and not spare out, though the grape gatherers leave some grapes, and the enemies that shall call they haue enough. <sup>m</sup> That is, Bozrah shall be waste, and there shall be none left to say.

<sup>a</sup> Which citie was in the utmost border of Moab: and hereby he signifies that the whole land should be destroyed, and the people carried away.

ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against her, and rife vp to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy feare, and the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the cliffs of the rocke, and keepest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as hie as the eagle, I will bring thee downe from thence, sayth the Lord.

17 Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shall bee astonished, and shall hiss at the plagues thereof, 18 As in the ouerthrow of Sodom and of Gomorah, and the places thereof neefe about, sayth the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, q he shall come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euem I will make him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoynt against her? for who is like me? and who will appoynt mee the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lorde that hee hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flocke shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at the noise of their fall: the crye of their voice is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come vp, and flie as the eagle, and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

23 Vnto y Damascus sayth bee, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth her selfe to flight, and feare hath seised her: anguish and sorowes haue taken her as a womā in trauel.

25 Howe is the glorious citie not referred, the citie of my ioy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streetes, and all her men of waire shall be cut off in that day, sayth the Lord of hostes.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of Benhadad.

28 Vnto Kedar, and to the kingdomes of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel shall smite, thus sayth the Lord, Arise, and goe vp vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: yea, they shal take to themselves their curtaines and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall crie vnto them, Feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you farre off (they haue consulted to dwell) O ye inhabitants of Hazor, sayth the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath token counsell against you, and hath deuised a purpose against you.

31 Arise, and get you vp vnto the wealthie nation that dwelleth without care, sayth the Lord, which hath neither gates nor barres, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a bootie, and the multitude of their cattell a spoile, and I will scatter them into all windes, and to the vtmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, sayth the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and desolation for euer: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.

34 The wordes of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah, saying, 35 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will breake the bowe of Elam, euem the chiefe of their strength.

36 And vpo Elam I wil bring the foure winds from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them towards all these windes, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitiues of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to bee afraide before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, euem the indignation of my wrath, sayth the Lord, and I will send the sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

38 And I wil set my throne in Elam, & I wil destroy both the king & the princes from thence, sayth the Lord: but in the latter dayes I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, sayth the Lord.

CHAP. I.

Hee propheseth the destruction of Babilon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

He word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the ministerie of Jeremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standart, proclaime it and conceale it not: say, a Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there commeth vp a nation against her, which shall make her lande waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they go, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shal aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetual couenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepherds haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from s mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them haue deuoured them, & their enemies said, Wee offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, the habitation of iustice, euem the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from the muddes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be yee as the hee goates before the flocke.

9 For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North countrey, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, whereby they shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shal be a spoile: all that spoile her, g That is, Persia, so called of Elam the sonne of Shem. h Because the Persians were good archers, he kneweth that the thing wherein they put their trust, should not profite them. i I will place Nebuchad-nezzar there, and in these prophecies I shall speaketh of those countreys, which should be subdued vnder the first of those foure monarchies whereof Daniel maketh mention. k This may be referred to the empire of the Persians, and Medes after the Caldeans, or vnto the time of Christs Chap 48-47.

q To wit, Nebuchad-nezzar after he hath ouercome Iudah, which is named by the swelling of Iorden, shal come against mozt Sin and Edom. r That is, the Edomites kept as prisoners to haue away from thence. s The captiue & gouernour of the same, meaning, Nebuchad-nezzar. t They shall not be able to resist his yoke captiues. u To wit, the Edomites. v In Chap. 48 40. was said of Moab. y Which was the chiefe cite of Syria, whereby he meaneth y whole countrey.

z When these heard the sudden coming of the enemy. a He propheth this in the person of the king and of them of the countrey, who shall wonder to see Damascus the chiefe citie destroyed. b Who was king of Syria: Kin. 20. and had built their palaces, which were it called the palaces of the heathen. c Meaning the Arabians, and their bowmen. d Because they would dwell in trauel, he nameth the city that persons thereto. e The enemies will dwell in your places. f He sheweth that they of Hazor will be to the Arabians for succour, but that shall not profit them.

1 Shall be made rich thereby.

m For joy of the victory that yee had against my people.

n In signe of contempt, & disdain. o He speaketh to the enemies the Moabes and the Philistines.

p Though the Lord called the Babylonians his servants, and their worke his worke in punishing his people, yet because they did it not to glorifie God, but for their owne malice, and to profite themselves, it is here called sinne. q Or yielded, or made peace.

her, shall be satisfied with the Lord.

11 Because yee were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the graffe, and eyed like strong bulles.

12 Therefore your mother shall bee sore confounded, and she that bare you, shall be ashamed: behold, the uttermost of the nations shall be a desert, a drie land, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bowe, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath perfined against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: shee hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him that handieth the sieth in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne every one to his people, and they shall flee every man to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the lions haue dispersed them: first the king of Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the king of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his foule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, sayth the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Iudah, and they shall nor bee found: for I will bee mercifull vnto them, whom I reuerse.

21 Go vp against the land of the rebels, against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A cry of battell is in the land, and of great destruction, 23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! howe is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue feared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, & hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border: open her storehouses, tread on her as on theeues, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Wo vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voyce of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the archers against Babel all ye that bend the bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her worke, and according to all that shee hath done, doe vnto her: for shee hath bene proud against the Lord, even against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall the young men fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proud man, saith the Lord God of hostes: for thy day is come, even the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, he shall maintaine their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the footslayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraide.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their chariots, and vpon all the multitude that are in the middes of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore the Ziims with the Iims shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, sayeth the Lord: so shall no man dwel there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised vp from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the browe and the bucklers: they are cruell and vmercifull: their voice shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in aray like men to the battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his handes waxed feeble: sorrow came vpon him, even sorrow of a woman in trauaile.

44 Behold, he shall come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong habitatio: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord, that hee hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the lande of the Caldeans: surely the least of the focke shall draye

CHAP. LI.

6 Why Babel is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 39 Jeremiah giueth his booke to Seraiab.

Thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I will raise vp against Babel, and against the inhabitants that lift vp their heart against mee, a destroying wind.

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, and shal empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shalbe against her on euery side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her host.

4 Thus the flaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust thorow in her streetes.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lord of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 Flie out of the mids of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule: bee not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: he will render vnto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cuppe in the Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore do the nations rage.

8 Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would haue cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let vs goue euery one into his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come vp into heauen, & is lifted vp to the clouds.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrows: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the king of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the scouts: for the Lord hath both deuised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, euen the ende of thy couetousnesse.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworne by himselfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillars, and they shall drie and shoute against thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretiue.

16 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the endes of the earth: hee turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Euery man is a beast by his colour, knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanity, and the worke of errorrs: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Iakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes.

21 And by thee wil I breake horse and horseman, and by thee will I breake the charet and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also wil I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake olde and yong, and by thee will I breake the yong man and the maid.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepherd and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euil that they haue done in Zion, euen in your sight, sayeth the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, sayeth the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and roll thee downe from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt be destroyed for ever, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standard in the land: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Athchenaz against her: appoint the Prince against her: canse horses to come vp as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorow: for the house of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their heldes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shewe the king of Babel, that his cite is taken on a side thereof.

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing is come: yet a litle while, and the time of her harvest shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: hee hath made me an emptie vessell: hee swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoyle of me, and that which wast left of me, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants

53 Though Babel should mount vp to<sup>g</sup> heauen, and though she should defend her strength on high, yet from me shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a crie commeth from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans,

55 Because the Lord hath layde Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a sound was made by their noise:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lorde God that recompenseth, shall surely recompense.

57 And I will<sup>h</sup> make drunke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel, euen all these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these words,

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an end of readding this booke, thou shalt binde a<sup>l</sup> stone to it, and cast it in the mids of Euphrates.

64 And shalt say, Thus shal Babel be drowned, and shall not rise from the euill that I will bring vpon her; and they shall<sup>m</sup> be weary. Thus farre are the words of Ieremiah.

3 Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth moneth in the tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yeere of the King Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Ierusalem,

13 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the wals of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasfe that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea, that was in the house of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and carried all the brasfe of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the besoms, and the instruments of musicke, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasfe wherewith they ministred, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the ashpens, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticke, and the incense dishes, and the cuppes, and all that was of gold, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away,

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen buls, that were vnder the bases, which king Salomon had made in the house of the Lord: the brasfe of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eightene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubites did compasse it; and the thickeesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brasfe was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was five cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasfe: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranate vpon the networke were an hundred round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and seven men that were in the kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captain of the hoste who mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the mids of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe stewart tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was carried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar carried away captiue, in the seventh yeere, euen three thousand Iewes, and three and twentie.

29 In the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar hee carried away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundred thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue of the Iewes seven hundred fourtie and five persons: all the persons were foure thousand and sixe hundred.

31 And in the seven and thirtieth yeere of the captiuitie of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, in the twelfth moneth, in the five and twentieth day of the moneth, Evil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yeere of his reigne, lifted vp the head of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison,

32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne about the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel, 33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eat bread before him all the daies of his life.

34 His portion was a continuall portion giuen him of the king of Babel, euerie day a certain, all the dayes of his life vntill he died.

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, and sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second chapter begin euerie verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet: the third hath three verses for euerie letter, and the fourth is as the first.

Ow doeth the citie remaine solitary that was full of people? she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and a princesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

2 She weepeth continually in the night, and her teares runne downe by her cheekes: among all her louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue dealt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Iudah is carried away captiue because of affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straits.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man commeth to the solempne feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and shee is in heavinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things; that she had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersarie saw her, and did mocke at her 4 Sabbaths.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honoured her, despise her, because they have seene her filthinesse: yea, she sigheth and turneth backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skirts: shee remembered not her last end, therefore shee came downe wonderfully, shee had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whome thou didst commaund, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seeke their bread: they have giuen their pleasant things for meate to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all ye that passe by this way? behold and see, if there be any sorrow like vnto my sorrow, which is done vnto mee, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From above hath hee sent fire into my bones, which preuaileth against them: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me backe: hee hath made me desolate, and daily in heauinesse.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound upon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to fail: the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the mids of me: hee hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath troden the wine presse vpon the virgins the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weepe: mine eye, even mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuailed.

17 Zion stretched out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iacob round about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandement: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the citie whiles they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me: for I am full of heauinesse: the sword spoyleth abroad, as death doth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done in: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: doe vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and my heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iacob, and not spared: hee hath throwen downe in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath cast them downe to the ground: hee hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the home of Israel: hee hath drawne back his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iacob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bow like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and flew all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: hee powred out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was an enemy: hee hath deuoured Israel, and consumed all his places, hee hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden: hee hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath caused the feastes and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: hee hath abhorred his Sanctuary: hee hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wals of her palaces: they haue made a noyse in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Hergares are sunke to the ground: hee hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets receiue any visi- on from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Sion sit vpon the ground, and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpon their heads: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings swoone in the streets of the citie.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streetes of the citie, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bowels.

13 What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which hee had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of old time: he hath throwen downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares run downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, crie in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whome thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sacuarie of the Lord?

21 The yong and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my yong men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my || terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darknesse, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe old, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chaines heauy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath stopped vp my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my paths.

10 He was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, & made mee a marke for the arrow.

13 He caused the arrowes of his quier to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, & made me drunken with wormewood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgot prosperitie.

18 And I sayd, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembring mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed euery morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone, and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 He giueth his cheeke to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will hee haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not punish willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth,

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High, 36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, and it cometh to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the liuing man sorrowfull? man suffereth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine, and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloud, that our prayer should not passe thorow.

e He hath no pite on me.

f Elr. James.

g With great anguish and sorow he hath made me to lose my sense.

p He sheweth that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.

q He murreth not against God, but is patient.

r He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waite for succour.

s He taketh no pleasure in it, but doth it of necessity for our amendment, when he suffereth the wicked to oppress the poore.

y That is both hearts and hands: for els to lift vp the hands, is but hypocrisie.

Because the false Prophets called themselves seers, the other way called them seers, they thought they did not as persons that haue seene them in their times, which was the cause of their delusion.

14 They haue wandered as blinde men in the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

15 *B*ut they cryed vnto them, Depart, ye polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue sayd among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The || anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he will no more regard them: * they reuerenced not the face of the Priests, nor had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine helpe, our eyes failed: for in our waiting we looked for a nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is neere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the mountaines and layd wait for vs in the wilderness.

20 The m breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom we sayd, Vnder his shadow we shall be preserued aliuie among the heathen.

21 Reioyce and be glad, a O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Vz, the cup also shall passe thorow vnto thee: thou shalt be drunken, || and vomit.

22 Thy punishment is accomplished, O daughter Zion: he o will no more carie thee away into captiuitie, but he wil visit thine iniquity, O daughter Edom, he will discouer thy finnes.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yeelded himselfe to Nebuchadnezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine beganne to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should bee still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof bee confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the cite should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, in somuch that they that remained should bee brought into cruel bondage. And lest the godly should despaire in these great troubles, be assured them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whome in this booke are many notable promises, and in whome the glorie of the new Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, and in what place. 3. His kinred. 5 The vision of the foure beastes. 26 The vision of the throne.

IT came to passe in the thirtieth yeere in the fourth moneth, and in the fift day of the moneth (as I was among the captiues by the riuer b Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I sawe visions of e GOD.

2 In the fift day of the moneth (which was the fift yeere of king Iehoiachins captiuitie)
3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the d hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whirle wind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the middes of the fire came out as the likenesse of a man.

5 Also out of the mids thereof came the likenesse of foure beastes, f and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foue had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were g ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as b the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out aboue: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their f spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beastes, and their appearance was like burning coles of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beastes, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beastes ranne, and i returned like vnto lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the beastes, behold, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beastes, having foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a k chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also l rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheeles lead them, and the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

21 When the beastes went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beastes was wonderfull, like vnto crysell, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: euerie one had two which couered them, and euerie one had two, which couered their bodies.

24 And when they went soorth, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of great waters, and as the voice of the Almighty, euen the voice of speech, as the noyse of an hoste: and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the fashion of a throne like vnto a Saphir stone, and vpon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I saw as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, euen from his loynes vpward: and to looke to, euen from his loynes downeward, I saw as a likenesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their error.

And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy feet, and I will speake vnto thee.

2 And the spirit entred into mee, when hee had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feet, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: for they & their fathers haue rebelled against mee, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, and stiffe hearted: I doe send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in deede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, feare them not, neither be afraide of their words, although rebels and thornes be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their words, nor be afraide at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my words vnto them, but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto mee, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And hee spred it before mee, and it was written within & without, and there was written therein, Lamentations and mourning, and woe.

11 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

12 So I opened my mouth, and he gaue me this roule to eate.

13 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony.

14 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my words.

15 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

16 Not to many people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.

17 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

18 Beholde, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

19 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither bee afraide at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

20 He said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receive in thine heart all my words that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

21 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues, vnto the children of my people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease.

22 Then the spirit tooke mee vp, and I heard behinde mee a noise of a great rushing, saying, Blessed bee the glory of the Lorde out of his place.

23 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts, that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noise of a great rushing.

24 So the spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

25 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven dayes.

26 And at the ende of seven dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying, 27 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from mee.

28 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

29 Yet, if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

30 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shall die in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

31 Neuerthelesse if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he doth not sinne, he shall liue, because he is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

32 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, and go into the field, and I will there talke with thee.

33 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

34 Then the spirit entred into me, which set me

CHAP. IIII.

i The besieging of the cite of Ierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 10 An hunger is prophesied to come.

Thou also sonne of man, take thee a bricke, and lay it before thee, and pourtray vpon it the cite, euen Ierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, set the campe also against it, and lay engins of warre against it round about.

3 Moreover, take an yron pan, and set it for a wall of yron betweene thee and the cite, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall bee besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe vnto the house of Israel.

4 Sleepe thou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue laide vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundred and ninetie dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iudah fourtie dayes: I haue appointed thee a day for a yeere, euen a day for a yeere.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, and thine arme shall bee vncouered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 And behold, I will lay bands vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheate, and barley, and beanes, and lentiles, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: euen three hundred and ninetie dayes shalt thou eate thereof.

10 And the meate, wherof thou shalt eate, shalt be by weight, euen twenty shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke water also by measure, euen the sixth part of an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 And thou shalt eate it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in the dongue that commeth out of man, in their sight.

13 And the Lord sayd, So shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lorde God, beholde, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my youth vp, euen vnto this houre, I haue not eaten of a thing dead, or torne in pieces, neither came there any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he saide vnto mee, Doe, I haue giuen thee bullockes<sup>m</sup> dongue for mans dongue, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he said vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde, I will breake the stasse of bread in Ierusalem, and they shall eate bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall faile, they shall be astonied one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquitie.

CHAP. V.

The signe of the haire, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

And thou sonne of man, take thee a sharpe knife, or take thee a barbour's rasor, and caule it to passe vpon thine head, and vpon thy beard: then take thee ballaunces to weigh, and diuide the haire.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the mids of the cite, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other thirde part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a fewe in number, and binde them in thy lappe.

4 Then take of them againe and cast them into the mids of the fire, and burne them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come soorth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ierusalem: I haue set it in the mids of the nations and countreys, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys, that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements, and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yee haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue yee kept my iudgements: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Behold, I, euen I come against thee, and will execute iudgement in the middes of thee, euen in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will doe in thee, that I neuer did before, neither will do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the mids of thee, the fathers shall eate their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eate their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

n There is the same and strength wherewith I should nourish, Isa. 41. chap. 5. 17 & 14. 13.

a To showe this head & thy head.

b To wit, of that cite which he had pourtrayed vpon the bricke, Chap. 4. 1. By the fire and pestilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part perished during the siege of Nebuchad nezzar. By the sword, those that were slaine when Zedekiah fled, and those that were carried away captiue. And by the scattering into the wide that that fled into Egypt, and into other parts after the city was taken.

c Meaning, that a very few should be left, which the Lord would preserve among all these stormes but not without trouble and trial.

d One of that fire which thou kindlest, shall a fire come which shall signify the destruction of Israel.

e My word and law into idolatrie and superstitions.

f Because your idols are in greater number, and your superstitions more then among the professed idolaters, reade Isa. 65. 11. or be conuinceth their ingratitude in respect of his benedictions.

g Leui. 26. 39. deui. 28. 33. 2 King. 6. 39. Ierem. 4. 10. Jerem. 2. 3.

neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

12 The third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the mids of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord haue spoken it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproch and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment vnto the nations, that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

16 When I shall send vpon them the euill barrowes of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

17 So will I send vpon you famine, and euill beastes, and they shall spoyle thee, and pestilence and blood shall passe through thee, and I will bring the sword vpon thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

Hee sheweth that Ierusalem shall bee destroyed for their idollatrie. He prophesieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliuerance.

Againe the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hills, to the riuers and to the valleys, Behold, I euen I wil bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your hie places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the Sunne shall be broken: and I will cast downe your slaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In al your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the hie places shall be laide waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall be broken and cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in pieces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the slaine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the euils, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would do this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foote, and say, A-las, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye know, that I am the Lord, when their slaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euerie hie hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder euerie greene tree, and vnder euerie thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweete sauour to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste, and desolate from the wilderness vnto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the Land of Israel shall suddenly come.

Moreover the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall bee in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An ende is come, the end is come, it is watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I wil shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come; the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

11 Cruelty is risen vp into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there bee lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the buyer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, nor let him that moure:

They shall be ashamed to see that their hope is as was but vaine, and to shall repent.

By these figures he would that the Prophet should signifie the great destruction to come.

That is all nations when you shall see my iudgements.

Chap. 5. 14. Some reader, more desolate then the wilderness of Diblath, which was in Syria, and border of upon Israel, or from the wilderness, which was South vnto Diblath, which was North: meaning, y whole countrey.

a I will punish thee as thou hast deserved for thine idollatrie, for, behold, euill cometh after euill. b He sheweth that the iudgements of God euer watch to destroy the sinners, which notwithstanding he delays till there be no more hope of repentance.

c The beginning of his punishment is already come. d Which was a voyce of ioy, and mirth.

e The scourge is in a readinesse.

f That is, the proud Tyrant Nebuchad rezzar, hath gathered his force and is ready.

g This euillnesse shall be a sharpe scourge for their wickednesse.

h Their owne affliction shall be so great that they shall haue no regard to lament for others.
